the sonnes of Rahabiah were very many.

18 The sonne of Izhar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron were Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel the third, and Ieka-niam the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Vzziel were Michiah the first and Issiah the second.

21 The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar and Kishi.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no sonnes, but daughters, and their brethren the sonnes of Kishi tooke them.

23 The sonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth, three.

24 These were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen the chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names, and their surname that did the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord from the age of twentie yeeres and aboue.

25 For David said, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Ierusalem for euer.

26 And also the Leuites shall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last words of David, the Leuites were numbred from twentie yeere and aboue.

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courts, and chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God,

29 Both for the shewbread, and for the fine floure, for the meate offering, and for the vneleu-ened cakes, and for the fried things, and for that which was roasted, and for all measures and cise,

30 And for to stand euery morning, to giue thanks and to praye the Lord, & likewise at euen,

31 And to offer all burnt offerings vnto the Lord in the Sabbaths, in the moneths, and at the appointed times, according to the number, and according to their custome, continually before the Lord,

CHAP. XXIII.

David appoints officers to the sonnes of Aaron.

These are also the divisions of the sonnes of Aaron: The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

But Nadab and Abihu died, before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

And David distributed them, even Zadok of the sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministrations.

And there were found moe of the sonnes of Eleazar by the number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar, and they divided them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sixteen heads, according to the household of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers, eight.

Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuary and the rulers of the house of God were of the sonnes of Eleazar, and of the sonnes of Ithamar.

And Shemaiah the sonne of Nethaneel the Scribe of the Levites, wrote them before the king, and the princes, & Zadok the Priest, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar, and before the chiefe fathers of the Priests and of the Levites, one family being reserved for Eleazar, and another reserved for Ithamar.

And the first lot fell to Iehoiarib, and the second to Iedaiah,

The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

The fifth to Malchiah, the sixth to Miamin,

The seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abiiah,

The ninth to Ieshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

The eleventh to Eliafhib, the twelfth to Iakim,

The thirteenth to Huppa, the fourteenth to Ieshbeab,

The fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,

The seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Hapizzier,

The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Iehzekel,

The one and twentieth to Iachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul,

The three and twentieth to Deliah, the four and twentieth to Maaziah.

These were their orders according to their offices, when they entred into the house of the Lord according to their custome vnder the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.

And of the sonnes of Levi that remained of the sonnes of Amram, was Shubael, of the sonnes of Shubael, Iedaiah,

Of Rehabiah, even of the sonnes of Rehabiah, the first Ishaiiah,

Of Izhari, Shelomoth, of the sonnes of Shelomoth, Iahath,

And his sonnes, Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel the thirde, and Iekameam the fourth,

The sonne of Vzziel was Michah, the sonne of Michah was Shamir,

The brother of Michah was Ishaiiah, the sonne of Ishaiiah, Zechariah,

The sonnes of Merari, were Mahli and Musi, the sonne of Laaziah, was Beno,

The sonnes of Merari, of Iahaziah were Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur and Ibri.

Of Mahli came Eleazar, which had no sonnes.

Of Kish the sonne of Kish was Ierahmeel,

And the sonnes of Musi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth: these were sonnes of the Levites after the household of their fathers.

And these also cast lots with their brethren the sonnes of Aaron before King David, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chiefe fathers of the Priests, and of the Levites, even the chiefe of the families against their younger brethren.

CHAP. XXV.

The fingers are appointed, with their places and lots.

David and the captaines of the armie separated for the ministerie the sonnes of Afaph, and Heman, and Ieduthun, who should sing prophecies with harpes, with viols, and with cymbales, and their number was even of the men for the office of their ministerie, to wit,

Of the sonnes of Afaph, Zaccur, and Ioseph, and Nethaniah, and Aharelah the sonnes of Afaph were vnder the hand of Afaph, which sang prophecies by the commission of the King.

Of Ieduthun, the sonnes of Iuduthun, Gedaliah, and Zeri, and Ieshaiah, Ashabiah and Matithiah, fixe, vnder the hands of their father: Ieduthun sang prophecies with an harpe, for to give thanks and to praise the Lord.

Of Heman, the sonnes of Heman, Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Vzziel, Shebuel, and Ierimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, and Romamti-ezer, Ioshebekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

All these were the sonnes of Heman, the Kings Seer in the wordes of God to lift vp the horn: and God gave to Heman fourteen sonnes and three daughters.

All these were vnder the hand of the Lord with cymbals, viols and harps, for the service of the house of God, and Afaph, and Ieduthun, and Heman were at the Kings commandement.

So was their number with their brethren that were instructed in the songs of the Lorde, even of all that were cunning, two hundred four-score and eight.

And they cast lots, charge against charge as well small as great, the cunning man as the scholer.

And the first lot fell to Ioseph, which was of Afaph, the second, to Gedaliah, who with his brethren and his sonnes were twelue.

The third, to Zaccur, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

The fourth, to Izri, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

The fifth, to Nethaniah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

The sixth, to Bukkiah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

The seventh, to Iesharelah, he, his sonnes and his brethren were twelue.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Breaketh Dauid was forbidden to build the Temple, because hee was a man of blood, and the people so persecuted him, as hee could not abide to dwell in the Lord.

Now Dauid assembled all the princes of Israelie princes of the tribes, and the captains of the bands that serued the King, and the captains of thousands, & the captains of hundredths, and the rulers of all the substance and possession of the king, and of his sons, with the eunuchs, and the mightie, and all the men of power, vnto Ierusalem.

2 And King Dauid stood vp vpon his feete, and sayd, Heare ye me, my brethren and my people: I purposed to haue built an house of rest for the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, and for a footstool of our God, and haue made ready for the building,

3 But God sayd vnto me, Thou shalt not build an house for my Name, because thou hast bene a man of warre, and hast shed blood.

4 Yet the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to bee King ouer Israel for euer (for in Iudah would hee chuse a prince, and of the house of Iudah is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father hee delited in me to make me King ouer all Israel)

5 So of all my sonnes (for the Lord hath giuen me many sonnes) hee hath euen chosen Salomon my sonne to sit vpon the throne of the kingdome of the Lord ouer Israel.

6 And hee sayd vnto mee, Salomon thy sonne,

7 I will stablish therefore his kingdom for ever, if he endeavour himselfe to doe my commandements, and my iudgements, as ^cthis day.

8 Now therefore in the sight of all Israel the congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keepe and seeke for all the commandements of the Lord your God, that ye may possesse this good land, and leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you ^efor ever.

20 And Dauid sayde to Salomon his sonne, Bee strong and of a valiant courage, and doe it: feare not, nor be afraide: for the Lord God, is with thee: hee will not leaue thee, nor forsake thee, till thou hast finished all the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord.

Behold also the companies of the Priestes and the Leuites for all the seruice of the house of God, even they shall bee with thee for the whole worke, with every free heart that is skilfull in any manner of seruice. The princes also and all the people will be wholly at thy commandement.

CHAP. XXIX.

The offering of Dauid and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 Dauid gaue thanks to the Lord. 20 He exhorted the people to doe the same. 22 Salomon is crowned king. 28 Dauid dieth, and Salomon becometh reigned in his stead.

Moreover, Dauid the king sayde vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely sonne, yong and tender, and the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the Lord God.

Now I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, gold for vessels of gold, and silver for them of silver, and brasie for things of brasie, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and onyx stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones, and of diuers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

Moreover, because I haue delighted in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne gold and silver, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuary, Euen three thousand talents of gold of the gold of Ophir, and seuen thousand talents of fined silver to ouerlay the walles of the houses.

The golde for the things of golde, and the silver for things of silver, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is willing to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the capitaines of thousands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the kings worke, offered willingly,

And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God, six thousand talents of gold, and ten thousand pieces, and ten thousand talents of silver, and eighteen thousand talents of brasie, and one hundred thousand talents of yron.

And they with whom precious stones were found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord by the hand of Iehiel the Gerssunnite.

And the people reioyced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a perfect heart. And Dauid the king also reioyced with great ioy.

Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and Dauid said, Blessed be thou, O Lord God of Israel our father, for ever and ever.

Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse and power, and glory and victorie, and prayse: for all that is in heaven & in earth is thine: thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou excellest as head ouer all.

Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, & in thine hand it is to make great, and to give strength vnto all.

Now therefore, our God, we thanke thee, and prayse thy glorious name.

But who am I, and what is my people, that wee should bee able to offer willingly after this sort: for all things come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

For wee are strangers before thee, and sojourners like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadowe vpon the earth, and there is none abiding.

17 I know also my God, that thou triest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousness: I have offered willingly in the brightness of mine heart all these things: now also have I seen thy people which are found here, to offer unto thee willingly with joy.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel our fathers, keep this for ever in the purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts unto thee.

19 And give unto Salomon my sonne a perfect heart to keep thy commandments, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all things, and to build the house which I have prepared.

20 And David said to all the congregation, Now bless the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed down their heads, and worshipped the Lord and the King.

21 And they offered sacrifices unto the Lord, and on the morrow after that day, they offered burnt offerings unto the Lord, a thousand young bullocks, a thousand rams, and a thousand sheep, with their drinke offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

22 And they did eat and drinke before the Lord the same day with great joy, and they made Salomon the son of David king the second time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the high Priest.

23 So Salomon came on the throne of the Lord, as king in steade of David his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the princes and men of power, and all the sonnes of king David submitted themselves unto king Salomon.

25 And the Lord magnified Salomon in dignity, in the sight of all Israel, and gave him so glorious a kingdom, as no king had before him in Israel.

26 Thus David the sonne of Isai reigned over all Israel.

27 And the space that he reigned over Israel was fortie yeere: seven yeere reigned hee in Hebron, and thirte and thirte yeere he reigned in Jerusalem.

28 And he died in a good age, full of daies, riches and honour, and Salomon his sonne reigned in his stead.

29 Concerning the actes of David the king, first and last, behold they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the booke of Gad the Seer, together with all his reign and his power, and the times that went over him, and over Israel, and over all the kingdomes of the earth.

This declareth that the kings of Iudah were figures of Christ, who was the true anointed, and to whom God gave the chiefe government of all things.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF THE CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

This second booke, continued briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two booke of the Kings: that is from the crowne of Salomon to the destruction of Jerusalem, and the carrying away of the people captivitate into Babylon. In this storie are certein things declared, and set forth more copiously then in the booke of the Kings, and therefore serve greatly to the understanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered. First, that the golly kings, when they saw the plague of God prepared against their country for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plague removed. The second, how it was a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him, and possess his religion, should come to amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good rulers ever loved the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set forth his religion throughout all their dominions, and contrariwise, the wicked hated his ministers, despised them, and for the true religion and word of God, set up idolatrie, and served God according to the fables of men. Thus have we briefly the chief events from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Jerusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeere of Davids, and contains in the whole, three thousand, five hundred, threescore and eightene yeere, and sixe moneths.

CHAP. I.

1 The offering of Solomon to God. 2 How he prepared to God to build him an house. 3 The manner of the offering and the sacrifice, 15 And the prayer.

Then Salomon the sonne of David was confirmed in his kingdom: and the Lord his God was with him; and magnified him highly.

And Salomon spoke unto all Israel, to the captains of thousands, and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to all the governors in all Israel, and to the chiefe fathers.

So Salomon and all the Congregation with him went to the high place that was at Gibeon:

for there was the Tabernacle of the Congregation of God which Moses the servant of the Lord had made in the wilderness. But the Arke of God had David brought up from Kirjath-sephaim, when David had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Jerusalem.

Moreover the brasen altar, that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

And Salomon offered there before the Lord upon the brasen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, seven a thousand burnt offerings offered he upon it.

7 The time might did God appear unto Salomon, and said unto him, Aske what I shall be called, because that God thereby shewed certein signes to the congregation of his presence.

8 And Salomon sayd vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father be true: for thou hast made me King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue me now wisdom and knowledge, that I may go out and go in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God saide to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the liues of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom, and knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee King,

12 Wisdom and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I will giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the Kings which were before thee, neither after thee there shall be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the hie place, that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 And Salomon gathered the charrets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charrets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom he placed in the charret cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

15 And the king gaue silver and gold at Ierusalem as stones, & gaue cedar trees as the wild figtrees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt and fine linen: the Kings merchants receiued the fine linen for a price.

17 They came vp also and brought out of Egypt some charret, worth fixe hundred shekels of silver, that is an horse for a hundred and fiftie: and thus they brought horses to all the Kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of Aram by their meanes.

CHAP. II.

1 The number of Salomon workemen to build the Temple.
2 Salomon sendeth to Hiram the King of Tyre for wood and workemen.

Then Salomon determined to build an house for the Name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Salomon tolde out seuentie thousand that bare burdens, and fourescore thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand, and sixe hundred to ouersee them.

3 And Salomon sent to Hiram the King of Tyre, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and didst send him cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so doe to me.

4 Beholde, I build an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, and for the continuall shewbread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning and euening, on the Sabbath daies, and in the new moeths, & in the solemne feasts of the Lord our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is he then that can bee able to build him an house, when the heauen and the heauen of heauens cannot containe him? who am I then that I should build him an house? but I doe it to burne in cense before him.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in gold, in silver, and in brasse, and in yron, and in purple, and in crimosin & blue silke, and that can graue in grauen work with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah and in Ierusalem, whom Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send me also cedar trees, fure trees and Algummim trees from Lebanon: for I knowe that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Lebanon: and beholde, my seruants shall bee with thine,

9 That they may prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I doe build, is great and wonderfull.

10 And behold, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timber twentie thousand measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand baths of wine, and twentie thousand baths of oyle.

11 Then Hiram King of Tyre answered in writing which he sent to Salomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, hee hath made thee King ouer them.

12 Hiram said moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the King a wise sonne, that hath discretion, prudence and vnderstanding to builde an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wife man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hiram,

14 The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyre, and he can skill to worke in gold, in silver, in brasse, in yron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue silke, and in fine linen and in crimosin, and can graue in all grauen workes, and broyder in all broydered worke that shalbe giuen him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheate and the barley, the oyle and the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And we wil cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in rafter by the sea to Iapho, so thou mayest cary them to Ierusalem.

17 And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel after the numbring that his father Dauid had numbred them: and they were found an hundred and three and fiftie thousand, and sixe hundred.

18 And he set seuentie thousand of them to the burden, & fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand & sixe hundred ouersers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

2 Then Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel vnto Ierusalem, to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde from the citie of Dauid, which is Zion.

3 And al the men of Israel assembled vnto the king at the feast: it was in the seuenth moneth.

4 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the Arke.

5 And they caried vp the Arke, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.

6 And king Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before the Arke, offering sheepe and bullockes, which could not be told nor numbred for multitude.

7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the most Holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof aboute.

9 And they drew out the barres, that the ends of the barres might be seene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not seene without: and there they are vnto this day.

10 Nothing was in the Arke, saue the two Tables, which Moses gaue at Horeb, where the Lorde made a couenant with the children of Israel when they came out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuary (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified and did not waite by course.

12 And the Leuites the fingers of all sorts, of Asaph, of Heman, of Ieduthun, and of their sonnes and of their brethren, being clad in fine linnen, stood with cymbals, and with viols, and harps at the East end of the Altar, and with them an hundred and twentie Priestes blowing with trumpets.

13 And they were as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sound to bee heard in praying and thanking the Lorde, and when they lift vp their voyce with trumpets, and with cymbals, and with instruments of musicke, and when they praised the Lorde, singing, For he is good, because his mercy lasteth for ever) then the house, euen the house of the Lorde was filled with a cloud, 14 So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lorde had filled the House of God.

CHAP. VI.

3 Salomon blesseth the people. 4 He praiseth the Lorde. 14 We praye vnto God for that thou should pray in the Temple.

Then Salomon said, The Lorde hath said that he would dwell in the darke cloud:

2 And I haue built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for ever.

3 And the King turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there)

4 And he said, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, & hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citie of all the tribes of Israel to build an house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel:

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalem, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to build an house vnto the Name of the Lorde God of Israel,

8 But the Lorde sayde to Dauid my father, Whereas it was in their heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou diddest well, that thou wast so minded.

9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne, which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall build an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lorde hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lorde promised, & haue built an house to the Name of the Lorde God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the couenant of the Lorde, that he made with the children of Israel.

12 ¶ And the king stood before the altar of the Lorde, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands,

13 (For Salomon had made a brasen scaffold, and set it in the middes of the court, of five cubits long, and five cubites broad, and three cubites of height, and vpon it he stood, and kneeled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his handes toward heauen)

14 And said, O Lorde God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which keepeth couenant and mercie vnto thy seruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

15 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

16 Therefore now, Lorde God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel, so that thy sonnes take heed to their waies, to walke in my Law, as thou hast walked before mee.

17 And now, O Lorde God of Israel, let thy word bee verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (It is true in deed, that God wil dwell with man on earth: behold, the heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how much more unable is this house which I haue built?)

19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lorde my God, to heare the cry and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee.

20 That thine eyes may be open toward this house day and night, euen toward the place, wherof thou hast said, that thou wouldest put thy Name there, that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

22. Moreover, as touching the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, who shall come out of a faire countrey for thy great Names sake, and thy mighty hand, and thy stretched out arme, when they shall come and pray in this house,

23. Hear thou in heauen, thy dwelling place, and doe according to all that the stranger calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may know thy Name, and feare thee like thy people Israel, and that they may know that thy Name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

24. When thy people shall goe out to battell against their enemy, by the way that thou shalt send them, and they pray to thee, in the way toward this citie, which thou hast chosen, toward this house, which I haue built to thy Name,

25. Then hear thou in heauen their prayer and their supplication, and judge their cause.

26. If they sinne against thee (for there is no man that sinneth not), and thou beeing angry with them, and deliver them vnto the enemies, and they take them and carry them away captiue vnto a land farre or neere,

27. If they turne againe to their heart in the land whither they be carried in captiues, and turne and pray vnto thee in the land of their captivity, saying, We haue sinned, we haue transgressed and haue done wickedly,

28. If they turne againe to thee with all their heart, and with all their soule in the land of their captivity, whither they haue carried them captiues, and pray toward their land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, and toward the city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue built for thy Name,

29. Then hear thou in heauen, in the place of thine habitation, their prayer and their supplication, and judge their cause, and be mercifull vnto thy people, which haue sinned against thee.

30. Now my God, I beseech thee, let thine eyes be open, and thine eares attend vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

31. Nowe therefore arise, O Lord God, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength: O Lord God, let thy Priests be clothed with saluation, and let thy Saints reioyce in goodness.

32. O Lord God, refuse not the face of thine anointed: remember the mercies promised to Dauid thy seruant.

And when Salomon had made an ende of praying, a fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices, and the glory of the Lord filled the house.

2. So that the Priests could not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3. And when all the children of Israel saw the fire, and the glory of the Lord come downe vpon the house, they bowed themselves with their faces to the earth vpon the pavement, and worshipped, and prayed the Lord saying, For he is good, because his mercy lasteth for ever.

4. Then the King, and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5. And king Salomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullocks, and an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6. And the Priests waited on their offices, and the Levites with the instruments of musike of the Lord, which king Dauid had made to prayse the Lord, because his mercy lasteth for ever: when Dauid prayed God by them, the Priests also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7. Moreover, Salomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fatte of the peace offerings, because the brazen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receiue the burnt offering, and the meate meats offering, and the fat. 8 And Salomon made a feast at that time of seven dayes, and all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entering in of Hamath vnto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made a solemne assembly: for they had made the dedication of the altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth day of the seventh month, he sent the people away into their tents, joyous and with glad heart, because of the goodnes that the Lord had done for David and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

11 So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he professed in his house.

12 And the Lord appeared to Salomon by night, and said to him: I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place for my selfe to bee an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heaven that there be no raine, or if I commaund the grasshopper to deuoure the land, or if I send pestilence among my people;

14 If my people, among whom my Name is called vpon, doe humble themselves, and pray and seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heauen and bee mercifull to their sinne, and will heale their land.

15 Then mine eyes shall be open, and mine eares attent vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as David thy father walked to doe according vnto all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements;

18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdom, according as I made the covenant with David thy father, saying, Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if yee turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commandments which I haue set before you, and shall goe and serue other gods, and worshipping them;

20 Then will I plucke them vp out of my land, which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my Name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a prouerbe and a common talke among all people.

21 And this house which is most high, shall be an affrontment to every one that passeth by it, so that he shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the Lord GOD of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken hold on other gods, and haue worshipped them: and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

23 The cities that Salomon built. 24 People that were made tributaries vnto him. 25 His sacrifices. 26 His strength in Ophir.

AND after twentie yere when Salomon had built the house of the Lord, and his own house,

2 Then Salomon built the cities that Hiram gaue to Salomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobah, and ouercame it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wil dernes, and repaired all the cities of flore which he built in Hamath.

5 And he built Beth-horon the vpper, and Beth-horon the nether, cities defended with wals, gates and barres.

6 Also Basath, and all the cities of flore that Salomon had, and all the charer cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and every pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to build in Ierusalem, and in Lebanon, and throughour all the land of this dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebusites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, euen them did Salomon make tributaries vntill this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruants for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes and the captaines of his charers, and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, euen two hundred and fiftie that bare rule ouer the people.

11 Then Salomon brought vp the daughter of Pharaoh out of the cite of David, into the house that he had built for her: for he said, My wife shall not dwel in the house of David king of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 Then Salomon offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, on the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch.

13 To offer according to the commandment of Moses || every day, in the Sabbaths and in the new moones, and in the solemne feasts, three times in the yere, that is, in the feast of the Vntleavened bread, and in the feast of the Weekes, and in the feast of the Tabernacles.

14 And he set the courses of the Priests to their offices, according to the order of David his father, and the Leuites in their watches, for to praise and minister before the Priests every day, and the porters by their courses, at every gate: for so was the commandment of David the man of God.

15 And they declined not from the commandment of the king, concerning the Priests, and the Leuites touching al things, and touching the treasures.

16 Now Salomon had made provision for all the worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, vntill it was finished: so the house of the Lord was perfite.

17 Then went Salomon to Etion-geber, and to Eloch by the sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Hiram sent him by the handes of his seruants, ships and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Salomon to Ophir, and brought thence foure hundredth and fiftie talents of gold, and brought them to king Salomon.

2. His great wisdom. 3. The time of his reign. 4.

And when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Salomon, she came to proue Salomon with hard questions at Ierusalem, with a very great traine, and camels that bare sweete odours, and much gold, and precious stones: and when she came to Salomon, she commended with him of all that was in her heart.

And Salomon declared her all her questions, and there was nothing hid from Salomon, which he declared not vnto her.

Then the Queene of Sheba gave the wisdom of Salomon, and the hooft that he had built.

And the meates of his table, and the fixing of his seruants, and the order of his wayters, and their apparel, & his butlers & their apparel, and his burnt offerings which he offered in the house of the Lord, and he was greatly glorified.

And he said to the King, I was a true word which I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom.

Howbeit, I beleued not their report, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and beholde, the one halfe of thy great wisdom was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy seruants, which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisdom.

Blessed be the Lord thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on his throne as king, in the stead of the Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to establish it for ever, therefore hath hee made thee king over them, to execute iudgement and iustice.

Then shee gaue the King fourscore talents of gold, and of sweet odours exceeding much, and precious stones: neither was there such sweet odours yee, as the Queene of Sheba gaue vnto King Salomon.

And the seruants also of Huram, and the seruants of Salomon which brought golde from Ophir, brought Algumim wood and precious stones.

And the King made of the Algumim wood staves in the house of the Lord, and in the kings house, and harpes and viols for singers: and there was no such seme before in the land of Iudah.

And king Salomon gaue to the queene of Sheba every pleasant thing that shee asked, besides for that which shee had brought vnto the King: so she returned and went to her own country, with the and her seruants.

Also the weight of gold that came to Salomon in one yeere, was fixe hundred threescore and five talents of gold.

Besides that which chapmen and merchants brought, and all the kings of Arabia & the princes of the country brought gold & silver to Salomon.

And king Salomon made two hundred talents of beaten gold, and fixe hundred shekels of beaten gold went to one talent.

And three hundred shekels of beaten gold: three hundred shekels of gold went to one shekel, and the King put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the King made a great throne of yuorie and outlaid it with pure gold.

18 And the throne had fixe steps, with a footstool of gold: fastened to the throne, and staves on either side on the place of the seate, and two lions standing by the staves.

19 And twelue lions stood there on the fixe steps on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdome.

20 And all king Salomons drinking vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure golde: for silver was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

21 For the kings ships went to Tarshish with the seruants of Huram, euery three yeere once came the ships of Tarshish, and brought golde, and silver, yuorie, and apes, and peacocks.

22 So king Salomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

23 And all the Kings of the earth sought the presence of Salomon, to heare his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of golde, and raiment, armour, and sweet odours, horses, and mules, from yeere to yeere.

25 And Salomon had foure thousand stables of horses, and charets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom he bestowed in the chareit cities, and with the king at Ierusalem.

26 And he reigned ouer all the kings from the River euen vnto the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king gaue silver in Ierusalem, as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figtrees, that are abundant in the plaine.

28 And they brought vnto Salomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 Concerning the rest of the actes of Salomon first and last, are they not written in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the prophesie of Ahiah the Shilonite, and in the visions of I Teodo the Seer against Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat?

30 And Salomon reigned in Ierusalem ouer all Israel for tie yeeres.

31 And Salomon slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of David his father: and Rehoboam his sonne reigned in his stead.

And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous seruitude of thy father, and his fore yoke that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

And he said to them, Depart yet three daies, then come againe vnto me. And the people departed.

the olde men that had stood before Salomon his father, while he yet lived, saying, What counsell giue ye that I may answer this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kinde to this people, and please them, and speake louing words to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But hee left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the young men that were brought vp with him, and waited on him.

9 And he said vnto them, What counsell giue ye, that we may answer this people, which haue spoken to mee, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the young men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My least part shall be bigger then my fathers loynes.

11 Now whereas my father did burden you with a grievous yoke, I will yet increase your yoke: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the king answered them sharply: and King Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men,

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke grievous, but I will increase it: my father chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with scourges.

15 So the king hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God, that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken by Ahijah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king would not heare them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid? for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Isai. O Israel, every man to your tents: now see to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israel departed to their tents.

17 Howbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israel, that dwelt in the cities of Iudah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram that was || ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that hee died: then King Rehoboam made speede to get him vp to his chariot, to flee to Ierusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

CHAP. XI.

4 Rehoboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam. 5 Cities which he build. 21. Not both eighteen wiues, and three score concubines, and by them eight & twenty sonnes, and therefore daughters.

And when Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, hee gathered of the house of Iudah and Benjamin nine score thousand chosen men of warre to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboam.

2 But the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon King of Iudah, and to all Israel that are in

Iudah and Benjamin, saying,

4 Thus saith the Lord, Yee shall not goe vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euery man to his house: for this thing is done of me. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lord, and returned from going against Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Ierusalem, and built strong cities in Iudah.

6 Hee built also Beth-lehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, and Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Maretha, and Ziph,

9 And Adoraim, and Lachish, and Azekah,

10 And Zorah, and Aialon, & Hebron, which were in Iudah and Benjamin, strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holds and put captaines in them, and store of vitaille, and oyle and wine.

12 And in all cities he put shields and speares, and made them exceeding strong: so Iudah and Benjamin were his.

13 ¶ And the Priestes and the Leuites that were in all Israel, returned vnto him out of all their coasts.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbs and their possession, and came to Iudah and to Ierusalem: for Ieroboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministring in the Priestes office vnto the Lord.

15 And he ordeined him Priestes for the hie places, and for the deuils & for the calves which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites there came to Ierusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such as set their hearts to seeke the Lord God of Israel, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon mighty, three yeeres long: for three yeeres they walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam tooke him Mahalath the daughter of Ierimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ithai, 19 Which bare him sonnes, Ieush, and Semaiah, and Zaphan.

20 And after her he tooke Maakah the daughter of Absalom which bare him Abihail, and Arthai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Maakah the daughter of Absalom above all his wiues and his concubines: for he tooke eighteen wiues and threescore concubines, and begate eight and twentie sonnes, and threescore daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made 8 Abiahs the sonne of Maakah the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him King.

23 And he taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes throughout all the countries of Iudah and Benjamin vnto euery strong citie: and hee gave them abundance of vitaille, and he desired many wiues.

2 Therefore in the fifth year of King Rehobam, Shishak the king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord) with twelve hundred chariots, and three score thousand horsemen, and the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, even the Libians, Sukkims, and the Ethiopians.

3 And he took the strong cities which were of Judah and came unto Jerusalem.

4 Then came Shemaiah the Prophet to Rehobam, and said to the princes of Judah, that were gathered together in Jerusalem, because of Shishak and his host, Thus saith the Lord, Ye have forsaken me, therefore also have I left you in the hands of Shishak.

5 Then the princes of Israel, and the king humbled themselves, and said, The Lord is just.

6 And when the Lord saw that they humbled themselves, the words of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, They have humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will send them deliverance shortly, and my wrath shall not be poured out upon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.

7 Nevertheless they shall be his servants: so shall they know my service, and the service of the kingdom of the earth.

8 Then Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, and took the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house: he took even all, and he carried away the shields of gold, which Solomon had made.

9 In the third year of King Rehobam made shields of brass, and committed them to the hands of the chief of the guard, that waited at the doore of the king's house.

10 And when the king entered into the house of the Lord, the guard came and bore them and brought them again unto the guard chamber.

11 And because he humbled himself, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he would not destroy all together. And also in Judah the things prospered, as now.

12 So King Rehobam was strong in Jerusalem, and reigned: for Rehobam was one and forty years old, when he began to reign, and reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the Lord had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his Name there. And his mother's name was Naamah an Ammonitess.

13 And he did evil: for he prepared not his heart to seek the Lord.

14 This also is written in the book of Shemaiah the Prophet, and also the story, in rehearsing the genealogies: and there was war always between Rehobam and Ieroboam.

15 And Rehobam slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David, and Abijah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XIII.

1 In the eighth year of King Ieroboam, Abijah the son of Rehobam king of Judah came against him, and fought with him at the hill of Parvaim: and Ieroboam slew him.

2 In the ninth year of King Ieroboam, Abijah the son of Rehobam king of Judah came against him, and fought with him at the hill of Parvaim: and Ieroboam slew him.

3 He reigned three years in Jerusalem: his mother's name also was Naamah the daughter of Achish of Gath, and there was war between Abijah and Ieroboam.

4 And Abijah let the battell in array with the armie of valiant men of warre, even foure hundred thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battell in array against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men which were strong and valiant.

5 And Abijah stood up upon mount Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, O Ieroboam, and all Israel, heare you me.

6 Ought you not to know that the Lord God of Israel hath given the kingdom over Israel to David for ever, even to him and to his sonnes by a commandment of the Lord?

7 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the servant of Solomon the sonne of David is risen up, and hath rebelled against his lord.

8 And there are gathered to him a valiant man, and wicked, and made themselves strong against Rehobam the sonne of Solomon: for Rehobam was a weak child, and he could not resist them.

9 Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdom of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of David, and ye be a great multitude, and the golden calves are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.

10 Have ye not driven away the Priests of the Lord, the sonnes of Aaron, and the Levites, and have made you Priests like the people of other countreyes? whose ever cometh to consecrate with a young bullock, and seven rams, the same may be a Priest of them that are no gods.

11 But we belong unto the Lord our God, and have not forsaken him, and the Priests the sonnes of Aaron minister unto the Lord, and the Levites in their office.

12 And they burnt unto the Lord every morning, and in evening burnt offerings and sweet incense, and the bread is laid in order upon the pure table, & the candlesticks of gold with the lamps thereof, to burne every evening: for wee keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but ye have forsaken him.

13 And behold, this God is with us as a captain, and his Priests with the sounding trumpets to cry an alarme against you. O ye children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for ye shall not prosper.

14 But Ieroboam caused an ambushment to compass, and came behinde them, when they were before Judah, and the ambushment behinde them.

15 Then Judah looked, and beheld, the battell was before and behinde them, and they cryed unto the Lord, and the Priests blew with the trumpets.

16 And the men of Judah gave a shout: and even as the men of Judah shouted, God smote Ieroboam, and also Israel before Abijah and Judah.

17 And the children of Israel fled before Judah, and God delivered them into their hand.

18 And Abijah and his people slew a great slaughter of them, so that there fell downe wounded of Israel five hundred thousand chosen men.

19 So the children of Israel were brought vnder at this time, and the children of Judah prevailed, because they stayed upon the Lord God of their fathers.

3 Asa destroyed idolatry, and commaunded his people to serue the true God. 11 He prayeth vnto God when he should goe to fight. 13 He slaueth the soldiers.

SO * Abiiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid, and Asa his son reigned in his stead: in whose dayes the land was quietten yeere.

1 And Asa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

2 For he tooke away the altars of the strange gods, and the high places, and brake down the images, and cut downe the groues,

3 And commaunded Iudah to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the Law and the Commandement.

4 And hee tooke away out of all the cities of Iudah the high places, and the images: therefore the kingdome was quiet before him.

5 He built also strong cities in Iudah because the land was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

6 Therefore hee said to Iudah, Let vs build these cities, and make walles about, and towers, gates, and barres, while the lande is before vs: because wee haue fought the Lord our God, wee haue sought him, and hee hath giuen vs rest on euery side: so they built and prospered.

7 And Asa had an armie of Iudah that bare shields and speares, three hundred thousand, and of Benjamin that bare shields and drew bowes, two hundred and fourescore thousand: all these were valiant men.

8 And there came out against him Zerah king of Ethiopia, with an host of ten hundred thousand, and three hundred charets, and came vnto Marehshah.

9 Then Asa went out before him, and they set the barrell in aray in the valley of Zephathah, beside Marehshah.

10 And Asa cried vnto the Lord his God, and said, Lord, it is nothing with thee to helpe with many, or with no power: but thou art our God: for we rest on thee, and in thy Name are wee come against this multitude: O Lord, thou art our God: let not man preuaile against thee.

11 So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Iudah, and the Ethiopians fled.

12 And Asa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians were ouerthrowen: so that there was no life in host was ouerthrowen: so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord and before his host: & they caried away a mightie great spoile.

13 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the fear of the Lord came vpon them, and they spoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoile in them.

14 Yea, and they smote the tents of cattell, and caried away plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XV.

1 The exhortation of Azariah. 8 Asa purgeth his countrey of idolatry. 11 He sacrificeth with the people. 14 They sweare together to serue the Lord. 16 Hee deposeth his mother for her idolatry.

Then the Spirit of God came vpon * Azariah the sonne of Obed.

2 And he went out to meet Asa, and said vnto him, O Asa, and all Iudah and Benjamin, heare ye mee. The Lord is with you, while ye be with him: and if ye seeke him, he will be found of you, but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you.

3 Nowe for a long season Israel hath bene without the true God, and without Priests to teach, and without law.

4 But whosoever returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Israel, and sought him, he was found of them.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did goe out and goe in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

7 Bee ye strong therefore, and let not your hands bee weake: for your worke shall haue a reward.

8 And when Asa heard these words, and the prophetic of Obed the Prophet, he was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Iudah and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renewed the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And hee gathered all Iudah and Benjamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled to Ierusalem in the third moneth, in the fiftieth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

11 And they offered vnto the Lord the same time of the spoile which they had brought, even seven hundred bullockes, and seven thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a covenant to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

13 And whosoever will not seeke the Lord God of Israel, shall be slaine, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loud voyce, and with shouting, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Iudah reioiced at the other: for they had sworn vnto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with a whole desire, and hee was found of them. And the Lord gaue them rest round about.

^a Asa for fure of Bascha King of Israel, and rob a covenant with Ben-hadad king of Aram. ^b Asa is represented by the Prophet, as when hee putted in prison, ^c He putted his trust in the Physicians. ^d His death.

IN the fiftie and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Asa, came Bascha king of Israel vnto Asa against Iudah, and built Ramah, to let none passe out or goe in to Asa king of Iudah.

2 Then Asa brought out silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, & of the kings house, and sent to Benhadad king of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

There is a covenant betwene mee and thee, and betwene my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent thee silver and gold: come, & breake thy league with Bascha king of Israel, that hee may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened vnto king Asa, and sent the captains of the armies which he had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote Lion, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Bascha heard it, he left building of Ramah, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Asa the king tooke all Iudah, and carried away the stones of Ramah, and the timber thereof, wherewith Bascha did build, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 And at that same time Hanani the Seer came to Asa king of Iudah, and said vnto him, Because thou hast rested vpon the king of Aram, and not rested in the Lord thy God, theefore is the host of the king of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 The Ethiopians, and the Lubims, were they not a great hoste with charrets and horsemen, exceeding many, yet because thou didst rest vpon the Lord, hee defeated them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord beholde all the earth, to shew himselfe strong with them that are of perfit heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warres.

10 Then Asa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a prison: for he was displeased with him, because of this thing. And Asa oppressed certaine of the people at the same time.

11 And beholde the actes of Asa first and last, loe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 And Asa in the nine and thirtieth yeere of his reigne was diseased in his feete, and his disease was extreme: yet hee sought not the Lord in his disease, but to the physicians.

13 So Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth yeere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in one of his sepulchres, which he had made for himselfe in the city of Dauid, and layed him in the bed, which they had filled with sweete odours, and diuers kindes of spices made by the arte of the Apocheuarie: and they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

CHAP. XVII.

^a Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lords promise in riches and honour. ^b Hee abolished idolatrie, and caught the people to bee taught. ^c Hee remained prince of Ierusalem, as the ministers, and men of warre.

AND Iehoshaphat his son reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bands in the land of Iudah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because hee walked in the first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Bascha.

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdom in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that hee had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And hee lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he tooke away moreouer the high places and the groves out of Iudah.

7 And in the third yeere of his reigne hee sent his princes, Ben-hai, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nathaniel, and Michai, that they should teach in the cities of Iudah.

8 And with them Leuitee Shemariah, and Nehemiah, and Zebadiah, and Adoniah, and Tobiah, and Tob-adoniah, Lemue, and with them Elisama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, & had the booke of the Law of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, & taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdoms of the land that were round about Iudah, and they sought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 And some of the Philistines brought Iehoshaphat gifts and tribute silver, and the Arabians brought him flockes, ten thousand and seven hundred rammes, and seven thousand and seven hundred hee goats.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grewe vp on high, and he built in Iudah palaces and cities of store.

13 And hee had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ierusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers. In Iudah, were captains of thousandes, Adnah the captaine, and with him of valiant men three hundred thousand.

1 Iehoshaphat maketh affinitie with Ahab. 10 Four hundredth Prophets counsell Ahab to goe to warre. 16 Michaiah is a gainst them. 23 Zidkiah smiteth him. 29 The king putteth him in prison. 39 The effect of his prophesie.

And Iehoshaphat had riches and honour in abundance, but he was ioyned in an affinitie with Ahab.

2 And after certaine yeeres hee went downe to Ahab to Samaria: and Ahab slewe sheepe and oxen for him in great number, and for the people that he had with him, and enticed him to goe vp vnto Ramoth Gilead.

3 And Ahab king of Israel saide vnto Iehoshaphat king of Iudah, Wilt thou goe with me to Ramoth Gilead? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will ioyne with thee in the warre.

4 And Iehoshaphat saide vnto the king of Israel, Aske counsell, I pray thee, at the wordes of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the King of Israel gathered of Prophets foure hundredth men, and sayde vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they saide, Go vp: for God shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Iehoshaphat saide, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Israel saide vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whom we may ask counsell of the Lord, but I hate him: for hee doeth not prophesie good vnto mee, but alway euil: it is Michaiah the sonne of Imla. Then Iehoshaphat saide, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called an eunuch, & saide, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Imla.

9 And the king of Israel and Iehoshaphat King of Iudah sate either of them on his throne clothed in their apparell: they sate euen in the threshing floore at the entring in of the gate of Samaria: and all the Prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the son of Chenaanah made him hornes of yron, and saide, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites vntill thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the Prophets prophesied so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Behold, the words of the Prophets declare good to the king with one accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, bee like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiah saide, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer my God saith, that will I speake.

14 So hee came to the king, and the King saide vnto him, Michaiah, shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shal I leaue off? And he saide, I Goe ye vp, and prosper, and they shall be deliue-red into your hand.

15 And the King saide vnto him, How oft shall I charge thee, that thou tell me nothing but the truth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he saide, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord saide, These haue no master: let them returne every man to his house in peace.

17 And the King of Israel saide to Iehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that hee would not prophesie good vnto me, but euil?

18 Again hee saide, Therefore heare yee the word of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the hostes of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord saide, Who shall I perswade Ahab King of Israel, that he may goe vp, and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one spake and saide thus, and another saide that.

20 Then there came forth a spirit and stood before the Lord, and saide, I will perswade him. And the Lord saide vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he saide, I will goe out, and bee a false spirit in the mouth of all his Prophets. And hee saide, Thou shalt perswade, and shalt also preuaile: goe forth and doe so.

22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a false spirit in the mouth of these thy Prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill against thee.

23 The Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere and smote Michaiah vpon the cheek, and saide, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiah saide, Behold, thou shalt see that day when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hidethee.

25 And the King of Israel saide, Take yee Michaiah, and carie him to Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Ioash the Kings sonne.

26 And say, Thus saith the King, Put this man in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction vntil I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiah saide, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And hee saide, Heare all ye people.

28 So the King of Israel and Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the King of Israel saide vnto Iehoshaphat, I will change my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparell. So the king of Israel chaunged himselfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the King of Aram had commaunded the captaines of the charretts that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against the king of Israel onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charrets saw Iehoshaphat, they saide, It is the King of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphat cried, and the Lord helped him and mooued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charrets saw that hee was not the King of Israel, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man drew a bow mightily, and smote the King of Israel betweene the ioynts of his brigandine: Therefore he saide to his charretman, Turne thine hand, and carie me out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

¶ And Iehoshaphat was rebuked by the Prophet, he called against the people to the hearing of the Lord. ¶ He appointed Judges and ministers. ¶ And exhorteth them to fear the Lord.

¶ And Iehu the sonne of Hani the Seer went out to meeke him, and shid to king Iehoshaphat, Wouldst thou helpe the wicked, and loue them that hate the Lorde? therefore for this thing the wrath of the Lorde is vpon thee.

¶ Neuertheles good things are found in thee, because thou hast take away the groves out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seeke God.

¶ ¶ So Iehoshaphat dwelt at Ierusalem, and returned and went through the people from Beer-sheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

¶ And he set iudges in the land throughout all the strong cities of Iudah, cite by cite.

¶ And said to the iudges, Take heede what ye doe: for ye execute not the iudgements of man, but of the Lorde, and he will be with you in the cause and iudgement.

¶ Wherefore now let the feare of the Lorde be vpon you: take heede, and doe it: for there is no iniquitie with the Lorde our God, neither respect of persons, nor receiving of reward.

¶ Moreover in Ierusalem did Iehoshaphat set of the Levites, and of the Priests & of the chiefe of the families of Israel, for the iudgement and cause of the Lorde: & they returned to Ierusalem.

¶ ¶ And in every cause that shal come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, betwene blood and blood, betwene law and precept, statutes and iudgements, ye shall iudge them and admonish them that they trespass not against the Lorde, that a wrath come not vpon you and vpon your brethren. Thus shall ye doe and trespass not.

¶ And behold, Amariah the Priest shall be the chiefe ouer you in al matters of the Lorde, and Zebadiah the sonne of Ishmael, aruler of the house of Iudah, shall be for all the Kings affairs, and the Levites shall be officers before you, be of courage, and doe it, and the Lorde shall be with the good.

¶ ¶ If they would not execute iudice aright, shall be chiefe officer of the pub. l. They shall hate the handling of inferiour causes, l. God will asist them that doe iudice.

¶ Then there came that tolde Iehoshaphat, saying, There cometh a great multitude against thee from beyond the Sea, out of Aram: behold, they be in Hatzon Tamar, which is En-gedi.

¶ And Iehoshaphat feared, and let him selfe be perceyue by the earch, they were the iudgements of the Lord, he called the Lord, and the Lord destroyed the strong cities so, Iudice.

¶ And sayd, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reignest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen? and in thine hand is power and might, and none is able to withstand thee.

¶ Diddest not thou our God cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and gavest it to the seed of Abraham thy friend for ever?

¶ And they dwelt therein, and have built thee a Sanctuary therein for thy Name, saying,

¶ ¶ If euill come vpon vs, as the sword of iudgement, or pestilence, or famine, we will stand before this house & in thy presence (for thy name is in this house) and will cry vnto thee in our tribulation, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

¶ And now, behold, the children of Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whom thou wouldst not let Israel goe, when they came out of the land of Egypt: but they turned aside from thee, and destroyed them not.

¶ Behold, I say, they reward vs in coming to cast vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherit.

¶ O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strength in vs to stand before this great multitude that cometh against vs, neither doe we know what to do: but our eyes are toward thee.

¶ And Iahaziel the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Benaiah, the sonne of Isiel, the sonne of Matthanah, a Leuite of the sonnes of Asaph, was there, vpon whom came the Spirit of the Lord, in the middes of the Congregation.

¶ And he sayd, Hearken ye all Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem, and thou, King Iehoshaphat: thus saith the Lorde vnto you, Feare you not neither be afraid for this great multitude: for the battell is not yours, but Gods.

¶ Ye shall not neede to fight in this battell: stand still, moue not, and behold the saluation of the Lorde towards you: O Iudah, and Ierusalem, feare ye not, neither be afraid: to morrow goe out against them, and the Lorde will be with you.

¶ ¶ Then Iehoshaphat bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lorde, worshipping the Lorde.

¶ And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they departed, Iehoshaphat stood and sayd,

¶ This declareth what the feare of the godly is, which is as a prick to stir e them to prayer, and to depend on the Lord, whereas it moueth the wicked either to seeke after worldly means and policies, or els to fall into despair.

Hear ye me O Iudah and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shall be assured: beleeue his Prophets and ye shall prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, and appointed singers vnto the Lord, and them that should praise him that is in the beautiful Sanctuary, in going forth before the men of armes, and saying, Praise yee the Lord, for his mercy lasteth for euer,

22 And when they began to shoute, and to prayse, the Lord layd ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came toward Mizpah in the wilderness, they looked vnto the multitude: and behold, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat & his people came to take away the spoyle of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they tooke for themselves, til they could carry no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoyle: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah vnto this day.

27 Then every man of Iudah and Ierusalem returned with Iehoshaphat their head to goe againe to Ierusalem with ioy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with vioules, and with harps, and with trumpets, even vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdome of Iehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gaue him rest on every side.

31 And Iehoshaphat reigned ouer Iudah, and was fise and thirty yeere old, when he began to reigne: and reigned fise and twenty yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the way of Asa his father, & departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the hie places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iehoshaphat first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which is mentioned in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 Yet after this did Iehoshaphat King of Iudah ioyne himselfe with Ahaziah king of Israel, who was giuen to doe euill.

36 And hee ioynd with him, to make ships to goe to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then blisse the sonne of Dadaiah of Ma-reshah prophesied against Iehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast ioynd thy selfe with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy workes: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarshish.

CHAP. XXI.

Iehoshaphat dieth. Iehoram succeedeth him, 4 which killeth his brethren. Hee was brought to idolatry, 11 and seduceth the people. 16 Hee is oppressed of the Philistines. 18 His miserable end.

Iehoshaphat then slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dauid: and Iehoram his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And he had brethren the sonnes of Iehoshaphat, Azariah, and Iehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, & Shephatiah. All these were the sonnes of Iehoshaphat king of Israel.

3 And their father gaue them great giftes of siluer and of golde, and of precious things, with strong cities in Iudah, but the kingdome gaue he to Iehoram: for he was the Eldest.

4 And Iehoram rose vp vpon the kingdome of his father, and made himselfe strong, and slew all his brethren with the sword, and also of the princes of Israel.

5 Iehoram was two and thirtie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and hee reigned eight yeeres in Ierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done: for he had the daughter of Ahab to wife, and he wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the covenant that he had made with Dauid, and because he had promised to giue a light to him, and to his sonnes for euer.

8 In his dayes Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a king ouer them.

9 And Iehoram went forth with his princes, and all his charrets with him: and he rose vp by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in and the captaines of the charrets.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. Then did Libnah rebell at the same time from vnder his hand, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreouer hee made hie places in the mountaines of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from Elijah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa king of Iudah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to goe a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also slaine thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Behold, with great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wiues, and all thy substance.

15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 So the Lord stirred vp against Iehoram the spirit of the Philistines, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopians.

Thus Iehoram would not be his to ioyne with idolaters and wicked men.

e He sheweth that he must needs follow that the rulers are such as their counsellors be, and that there cannot be a good King, that suffereth wicked counsellors.

f Hereby we see how nothing can come to any but by Gods providence & as he hath appointed, and therefore he can fetch all means to serve to his will.

g This was the last plague of God because he layed his life with Gods enemies: yet God to declare the worthines of Iehoshaphat his grand father, moved him to give him the honour of buriall.

And they came upon him, and brake through, & carried away all the furniture that was found in the Kings house and his sonnes also, and his wives, so that there was not a sonne left him, time 1 Iehoshaphat the youngest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in processe of time, even after the ende of two yeeres, his guts fell out with his disease: so he died of sore diseases: & his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yeere olde, and reigned in Ierusalem eight yeere, and lived without being desired: yet they buried him in the cite of David, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah reigned after Iehoram. 2 Iehoram king of Israel killed Athaliah. 3 Athaliah put to death all the Kings daughters. 4 Justly reaped.

ANd the inhabitants of Ierusalem made Ahaziah his youngest sonne King in his stead: for the armie that came with the Arabians to the campe had slaine all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah reigned.

2 Two and fourtie yeere olde was Ahaziah when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned one yeere in Ierusalem. And his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

3 Hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counselled him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for they were his counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And hee walked after their counsell, and went with Iehoram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Ioram.

6 And hee returned to bee healed in Izreel, because of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when hee fought with Hazael king of Aram. Now Athaliah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Izreel, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah came of God in that he went to Ioram: for when he was come, he went forth with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of Nimshi, whom the Lord had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Iehu executed iudgement vpon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Iudah and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slew them also.

9 And hee sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where he was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slew him and buried him, because said they, He is the sonne of Iehoshaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to retaine the Kingdome.

10 Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her sonne was dead, shee arose and destroyed all the Kings seede of the house of Iudah.

11 But Iehoshaphat the daughter of the king, tooke Iosiah the sonne of Ahaziah, and slewe him from among the Kings sonnes, that should bee slaine, and put him and his notice in the side chamber: so Iehoshaphat the daughter of King Iehoram the wife of Iehoiada the Priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so she slew him not.

12 And hee was with them hid in the house of God six yeeres, whiles Athaliah reigned over the land.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Joash the sonne of Ahaziah is made King. 2 Athaliah is put to death. 3 The temple of Baal is destroyed. 4 Iehoiada appointed ministers in the Temple.

ANd in the seventh yeere Iehoiada waxed bold, and tooke the captaines of hundredths, to wit, Azariah the sonne of Iehoram, and Iehoshaphat the sonne of Iehohanan, and Azariah the sonne of Obed, and Maasiah the sonne of Adajab, and Elisaphar the sonne of Zichri in covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Iudah, and gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Iudah, and the chiefe fathers of Israel: and they came to Ierusalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the King in the house of God: and he sayd vnto them, Behold, the Kings sonne must reigne, as the Lord hath sayd of the sonnes of David.

4 This is it that ye shal doe, The third part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Leuites, shal be porters of the doores.

5 And another third part toward the Kings house, and another third part at the gate of the foundation, and all the people shal be in the courts of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, save the Priests, and the Leuites that minister, they shal goe in, for they are holy: but all the people shal keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shal compasse the King round about, and every man with his weapon in his hand, and he that entrench into the house, shal be slaine, and bee you with the King, when hee commeth in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Leuites and all Iudah did according to all things that Iehoiada the Priest had commanded, and tooke every man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Iehoiada the Priest delivered to the captaines of hundredths speares, and shields, and bucklers which had bene king Davids, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stand (every man with his weapon in his hand) fro the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar & by the house round about the king.

11 Then they brought out the Kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne and gave him the testimonie, and made him King. And Iehoiada and his sonnes anointed him, and said, God save the King.

12 But when Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, shee came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when shee looked, behold, the king stood by his pillar at the entring in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew the trumpets, and the singers with instruments of musique, and

CHAP. XXIII.

q Joash repaired the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Jehoiaha he suffered to idolatrie. 21 He himselfe to death vnto the Prophet. 25 Joash is killed of his owne seruants. 27
After his reigne Amasiah.

Joash ^r was seuen yeere olde when hee beganne to reigne, and hee reigned fortie yeere in Ieru-salem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Joash did vprightly in the sight of the Lord all the dayes of ^s Jehoiaha the Priest.

3 And Jehoiaha ^t tooke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 ¶ And after ward it came into Joash minde to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And hee assembled the Priestes and the Le-uites, and said to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of all ^u Israel money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and haste the thing, but the Leuites hastened not.

6 Therefore the king called Jehoiaha the ^v chiefe, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem ^w the taxe of Moyses the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the testimonie?

7 For ^x wicked Athaliah, and her children brake vp the house of God and all the things that were dedicated for the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 Therefore the king commanded, ^y and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

9 And they made proclamation thorow Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lord ^z the taxe of Moyses the seruant of God, ^{aa} layd vpon Israel in the wilderness.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, & cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

11 And when it was time, ^{ab} they brought the chest vnto the Kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they saw that there was much silver, then the Kings Scribe, and one appointed by the high Priest came and emptied the chest, and tooke it, and carried it to his place againe:
thus they did day by day, and gathered silver in abundance.

12 And the king and ^{ac} Jehoiaha gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, and hired masons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: ^{ad} they gaue it also to workers of yron and bras, to repaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workemen wrought, and the worke famed through their hands: and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought therest of the silver before the king and Jehoiaha, and hee made thereof ^{ae} vessels for the house of the Lord ^{af} vessels to minister, both morters and incense cups, and vessels of gold, and of silver: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Jehoiaha.

15 ¶ But Jehoiaha waxed old and was full of daies, and died. An hundred and thirtie yeere old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the cite of Dauid with the ^{ag} kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Jehoiaha, came the ^{ah} princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the king, and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued grones and idols: and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespass.

19 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and they ^{ai} made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zechariah the sonne of Jehoiaha the Priest, which stood ^{aj} about the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse yee the commandements of the Lord? surely yee shall not prosper:
because yee haue forsaken the Lord, hee also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, & stoned him with stones at the ^{ak} commandement of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Joash the king remembered not the kindnesse which Jehoiaha his father had done to him but slew his sonne. And when hee died, hee said, The Lord ^{al} looke vpon it and require it.

23 ¶ And when the yeere was out, the host of Aram came vp against him, & they came against Iudah and Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the king of Damascus.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Zabab the sonne of Shimrath an Ammonite, and Iehozabad the sonne of Shimrith a Moabite.

27 But his sonnes, and the summe of the race gathered by him, and the foundation of the house of God behold, they are written in the storie of the booke of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXV.

Amaziah puteth them to death which slew his father. 10 Hee sendeth backe them of Edom. 11 Hee overthroweth the Edomites, &c. Hee fighteth with the Edomites, &c. Hee fighteth with the Edomites, &c.

Amaziah was five and twentie yeere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned nine and twentie yeere in Jerusalem: & his mothers name was Iehozabab of Jerusalem.

2 And hee did vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

3 And when the kingdome was established vnto him, he slew his servants, that had slaine the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the Law, and in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but every man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 And Amaziah assembled Iudah, & made them captaines over thousands, and captaines over hundreds according to the houses of their fathers, thoroughout all Iudah and Benjamin: and hee numbered them from twenty yeere olde and above, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men, to goe forth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 He hired also an hundred thousand valiant men out of Israel for an hundred talents of silver.

7 But a man of God came vnto him, saying, O King, let not the armie of Israel go with thee: for the Lord is not with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If not, goe thou on, doe it, make thy selfe strong to the battell, but God shall makethee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

9 And Amaziah saide to the man of G O D, What shall wee doe then for the hundred talents, which I have given to the hoste of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lord is able to give thee more then this.

10 So Amaziah separated them, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the salt valley, and spoote of the children of Seir, a thousand.

12 And after a thousand did the children of Iudah take alive, and carried them to the top of a rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, and they all burst to pieces.

13 But the men of the armie, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Beth-horon, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

14 Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and worshipped them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wrath with Amaziah, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou fought the gods of the people, which were not able to deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, he saide vnto him, Haue they made thee the Kings counsellor? cease thou: why should they smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but sayde, I knowe that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsell.

17 Then Amaziah King of Iudah took counsell, and sent to Iosiah the sonne of Iehozabab, the sonne of Iehu King of Israel, saying, Come, I let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Iosiah King of Israel sent to Amaziah King of Iudah, saying, The chistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, Give thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beaste that was in Lebanon went and trode downe the chistle.

19 Thou thinkest: loe, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifteth thee vp to bragge: abide now at home: why dost thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Iudah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare: for it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had fought the gods of Edom.

21 So Iosiah the King of Israel went vp: and he and Amaziah King of Iudah sawe one another in the face at Beth-shemesh, which is in Iudah.

22 And Iudah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled every man to his tents.

23 But Iosiah the King of Israel tooke Amaziah King of Iudah, the sonne of Iosiah, the sonne of Iehozabab, in Beth-shemesh, and brought him to Jerusalem, and brake downe the wall of Jerusalem, from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, foure hundred cubites.

24 And hee tooke all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with Obed Edom, and in the treasures of the Kings house, & the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amaziah the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah liued after the death of Iosiah sonne of Iehozabab King of Israel, fifteen yeere.

26 Concerning the rest of the acts of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel?

27 Now after the time that Amaziah did turne away from the Lord, he wrought treason against him in Jerusalem: and when hee was fled to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, and

1. 5 Vzziah sleeping the Lord, prospereth in his enterprise. 16 Hee was rich in peace, and prospereth the Priests office. 19 The Lord plague him. 20 The Priests drive him out of the Temple, and exclude him out of the Lords house. 21 His buriall, and his successour.

Then all the people of Iudah took Vzziah, which was sixteene yeere olde, and made him king in the stead of his father Amaziah.

2 Hee built Eloth, and restored it to Iudah after that the king slept with his fathers.

3 Sixteene yeere olde was Vzziah, when hee began to reigne, and he reigned two & fifty yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Iecoliah of Ierusalem.

4 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And hee sought God in the dayes of Zechariah (which vnderstood the visions of God) and when as he fought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For he went forth and fought against the Philistims & brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistims.

7 And God helped him against the Philistims, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue gifts to Vzziah, and his name spread to the entering in of Egypt: for he did most valiantly.

9 Moreouer Vzziah built towers in Ierusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the turning, and made them strong.

10 And he built towers in the wilderness, and digged many cisternes: for he had much cattell both in the valleys and plaines, plowmen, and dressers of vines in the mountaines, and in Carmel: for he loued husbandry.

11 Vzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that went out to warre by bands, according to the count of their number vnder the hande of Iezel the Scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hananiah, one of the kings captaines.

12 The whole number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and sixe hundred.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, three hundred & seven thousand, and sixe hundred that fought valiantly to helpe the king against the enemies.

14 And Vzziah prepared them throughout all the hoste, shields, and speares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very artificiall engins in Ierusalem, to be vpon the towers and vpon the corners, to shooe arrowes and great stones: and his name spread farre abroad, because God did helpe him marueilously till he was mighty.

16 But when he was strong, his heart was lift vp to his destruction: for hee transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him fourescore Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Vzziah the king, and said vnto him, It perteineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: goe forth of the Sanctuary: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Vzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while he was wroth with the Priests, the leprosie rose vp in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lorde beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, behold, he was leprous in his forehead, & they caused him hastily to depart thence: and hee was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 And Vzziah the king was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an house apart, because he was cut off fro the house of the Lord: and Iotham his sonne ruled ouer the kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the actes of Vzziah, first and last, did Ishaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz write.

23 So Vzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the buriall, which pertained to the kings: for they said, He is a leper. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Iotham reigne, and ouercometh the Ammonites. 8 His reigne and death. 9 Aha his sonne reigne in his stead.

Iotham was five and twenty yeere old when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteene yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Ierushah the daughter of Zadok.

2 And hee did vprightly in the sight of the Lorde, according to all that his father Vzziah did, save that he entred not into the Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet corrupt their wayes.

3 Hee built the hie gate of the house of the Lord, and hee built very much on the wall of the castle.

4 Moreouer he built cities in the mountaines of Iudah, and in the forrests he built palaces and towers.

5 And hee fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and preuailed against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talents of siluer, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon giue him both in the second yeere and the third.

6 So Iotham became mightie, because hee directed his way before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iotham and all his warres and his wayes, loe, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel, and Iudah.

8 He was five and twentie yeere old, when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteene yeere in Ierusalem.

spoile of them, and brought the spoile to Samaria.

8. But there was a Prophet of the Lords, (whose name was Oded) and he went out before the hosts that came to Samaria, & said vnto them, Rehobad, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, hee hath delivered them into your hand, and ye have slain them in a rage, that reacheth vnto heauen.

9. And now yet purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem, as seruantes and handmaidens vnto you, but are not you such, that sinners are with you before the Lord your God?

10. Now therefore heare mee, and deliver the captives againe, which yee haue taken prisoners of your brethren for this fierce wrath of the Lord against you.

11. Wherefore certaine of the chiefe of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Je-hohanan, Berechiah the sonne of Meshillanpoth, and Iehizkiah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasai the sonne of Hallai, stood vp against them that came from the warre.

12. And said vnto them, Bring not in the captives hither: for this shall be a sinne vpon you, in carrying the Lord: yee intend to add more to our sins, & to our trespass, though our trespass be great, & the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.

13. So the army left the captives and the spoile before the princes and all the Congregation.

14. And the men that were named by name, rose vp, andooke the prisoners, and with the spoile clothed all that were naked among them, and arrayed them, and shod them, and gave them meate, and gave them drinke, and anoynted them, and carried all that were feeble of them vp on asses, and brought them to Iericho the city of Palmetrees to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

15. At that time did king Ahaz send vnto the kings of Asshur to helpe him.

16. For the Edomites came moreouer, and slew of Iudah, and caried away captives.

17. The Philistines also invaded the cities in the low country, and toward the South of Iudah, and tooke Bechemesh, and Aialon, and Ge-deroth, and Shochu, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Gimzo, with her villages, and they dwelt there.

18. For the Lord had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz king of Israel, for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah, & had grievously transgressed against the Lord.

19. And Tilgath Pileser king of Asshur came vnto him, who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

20. For Ahaz tooke a portion out of the house of the Lord and out of the Kings house and of the princes, and gaue vnto the king of Asshur:
yet it helped him not.

21. And in the time of his tribulation did hee yet trespass more against the Lord, (this is King Ahaz)

22. For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Aram helped them, I will sacrifice vnto them, and they will helpe mee: yet they were his ruine, and of all Israel.

23. And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euery corner of Jerusalem.

24. And in euery cite of Iudah hee made his places to burne incense vnto other gods, and prouoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

25. Concerning the rest of his acts, and all his waies first and last, behold they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

26. And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of Ierusalem, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the Kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

4. He opened the doores of the house of the

6. And said vnto them, Heare me, ye Leuites:

7. For our fathers haue trespassed and done euill in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, and turned their backs.

8. They haue also shut the doores of the porch, and quenched the lampes, and haue neither burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerings in the Sanctuarie vnto the God of Israel.

9. Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hath bin

9 For our fathers are fallen by the sword; and our sonnes, and our daughters, and our wives are in captiuitie for the same cause.

10 Now I purpose to make a covenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may turne away his fierce wrath from vs.

11 Now my sonnes, bee not deceived: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him; to serue him, & to be his ministers, and to burne incense.

12 ¶ Then the Levites arose, Mahath the son of Amathai, and Ioel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites: and of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Iehalelel: and of the Gershonites, Ioah the sonne of Zimnah, and Eden, the sonne of Ioah.

13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shimri, and Iehiel: and of the sonnes of Alaph, Zechariah, and Mattaniah,

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Iebiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Jeduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and san-ctified themselves, & came according to the commandement of the king, and // by the words of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, & brought out all the vncleanness that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites took it, to carie it out vnto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the first mo-neth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the mo-neth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, & in the sixteenth day of the first moneth, they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and said, Wee haue cleansed all the house of the Lord and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the // shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transfigured, haue we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king rose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seven bullockes, and seuen rammes, and seven lambs, and seven he goats, for a sinne offering for the kingdome, and for the sanctuary, and for Iudah. And hee commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, so offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullocks, and the Priests received the blood, and // sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rammes, and sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slew the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goats for the sinne offering before the king and the Congregation, and they layd their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile Israel: for the king had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering, and the sinne offering.

25 He appointed also the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, with viols, and with harpes, according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the commandement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of Dauid, and the priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altars and when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments of Dauid king of Israel.

28 And all the congregation worshipped, singing a song, & they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king and al that were present with him, bowed themselves, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king and the princes commanded the Levites to praise the Lord with the words of Dauid, and of Alaph the Seer. So they praised with ioy, & they bowed themselves, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and sayd, Now yee haue consecrated your selues to the Lord: come neere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices and offerings of praises, & every man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seventy bullockes, an hundred rammes, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for sanctification fixe hundred bullockes, and three thousand sheepe.

34 But the Priests were too few, and were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Levites did helpe them, til they had ended the worke, & vntill other Priestes were san-ctified: for the Levites were more vpright in heart to sanctifie themselves then the Priestes.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many,
with the fat of the peace offerings & drinke offerings for the burnt offering: so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioiced, and al the people, that God had made the people so ready: for the thing was done suddenly.

hony, and of all the increase of the field, and the tithe of all things brought in they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Judah that dwell in the cities of Judah, they also brought the tithes of bullocks & sheep, and the holy things which were dedicated with the Lord their God, and lay them on many heapes.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the house, and finished them in the seventh month.

8 And when Hezekiah and the princes came, and saw the heapes, they blessed the Lord which made Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priests and the Levites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chief Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we have eaten, and have been satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them.

12 And carried in the firstfruits, and the tithes, and the dedicated things faithfully: and over them was Conaniah the Levite the chief, and Shimei his brother the second.

13 And Jehiel, and Azariah, and Nahai, and Afahel, and Iorimach, and Izabab, and Eliel, and Minachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah were officers: by the appointment of Conaniah, and Shimei his brother, and by the commandment of Hezekiah the King, and of Azariah the chief of the house of God.

14 And bore the vaine of Imnah the Levite porter toward the East, and over the things that were willingly offered unto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at this hand were Eden, and Miniamin, and Ieshua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Sechaniah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small.

16 Their daily portion: beside their generation, being males, from three years old and above, unto a ll that entered into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses.

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Levites from twenty years old and above, according to their charge in their courses.

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wives, and their sonnes, and their daughters, throughout all the Congregation: for by their fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests, which were in the fieldes and suburbs of their cities, in every cite the men that were appointed by names, should give portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generation of the Levites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and did well, and vprightly, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the works that he began for the service of the house of God, both in the Law and in the commandments, to seeke his God, hee did it with all his heart, and prospered.

CHAPTER XXXII.
Saneherib king of Assyria prepared for the way, to besiege Jerusalem, and Hezekiah strengthened the city.

1 After these things faithfully described, Saneherib king of Assyria came, and entered into Judah, and besieged the strong cities, and thought to win them for himselfe.

2 When Hezekiah saw that Saneherib was come, and that his purpose was to fight against Jerusalem, then he took counsel with his princes and his nobles, to stoppe the water of the fountaines without the cite: and they did helpe him.

3 So many of the people assembled themselves, and stoppe all the fountaines, and the cisterns that were in the mids of the countrey, saying, Why should the kings of Assyria come, and finde much water?

4 And he tooke courage, and built all the broken wal, and made vp the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the citie of David, and made many darts and shields.

5 And he set captaines of warre over the people, & assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

6 Bee strong and courageous: feare not, neither be afraid for the king of Assyria, neither for all the multitude that is with him: for there be more with vs, then with him.

7 With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

8 After this did Saneherib king of Assyria send his servants to Jerusalem, (while hee was against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah king of Judah, and vnto all Judah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

9 Thus saith Saneherib the king of Assyria, Wherein dost thou trust, that ye will remaine in Jerusalem, saying this, We will not see.

10 Doeth not Hezekiah entise you to give away your selues vnto death by famine & by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

11 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places, and his altars, & commanded Judah and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shal worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

12 Know ye not what I and my fathers have done vnto all the people of other countreys? were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

13 Who is he of all the gods of those nations, (that my fathers have destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hande, that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hande?

14 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this, saying, Another beleue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdom was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hande.

30. The same Hezekiah also stopped the upper water springs of Gihon, and led them straight vnderneath toward the citie of David Westward: so Hezekiah prospered in all his works.

31. But because of the ambassadors of the princes of Babel, which came vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to trie him, and to know all that was in his heart.

32. Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnesse, behold, they are written in the vision of Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amos, in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.

33. So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the high place of the sonnes of Dauid, and all Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death, and Manasse his sonne reigned in his stead.

buried him in the high place of the sonnes of Dauid, and all Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death, and Manasse his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1. Manasse was twelve years old, when he began to reign, and he reigned five and fifty years in Ierusalem.

2. And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen, whose the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3. For he went backe and built the high places, which Hezekiah his father had broken downe, and he set up altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and turned them.

4. Also hee built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said, In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5. And hee built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6. And he caused his sonnes to passe through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: hee gaue himselfe to witchcraft, and to charming, and to sorcerie, and hee used them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: hee did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7. He put also the carved image, which he had made in the house of God: whereof God had said to Dauid, and to Salomon his sonne, In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8. Neither will I make the foot of Israel to remove any more out of the land, which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heed, and doe all that I haue commanded them, according to the Law and statutes and iudgements by the hand of Moses.

9. So Manasse made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10. And the Lord spake to Manasse and to his people, but they would not regard.

11. Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the king of Assur, which tooke Manasse and put him in fetters, and bound him in chains, and carried him to Babel.

12. And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers,

13. And prayed vnto him, and God was entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: then Manasse knew that the Lord was God.

14. Nowe after this hee built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the West side of Gihon in the valley, tuen at the entry of the fish gate, and compassed about Ophel, and raised it very high, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15. And hee tooke away the strange gods, and the 16 Also hee prepared the altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, & of thanks, and commanded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Neuertheless the people did sacrifice still in the high places, but vnto the Lord their God.

18 Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, and his prayer vnto his God, & the words of the Seers, that spake vnto him in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, behold they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel.

19 And his praiere and how God was intreated of him, and all his sinne, and his trespasses, and the places wherein he built high places, and set groves and images (before he was humbled) behold they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, & they buried him in his owne house: and Amos his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 Amos was two and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeere in Ierusalem.

22 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amos sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, and serued them.

23 And hee humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amos trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against King Amos: and the people of the land made Iosiah his sonne King in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Iosiah was eight yeere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned in Ierusalem one and thirtie yeere.

6 And hee did right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the waies of David his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

7 And in the eight yeere of his reigne, (when yet a childe) he began to seke after the Lord David his father: and in the twelfth yeere he began to purge Iudah, and Ierusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images.

8 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalim, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on high vpon them: hee brake the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images, and stamped them to powder, and cast it vpon the graves of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

9 Also hee burnt the bones of the Priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

10 And in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim and Simeon, even vnto Naphtali, with their manles they brake all round about.

11 And when he had destroyed the altars, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Ierusalem.

12 Then in the eighteenth yeere of his reigne, when he had purged the land & the temple, he sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah & Maasiah the gouernour of the cite, and Ioah the son of Ioahaz the Recorder to repaire the house of the Lord his God.

13 And when they came to Hilkiah the hie Priest, they deliuered money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, & of all the residue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Beniamin, and of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

14 And they put it in the hands of them that should do the worke, and had the oversight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workmen that wrought in the house of the Lord to repaire and amend the house.

15 Euen to the workmen and to the builders gaue they it to buy hewed stone and timber for couples, and for beames of the houses, which the kings of Iudah had destroyed.

16 And the men did the worke faithfully, & the ouersers of them were Iahath and Obadiah the Leuites of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musike.

17 And they were ouer the bearers of burdens, and them that see forward all the workmen in euery worke, and of the Leuites were scribes, and officers and porters.

18 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the booke of the Lawe of the Lord, given by the hand of Moses.

19 Therefore Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the chanceller, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

20 And Shaphan carried the booke to the King, and brought the king word againe, saying, Al that is commended to the hand of thy seruants, that doe they.

21 For they haue gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouersers, and to the hands of the workmen.

22 Also Shaphan the chanceller declared to the King, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the King.

23 And when the king had heard the wordes of the Law, hee tare his clothes.

24 And the king commanded Hilkiah and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Micah, and Shaphan the chanceller, and Asaiah the kinges seruant, saying,

25 Goe and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the remnant of Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord, that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the wordes of the Lord, to do after all that is written in this booke.

by the mouth of Jeremiah, was fulfilled, the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, and hee made a proclamation through all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdomes of the earth hath the Lord God of heaven given me, & he hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem that is in Iudah. Who is among you of all his people, with whom the Lord his God is? let him goe up. I have beene, that Ierusalem and the Temple should be built againe by Cyrus his command: so called, because God vied his service for a people to deliver his Church, as God had before, promised by his Prophet above an hundred yeeres, before Cyrus was.

The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

The prayer is in the Hebrew, but is translated out of the Greek.

Thou hast promised that repentance should be the way for them to returne to thee. He speaks this in comparison of himself, and those holy fathers which have their commendation in the scriptures. In that respect of Manasseh calleth their sinnes, because vnto them they were committed.

O Lord Almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed, which hast made heaven and earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment, which hast shut vp the depth, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whom all doe feare, and tremble before thy power: for the Majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatening toward sinners is importable, but thy merciful promise is vnmeasurable and vnsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull, and repeatst for mans miseries. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that sin against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned above the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of the heavens for the multitude of mine vnrightheousnes. I am bowed downe with many yron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither have any release. For I have provoked thy wrath, & done euill before thee. I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments. I haue set vp abominations, and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knees of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me: O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for ever by reseruing euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue mee that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercy: therefore I will praise thee for ever all the dayes of my life: for all the power of the heavens praise thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer, Amen.

Ezra.

THE ARGVMENT.

As the Lord is very mercifull vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their own miseries, and bee exercised vnder the crosse, that they might condemn the world, and aspire vnto the heauen: so after that hee had visited the Iewes, and kept them now in bondage fouentie yeeres in a strange country among infidels and idolaters, hee remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and through his own mercy raised them up a deliverer, and rescued both the heart of the chief ruler to praise them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding, lest they should grow into contempt of Gods great goodness, hee kepteth them still in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enuies, which outdew as much, as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forward by little and little, till their works were finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest and Scribe of the Law, as Chap. 7. 6. Hee returned to Ierusalem the sixth yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. He brought with him a great company and much treasure, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should bee necessary for the Temple: and at his coming, hee redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

CHAP. I.

Cyrus suddenly against the people that were in captiuitie, & returned them to their own habitation.

Now in the first yeere of Cyrus King of Persia (that the words of the LORD, spoken by the mouth of Ieremiah might be accomplished) the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, and hee commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem that is in Iudah. ^a Meaning the inhabitants of Samaria, whom the king of Assyria had placed in the stead of the ten tribes, 1. King. 17. 24. & 19. 37. These professed God, but worshipped idols also; therefore were the greatest enemies to the true servants of God.

^b For they perceived what their pretence was, to wit, to erect idols in stead of true religion. ^c They made their hands weak.

^d They bribed the governors under the king to hinder their work: Thus they that halt cannot abide that God should be purely feared.

^e He was also called Artaxerxes, which is a Persian name, some think it was Cambyses Cyrus sonne, or Darius, as verse 5.

^f Called Artaxerxes, which signifies in the Persian tongue, an excellent warrior.

^g These were certain people which the Assyrians placed in Samaria in stead of the ten tribes.

^h Some thinke it was Saneherib, but rather Salmanassar.

ⁱ To wit, Ephraim: & he meaneth in respect of Babel that they dwelt beyond it.

^j Which were a certain people that caused the Iewes.

^k Meaning, the gifts that are wont to be given to Kings when they come by any country. ^l In the Chalde, We have seen the job of the palace.

PVe the adversaries of Iudah and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captivity builded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chiefe fathers, and said vnto them, We will build with you: for we seeke the Lord your God as ye do, and we haue sacrificed vnto him since the time of Elar Haddon king of Asshur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, sayd vnto them, It is not for you but for vs to build the house vnto our God: for we our selues together will build it vnto the Lord God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 Wherefore the people of the land discouraged the people of Iudah, and troubled them in building.

5 And they hired counsellors against them, to hinder their deuie, all the dayes of Cyrus King of Persia, euen vntill the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of ^a Ahasueros (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Iudah & Ierusalem.

7 And in the dayes of ^b Artahshastre, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, vnto Artahshastre king of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the ^c chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter against Ierusalem to Artahshastre the king in this sort.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions ^d Dinai, and Apharsithaie, Tarpelae, Apharsaie, Archeanaie, Babilae, Shulbanchaie, Dehaue, Elmaie,

10 And the rest of the people whom the great and noble ^e Asnappar brought ouer, and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the Riuer and ^f Cheenech.

11 ¶ This is the copie of the letter that they sent vnto King Artahshastre, ^g THE SER-VANTS the men beyond the Riuer and Cheenech, ^h salute thee.

12 Be it known vnto the King that the Iewes, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalem (a citie rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the foundations of the walles, and haue ioyned the foundations.

13 Bee it known now vnto the King, that if this citie be built, & the foundations of the walles layd, they will not giue tolle, tribute, nor ⁱ custome: so shalt thou hinder the Kings tribute.

14 Now therefore because ^j wee haue bene brought vp in the Kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent and certified the King,

15 That one may search in the booke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and noysome vnto kings and prouinces, and that they haue moued sedition of old time, for the which cause this citie was destroye.

16 Wee certifie the king ^k therefore, that if this citie be builded, and the foundation of the walles layd, by this means the portion beyond the Riuer shall not be thine.

17 ¶ The King sent an answer vnto Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyond the Riuer ^l Shelam and ^m Cheech.

18 ¶ The letter which yee sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me, 19 And I haue commaunded and they haue searched, and found, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against kings, and hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyond the Riuer, and tolle, tribute and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree that those men may cease, and that the citie be not built, till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heede now that yee faile not to doe this: why should damage grow to hurt the king?

23 When the copie of King Artahshastres letter was read before Rehum and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalem vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then ⁿ ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalem, and did stay vnto the second yeere of Darius king of Persia.

CHAP. V.

¹ Haggai and Zechariah doe prophesie, 2 The worke of the Temple goeth forward contrary to the munde of Tatnai, 3 He let-ter to Darius.

THen ¹ Haggai a Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo a Prophet prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudah, and Ierusalem, in the Name of the God of Israel, ² euen vnto them.

3 Then Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the sonne of Iozadak arose, and began to build the house of God at Ierusalem, and with them ³ were the Prophets of God, which ^a helped them.

4 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnai which was capitaine beyond the Riuer, and Shether-boznai and their companions, and said thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundations of these walles?

5 ¶ Then said we vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that build this building?

6 But the ^c eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

7 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai capitaine beyond the Riuer, and Shether-boznai and his companions, Apharsithaie, (which were beyond the riuer) sent vnto King Darius.

8 They sent a letter vnto him, wherein it was written thus, ⁴ VNTO DARIUS the King, all peace.

9 Bee it known vnto the King, that we went into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with ⁵ great stones, and beames are laid in the wals; & this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

10 Then asked we those Elders, and said vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to build this house, and to lay the foundation of these walles?

¹ Some reade for Shelam, salutation or greeting. ² Called also Cheenech, as verse 10.

ⁿ Not altogether: for the Prophets exhorted them to continue, but they used little diligence because of the troubles.

^a Which incouraged them to goe forward, & assured them that they were more careful to build their owne houses, then zealous to build the Temple of God. ^b That is, the enemies asked this, as verse 10. ^c His fauour and the spirit of strength.

To We asked their names also that we might certify thee, and that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus and said, We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and build the house that was built of olde and many yeeres agoe, which a great king of Israel builded and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen into wrath, hee gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel the Caldean, and hee destroyed this house and carried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus king of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple that was in Ierusalem, & brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the king take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gaue them vnto Sheshbazzar by his name, whom he had made captaine.

15 And hee said vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar and layd the foundation of the house of God, which is in Ierusalem, and since that time euen vntill now hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the king, let there be search made in the house of the kings treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bin made by king Cyrus to build this house of God in Ierusalem, and let the King send his minde concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandment of Darius king of Persia after the Temple was builded and dedicated the children of Israel kept the feast of unleavened bread.

Then King Darius gaue commandment, and they made search in the libraries of the treasures, which were there layd vp in Babel.

2 And there was found in a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall.

3 IN THE FIRST YEERE of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalem, let the house bee built, in the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the wall thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be threescore cubites, and the breadth thereof threescore cubites.

4 Three orders of great stones, and an order of timber, and let the expences be giuen to the kings house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of golde and siluer, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple, which was in Ierusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let him goe vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalem to his place, and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tatnai captaine beyond the River, and Shether-bornai, and their companions Apharhatic, which are beyond the River, be ye careful from thence,

7 Suffer ye the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Iewes and the Elders of the Iewes may builde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandment what ye shal doe to the Elders of these Iewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the king, which is of the tribute beyond the River, there bee incontinently expences giuen vnto them, that they cease not.

9 And that which they shall haue neede of, let it bee giuen vnto them day by day, whether it bee young bullocks, or rammes, or lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheate, falk, wine and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Ierusalem, that there be no fault.

10 That they may haue to offer sweet odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whosoever shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall be set vp, and he shall be hanged thereon, and his house shall bee made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name to dwell there, destroy all kings and people that put to their hand to alter, or to defile this house of God, which is in Ierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speede.

13 Then Tatnai the Captaine beyond the River, and Shether-bornai, and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

14 So the elders of the Iewes builded, & they prospered by the prophesying of Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, and they builded & finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commandment of Cyrus and Darius, and Artahastate king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the moneth Adar, which was the sixt yeere of the reigne of king Darius.

16 And the children of Israel, the Priests, and the Leuites, and the residue of the children of the captiuitie kept the dedication of this house of God with ioy.

17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundred bullockes, two hundred rams, foure hundred lambs, and twelue goats, for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the Priests in their order, and the Leuites in their courses ouer the seruice of God in Ierusalem, as it is written in the booke of Moses.

19 And the children of the captiuitie kept the Pascheouer on the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 (For the Priests and the Leuites were purified altogether) and they killed the Pascheouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

21 So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had separated themselves vnto them, from the filthinesse of the Heathen of the land, to seek the Lord God of Israel, did eate.

22 And they kept the feast of vnleavened bread seven daies with ioy: for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the king of Assyria vnto them, to encourage them in the worke of the house of God, even the God of Israel.

NOW after these things, in the reigne of Artahshashtes king of Persia, was Ezra the son of Seraiah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Hilkiash,

The sonne of Shallum, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Abitub,

The sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Meraioth,

The sonne of Zeraiah, the sonne of Vzzi, the sonne of Bukki,

The sonne of Abishua, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron, the chiefe Priest.

This Ezra came vp from Babel, and was a Scribe, prompt in the Law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had giuen, and the king gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God, which was vpon him.

And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, and of the Priests, and the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nethinims vnto Jerusalem, in the seventh yeere of King Artahshastes.

And hee came to Jerusalem in the fifth moneth, which was in the seventh yeere of the king.

For vpon the first day of the first moneth began hee to goe vp from Babel, and on the first day of the fifth moneth came he to Jerusalem according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

For Ezra had prepared his heart to seeke the Law of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

¶ And this is the copie of the letter that King Artahshastes gaue vnto Ezra the Priest and Scribe, vnto a writer of the words of the commandments of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israel.

ARTAHSHASTES king of kings, to Ezra the Priest and perfite Scribe of the Law of the God of heauen, and to Cheeneth.

I haue giuen commandement, that euery one that is willing in my kingdome of the people of Israel, and of the Priests and Leuites, & to goe to Jerusalem with thee, shall goe.

Therefore art thou sent of the king and his soun counsellors, to inquire in Iudah and Jerusalem, according to the law of thy God, which is in thine hand,

And to carie the siluer and the gold, which the king & his counsellors willingly offer vnto the God of Israel (whose habitation is in Ierusalem)

And all the siluer and gold that thou canst find in all the prouince of Babel, with the offering of the people, and that which the Priests offer willingly to the house of their God which is in Ierusalem,

That thou mayest buy speedily with this siluer bullocks, rammes, lambs, with their meat offerings and their drinke offerings: and thou shalt offer them vpon the altar of the house of your God, which is in Ierusalem.

And whatsoever it pleaseth thee & thy brethren to doe with the rest of the siluer and golde, doe ye it according to the will of your God.

And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruice of the house of thy God, thou deliuer thou before God in Ierusalem.

And the residue that shall bee needfull for the house of thy God, which shall bee meete for thee to bestow, thou shalt bestow it out of the Kinges reasure house,

And I king Artahshastes hath giuen commandement to al the treasurers which are beyond the Riuer, that whatsoever Ezra the Priest and Scribe of the Law of the God of heauen shall require of you, that it be done incontinently, Vnto an hundred talents of siluer, vnto an hundred measures of wheate, and vnto an hundred bathes of wine, and vnto an hundred baths of oyle, and salt without writing.

Whatsoever by the commandement of the God of heauen, let it bee done speedily for the house of the God of heauen: for why should hee bee wroth against the realme of the king and his children?

And wee certifie you, that vpon any of the Priests, Leuites, singers, porters, Nethinims, or Ministers in this house of God, there shall no gouernour lay vpon them tolle, tribute, nor custome.

And thou Ezra (after the wisdom of thy God, that is in thine hand) set iudges and arbiters, which may iudge all the people that is beyond the Riuer, euen all that know the Law of thy God, and teach ye them that know it not.

And whosoever will not doe the Law of thy God, and the kings law, let him haue iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

Blessed bee the Lord God of our fathers, which so hath put in the kings heart, to beautifie the house of the Lord that is in Ierusalem,

And hath enclined mercy toward me, before the king and his counsellors, and before all the kings mightie Princes: and I was comforted by the hand of the Lord my God which was vpon mee, and I gathered the chiefe of Israel to goe vp with me.

14 And of the sonnes of Biguai, Vthai, and Zabbud, and with them seuentie males.

15 And I gathered them to the river that goeth toward Ahaua, and there abode wee three daies: then I viewed the people, and the Priestes, and found there none of the sonnes of Levi.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemai, and to Elnathan, and to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chiefe, and to Iochanib, and to Elnathan men of vnderstanding.

17 And I gaue them commandement to Iddo the chieftest at the place of Casiphia, and I told them the words that they should speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place of Casiphia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God, which was vpon vs, they brought vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Mahali the sonne of Levi the sonne of Israel, & Sherebiah with his sons and his brethren, men eightene.

19 Also Hashabiah, and with him Ieshaiah of the sonnes of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes twentie.

20 And of the Nethinims, whom David had let, and the Princes for the seruice of the Leuites, two hundred & twentie of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the river, by Ahaua, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble our selues before our God, & seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed of requiring of the king an armie and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemies in the way, because wee had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, but his power and his wrath is against al them that forsake him.

23 So wee fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chiefe of the Priestes, Sherebiah and Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them.

25 And weighed them the siluer and the gold, and the vessels, even the offering of the house of our God, which the king and his counsellors, and his Princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand fixe hundred and fiftie talents of siluer, and in siluer vessel, an hundred talents, and in golde, an hundred talents.

27 And twentie basons of gold of a thousand drammes, and two vessels of beating brasie very good, and precious as gold.

28 And I said vnto them, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the gold and the siluer are freely offered vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch yee, and keepe them vntill ye weigh them before the chiefe Priestes and the Leuites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priestes and the Leuites received the weight of the siluer, and of the gold, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 Then we departed from the river of Ahaua on the twelfth day of the first moneth, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemy, and of such as laid wait by the way.

32 And we came to Ierusalem, & abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourth day was the siluer weighed, and the gold, & the vessel, in the house of our God, by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinchat, and with them was Iozabad the sonne of Iethua, and Noadiah the sonne of Binnui the Leuites.

34 By number and by weight of euery one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 Also the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, ninetie and fixe rammes, seuentie and seuen lambes, and twelue hee goats for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the Kings commission vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines beyond the river: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

VHen as these things were done, the rulers came to mee, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priestes, and the Leuites are not separated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominations) as weir, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seed with the people of the lands, and the hand of the Princes & rulers hath bene chiefe in this trespass.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and sat downe astonished.

4 And there assembled vnto mee all that feared the words of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I sat downe astonished vntill the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the euening sacrifice I rose vp from mine heavinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees and spread out mine hands vnto the Lord my God.

6 And I said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for for our iniquities are increased ouer our head, quities haue we, our kings, and our Priests bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the lands, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remant to escape, and in giuing vs a naile in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a little remuining in our seruitude.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath inclined mercy vnto vs in the sight of the Kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, & to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah & in Ierusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shall we say, after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy ser-uants the Prophets, saying, * The land wherunto ye go to possesse it, is an vncleane land, because of the filthinesse of the people of the lands, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore shal ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sons, nor seeke their * peace nor wealth for euer, that ye may be strong and eate the goodnesse of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euill deedes, and for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast stayed vs from being de-uoured: for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliuerance)

14 Should we returne to breake thy com-mandements and ioyne in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldst not thou be angry toward vs till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor any escaping?

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art iust, for we haue bin referred to escape, as appeareth this day:
behold, we are before thee in our trespass: therefore we cannot stand before thee because of it.

CHAP. X.

VW ¹ Hiles * Ezra prayed thus, and ² confessed himselfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

2 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam answered, and said to Ezra, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land, yet now there is ³ hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Now therefore let vs make a covenant with our God, to put away ⁴ all the wiues (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

4 Arise: for the matter belongeth vnto thee:
wee also will bee with thee: bee of comfort and doe it.

5 ¶ Then arose Ezra, and caused the chiefe Priests, the Leuites, and all Israel, to swear that they would doe according to this word. So they swore.

6 * And Ezra rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib: he went euen thither, but he did eat neither bread nor drinke water: for he mourned because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to goe throughout Iudah and Ierusalem, vnto ⁸ al them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble themselues vnto Ierusalem.

8 And whosoever would not come within three daies according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, al his substance should be forfeit, and he should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Iudah and Benjamin assembled themselves vnto Ierusalem within three daies, which was the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, and all the people sate in the streets of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the ¹⁰ raine.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood vp, and said vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, & haue taken strange wiues to ¹¹ increase the trespass of Israel.

11 Now therefore ¹² giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his wil, and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wiues.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loud voyce, So will we do according to thy words vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a raynie weather, and we are not able to stand without, neither ¹⁴ is the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing:

14 Let our rulers stand therefore ¹⁵ before al the Congregation, and let al them which haue taken strange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euery city and the iudges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Ionathan the sonne of Asah-el, and Iahaziah the sonne of Tikuah ouer this matter, and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so, and ¹⁷ departed, euen Ezra the Priest, and the men that were chiefe fathers to the family of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first moneth they were finishing the businesse with all the men that had taken strange wiues.

18 And of the sonnes of the Priests there were men found, that had taken strange wiues, to wit, of the sonnes of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and of his brethren, Maaseiah, Aeliezer, and Tarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gaue ²⁰ their hands that they would gaue a ratome for their trespass.

9 And the King said vnto mee, (the Queene also sitting by him) How long shall thy journey bee? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I let him againe.

10 After, I said vnto the king, If it please the king, let them giue me letters to the captaines beyond the River, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Iudah.

11 And letters vnto Alaph the keeper of the kings parkes, that hee may giue mee timber to build the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) and for the walles of the cite, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king gaue mee according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

12 Then came I to the captaines beyond the River, and gaue them the kings letters. And the king had sent captaines of the armie and horsemen with me.

13 But Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them fore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

14 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

15 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with mee: for I told no man, what God had put in mine heart to doe at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with mee, save the beast whereon I rode.

16 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the ports thereof deuoured with the fire.

17 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the fountaine, and to the kings fishpoule, and there was no roume for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

18 Then went I vp in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall, and turned backe, and coming back, I entered by the gate of the valley, and returned.

19 And the rulers knewe not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

20 Afterward I said vnto them, Ye see the miserie that wee are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof art burnt with fire: come, and let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we bee no more a reproch.

21 Then I told them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the kings words that he had spoken vnto mee. And they said, Let vs rise, and build. So they strengthened their hand to good.

22 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and Gelhem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs, and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that yee doe? Will ye rebell against the king?

23 Then answered I them, and said to them, The God of heauen, he will prosper vs, and we his seruants will rise vp and build: but as for you yee haue no portion, nor right, nor memoriall in Ierusalem.

CHAP. III

Then arose Eliashub the high Priest with his brethren the Priests, and they built the sheepgate: they repaired it, & set vp the doores thereof: euen vnto the tower of Meah repaired they it, and vnto the tower of Hananeel.

4 And next vnto them fortified Meremoth, the sonne of Vrijah, the sonne of Hakkoz: and next vnto them fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Meshzabeel: and next vnto them fortified Zadok, the sonne of Baiana:

5 And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great men of them put not their neckes to the worke of their lords.

6 And the gate of the old fishpoule fortified Iehoiada the sonne of Paseah, and Meshullam the sonne of Besodai: they layd the beames thereof, and set on the dorres thereof, and the locks thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them also fortified Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Iadon the Meronothite, men of Gibeon, and of Mizpah, vnto the throne of the Duke, which was beyond the River.

8 Next vnto him fortified Vzziel the sonne of Harhobiah of the goldsmiths: next vnto him also fortified Hananiah the sonne of Harakkahim, and they repaired Ierusalem vnto the broad wall.

9 Also next vnto them fortified Rephaiah the sonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem.

CHAP. V.

1 The people are oppressed and in necessitie. 6 Nehemiah remembereth it. 12 He tooketh out the portion of others that had ruled before, lest he should grieve the people.

NOW there was a great cry of the people, and of their wiues ^a against their brethren the Iewes.

1 For there were that said, We, our sonnes and our daughters are many, therefore wee take vp ^b come, that we may eate and liue.

3 And there were that said, We must gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houses, and take vp come for the famine.

4 There were also that said, We haue borrowed money for the kings ^c tribute vpon our lands and our vineyards.

5 And nowe our flesh is as ^d the flesh of our brethren, and our sonnes as their sonnes: and loe, wee bring into subiection our sonnes and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters now in subiection, and there is no power ^e in our hands: for other men haue our lands and our vineyards.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their cry and these words.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and sayd vnto them,
You lay ^f burthens euery one vpon his brethren:
and I set a great ^g assembly against them.

8 And I sayd vnto them, Wee (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were sold vnto the heathen: and wil you sell your brethren againe, or shall they bee ^h sold vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and could not answer.

9 I sayd also, That which ye do, is not good.
Ought yee not to walke in the feare of our God, for the ⁱ reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my seruants do lend them money and come: I pray you, let vs leane off this ^j burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their lands, their vineyards, their oliues, and their houses, and remit the hundredth part of the siluer and of the corne, of the wine, and of the oile: that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: we will doe as thou hast sayd. Then I called the Priests, and caused them to sweare, that they should doe according to this promise.

13 So I shooke my lappe, and sayd, So let God smite out euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him be shaken out and emptied. And all the Congregation said, Amen, & praised the Lord:
and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue me charge to be gouernour in the land of Iudah, from the twentieth yeere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of King Artahshaste, that is, twelue yeere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten
the ^m bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before mee, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fortie shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule ouer the people: but so did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no land, & all my ser-uants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreover there were at my table an hundredth and fiftie of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared daily an ox, and fixe chosen sheepe, and birds were prepared for me, and ⁿ within ten dayes wine for all ^o in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grievous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in goodnes, according to all that I haue done for this people.

uersaries. 12 He is not discouraged by the false Prophets.

the Arabian, & the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no more ^a breaches therein (though at that time I had not set vp the doores vpon the gates).

2 Then sent Sanballat and Gessem vnto mee, saying, Come thou that we may meet together in the villages in the plaine of Ono: & they thought to doe me euill.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to do, & I cannot come downe: ^b why should the worke cease, whiles I leave it and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto mee foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same manner.

sort vnto me the fift time, with an open letter in 60 All the Nethinims, and the sonnes of Salomons seruants were three hundredth, ninetie and two.

61 ¶ And these came vp from Tel-melah, Tel-haresha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer: but they could not shew their fathers house, nor their seed, or if they were of Israel.

62 The sonnes of Delaiah: the sonnes of Tobiah, the sonnes of Nekoda, sixe hundredth and two and fourtie.

63 And of the Priests: the sonnes of Habaiah, the sonnes of Hakkoz, the sonnes of Barzillai, which tooke one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was named after their name.

64 These sought their writing of the genealogies, but it was not found: therefore they were put from the Priesthood.

65 And the Tirshatha said vnto them, that they should not eate of the most holy, till there role vp a Priest with *Vrim and Thummim.

66 All the Congregation together was two and fourtie thousand, three hundredth and threescore.

67 Besides their seruants & their maids, which were seven thousand, three hundredth and seven and thirtie: and they had two hundredth and siue and foortie singing men and singing women.

72 And the rest of the people gaue twentie thousand drams of gold, and two thousand pieces of siluer, and threescore and seven Priestes garments.

73 And the Priestes, and the Levites, and the porters and the fingers, and the rest of the people and the Nethinims, and all Israel dwelt in their cities: and when the seuenh moneth came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

¶ Ezra gathered together the people, and caddeth to them the Law. 11 They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 13 They keep the feast of Tabernacles in houses.

¶ And all the people assembled themselves together, in the streete that was before the watergate, & they spake vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that could heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seuenh moneth.

3 And he read therein in the streete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstood it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Law.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood vpon a pulpit of wood which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Uriah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedaiah, and Mishael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for hee was above all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stood vp.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: & they bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Iamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Iozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Levites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, & caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the priest and Scribe, and the Levites that instructed the people, sayd vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither weepe: for all the people wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eate of the fat, and drinke the sweet, & send part vnto them, for whom none is prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sory therefore: for 12 And the Levites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

13 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to send away pain, and to make great joy, because they had vnderstood the words that they had taught them.

14 And on the second day the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Levites were gathered vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he also might instruct them in the words of the Law.

15 And they found written in the Law, (that the Lorde had commaunded Moyses) that the children of Israel should dwell in ^aboothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth,

16 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ieru-salem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring olive branches, and pine branches, and branches of ^bMyrtus, and palme branches, and branches of thicke trees, to make boothes, as it is written.

17 So the people went forth and brought them and made them boothes, every one vpon the roofof his house, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the streete by the watergate, and in the streete of the gate of Bephraim.

18 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie, made boothes, and lye vnder the boothes: for since the time of Ieshua the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioy.

19 And hee read in the booke of the Lawe of God euery day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seven dayes, and on the eight day a solemne assembly, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wives. 2 The Le-uites exhort them to praise God, 3 Declaring his wonders, as hee had done in the wilderness, 4 And Gods great mercies toward them.

IN the foure and twentieth day of this ^amo-neth the children of Israel were assembled with ^bfasting, and with sackcloth, and earth vpon them.

2 (And they that were of the seede of Israel were separated from all the ^cstrangers) and they stood and confessed their finnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood vp in their place and read in the booke of the Lawe of the Lord their God fourte times on the day, and they ^dconfessed and worshipped the Lord their God fourte times.

4 Then stood vp vpon the staires of the Le-uites, Ieshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bun-ni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, and cryed with a lowde voyce vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Levites sayd, ^eown Ieshua and Kad-miel, Bani, Hashabiah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, stand vp and praye the Lord your God for euer, and euer, and let them praye thy glorious Name, O God, which excel-leth aboute all thanksgiving and praye.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the sea, and all that are in them, and thou preseruest them, and wilt be loofe of his heauen with thy hand.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God that hast chosen Abraham, and broughtest him out of ^fUrin Cal-dea, and ^gmadest his name Abraham,

8 And foundest his heart faithful before thee, and made a Couenante with him, to giue vnto his seeds the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, A-morites, and Perizzites, and Iebusites, and Gir-gashites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens & wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his seruants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: therefore thou madeest thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 For thou diddest breake vp the Sea before them, and they went through the mids of the sea on dry land: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottomes as a stone, in the mightie waters:

12 And ^hleddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloud, and in the night with a pillar of fire to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, and true lawes, ordinances and good Commandements,

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, and commandedst them precepts, and ordinances, and Lawes, by the hand of Moyses thy seruant:

15 And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and ⁱpromisedst them that they should goe in, and take possession of the land, for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behaued themselves proudly, and hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy Commandements,

17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marueilous works that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God of mercies, gracious and full of compassion, of long suffering, and of great mercy, yet forookest them not.

18 Moreover, when they made them a molten calfe (and said, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies,

19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forookest them not in the wilderness: ^jthe pillar of the clouds departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar for fire by night, to shew them light, and the way whereby they should goe.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, and withheldest not thy M A N from their mouth, and gauest them water of their thirst.

21 Thou diddest also feede them fourty yeeres in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: ^ktheir clothes waxed not old, & their feet ^lswelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdoms & people, and ^mscatteredst them into corners: so they possessed the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Basan.

23 And thou diddest multiplie their children, like the starrs of the heauen; and broughtest them into the land, whereof thou haddest spoken vnto their fathers, that they should goe, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, ^{even} the Canaanites, and gauest them into their hands, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyards and oliues, and trees for food in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, & liued in pleasure, through thy great goodnesse.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Law behind their backs, and slew thy Prophets (which ^c protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blaspheemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them fauours, who saued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had ^f rest, they returned to doe euill before thee: therefore ledest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerred & cried vnto thee, thou heardst them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times.

29 And protestedst among them, that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy Law: but they behaued themselues proudly, and hardened not vnto thy commaundements, but sinned against thy iudgements (* which a man should doe and liue in them) and ^s pulled away the shoulder, and were shifnecked, and would not ^h heare.

30 Yet thou [†] diddest forbear them many yeeres, and protestedst among them by thy Spirit, ^{even} by the hand of thy Prophet, but they would not heare: therefore ^g went thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Now therefore our God, [†] thou great God, mightie and terrible, that keepest couenant and [•] mercie, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a little before thee, th as it is, to our Kings, to our Princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the ⁱ kings of Ashtur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou hast ^k dealt truly, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our kings and our princes, our priests and our fathers haue not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commaundements nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast ^l protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou shewedst vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou didst set before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill works.

36 Behold, wee are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodnesse thereof, behold, we are seruants therein.

37 And it yeeldeth much fruit vnto the kings whom thou hast set ouer vs, because of our finnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies, and ouer our cattel at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this wee make ^a a sure couenant, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites, and Priests seale vnto it.

C H A P. XII.

1 The Priests and Leuites which came with Zerubbabel vnto Ierusalem, are numbered, 27 and the wall is dedicated.

These also are the Priests and the Leuites that went vp with Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua: viz, Seraiah, Ieremiah, Ezra,

3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

4 Iddo, Ginnetho, Abiiah,

5 Miamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,

6 Shemaiah, and Ioiahib, Iedaiah,

9 And Bakbukiah and Vnni, and their brethren were about them in the watches.

10 And Ieshua begate Ioiakim: Ioiakim also begate Eliashib, and Eliashib begate Ioiada.

11 And Ioiada begate Ionathan, & Ionathan begate Iadua.

12 And in the daies of Ioiakim were these the chiefe fathers of the Priests: vnder Seraiah was Meraiah, vnder Ieremiah, Hananiah,

13 Vnder Ezra, Meshullam, vnder Amariah, Iehohanan,

14 Vnder Melicu, Innathan, vnder Shebani-ah, Ioseph, 15 Vnder Harim, Adna, vnder Meraioth, Hefkai,

16 Vnder Iddo, Zechariah, vnder Ginnithon, Meshullam.

17 Vnder Abiiah, Zichri, vnder Miniamin, and vnder Moadiah, Piltai, 18 Vnder Bilgah, Shamua, vnder Shemaiah, Iohonathan, 19 Vnder Ioiahib, Mattenai, vnder Iedaiah, Vzai,

20 Vnder Sallai, Kallai, vnder Amok, Eber,

21 Vnder Hilkiah, Hashabiah, vnder Iedaiah, Nethaneel.

22 In the daies of Eliashib, Ioiada, and Iohanan and Iadua were the chiefe fathers of the Leuites written, & the Priests in the reigne of Darius the Persian.

23 The sonnes of Levi, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles euen vnto the daies of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib.

24 And the chiefe of the Leuites, were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Ieshua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to giue praise and thanks, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, ward ouer & against ward.

25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon and Akkub were porters keeping the ward at the thresholds of the gates.

26 These were in the daies of Ioiakim the sonne of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and in the daies of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall of Ierusalem, they sought the Leuites out of all their places to bring them to Ierusalem to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, both with thanksgiuings and with songs, cymbals, viols and with harps.

28 Then the fingers gathered themselves together both from the plaine country about Ierusalem, and from the villages of Netopothati, 29 And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the countrys of Geba, and Azmaveth: for the fingers had built them villages round about Ierusalem.

30 And the Priests and Leuites were purified, and cleansed the people, and the gates, & the wall.

31 And I brought vp the princes of Iudah vpon the wall, and appointed two great companies to giue thanks, & the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and halfe of the princes of Iudah,

33 And Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam,

34 Iudah, Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Ieremias,

35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah, the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph.

36 And his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azareel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Iudah, Hanani, with the muscicall instruments of Dauid the man of God: and Ezra the Scribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against them went they vp by the stairs of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, euen vnto the water-gate Eastward.

38 And the second company of them that gave thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the tower of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall.

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the old gate, and vpon the fish gate, and the tower of Hananeel, and the tower of Meah, euen vnto the sheepegate: and they stood in the gate of the ward.

40 So stood the two companies of them that gave thanks, in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets,

42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Vzai, and Iehohanan, and Malchiah, and Elam, 43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices and rejoiced: for God had given them great joy, so that both the women, and the children were joyfull: and the joy of Ierusalem was heard farre off.

44 Also at the same time were men appointed over the chambers of the store for the offerings, for the first fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities, the portions of the Law for the Priests, and the Levites for Iudah rejoyced, for the Priests and for the Levites that served.

45 And both the singers and the Levites kept the ward of their God, & the ward of the purification according to the commandement of David, and Salomon his sonne.

46 For in the daies of David and Asaph, of olde were chief singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving vnto God.

47 And in the daies of Zerubbabel, and in the daies of Nehemiah did all Israel gaine portions vnto the singers and porters, euerie day his portion, and they gave the holy things vnto the Levites, and the Levites gave the holy things vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

CHAP. XIII.

The Law is read. They separate from them all strangers: Nehemiah reproveth them that break the Sabbath: so the wall is builded.

And on that day did they read in the booke of Moses in the audience of the people, and it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite should not enter into the Congregation of God,

Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, that hee should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israel all those that were mixed.

¶ And before this had the Priest Eliashib the oversight of the chamber of the house of our God, being a kinsman to Tobiah:

And he had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforetime laid the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Levites, and the singers, and the porters) & the offerings of the Priests.

But in all this time was not I in Ierusalem: for in the two & thirtieth yere of Artahshastes King of Babel, came I vnto the King, and after certaine daies I obtained of the King.

¶ And when I was come to Ierusalem, I understood the euill that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God,

And it grieved mee sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

¶ And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meate offering and the incense.

¶ And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not bene given, and that euery one was fled to his land, even the Levites and singers that executed the worke.

¶ Then reproveth the rulers and said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

¶ Then brought all Iudah the tithes of corne and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

¶ And I made treasurers over the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the Scribe, & of the Levites, Pedaiah, and vnder their hand Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

¶ Remember mee, O my God, heerein, and wipe not out my kindness that I haue shewed on the house of my God, & on the offices thereof.

¶ In those dayes saw I in Iudah them, that trode winepresses on the Sabbath, & that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Ierusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they folde vitails.

¶ There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Ierusalem.

¶ Then reproveth I the rulers of Iudah, and sayd vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye doe, and breake the Sabbath day?

¶ Did not your fathers thus, and our God brought al this plague vpon vs, and vpon this city? yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath.

¶ And when the gates of Ierusalem beganne to be darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged, that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruantes set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

¶ So the chapmen and merchants of all merchandise remained once or twice all night without Ierusalem.

¶ And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once again, I will lay hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

¶ And I sayd vnto the Levites, that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember mee, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me according to thy great mercy.

¶ In those dayes also I saw Iewes that married wiues of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

¶ And their children speake halfe in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

¶ Then I reproveth them, and cursed them, and smote certaine of them, and pulled off their haire, and tooke an othe of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

¶ Did not Salomon the king of Israel sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no King like him: for hee was beloued of his God, & God had made him King ouer Israel: yet strange women caused him to sinne.

¶ Shall we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, euen to marie strange wiues?

¶ He protested that he did his duty with a good conscience yet he doeth not iustifie himselfe therein, but desireth God to fauour him and to be mercifull vnto him for his owne goodnes sake. as verse 22. and 23.

¶ I declared vnto them, that God would not suffer such transgression of his Law to be unpunished.

¶ Was not this a great cause, why God plagued vs in times past? meaning that if they transgressed now in the same againe their plague should be greater. ¶ About the time that the Sunne went downe: for the Sabbath lasted from the Sunne going downe of the one day, to the Sunne setting of the other.

8. And the drinking was by an order, none might compell: for so the king had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they should doe according to every mans pleasure.

A Fear these things, when the wrath of King
Ahasuerus was appeased, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

And the king's women that ministered under him said, Let there be for the king beautifull young virgins.

And let the king appoint officers throughout all the countie of his kingdom, and let them gather all the beautifull young virgins into the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women vnder the hand of Hage the kings eunuch, keeper of the women, to give them their things for purification.

And the maid that shall please the king, let her reign in the stead of Vashti. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

In the citie of Shushan there was a certaine Jew, whose name was Mordecai, the sonne of Jair, the borne of Shimei, the sonne of Kish, a man of Benjamin.

Which had bene carried away from Jerusalem with the captiuitie that was carried away with Iecaniah king of Iudah (whom Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel had carried away).

And he nourished Hadassah, that is, Ester, his vnclay daughter: for he had neither father nor mother, and the maid was faire and beautifull to look on, and after the death of her father & her mother Mordecai took her for his own daughter.

And when the Kings commandment and his decree was published, and many maidens were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the hand of Hage, Ester was brought thither vnto the king's house vnder the hand of Hage the keeper of the women.

And she made herselfe pleasant, and thus found fauour in his sight, therefore he caused her things for purification to be given her freely, and her maid, and seven chamele maidens to be given her out of the kings house, and he gave change to her and to her maidens of the best in the house of the women.

But Ester showed not her people and her kinred: for Mordecai had charged her that she should not tell him.

And Mordecai walked euery day before the count of the womens house, to know if Ester did well, and what should be done with her.

And when the consecratory maide came to goe in to King Ahasuerus, after that she had been twelve months according to the manner of the women (for so were the lawes of their purification accomplished five months with oyle of myrrour, and six months with sweet odours, and in the purifying of the women).

And thus went the maidens vnto the king, whosoever he required, was given her to goe with her out of the womens house vnto the kings house.

And when the evening was, and on the morrow
he returned into the second house of the women vnder the hand of the king's eunuch, which kept the countie: they came in to the king, and he chose out of them the King, and that she was called Ester.

Now when the count of Ester the daughter of Ahasuerus was told of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) cause, that she should go in to the king, she desired nothing, but what the king's eunuch the keeper of the women said: and Ester found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

And Ester was taken vnto King Ahasue-rus into his house royall in the sixth moneth, which is the moneth Tebeth, in the fourth year of his reigne.

And the King laud Ester above all the women, and she found grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that he set the crown of the kingdom vpon her head, and made her Queen in the stead of Vashti.

Then the King made a great feast vnto all his princes, and his seruants, which was the feast of Ester, and gaue ray to the provinces, and gave gifts according to the power of a King.

And when the virgins were gathered the second time, their Mordecai late in the Kings gate.

Ester had not yet showed her kinred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for she did after the word of Mordecai, as when she was notified with him.

In those dayes when Mordecai late in the Kings gate, two of the kings eunuchs, Bigthan and Teresh, which kept the doore, were wroth, & fought to lay hand on the king Ahasuerus.

And the thing was known to Mordecai, and he told it vnto Queen Ester, and Ester certified the King thereof in Mordecai's name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so:
therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the Chronicles before the King.

CHAP. III.

Now, after he was called, the king, that of the word of the king, which was to be done, and he thought that he should be able to do it.

Further things did King Ahasuerus pro-more Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, and charged him, and set his feet above all the princes that were with him.

And all the king's seruants that were at the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not to the king, neither did reuerence.

Then the king's seruants which were at the kings gate, said vnto Mordecai, Why transgre-stest thou the kings commandment?

And when they spake thus vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they tolde Haman, that they might see how Mordecai's manners would stand: so he had tolde them, that he was a Jew.

And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

Now he thought it too late to lay hands only on Mordecai: and because they had reueled him the people of Iudea, Haman sought to destroy all the Iewes that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus, vnto the peo-

the kings treasure.

10 Then the king tooke his ring from his hand, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite the Jewes aduersarie.

11 And the king said vnto Haman, See the siluer be thine, and the people to doe with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman commanded) vnto the kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people, and to euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill and to destroy all the Jewes, both young and old, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoyle them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should be given a commandement in all prouin-ces, and published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the Kings commandement went forth, and the commandement was given in the palace at Shushan: and the king and Haman sate drinking, but the cities of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. IIIII.

Mordcai had no knowledge of the cruell decree of slaying against the Jewes: so they which shew they pray for her.

Now when Mordcai perceived all that was done, Mordcai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and ashes, and went out into the mids of the cite, and cried with a great crie, and a bitter.

2 And he came euen before the Kings gate, but he might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.
3 And in euery prouince and place, whither the kings charge and his commission came, there was great sorrow among the Jewes, and fasting, and weeping, and mourning; and many lay in sackcloth and in ashes.

4 Then Esters maids & her Eunuches came, and told her: therefore the Queene was very heauie, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordcai, and to take away his sackcloth from him, but he would not.

5 Then called Ester Harach, one of the kings eunuches, which he had appointed to serue her, & gaue him a commandement vnto Mordcai, to know what it was, and why it was.

6 So Harach went forth to Mordcai vnto the street of the cite, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordcai told him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the silver that Haman had promised to pay vnto the Kings treasures, because of the Jewes, for to destroy them.

8 Also he gaue him the copie of the writing and commission that was given at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might shew it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her that she should goe in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 So when Harach came, he told Ester the words of Mordcai.

10 Then Ester said vnto Harach, and commanded him to say vnto Mordcai,

11 All the kings seruants & the people of the Kings prouinces do know, That whosoever man or woman, that cometh to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall die, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rod: that he may live. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the king these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordcai of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordcai said, that they should answered Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Jewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this tyme, comfort and deliuerance shall appeare to the Jewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commanded to answer Mordcai,

16 Goe, and asseemble all the Jewes that are found in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and eate not, nor drinke in three daies, day nor night. I also & my mayds will fast likewise, and so will go in to the King, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mordcai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

Ester prepared in the King, and hideth him and Haman to a feast. 14 Haman prepares a gallows for Mordcai.

And on the third day Ester put on her royall apparell, and stood in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house: and the King sate vpon his royal throne in the kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King saw Ester the Queene standing in the court, shee found fauour in his sight: and the King held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew neere, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then said the king vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be euen as thou shalt say.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the king, let the king and Haman come this day vnto the banquet, that I haue prepared for him.

wherein Ester saw: therefore the King said, Will hee force the Queene also before mee in the house? As the word went out of the Kings mouth, they covered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonah one of the eunuchs, said in the presence of the King, Behold, there standeth yet the tree in Hamans house like cubites high, which Haman had prepared for Mordecai, that spake good for the King. Then the King sayd, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree, that he had prepared for Mordecai: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 14 Commendable letters are sent unto the Iewes.

The same day did king Ahasuerus give the house of Haman the aduersarie of the Iewes unto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came before the King: for Ester told what hee was vnto her.

2 And the King tooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai over the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the king, and fell downe at his feet weeping, and besought him that hee would put away that wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuce that hee had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the King held out the golden scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, and stood before the King.

5 And said, If it please the King, and if I haue found fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it bee written, that the letters of the deuse of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in all the kings provinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euill, that shall come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer and see the destruction of my kindred?

7 And the King Ahasuerus saide vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iew, Beholde, I haue given Ester the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon the tree, because he layd hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the kings name, and seale it with the kings ring, (for the writings written in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, may no man reuoke)

9 Then were the kings Scribes called at the same time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded, vnto the Iewes and to the princes, and captains and rulers of the provinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and seuen and twentie provinces, vnto euery province, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their speech, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And hee wrote in the King Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the Kings ring, and hee sent letters by posts on horsebacke and that rode on beastes of price, as dromedaries and colts of mares.

11 Wherein the King graunted the Iewes (in what cities former they were) to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, and to roote out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the province that vexed them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

12 Vpon one day in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, such in the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.

13 The copie of the writing was, howe there should be a commandement given in al and euery province, published among all the people, and that the Iewes should bee ready against that day to auenge themselves on their enemies.

14 So the posts rode vpon beastes of price, and dromedaries & went forth with speed, to execute the Kings commandement, and the decree was given at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the King in royal apparel of blew, and white, and with a great crowne of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the cite of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and ioy and gladnesse and honour.

17 Also in all and euery province, and in all and euery cite and place, where the Kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

1 As the commandement of the King the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes keepe a fast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

SO in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the Kings commandement and his decree drew neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Iewes gathered themselves together into their cities throughout al the provinces of the King Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt, and no man could withstand them for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the provinces, and the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the King exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and the report of him went through all the provinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace slewe the Iewes and destroyed six hundred men.

7 And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Arpachas,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha, 9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vaiezatha,

10 The ten sons of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersarie of the Iewes, slew they: but they laid not their hands on the spoyle.

forth into many inordinances both of words and sentences, and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: and this is the good cause which he doth not handle well. Again, the adversaries maintain with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding upon Gods providence, his iustice, and mans sinnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despair, and so they maintain an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Eccl. 31. 4. 5. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Iam. 5. 11.

CHAP. I.

1 The be leaffe, riches, and care of Iob for his children. 20 He hath permission to sceme him. 13 He tempted him by taking away his substance, and his children. 28 His faith and patience.

I HERE was a man in the lande of Uz called Iob, and this man was an vpright and iust man, one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

2 And he had seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

3 His substance also was seuen thousand sheepe, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she asses, and his familie was very great, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the East.

4 And his sonnes went and banketed in their houses, every one his day, and sent, and called their three sisters to eate and drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banketing were gone about, Iob sent, and sanctified them, and rose vp early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Iob thought, It may be that my sonnes haue sinned, and blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob every day.

6 ¶ Now on a day when the children of God came and stood before the Lord, Satan came also among them.

7 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and sayd, Doest Iob feare God for nought?

10 Hast thou not made him an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath, on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand, and touch all that he hath, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Loe, all that he hath is in thine hand, onely vpon himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the Shebeans came violently, and tooke them: yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and sayd, The fire of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Caldeans set out three bands, and fell vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, and sayd, Thy sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And behold, there came a great wind from beyond the wilderness, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone, to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and rent his garment, and shaued his head, and fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped.

21 And sayd, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne thither: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God foolishly.

as the wicked doe. * Eccl. 5. 14. 3. Tim. 6. 7. b That is, into the bellie of the earth, which is the mother of all. c Heereby he conuicteth that God is iust, and good, although his hand be sore vpon him. d But declared, that God doeth all things according to iustice and equite.

3 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill? for yet he continueth in his vprightnesse, although thou mouedst me against him, to destroy him with our cause,

6 For miserie cometh not forth of the dust, neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.
7 But man is borne vnto trouble, as the sparks flie vpward.

a He will: Job concluded the existence of all them that were liued as dole like godly, whether any of dare be like unto him in raging against God as he doeth.
b Mourning against God in afflictions increaseth the paine, and ve-tereth manfully.
c This is the sinner that hath not the feare of God.
d I was not satisfied with his prophesie, but knew that God had cut-ted him & his.
e Though God sometime suffer the fathers to passe in this world, yet his iudgements will light vpon their wicked children.
f By this he iudgemeth they shall be condemned: and none shall pisse them.
g Though there be but three or three eares left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from him.
h That which is left is not the cause of barrennesse and misery, but his owne sinne.
i Job declared that sinne neuer inuadeth goodnesse: for before time it was not ready to paine and affliction.

8 But I would enquire at God, and name my talke vnto God.
9 Which doeth great things, and vnsearch-able, and marvellous things without number.
10 He hath chained vpon the earth, and powereth water vpon the streets.
11 And letteth vp on him them that belowe, that the sorrowfull may be exalted to saluation.
12 He scattereth the deuil of the craftie: so that their hands cannot accomplish that which they doe enterprise.
13 He taketh the wife in their craftines, and the counsell of the wicked is made foolish.
14 They meet with darknesse in the day time, and grope at noone day, as in the night.
15 But he saue the poore from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the violent man.
16 So that the poore hath hope, but in-iquitie shall stop her mouth.
17 Behold, blessed is the man whom God cor-recteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.
18 For he maketh the wound, and bindeth it vp: he smiteth, and his hands make whole.
19 He shall deliver thee in sixe troubles, and in the seventh the euill shall not touch thee.
20 In famine he shall deliver thee from death:
and in battell from the power of the sword.
21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it cometh.
22 Thou shalt laugh at destruction and death, and shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth.
23 For the stones of the fildes shall bee in league with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.
24 And thou shalt know, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visit thine habitation, and shalt not sinne.
25 Thou shalt perceive also that thy seede shall be great, and thy possesie as the grasse of the earth.
26 Thou shalt goe to thy grave in a full age, as a rick of corn cometh in due season into the barn.
27 Lo, thus haue we inquired of it, and so it is: heare this and know it for thy selfe.

1 If I feared, I would feele vs to God.
2 He counsell-eth Job to humile himselfe vnto God to whom all creatures are linked, and whose works declare that man is inexcusable except he glorifie
God in all his works.

particular examples, what the works of God are.

and euident they wise men.

6 This declareth that God punisheth the worldly man as he threat-ned, Deut. 32. 33.
7 That is, that humbleness himselfe before God.
8 He compareth the stander of the wicked to thorne bushes.
9 If the wicked be compelled, all Gods works to stoppe their mouthes, much more they that professe God.
10 He will send trouble after trouble, that his children may not for a time, but euentially trust in him: but they shall haue comfortable iudice, coming in the generall iudgement, which is here called the second death.
11 Whereas the wicked sinners in their troubles thinke that it haue certaunt to re-joyce.
12 When we are in Gods labour, all creatures shall reioyce.
13 God shall so blesse thee, that thou shalt haue bec above thy payes in all things, and shalt not be send. 3. Though the children of God beare many wages thus present, yet they are med, yet God doeth recompense it otherwise to their advantage. 4. Job learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that they cannot compare in iustice with him; that the hypocrites shall not long possesse that the affliction which man suffereth, cometh for his owne sinne.

CHAP. VI.

1 Job answereth, that his paine is more grievous then his fault.
2 He complaineth of his friends.

But Job answered and said,
2 Oh that my griefe were well weighed, and my miseries were layed together as the ballance!
3 For it would bee now heavier then the sand of the sea: therefore my words are lowedowed vp.
4 For the arrows of the Almighty are in me,
the remm whereof doeth drinke vp my spirit, and the terrors of God fight against me.

ther I complained without cause,

griefe as it

lance.

pray to the Almighty.
6. If thou be pure and vpright, then surely he will awake vp vnto thee, & he will make the ha bitation of thy righteousness prosperous.
7. And though thy beginning be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increaseth.
8. Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the for mer age, and prepare thy selfe to search of their fathers.
9. For we are but of yesterday, and are igno rant for our daies vpon earth are but a shadow.
10. Shall not they teach thee and tell thee, and utter the wordes of their heart?
11. Can a rush grow without myre? or can the grass grow without water?
12. Though it were in green and not cut downe yet shall it wither before any other herbe.
13. So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perish.
14. His confidence also shall be cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a spider.

not indure.

the branches spread out the garden thereof.

fountainne, and are soulden about the bouls of forges.

cay, saying, I haue not seen thee.

it may grow in another moule.

man: neither will he take the wicked by the hand.

shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not stand.

CHAP. IX.

Job describeth the mightie power of God, and that man mightie in faith is nothing.

Then Job answered, and sayd,
1. I knowe verily that it is so: for how should man compare to God he is dust?
2. If he would dispute with him, he could not and were him one thing of a thousand.
3. He is wise in heart, & mighty in strength: who hath bene seene against him, and hath prospered?
4. He remooueth the mountaines, and they feele not when he overthroweth them in his wrath.
5. He remooueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof doe shake.
6. He commandeth the Sunne, and it steth not:
he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a skyn.
7. He himselfe alone spreadeth out the bea uities, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.
8. He maketh the stormes, Arcturus, Orion, and Polaris, and the climates of the South.
9. Hee doeth great things, and vnsearchable:
yea marvellous things without number.
10. Lo, when hee goeth by me, I see him not:
when hee passeth by, I perceiue him not.

and when he passeth by, I perceive him not.

11. Behold, when he taketh a pray, who can make him to restore it? who shall say vnto him,
What doest thou?

12. God will not withdraw his anger, and the most mighty helps: doe stoupe vnder him.

13. How much lesse shall I answere him? or how should I find out my words with him?

14. For though I were iust, yet could I not answere, but I would make application to my Judge.

15. If I cry, and he answere mee, yet would I not beleeue, that he heard my voyce.

16. For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me without cause.

17. He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.

18. If I speak of strength, beholde, hee is strong: If I speak of iudgement, who shall bring me to please?

19. If I would iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne me: if I would be perfite, he shall iudge me wicked.

20. Though I were perfect, yet I know not my soule: therefore abhorre I my life.

21. This is one point: therefore I sayd, Hee de stroyeth the perfect, and the wicked.

22. If the scourge should suddenly slay, should God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

23. The earth is giuen into the hand of the wic ked: he couereth the faces of the iudges thereof:
if not, where is he? or who is he?

24. My daies haue bene more swift than a post:
they haue fled, and haue seene no good thing.

25. They are passed as with the most swift ships, and as the Eagle that flieth to the pray.

26. If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me.

27. Then I am afraid of all my sorowes, know ing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

28. If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine?

29. If I wash my selfe with snow water, and purge mine hands with cleane,

30. Yet shalt thou plunge mee in the pit, and mine owne clothes shall make me filthy.

31. For he is not a man as I am, that I should answere him, if we come together to iudgement.

32. Neither is there any vmpire that might lay his hand vpon vs both.

33. Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his feare astonish me:

34. Then will I speake, and feare him not, but because I am not so, I hold me still.

35. I have counted perill as them that are wicked. q To wit, the wicked. r This is spoken according to our apprehension, as though he would say, If God destroy the wicked as Chap. 9. y. why should he suffer the innocents to be so long trea mented by them? t That they cannot see to doe iustice. u That can shew the contrary. v I thinke not to fall into these afflictions, but my sorowes bring me to these manifold infirmities, and my confidence condemneth me. x Why destroy

CHAP. X.

Job in reply to his life, and desireth that he might see before God.
Hee desireth that he might see before God.

My soule is cut off: thou hast I haue: I will leave my complaint vpon my selfe, & will speake truth. b I will make an ample declaration of thy sorowes, according my selfe fence, yet God

hee examineth mine heart & conscience.

8 Or speake to the earth, and it shall shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the soule of euery living thing, and the breath of all mankind.

11 Doeth not the eares discern the words, and the mouth taste meat for it selfe?

12 Among the ancient is wisdom, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

13 With him is wisdom and strength: hee hath counsell and vnderstanding.

14 Behold, hee will breake downe, and it cannot be built: he shutteth a man vp, and he cannot be looked.

15 Behold, hee withholdeth the waters, and they drie vp: but when he sendeth them out, they deluge the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisdom: he that is deueiled, and that deceiue, are his.

17 Hee causeth the counsellers to goe spoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 Hee looeth the collar of kings, and girdeth their loyues with a girdle.

19 Hee leaeth away the princes as a pray, and ouerthroweth the mighty.

20 Hee taketh away the speech from the faithfull counsellors, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 Hee powreth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mighty weake.

22 Hee discovereth the deepe places from their darkenesse, and bringeth forth the shadowe of death to light.

23 Hee increaseth the people, and destroyeth them: hee enlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in againe.

24 Hee taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefe ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wilderness out of the way.

25 They grope in the dark without light: and hee maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

l. Hee causeth that their words haue no credite, which is when he will punish sinners.

m. In this discover of Gods wonderful works, Job sheweth that whatsoever is done in this world both in the order and change of things, is by Gods will and appointment, wherein hee declareth that hee knoweth well of God, and is able to set forth his power in words as they that reasoned against, were.

n. Hee causeth that their words haue no credite, which is when he will punish sinners.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job comforteth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shall be saved, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God, that he would not handle him reproachfully.

L O mine eye hath seen all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstood it.

2 I know also, as much as you know: I am not inferior vnto you.

3 But I will speake to the Almighty, and I desire to dispute with God.

4 For in deed yee forge lies, and all you are b physicians of no value.

5 Oh that you would hold your tongue, that it might be impured to you for wisdom!

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye speake wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will ye contend for God?

9 The condemned man is he that had no knowledge, or rather regarded they to understand him, but alwayes rested on Gods sentence, although it was not evidently seene, but hee receiued they had vnderstanding the punishment thereof.

9 Is it well that hee should seeke of you? will you make a lye for him, as one lyeth for a man?

10 He will surely reprove you, if ye doe secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your memories may bee compared vnto ashes, and your bodies vnto bodies of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come vpon what will.

14 Wherefore doe I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in my hand?

15 Lo, though hee slay mee, yet will I trust in him, and I will reprove my wayes in his sight.

16 He shall be my saluation also: for the hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Hearediligently my words, and marke my talke.

18 Behold now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I know that I shall be iustified.

19 Who is he that will pleade with me? for if I now hold my tongue, I die.

20 But do not these two things vnto me: then will I not hide my selfe from thee.

21 Withdraw thine hand from me, & let not thy feare make me afraid.

22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speake, and answer thou me.

23 How many are mine iniquities and sinnes, shew me my rebellion, and my sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemy?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the drie stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possesse the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feet also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly vnto all my paths, and makest the print thereof in the heeles of my feet.

28 Such a one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is motheaten.

29 Thou makest me thy prisoner, and dost oppress me that I cannot stand: hand nor foot.

30 Thou hast broken downe my strength, and hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance.

31 Thou hast raised up against me mine enemies, and hast made them to be more than I.

32 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

33 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

37 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

38 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

39 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

40 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

41 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

42 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

43 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

44 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

45 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

46 Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

d Your time shall come to nothing.

e Is not this a manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I doe not com- plaice without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented as though I should create mine owne flesh, and put my life in danger?

f. Whereby hee declarerh that hee is not an hypocrite, as they charged him.

g. That is, cleared and peccat off by my finnes, as you reason.

h. To proue that God doth thus punish me for my finnes.

i. If I defend not my cause, euery man will condemne me.

k. He sheweth what these two things are.

l. His paage thus mouerh him to reason with God, not denying but that hee had sinned: but he desired to vnderstand what were his great finnes that had deserued such rigour, wherein hee offered that hee would know a cause of God why hee did punish him.

m. Thou punishest me now for the faults that I committed in my youth.

n. Thou makest me thy prisoner, and dost oppress me that I cannot stand: hand nor foot.

u. Thou hast made me to be hated of all my acquaintance, and thou hast made me to be hated of all my friends.

15 In token of so-row and griefe.

16 That is, God by his wrath, and in this discipline of words and high-dile he ex- redeth how grieuous the hand of God was vpon him.

17 That is, hath contemptuously

my sin.

21 I am wounded in the heart.

22 Meaning, his glory was brought low.

23 Signifying, that he is not able to comfort himselfe in the cause of this his grieuous punishment.

24 Let my sinnes be knowne if I be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me, so let me finde no fauour.

25 Though man condemne me yet God is witnesse of my cause.

26 Vnquainted whedles in stead of true consolation.

27 Thus by his griuous words he is chidde away, and heareth out into passions, and speaketh vnadvisably, for though God should intreat man more gently, seeing hee had but a short swer?

4 I could also speake as ye doe: (but would God your soules were in my soules stead) I could keepe you company in speaking, & could shake mine head at you.

5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth, & the comfort of my lips should aswage your sorrow.

6 Though I speake, my sorrow cannot be asswaged: though I cease, what release have I?

7 But now shee maketh mee wearie: O God, thou hast made all my congregation desolate.

8 And hast made me full of wrinkles which is a witnesse thereof, and my leanness riseth vp in me, testifying the same in my face.

9 His wrath hath torne me, and hee hateth me, and gnasheth vpon me with his teeth: mine enemy hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They haue opened their mouths vpon me, and smitten me on the cheek in reproch: they gather themselves together against me.

11 God hath deliuered me to the vniuit, and hath made me to turne out of the way by the hands of the wicked.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the necke and beaten me, and set me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His archers compass me round about: he cutteth my raines, and doeth not spare, and powereth my gall vpon the ground.

14 He hath broken me with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon me like a giant.

15 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skin, and haue abased mine bed vnto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weeping, and the shadow of death is vpon mine eyes.

17 Though there be no wickednesse in mine hands, and my prayer be pure.

18 O earth, cover not thou my blood, and let my crying finde no place.

19 For loe, now my witnesse is in the heauen, and my record is on high.

20 My friends speake eloquently against me:
but mine eyepowres our teares vnto God.

21 Oh what a man might please with God, as man with his neighbour!

22 For the yeeeres accounted come, and I shall goe the way, whence I shall not returne.

23 That is, vntained, and without hypocrisie.

24 Let my sinnes be knowne if I be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me,
so let me finde no fauour.

25 Though man condemne me yet God is witnesse of 5 For the eyes of his children shall faile, that speakeeth flatterie to his friends.

6 Hee hath also made mee a by word of the people, and I am as a tabret before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dim for griefe, and all my strength is like a shadow.

8 The righteous shalbe astonished at this, and the innocent shalbe moued against the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous will hold his way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.

10 All you therefore reuerse you, and come now, and I shall not finde one wise among you.

11 My dayes are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart.

12 Haue changed the night for the day, and the light that approached, for darkenesse.

13 Though I hope, yet the graue shalbe mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke.

14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the worme, Thou art my mother and my sister.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shal consider the thing that I hoped for?

17 They shall drive him out of the light vnto darknesse, and chaffe him out of the world.
18 Hee shall neither haue sonne nor nephewe among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.
19 The posteritie shall be esteemed at his day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient.
20 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Job reuolued his friends, 17 and reuolued his ministers and his seruants. 25 He offered himselfe for the generall redemption.

BY Job enforced, and sayd,

2 How long will yee vex my soule, and torment me with words?

3 Ye haue now ten times reproched me, and are not ashamed: ye are impudent toward me.

4 And though I had inuolued my selfe in mine error, yet remaineth with me.

5 But indeed if ye will aduance your felles against me, and rebuke me for my reproch.

6 Know now, that God hath chastised me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Beholde, I cry out of violence, but I haue none answer: I cry, but there is no iudgement.

8 He hath hedged vp my way that I cannot passe, and he hath set darknesse in my paths.

9 Hee hath spoiled mee of mine honour, and taken the crowne away from mine head.

10 Hee hath destroyed me on every side, and I am gone: and he hath remoued mine hope like a tree.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and enuighed me as one of his enemies.

12 His armies came together, and made their way vpon me, and camped about my tabernacle.

13 He hath remoued my brethren farre from mee, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.

15 They that dwell in mine house, and my maids, haue counted me as a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

16 I treated my seruants, but he would not answer me: I prayed him with my mouth,

17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne body.

18 The wicked also despised mee, and when I rose, they spake against me.

19 All mine friends abhorred me, and they whom I loved are turned against me.

20 My skin cleaueth to my skinne, and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the skinne of my teeth.

21 Haue pittie vpon me: haue pittie vpon me, O ye my friends, for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why doe ye persecute mee, as God? and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Oh that my wordes were now written! oh that they were written vpon a booke.

24 And graven with Pen vpon pen, in lead, or in stone for ever!

25 For I am sure that my Redeemer lieth, and he shall stand the last on the earth.

26 And after that he shall be called, and shall come before the face of the Lord, and shall be delivered out of his hands.

27 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

28 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

29 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

30 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

31 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

32 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

33 And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet shall I see God: in my flesh.

34 Whome I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other for me, though my teynes are consumed within me.

35 But ye said, Why is he persecuted? And there was a deepe matter in me.

36 Bee ye afraid of the sword: for the sword will be auenged of wickednesse, that yee may know that there is a iudgement.

37 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

38 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

39 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

40 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

41 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

42 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

43 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

44 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

45 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

46 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

47 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

48 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

49 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

50 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

51 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

52 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

53 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

54 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

55 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

56 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

57 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

58 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

59 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

60 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

61 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

62 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

63 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

64 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

65 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

66 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

67 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

68 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

69 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

70 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

71 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

72 I haue sinned, and I am wicked: I haue heard the voice of my Lord, and I am afraid.

10 Hee shall drive him out of the light vnto darknesse, and chaffe him out of the world.
11 Hee shall neither haue sonne nor nephewe among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.
12 The posteritie shall be esteemed at his day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient.
13 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

14 Job reuolued his friends, 17 and reuolued his ministers and his seruants. 25 He offered himselfe for the generall redemption.

BY Job enforced, and sayd,

2 How long will yee vex my soule, and torment me with words?

3 Ye haue now ten times reproched me, and are not ashamed: ye are impudent toward me.

4 And though I had inuolued my selfe in mine error, yet remaineth with me.

5 But indeed if ye will aduance your felles against me, and rebuke me for my reproch.

6 Know now, that God hath chastised me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Beholde, I cry out of violence, but I haue none answer: I cry, but there is no iudgement.

8 He hath hedged vp my way that I cannot passe, and he hath set darknesse in my paths.

9 Hee hath spoiled mee of mine honour, and taken the crowne away from mine head.

10 Hee hath destroyed me on every side, and I am gone: and he hath remoued mine hope like a tree.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and enuighed me as one of his enemies.

12 His armies came together, and made their way vpon me, and camped about my tabernacle.

13 He hath remoued my brethren farre from mee, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.

15 They that dwell in mine house, and my maids, haue counted me as a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

16 I treated my seruants, but he would not answer me: I prayed him with my mouth,

17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne body.

18 The wicked also despised mee, and when I rose, they spake against me.

19 All mine friends abhorred me, and they whom I loved are turned against me.

20 My skin cleaueth to my skinne, and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the skinne of my teeth.

21 Haue pittie vpon me: haue pittie vpon me, O ye my friends, for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why doe ye persecute mee, as God? and are not satisfied with my flesh?

23 Oh that my wordes were now written! oh that they were written vpon a booke.

24 And graven with Pen vpon pen, in lead, or in stone for ever!

25 For I am sure that my Redeemer lieth, and he shall stand the last on the earth.

26 And after that he shall be called, and shall come before the face of the Lord, and shall be delivered out of his hands.

27 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

28 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

29 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

30 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

31 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

32 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

33 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

34 And he shall say vnto the Lord, My friends haue forsaken me, and mine acquaintance are strangers vnto me.

K Now God hath questioned them from the beginning.
I have promised Gods punishment
by the punishment of the wicked which he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe.
as he saith had said Chap. 31.
7 that the wicked have prospered in this world: defining that he might not be parallel of the like.
N The selfe saith stable destruction of the wicked, for two causes: first, because God thereby himselfe iudge at the world, and by this manner condemning his behaviour and glory:
secondly, because God himselfe that he hath prospered his in this he promised their condemnation.
O That the day and punishment of the guilty is hid under Gods wing, y meaning of the wicked.
P He saith Job as representing and to comfort us God.
Q God will deliver unto thee all thy substance. f Which shall be in abundance like unto: 1 That is, the favour of God. 2 God will deliver us when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodom. 3 God will deliver whole country from perill, even for the justnes sake.

14 The cloudes hide him that he cannot see,
and he walketh in the circle of heauen.
15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men have walked?
16 Which were cut downe before the time, whose foundation was as a river that overflowed.
17 Which said vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almighty could doe for them.
18 Yet hee filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.
19 The righteous shall see them and shall re-ioyce, and the innocent shall laugh them to scorne.
20 Surely, our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of them.
21 Therefore, I pray thee, I pray thee,
I with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt have prosperitie.
22 Receive, I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and lay vp his words in thine heart.
23 If thou remitte to the Almighty, thou shalt be built vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.
24 Thou shalt lay vp gold for dust, and the gold of Ophir as the fluncks of the riuers.
25 Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.
26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God.
27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, & he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.
28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the light shall shine upon thy wayes.
29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.
30 The innocent shall deliuer the yland, & it shall be preferred by the purenesse of chaine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

B Now Job answered and said,
1 Though my talke be this day in bitter-nesse, and my plague greater then my groining, 2 Would God yet I knew how to finde him,
I would enter vnto his place.
3 I would pleade the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.
4 I would knowe the words, that he would answer me, & would vnderstand what he would say vnto me.
5 Would he plead against me with his great power? No, but he would put strength in me.
6 There I might reason with him,
so I should be deliuered for euer from my lodge.
7 Behold, if I go to the East, he is not there:
if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him.
8 If to the North, where hee worketh, yet I cannot see him: he wil hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

9 He knoweth my way, and tryeth me, and I shall come forth like the gold.
10 My feet hath followed his steps: his way have I kept, and have not declined: 11 Neither have I departed from the commandement of his lippes, and I haue esteemed the wordes of his mouth more then mine appointed foode.
12 Yet he is in one minde, and who can turne him? yea, he doeth what his minde desireth.
13 For he will performe that which is decreed of me, and many such things are with him.
14 Therefore, I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraid of him.
15 For God hath fastened mine heart, and the Almighty hath troubled me.
16 For I am not set off in darkenesse, but he hath hid the darkenesse from my face.

a good end. 1 In many points man is not able to attaine to k That I should not be without feare. 1 He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth none end, neither yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIII.

I Now should not the times
1 Almighty, seeing that they which knowe him, see not his dayes?
2 I will remove the land markes, that rob the flockes and feede thereof.
3 They leade away the ass of the fatherlesse, and take the widowes oxe to pledge.
4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together.
5 Behold, others as wilde asses in the wildernesse, goe forth to their businesse, and rise early for a pray: the wilderness giueth him and his children food.
6 They reape his prouision in the field, but they gather the late vintage of the wicked.
7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the cold.
8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and they embrace the rocke for want of a couering.
9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the breast, and take the pledge of the poore.
10 They cause him to go naked without clothing, and take the gleaming from the hungry.
11 They that make oyle betweene their walles, and tread their wine presses, suffer thirst.
12 Men cry out of the city, and the soules of the flaine cry out: yet God doeth not charge them with folly.
13 These are they, that abhorre the light:
they know not the wayes thereof, nor continue in the pathes thereof.
14 The murderer riseth early, and killeth the poore and the needy: and in the night he is as a cheefe.
15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and faith, None eye shall see me, and disguiseth his face.
16 They digge through houses in the darke, which they marked for themselves in the day:

which are appointed for that purpose: meaning, that those that labour for the wicked, are pined for hunger. m For the great oppression and extortion. n Cry out and call for vengeance. o God doeth not condemn the wicked, but seemeth to passe over it by his long silence. p That is, Gods word, because they are reprooued thereby. q By these particular vices and the licence thereunto, he would proove that God punisheth not the wicked, and rewardeth the iust.

I God hath this preeminence above me, that he knoweth my way to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his wordes: he sheweth also his confidence, God doeth vs him for his profit.
g His word is more precious vnto me, then the meate wherewith the body is susteyned.
h Job saith, that at this present
he felt not Gods favour, and yet was assured that he had appointed him to Gods iudgements.

a Thus Job speaketh in his passions, and after the iudgement of the flesh: that is, that he seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar case oner, all because he punisheth not the wicked, nor rewardeth
the goodly.
b When he punisheth the wicked, and rewardeth the good.
c And for crueltie and oppression dare not show their faces.
d That is, sparsh
no diligence.
e He and his line by robbing and murdering.
f Meaning, the poore mans.
g Signifying, that one wicked man will not spoile an other, but for ne-cessitie.
h The poore are driven by the wicked into the rocks and holes where they cannot lie dry for the raine.
i That is, they powe and pill the poore widow, that the cannot haue to sustaine her selfe that she may be able to giue her childe sucke.
k That is, his gas-ment, wherewith
he should be coured or clad.
l In such places
which are appointed for that purpose: meaning, that those that labour for the wicked, are pined for hunger. m For the great oppression and extortion. n Cry out and call for vengeance. o God doeth not condemn the wicked, but seemeth to passe over it by his long silence. p That is, Gods word, because they are reprooued thereby. q By these particular vices and the licence thereunto, he would proove that God punisheth not the wicked, and rewardeth the iust.

they know not the light.

17 But the morning is euen to them as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrors of the shadow of death.

18 He is swift vpon the waters: their portion shall be cursed in the earth: he will not behold the way of the vineyards.

19 As the drie ground and heate consume the snow waters, so shall the graue the sinners.

20 The pitifull man shall forget him: the worme shall feed his sweetnesse: hee shall bee no more remembered, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.

21 He doth euill in teate the barren that doth not beare, neither doth he good to the widow.

22 He draweth also the mighty by his power, and when he riseth vp, none is sure of life.

23 Though men giue him assurance to be in safety, yet his eyes are vpon their waies.

24 They are exalted for a little, but they are gone, and are brought low as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the toppes of an eare of corne.

25 But if it be not so, where is he? or who will proue me a liar, and make my words of no value?

Hee declareth that after that the wicked have destroyed the weakest they will doe like to the stronger, and therefore are iustly punished by Gods iudgements. That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can giue a perfit reason of Gods iudgements, let me be reproofed.

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne before God.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said, 1 Power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his high places.

2 Is there any number in his armies? and vpon whom shall not his light arise?

3 And how may a man be iustified with God? or how can he be cleane that is born of woman?

4 Behold, he will giue no light to the moone, and the starres are vncleane in his sight.

5 How much more man, a worme, euen the sonne of man, which is but a worme?

6 If God shew his power, the moone and starres cannot haue that light which is giuen them, much lesse can man haue any excellencie, but of God.

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob sheweth that man cannot see God, and proueth it by his miracles.

But Iob answered, and said, 1 Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power? sauest thou? arme that hath no strength?

2 Whom counselest thou? him that hath no wisdom? thou shewest right well as the thing is.

3 To whom doest thou declare these words? or whose spirit commeth out of thee?

4 The dead things are formed vnder the waters, and neere vnto them.

5 The graue is naked before him, and there is no couering for destruction.

6 He stretcheth out the North over the empty place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

7 He bindeth the waters in his clouds, & the cloud is not broken vnder them.

8 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne,

9 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne,

10 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne,

11 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne,

12 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne,

13 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne,

14 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne,

15 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne,

and spreadeth his cloud vpon it.

10 He hath set bounds about the waters, vntill the day and night come to an end.

11 The pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 The sea is calmed by his power, and by his vnderstanding he smiteth the pride thereof.

13 His Spirit hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath formed the crooked serpent.

14 Lo, these are part of his wayes: but how little a portion beare wee of him? and who can vnderstand his fearefull power?

15 The figure of stars fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednesse. m If these few things, which we see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and providence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his works?

CHAP. XXVII.

The constancie and persistence of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

Moreouer Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

1 The liuing God hath taken away my iudgment: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

2 Yet so long as my breath is in mee, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

3 My lips surely shall speake no wickednesse, and my tongue shall vtter no deceit.

4 God forbid, that I should iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine innocence from my selfe.

5 I will keepe my righteousness, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove mee of my dayes.

6 Mine enemy shall be as the wicked, and he that riseth against me, as the righteous.

7 For what hope hath the hypocrite when hee hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?

8 Will God heare his crye, when trouble cometh vpon him?

9 Will hee set his delight on the Almighty? will he call vpon God at all times?

10 I will teach you what is in the hand of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almighty.

11 Behold, all yee your selues haue seene it: why then doe you thus vanish in vanitie?

12 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almighty.

13 If his children bee in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

14 His remnant shall bee buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.

15 Though hee should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay, 16 He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shall diuide the siluer.

17 Hee buildeth his house as the moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

18 When the rich man sleepeth, he shall not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

19 Terrors shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carie him away by night.

20 The East wind shall take him away, and he shall depart: & it shall hurle him out of his place.

21 And God shall call vpon him & not spare, though he would faine flee out of his hand.

22 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

23 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

24 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

25 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

26 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

27 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

28 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

That is, he hideth the heuens, which are called his throne.

1 So long as this world endureth,

2 Not that heauen hath pillars to vphold it, but he speaketh by a similitude, as though he would say, The heauen is felicitie is not able to abide his reproofe.

3 Which is a figure of stars fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednesse.

4 m If these few things, which we see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and providence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his works?

5 He hath so sore afflicted me, that men cannot iudge of mine vprightnesse: for they iudge onely by outward signes.

6 Howsoever men iudge of mee, yet will I not speake contrary to that which I haue said, and so do wickedly in betraying the truth.

7 Which euen denie me as a wicked man, because the hand of God is vpon me.

8 I will not confesse that God doth thus punish me for my sinnes.

9 Of my life past.

10 What advantage hath this dissembling to gaine neuer so much, seeing hee shall lose his owne soule?

11 That is, what God reuereth not himselfe, & when of he giueth not the knowledge to all.

12 That is, these secret iudgements of God, and yet doe not vnderstand them.

13 Why maintainest thou then this error?

14 Thus will God order the wicked, and punish him euen vnto his posteritie.

15 None shall inherit him.

16 Which breedeth in another mans possession or garment, but is soone shaken out.

17 Hee meaneth, that the wicked tyrants shall not haue a quiet death nor be buried honourably.

18 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

19 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

20 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

21 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

22 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

23 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

24 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

25 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

26 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

27 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

28 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

29 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

30 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

31 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

32 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

33 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

34 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

35 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

36 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

37 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

38 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

39 And God shall call vpon him & not spare,

27 Every man shall say that he is rich, and hiss at him out of their place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Job taught that the wisdom of God is unsearchable.

The silver surely hath his vein, and the gold his place, where they take it.

Yron is taken out of the dust, and molten out of the stone.

God putteth an ende to darkenesse, and he crieth the perfection of all things: hee seeth a bond of darkenesse, and of the shadow of death.

The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters forgotten of the foote, be-cometh higher then man: are gone away.

Out of the same earth cometh bread, and vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.

The stones thereof are a place of Saphirs, and the dust of it is gold.

There is a path which no fowle hath know-en, neither hath the kites eye seene it.

The Lions whelps have not walked it, nor the Leon passed thereby.

He putteth his hand vpon the rocks, and ouerthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.

Hee breaketh riuer in the rocks, and his eyesteeth enery precious thing.

Hee bindeth the floods, that they doe not ouerflow, and the thing that is hid, bringeth hee to light.

But where is wisdom found? & where is the place of vnderstanding?

Man knoweth not the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

The depth saith, It is not in mee: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

Gold shal not be giuen for it, neither shal silver be weighed for the price thereof.

It shal not bee valued with the wedge of gold of Ophir, nor with the precious onix, nor the saphir.

The gold nor the crysell shal bee equall vnto it, nor the exchange shal be for plate of fine golde.

No mention shal be made of corall, nor of the labrish: for wisdom is more precious then pearles.

The Topaz of Ethiopia shal not be equall vnto it, neither shal it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.

Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of vnderstanding?

Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the fowles of the heauen?

Destruccion and death say, We haue heard the same thereof with our eares.

But God vnderstandeth the way therof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

For hee beholdeth the ends of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen.

To make the weight of the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure,

When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders.

Then did hee see it, and counted it: he prepared it, and also considered it.

And who man he said, Behold, the feare of the Lord is wisdom, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

Job complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past, 7. 21. His affliction, 12. Justice and equitie.

So he proceeded, and continued his parable,
saying,

That I were as in times past, when God reuered me!

When his light shined vpon mine head:
and when by his light I walked thorow the darkenesse.

As I was in the daies of my youth: when Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:

When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children round about me:

When I washed my feet in butter, and when the rocke powred mee out riuers of oyle:

When I went out to the gate, and to the iudgement seate, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the fire.

The yong men saw me, and hid themselues, and the aged arose, and stood vp.

The princes stayed talke, & laid their hand on their mouth.

The voice of princes was hidde, and their tongue cleaued to the roofe of their mouth.

And when the eare heard mee, it blessed mee, and when the eye saw me, it gave witness to mee.

For I deliuered the poore that cried, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

The blessing of him that was readie to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

I put on iustice, and it covered mee: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

I brake also the iawer of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the pray out of his teeth.

Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my dayes as the sand.

For my roote is spread out by the water, and the dew shall lie vpon my branch.

My glory shall renew toward me, and my bowe shall be restored in mine hand.

Vnto me men gaue eare, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

After my wordes they replied not, and my salke dropped vpon them.

And they waited for mee, as for the raine,
and they opened their mouth as for the latter raine.

If I laughed on them, they beleueed it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance to fall.

I appointed out their way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a King in the armie, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

Job complaineth that he is contemned of the most contemptible, 21. 22. because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23. Death is the house of all flesh.

But now they that are younger then I, mocke me: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to fet with the dogges of my flockes.

men were glad to doe me reuerence, the yong men now contemne me. b Meaning to be my shepherds, or to keepe my dogges.

free from affliction.

his fauour,

b I was free from affliction.

c That is, seemed by euident tokens to be more prosperous then me.

d By these simili-tudes he declareth the great prosperitie that he was in,
so that he had none occasion to be such a sinner as they ac-

so he had cause to am as dead.

hath brought me

u I am like the

v When we hear of affliction.

a For wherfore should the strength of their hand haue smitten mee, seeing age & perished in them?

1 For povertie and famine they were solitary, fleeing into the wilderness, which is darke, deso late and waste.

4 They crie vp scettles by the bushes, and the insiniper rootes was their meat.

5 They were chased forth from among men;
they shouted at them, as at a chiefe.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rocks.

7 They roared among the bushes, and vnder the bushes they gathered themselves.

8 They were the children of foolcs and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now am I their song, and I am their talk.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my corde and humbled me, they haue loosed the bridle before me.

12 The youth rise vp at my right hand: they haue pusht my seete, and haue trode on me as on the paths of their destruction.

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they tooke pleasure at my calamitie, they had no helpe.

14 They came as a great breath of waters, and vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 Feare is turned vpon me: and they pursue my soule as the wind, and mine health passeth a way as a cloude.

16 Therefore my soule is now powred out vpon me, and the dayes of affliction haue taken hold on me.

17 It pearceth my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garment changed, which compasseth me about as the collar of my coate.

19 He hath cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou dost not heare me, neither regardest me, when I stand vp.

21 Thou turnest thy selfe cruelly against me, and art enemy vnto me with the strength of thine
hand.

22 Thou takest me vp and caushest me to ride vpon the wind, and makest my strength to faile.

23 Surely I know that thou wilt bring mee to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.

24 Doublelesse none can stretch his hand vn to the graue, though they crie in his destruction.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? was not my soule in heavinesse for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, euill came vnto me: and when I waited for light, these came darkenesse.

27 My bowels did boyle without rest: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning without sunne: I stood vp in the congregation and cryed.

29 I am a brother to the Dragons, and a companion to the Ostriches.

30 My skinned is blacke vpon mee, and my bones are burnt with heate.

31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mour ning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that weepe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Job reuicth the impuencie of his lining, and number of his tears, which declared what ought to be the life of the just.

1 Made a covenants with mine eyes: why then
I should I thinke on a maide?

2 For what portion should I haue of God from aboue? and what inheritance of the almightie from on high?

3 Is not destruction to the wicked, & strange punishment to the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not he behold my wayes and tell all my steps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foote hath made haste to deuite,

6 Let God weigh me in the iust balance, and he shall know my vprightnes.

7 If my steppes hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath walked after mine eye, or if a ny blot hath cleaued to mine hands,

8 Let me sow and let another eate: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceived by a wo man, or if I haue layd waite at the doore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wife grinde vnto another man, and let other men bow downe vpon her.

11 For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned.

12 Yea, this is a fire that shall deuoure to de struction, & which shall root out all my increase.

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my ser uant, and of my mayde, when they did contend with me,

14 What then shall I do when God standeth vp? & when he shall visit me, what shall I answer?

15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath he not made I him? hath not he alone facioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widow to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, & the fa therlesse hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth hee hath grown vp with me as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her.)

19 If I haue seene any perishe for want of clo thing, or any poore without couering,

20 If his loynes haue not blessed mee, because he was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe,

21 If I haue lift vp my hands against the fatherlesse, when I saw that I might helpe him in the gate,

22 Let mine arme fall from my shoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods punishment was fearefull vnto me, and I could not be deliuered from his high nesse.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue said to the wedge of gold, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyced, because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the sunne, when it shined, or the moone walking in her brightnesse,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in secret, or if my mouth did kisse mine hand, demned: for I had denied the God about)

r Hath God need that any should tell him when man murmureth against him?

s If God would destroy a man, should hee enquire?

t The clouds stoppeth the shining of the sunne, that man cannot see how the wind haue chased away the cloud: and it man be not able to attain to the knowledge of these things, how much lesse of Gods iudgements?

u In Hebrew, gold: meaning faire weather and cleare as gold. n Meaning without cause.

10 At the breath of God the frost is given, and the breadth of the waters is made narrow.

11 He maketh also the cloudes to labour, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloudes of his light.

12 And it is turned about by his government, that they may doe whatsoever he commandeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it be for punishment, or for his land, or of mercy, he causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: stand and consider the wonderous works of God.

15 Diddest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the light of his cloud to shine?

16 Hast thou knowne the varietie of the cloud, and the wonderous workes of him that is perfect in knowledge?

17 Or how thy clothes are warme, when hee maketh the earth quiet through the Southwinde?

18 Hast thou stretched out the heauens, which are strong, and as a molten glasse?

19 Tell vs what we shall say vnto him: for we cannot dispose our matter because of darkenesse.

20 Shall it bee told him when I speake? or shall man speake when he shall be destroyed?

21 And now men see not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and cleanseth them.

22 The brightness commeth out of the North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: wee cannot finde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iustice: he afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wise in their owne conceit.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 God speaketh to Iob, and declareth the weaknesse of man, in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power, iustice, and providence of the Creator is knowne.

Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the whirlwind, and said,

2 Who is this that darkeneth the counsel by words without knowledge?

3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where wast thou when I layed the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding.

5 Who hath layed the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line ouer it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof set: or who layed the corner stone thereof?

7 When the starres of the morning praised me together: and all the children of God reioiced:

8 Or who hath shut vp the Sea with doores, when it issued and came forth out of the wombe:

9 When I made the cloudes as a covering thereof, and darkened the swaddling bandes thereof:

10 When I stablished my commandment vpon it, and set barres and doores,

11 And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further, and heere shall it stay thy proude waies.

12 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy daies? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?

13 That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to fashion, and all stand vp as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light shall be taken away, and the high arme shall be broken.

16 Hast thou entred into the bottomes of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out the depth?

17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou scene the gates of the shadowe of death?

18 Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth? tell if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darknesse, 20 That thou shouldst receiue it in the bounds thereof, and that thou shouldst knowe the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast borne? and because the number of thy dayes is great?

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou scene the treasures of the haile, 23 Which I haue hid against the time of trouble, against the day of warre and battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East wind vpon the earth?

25 Who hath diuided the spouts for the raine? or the way for the lightning of the thunders,

26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wilderness where there is no man?

27 To fulfill the wilde and waste place, and to cause the bud of the herbe to spring forth?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce? who hath ingendred the frost of the heauen?

30 The waters are hid as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

31 Canst thou restrain the sweet influence of the Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion?

32 Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou also guide Arcturus with his sonnes?

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, or canst thou set the rule thereof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift vp thy voice to the cloudes, that the abundance of water may couer thee?

35 Canst thou send the lightnings that they may walke, and say vnto thee, Lo, heere wee are?

36 Who hath put wisdom in the reins? or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding?

37 Who can number cloues by wisdom? or who can cause to cease the bottles of heauen, 38 When the earth groweth into hardnesse, and the clots are fast together?

g As though the great sea were but as a little babe in the hands of God to turne to and fro:

h That is, Gods decree and commandment, as verse 10.

i To wit, to rise, since thou wast borne.

k Who having in the night bene giuen to wickednesse cannot abide the light, but hide themselves.

l The earth which is formed in the night to haue no forme, by the rising of the sun, is as it were created anew, and all things therein clad with new beauty.

m If thou art not able to seeke out the depth of the sea, how much lesse art thou able to comprehend the counsell of God?

n That thou mightest appointe his way and limits.

o To punish mine enemies with thee, as Exod. 9. 18.

p The yce couereth it, as though it were paved with stone.

q Which starres arise when the sunne is in Taurus, which is the spring time, and bring fountes.

r Which starre bringeth in winter.

s Certaine starres so called: some thinke they were the twelue signes.

t The North starre which those that are about him.

u Canst thou cause the heauenly bodies to haue any power ouer the earthly bodies?

x In the secret parts of man.

y That is, the cloudes wherein the water is contained as in bottels.

z For when God doth not open these bottels, the earth cometh to this incognit science.

CHAP. XXXIX.

The beauty and providence of God, which extendeth even to the young vnto, youth men full of reason to put his confidence in God.
37 2nd chapter and number 39.

a After he had declared Gods wisdom in the beaues, he sheweth his outstretched providence in carth, men toward the brast beaues.
b 147.

c He sheweth the wisdom of wild goats and how they bring forth their young with much diligence.
d They bring forth with great diligence.

f That is, the barren ground where no good fruit grow.

g Is it possible to make the vnicorne tame? signifying that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should possess the wisdom of God, whereby he governeth all the world.

h They write that the ostrich couereth her eggs in the sand, and because the country is hot, and the sunne still keepeth them warme, they are hatched.

i If he should take care for them, that is, to have them and not allow them to be eaten.

j When they are grown up, he putteth them in the hands of the horse.

k That is, given him courage, which is meant by saying and shaking his mane, for with his breath he conuertieth his necke.

l He breatheth with his hoofs.

m He is ridden in the ground that is betweene the wild and him.

Wilt thou hunt the pray for the lion? or fill the appetite of the lions whelpes,
2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the covert to lie in wait?
3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meate, when his birdes^b crie vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?

4 Knowest thou the time when the wild goats bring forth young? or dost thou marke when the hindes doe calue?

5 Canst thou number the months that they fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

6 They bowe themselves: they^a bruiseth their young, and cast out their forowes.

7 For their young waxe fatte, and growe vp with corne: they goe forth and returne not vnto them.

8 Who hath let the wilde asse at libertie? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde asse?

9 Is it I which haue made the wildeernes his house, and the salt places his dwellings?

10 He denieth the multitude of the citie: hee heareth not the crye of the driner.

11 Hee seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing.

12 Will the vnicorne serue thee? or will hee tary by thy crib?

13 Canst thou binde the vnicorne with his bands, labour in the furrow? or wilt he plow the valleys after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleue him, that hee wil bring home thy seed, and gather it vnto thy barn?

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacocks? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?

17 Which leaueh his egges in the earth, and maketh them^b hote in the dust,

18 And forgetteth that the foot might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them.

19 He sheweth himselfe cruel vnto his young ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he travelled in vaine.

20 For God hath deuiued him of^c wisdom, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.

21 When time is, hee mounteth on high: hee mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength, or couered his necke with^d meyning?

23 Hast thou made him afraid as the grasshopper? his strong neyng is fearefull.

24 He diggeth in the valley, and reioyceth in his strength: hee goeth forth to meet the hardnesse.

25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword.

26 There be the quier saule against him, the glittering speare and the shield.

27 He^e walloweth the ground for fiercenesse and rage, and hee beleeneth not that it is the noise of the trumpet.

28 Hee saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha: he smelleth the battell warre off, and the noise of the captains, and the shouting.

29 Shall the hawke flye by thy wisdom, pressing out his wings euen toward the South?

30 Dost the eagle mount vp at thy commandement, or make his nest on high?

31 Shee abideth and remaineth in the rocks, euen vpon the top of the rocke, and the tower.

32 From thence shee spieth for meate, and her eyes behold afarre off.

33 Her young ones also sucke vp blood: and where the slaine are, there is she.

34 Moreover the Lord spake vnto Iob, & said,

35 Is this to learne, to strive with the Almighty? he that reprooueth God, let him answer to it.

36 Then Iob answered the Lord, saying,

37 Behold, I am vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answer no more, yea I will, but I will proceed no further.

p That is, when cold cometh, so flye into the warme country.

q As it is the way for a man that will learne, to strive with God: which thing hee reprooueth in Iob.

r Whereby he sheweth that hee requested, and desired pardon for his faults.

CHAP. XL.

How weak is mans power in being compared to the works of God: to whose power appeareth in the creation and governing of the great beasts.

Againe the Lord answered Iob out of^a the whirlwind, and said,

2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

3 Wilt thou disanull^b my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou maiest be iustified?

4 Or halt thou an arme like God? or dost thou thunder with a voyce like him?

5 Decke thy selfe nowe with^c maiestie and excellencie, and aray thy selfe with beaucie and glory.

6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold euery one that is proud, & abase him.

7 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, and binde their faces in a secret place.

9 Then wil I confesse vnto thee, also, that thy right hand can^d saue thee.

10 Behold now^e Behemoth, (whom I made with thee) which eateth^f grass as an oxe.

11 Behold now, his strength^g in his loynes, and his force^h in the nauell of his belly.

12 When hee taketh pleasure, his taile is like a cedar: the sinews of his bones are wrapt together.

13 His bones are like stauess of brasse, and his small bones like stauess of yron.

14 He is the chiefe of the wayes of God: he that made him, will make his sword to approach vnto him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him fourth grass, where all the beasts of the field play.

16 Leth he vnder the trees in the covert of the reede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadow? or can the willowes of the riuier compass him about?

18 Behold, he spoileth the riuier, and hasteeth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iorden into his mouth.

19 Hee taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth his nose through whatsoeuer meeteth him.

20 Canst thou draw outⁱ Liuiathan with an hooke, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue?

21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose? canst

b Meaning, that these were proper vnto God, and belonged to no man.

c Cause them to die if thou canst. d Prouing hereby that whoeuer attributeth to himselfe power and abilitie to save himselfe, maketh himselfe God.

e This beast is thought to be the elephant, or some other, which is unknown.

f Whom I made as well as thee.

g This commendeth the providence of God toward man: for if he were giuen to deuoure as a lion, nothing were able to resist him, or content him.

h He is one of the chiefeest works of God among the beasts.

i Though man dare not come neere him, yet God can kill him.

k He drinketh at leasure, and seareth no body.

l Meaning the whale, n To doe thy business, and be at thy commandment?

o If thou once consider the danger, thou wilt not meddle with him.

b Who hath taught me to accomplish my worke?

d That is, who dare pull off his skin?
e Who dare put a bridle in his mouth?
f Who dare looke in his mouth?
g That is, casteth out flames of fire.

h Nothing is painful or hard vnto him.

i His skinne is so hard that he lyeth with as great ease on the stones as in the myre.

canst thou pierce his iawes with an angle?

22 Will he make many prayers vnto thee, or speake thee faire?

23 Will he make a covenant with thee? and wilt thou take him as a seruant for euer?

24 Wilt thou play with him as with a birde? or wilt thou binde him for thy maydes?

25 Shall the companions banquet with him? shall they diuide him among the merchants?

26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skinner? or the fish panier with his head?

27 Lay thine hand vpon him: remember the battell, and doe no more so.

28 Behold, his hope is in vaine: for shall not one perish euen at the sight of him?

CHAP. XLII.

N One is so fierce that dare stirre him vp, Who is he then that can stand before me?

2 Who hath prevented mee that I should make an ende? All vnder heauen is mine.

3 I will not keepe silence concerning his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.

4 Who can discover his face? of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double bridle?

5 Who shall open the doores of his face? his teeth are fearefull round about.

6 The maiestie of his scales is like strong shields, and are sure sealed.

7 One is set to another, that no winde can come betweene them.

8 One is ioyned to another: they sticke together, that they cannot be sundred.

9 His neisings make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.

10 Out of his mouth goe lamps, and sparkes of fire leape out.

11 Out of his nostrils commeth out smoke, as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coales burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strength, and labour is reioiced before his face.

14 The members of his body are ioyned: they are strong in themselves, and cannot be mooued.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as hard as the nether millstone.

16 The mightie are afraid of his maiestie, and for feare they faint in themselves.

17 When the sword doeth touch him, he will not rise vp, nor for the speare, dart nor habergion.

18 He esteemeth yron as straw, and brasse as rotten wood.

19 The archer cannot make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.

20 The dartes are counted as strawe: and hee laugheth at the shaking of the speare.

21 Sharpe stones are vnder him, and he spreadeth sharpe things vpon the myre.

22 He maketh the depth to boile like a pot, and maketh the sea like a pot of oyntment.

23 He maketh a path to shine after him, one would thinke the depth as an hoare head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: hee is made without feare.

25 He beholdeth all his things: he is a King ouer all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob, 9 His prayer for his friends, 12 His goods are restored double vnto him, 13 His children, age, and death.

Then Iob answered the Lord, and said, I know that thou canst doe all things, and that there is no thought hid from thee.

3 Who is hee that hideth counsell without knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstood not, men things too wonderfull for me, and which I knew not.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demand of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eyes seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 Now after that the Lord had spoken these words vnto Iob, the Lord also said vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye haue not spoken of me the thing that is right, like my seruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you now seuen bullockes, and seuen rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shall pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because yee haue not spoken of mee the thing which is right, like my seruant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went, and did according as the Lord had said vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 Then the Lord turned the captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twise so much as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house, & had compassion on him, and comforted him for all the euil that the Lord had brought vpon him, and every man gaue him a piece of money, and every one an earring of gold.

12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob, more then the first: for he had fourteene thousand sheepe, & fixe thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand shee asses.

13 He had also seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

14 And he called the name of one Iemimah, and the name of the second Keziah, & the name of the third Keren-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Iob, & their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Iob an hundredth and fourtie yeeres, and saw his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generations.

17 So Iob died, being old, and full of dayes.

m He despieth all other bestes and meesters, and is the proud of all others.

a No thought to secret, but thou dost see it, nor any thing that thou thinkest, but thou canst bring it to passe.

b Is there any but I for this God laid to his charge, Chap. 38. 2.

c I confesse herein mine ignorance, and that I speake I wist not what.

d He sheweth that he will be Gods scholler to learne of him.

e I know thee only before by hearing: but now thou hast caused me to seele what thou art to me, that I may resigne my selfe ouer vnto thee.

f You tooke in hand an euil cause, in that you condemned him by his outward afflictions, and not comforted him with my menies.

g Who had a good cause, but handled it euill.

THE PSALMES OF DAVID.

THE ARGUMENT

This booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holy Ghost, to bee esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicity, aswell in this life, as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge and heavenly wisdom, are here set open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would know the great and high majesty of God, here we may see the brightness thereof, some most clearly. If we would seeke his most incomprehensible wisdom, here in the schoole of the same profession, If we would comprehend his most inestimable bounty, and approach more thereto, and fill our hearts with thank-braisers, here we may haue a most comfortable and lively taste thereof. If we would know wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life everlasting, here in Christ our only redemptor, and mediator, most evidently is described. The rich man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation, how to enduie, and how to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shall perceiue therein their comfort, and how they ought to praise God when he sanctifieth them deliverance. The wicked and the far fromers of the children of God shall see how the hand of God is against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he bridleth them, inasmuch as they can not touch an haire of his head, nor once he permit them, and how in the end their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here we may haue most precious remedies against all troubles and temptations of euill, and conscience, so that being well provided therewith, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, and in the life to come, and how of God, and at length attaine to that inuincible crowne of glory, which is layd out for all them that lose the commodity of this world for Christ.

19 Father is now before us, and we gather round the Father in 20 our hearts, in prayer, and for the Prince of Peace, in memory of 21 Prince as shown as God's Son in flesh and meditate the beauty
22 of wisdom for the life here. I That you be full of faith 23 and thought, and all that is in the heart of the Father; and 24 that the sacred scriptures of God, which the Father has 25 written, be in your hearts, and in the hearts of all men.

Rebeld is the man that doeth not walke in the counsell of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seate of the scornfull.

3 But his delight is in the law of the Lord & in his law doth he meditate day & night

For thou shalt be like a tree planted by the rivers of waters, that will bring forth her fruits in due season : whose leaf shall not fade : so whatsoever he shall doe shall prosper.

4 ^d The wicked are not so, but as the chaff, which the wind driueth away.

3 Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgement, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

• For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

It would yet the Lord smite them down that they shall not pay of the righteous. But reasonable when they feel Gods love and prosper like to not to know it to rejoice and rest.

ready to deliver.

Why do the "heathen" rage, and the people murmur in yaine?

for accusation.
2. June. 187.

a This was a token of his stable faith, that for all his troubles he had his recourse to God.
b Selah here signifies a lifting up of the voice, so as to consider the sentence, as a thing of great importance.
c When he considered the truth of Gods promise, and that the same, his faith increased marvelously.
d Be the dangers never so great or many, yet God hath ever means to deliver his.

a Among them that were appointed to sing the Psalms, and to play on the instruments, one was appointed chief to set the tune, and to begin: who had the charge, because he was most excellent, and he began this Psalm on the instrument called Negainoch, in a tune so called.
b Those that are the defender of my life, called.
c Both of mine and body.
d Ye think your selves noble in this world.
e Though your strength please you now, yet you are God will bring them to nought.
f A King that dwells in his palace, and is not vexed with outward enemies.
g For fear of Gods judgement, and not with outward enemies.
h The multitude seeks worldly wealth, but David feared his affliction in Gods favour.
i This word in Hebrew may be referred to God, as it is here translated, for no David, signifying that he should dwell as joyfully alone, as if he had many about him, because the Lord is with him.

PSALM OF DAVID, when he fled from his foes. A Psalm.
Lord, how are mine adversaries increased? how many rise against me?
2 Many say to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God. Selah.
3 But thou Lord art a backer for me, my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.
4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and he heard me out of his holy mountaine. Selah.
5 I layd mee downe and slept, and roste vp againe: for the Lord sustained me.
6 I will not be afraid for ten thousand of the people, that should beset me round about.
7 O Lord, arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bove: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.
8 Salvation belongeth vnto the Lord, and thy blessing vpon thy people. Selah.

PSALM III.
When Saul persecuted him, he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly on his promise, and therefore boldly reproueth his enemies who say they will destroy him, and finally professeth the favour of God before all worldly treasures.

PSALM OF DAVID.
Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast let mee at libertie, when I was in distresse: haue mercy vpon me, and hearken vnto my prayer.
2 O ye fannes of men, how long will ye turne my glory into shame, louing vanitie, and seeking lies? Selah.
3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe a godly man: the Lord will heare when I call vnto him.
4 Tremble and sinne not: examine your owne heart vpon your bed, and be still. Selah.
5 Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and trust in the Lord.
6 Many say, Who will shew vs any good? but the Lord, lift vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.
7 Thou hast giuen me more ioy of heart, then they haue had, when their wheate and their wine did abound.
8 I will lay me downe, & also sleepe in peace: for thou Lord, onely makest me dwell in safety.

PSALM V.
David oppressed with the crimes of his sinners, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for succour, shewing how righteous it is that God should punish the malice of his adversaries. 7 After, being assured of prosperous success, he instructs his comfort, concluding that when God shall deliver him, he shall also be a deliverer of the sinners.

PSALM OF DAVID.
Hear my words, O Lord: vnderstand my meditation.
2 Hearken vnto the voice of my crie, my King, and my God: for vnto thee doe I pray.
3 Heare my voice in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning will I direct mine vnto thee, and I will waite.
4 For thou art not a God that loueth wickednes, neither shall euill dwell with thee.
5 The foolish shall not stand in thy sight;

for thou hast all them that worke iniquitie.
6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lies: the Lord will abhorre the bloodie man, and de-
7 But I will come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy feare will I worship toward thine holy Temple.
8 Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousness, because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.
9 For no constancie is in their mouth: within they are very corruption: their throat is an open sepulchre, and they flatter with their tongue.
10 Destroy them, O God, let them fall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled against thee.
11 And let all them that trust in thee, reioyce and triumph for euer, and couer thou them: and let them that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.
12 For thou Lord, wilt bless the righteous, and with fauour wilt compasse him, as with a shield.

PSALM VI.
When David by his sinners had provoked Gods wrath, and now felt his misery, he earnestly beseecheth God, and shewing that if God take him away in his indignation, he should lack occasion to praise him, as he was wont to do, he sheweth how he was among men.
2 Then suddenly feeling Gods mercie, he sharply rebuketh his enemies which reioiced in his affliction.
3 To him that excheleth on Negainoch, upon the eight tune. A Psalm of David.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.
2 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord, for I am weak: O Lord heale me, for my bones are vexed.
3 My soule is also for troubled: but Lord, how long wilt thou delay?
4 Returne, O Lord: deliver my soule: saue mee for thy mercies sake.
5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the graue who shall praise thee?
6 I fainted in my mourning: I caused my bed every night to swimme, and water my couch with my teares.
7 Mine eye is dimmed for despight, & sinke in because of all mine enemies.
8 Away from me all ye workers of iniquity: for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping.
9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receiue my prayer.
10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and fore vexed: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame suddenly.

PSALM VII.
Being fully assured by Christ out of his kinemen, he calleth to God to be his defender, so to whom hee commended his mercie, first shewing that his confidence did not accept him of any enuie, and then that it was based on Gods promise to reward justice against the wicked, and fearing into the consideration of Gods mercie and promise, hee moved bold, and desired the same mercie for his enemies, threatening that they shall fall on their own neck which they haue prepared for others.

PSALM OF DAVID, which hee sang vnto the Lord, concerning the words of Christ.
O Lord my God in thee I put my trust: saue me from all that persecute mee, and deliver me.
2 Left hee denoure my soule like a lion, and teare it in pieces, while there is none to helpe.

e In the deepe of his tentations hee porteth his full confidence in God.
f Because thou art iust, therefore leade me out of the dangers of mine enemies.
g Let their devices come to nought.
h Thy fauour toward me shall confirme the faith of all others.
i Or, give good success.
j So that he shall be safe from all dangers.

a I will to the 24.
b Though I desire destruction, yet let thy mercie pite my frailtie.
c For my whole strength is abated.
d His conscience is also touched with the feare of Gods judgement.
e He lamenteth that occasion should be taken from him to praise God in the Congregation.
f Or, mine eye is as it were with water.
g God sendeth comfort and boldnesse in affliction, that we may triumph over our enemies.
h When the wicked thinketh that the godly shall perish, God deliuereth them suddenly, and destroyeth their enemies.

Or, kind of tent.
Or, accusation.

nored for euer.

sented a iust cause

O Lord my God, if I haue done this thing,
if there be any wickednesse in mine hands,

4 c If I haue rewarded euill vnto him that had peace with me, (yea I haue deliuered him that vexed me without cause)

5 Then let the enemy persecute my soule, and take it: yea, let him tread my life downe vp-on the earth, and lay mine honour in the dust, Selah.

6 Arise, O Lord, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy selfe against the rage of mine enemies, and awake for me according to the iudgement that thou hast appointed.

7 So shall the congregation of the people compass thee about: for their sakes therefore returne on high.

8 The Lord shall iudge the people: iudge thou me, O Lord, according to my righteousness, and according to mine innocency that is in me.

9 Oh let the malice of the wicked come to an end: but guide thou the iust: for the righteous
God trieth the hearts and reins.

10 My defence is in God, who preferueth the vpriight in heart.

11 God iudgeth the righteous, and him that contemneth God, every day.

12 Except he turne, he hath whet his sword:
he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

13 He hath also prepared him deadly weapons:
he will ordeine his arrowes for them that persecute me.

14 Behold, he shall trauell with wickednesse:
for hee hath conceived mischief, but hee shall bring forth alie.

15 He hath made a pit, and digged it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.

16 His mischief shall returne vpon his owne head, & his cruelty shall fall vpon his owne pate.

17 I will praise the Lorde according to his righteousnesse, and will sing praise to the Name of the Lord most high.

PSAL. VIII.

The Prophet considering the excellent liberality & fatherly providence of God towards man, whom he made, as it were a god ouer all his works, doth not onely give great thanks, but is afflonished with the admiration of the same, as one nothing able to compass such great mercies.

To him that excelleth on Gittith.

A Psalme of David.

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the world! which hast set thy glory above the heauens.

2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the auenger.

3 When I beholde thine heauens, even the workes of thy fingers, the moone and the starres which thou hast ordained,

4 What is man, say I, that thou art mind-full of him? and the sonne of man that thou vi-sitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower then God, and crowned him with glory and worship.

6 Thou hast made him to haue dominion in the works of thine hands, thou hast put all things vnder his feet:

7 All sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field:

8 The fowles of the ayre, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth thorowe the paths of the seas.

9 O Lorde our Lorde, how excellent is thy Name in all the world!

PSAL. IX.

After he had giuen thanks to God for the sundry victories that he had sent him against his enemies, and also proued by manifold experiences, how ready God was at hand in all his troubles:
14 He bring him likewise in danger of new enemies, as it seemeth that he doth, and so destroy the malicious arrogance of his adversaries.

To him that excelleth upon Muth Labben.

A Psalme of David.

I Will praise the Lord with my whole heart: I will speake of all thy marueilous workes.

2 I will be glad, and reioyce in thee: I will sing prayse to thy Name, O most high.

3 For that mine enemies are turned backe:
they shall fall and perish at thy presence.

4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou art set in the throne, and iudget right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 O enemy, destructions are come to a perpetuall end, and thou hast destroyed the cities:
their memoriall is perished with them.

7 But the Lord shall sit for euer: hee hath prepared his throne for iudgement.

8 For hee shall iudge the world in righteous-nesse, and shall iudge the people with equite.

9 The Lord also will bee a refuge for the poore, a refuge in due time, euen in affliction.

10 And they that know thy Name, will trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed them that seek thee.

11 Sing praises to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: shew the people his workes.

12 For when hee maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth it, and forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.

13 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord: consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest mee vp from the gates of death,

14 That I may shew all thy praises within the gates of the daughter of Zion, and reioyce in thy saluation.

15 The heathen are sucked downe in the pit that they made: in the net that they hid, is their foote taken.

16 The Lord is known by executing iudgment: the wicked is siared in the worke of his owne hands. Higgaion, Selah.

17 The wicked shall turne into hell, and all nations that forget God.

18 For the poore shall not be alway forgotten: the hope of the afflicted shall not perish for euer.

19 Vp Lord: let not man preuaile: let the heathen be iudged in thy fight.

20 Put them in feare, O Lord, that the heathen may know that they are but men, Selah.

PSAL. X.

He complaineth of the fraud, rapine, tyrannie, and all kindes of wrong, which worst hymen vnto, assigning the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldly prosperitie, and therefore setting apart all feare and conscience toward God, shinke they vnder all things without conuulsing. 15. Therefore hee calleth vpon God to send some remedy against these deperate faults, 16. and as length comforteth himself with hope of deliuerance.

e David here maketh comparison between the faithful and the reprobate, beca^use Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 3. 10. d Where they thinke themselves most sure. e You mock them that put their trust in God. f He prayeth for the whole Church whom he is assured God will deliver: for none but he only can do it.

3 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke God.

3 All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Doe not all the workers of iniquitie know that they eate vp my people, as they eate bread? they call not vpon the Lord.

5 There they shall be taken with feare, because God is in the generation of the iust.

6 You haue made a mocke at the counsell of the poore, because the Lord is his trust.

7 Oh giue saluation vnto Israel out of Zion: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iacob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad.

¶ Note that of this 14. Psalme, the 5. 6 and 7. verses which are put into the common translation, and may seeme vnto some to be left out in this, are not in the same Psalme in the Hebrew text, but rather are put in more fully to expresse the manners of the wicked, and are gathered out of the 5. 140. and 10. Psalms, the 59. of the Prophet Isaiah, and the 36. Psalme, and are alleged by S. Paul, and placed together in the 3. to the Romans.

PSAL. XV.

¶ This Psalme teacheth on what condition God did chuse the Jews for his peculiar people, and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was in the mount that they by living vprightly and godly, might manifest that they were his special and holy people.

¶ A Psalme of David.

Lord, who shalt dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thy holy Mountaine?

2 He that walketh vprightly and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.

3 He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiue a false report against his neighbour.

4 In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but he honoureth them that feare the Lord: hee that sweareth to his owne hinderance and changeth not.

5 He that giueth not his money vnto vsury, nor taketh reward against the innocent: he that doeth these things, shall neuer be moued.

PSAL. XVI.

¶ David prayeth to God for succour not for his workes, but for his faith sake. 4. Professing that he hateth all idolatry, taking God only for his comfort and felicitie, 8. Whose sufferings he is lacking nothing.

¶ Michtam of David.

Preserue mee, O GOD: for in thee doe I trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast saide vnto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my well doing extendeth not to thee,

3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delight is in them.

4 The sorowes of them, that offer to an other god, shalbe multiplied: their offerings of blood will I not offer, neither make mention of their names with my lips.

5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance & of my cup: thou shalt maintaine my lot.

6 The lines are fallen vnto me in pleasant places: yea, I haue a faire heritage.

7 I will praise the Lord, who hath giuen me counsel: my reins also teach me in the nights.

8 God teacheth me continually by secret inspiration.

8 I haue set the Lord alwayes before mee: for he is at my right hand: therefore I shall not slide.

9 Wherefore mine heart is glad, and my tongue reioyceth: my flesh also doeth rest in hope.

10 For thou wilt not leaue my soule in the graue: neither wilt thou suffer thine holy One to see corruption.

11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is the fulnesse of ioy: and at thy right hand there are pleasures for euermore.

PSAL. XVII.

¶ Here he complaineth to God of the cruell pride and arrogancie of Saul, and the rest of his enemies, who thus ragged without any cause giuen on his parts. 6. Therefore he desired God to reuenge his innocencie and deliuer him.

¶ The prayer of David.

Hear the right, O Lord, consider my crie: hearken vnto my prayer of lips vnfauned.

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence, and let mine eyes behold equitie.

3 Thou hast proued and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tried me, and foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my mouth should not offend.

4 Concerning the workes of men, by the words of thy lips I kept me from the paths of the cruell man.

5 Stay my steps in thy paths, that my feet do not slide.

6 I haue called vpon thee: surely thou wilt heare me, O God: encline thine eare to me, and hearken vnto my words.

7 Shew thy marueilous mercies, thou that art the Sauour of them that trust in thee, from such as resist thy right hand.

8 Keepe me as the apple of the eye: hide mee vnder the shadow of thy wings.

9 From the wicked that oppresse mee, from mine enemies, which compass me round about for my soule.

10 They are inclosed in their owne fat, and they haue spoken proudly with their mouth.

11 They haue compassed vs now in our steps: they haue set their eyes to bring downe to the ground:

12 Like as a lion that is greedy of pray, and as it were a Lions whelpes lurking in secret places.

13 Vp Lord, & disappoint him: cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the wicked with thy sword.

14 From men by thine hand, O Lord, from men of the world, who haue their portion in this life, whose bellies thou fillest with thine hid treasure: their children haue enough, and leaue the rest of their substance for their children.

15 Thou wilt behold thy face in righteousness, & thou shalt awake, I shall be satisfied with thine image.

PSAL. XVIII.

¶ This Psalme is the first beginning of his gratulation, & sheweth giving to the entering into his kingdome, wherein hee exulteth and prayeth most highly the mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preserved and defended him. 32. Also here is set forth the image of Christs kingdome, whom the faithful may be assured that Christ shall alwayes reuenge and overcome by the不可言喻 power of his Father, though all the world would be against him.

g The faithful are iure to persecute to the end. h That is, I reioice both in body and in soule.

PSAL. XIX.

1 To the things he might moue the faithful to a deeper consideration of Gods glory, or Ierubb before their eyes the most exquisite workmanship of the heauens, with their propriety, and ornaments. 2 And afterward calleth them to the Lawe, wherein God hath reuel'd himselfe more familiarly to his chosen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Lawe betteth forth more at large.

3 To him that excolleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

The heauens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth the workes of his hands.

2 Day vnto day vttereth the same, & night vnto night teacheth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor language, where their voyce is not heard.

4 Their line is gone forth through all the earth, & their words into the ends of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the Sunne.

5 Which commeth forth as a bridegroom out of his chamber, and reioyceth like a mighty man to runne his race.

6 His going out is from the end of the heauen, & his compasse vnto the ends of the same, and none is hid from the heat thereof.

7 The Law of the Lord is perfite, conuerting the foule: the testimonie of the Lord is sure, and giueth wisdom vnto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right, and reioyce the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and endureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are truth: they are righteous altogether.

10 And more to be desired then golde, yea, then much fine gold: sweeter also then hony, and the hony combe.

11 Moreover by them is thy seruant made circumspect, and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12 Who can vnderstand his fautes? cleanse me from secret faulnes.

13 Keepe thy seruant also from presumptuous sinnes: let them not reigne ouer me: so shall I be vpright, and made cleane from much wickednesse.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of mine heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord my strength, and my redeemer.

PSAL. XX.

A prayer of the people vnto God, that it would please him to heare their kingly & reuerend sacrifice, which he offereth before he will be battling against the Ammonites.

3 To him that excolleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

The Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the Name of God of Iakob defend thee:

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and turne thy burnt offerings into ashes. Selah:

4 And grant thee according to thine heart, and fulfill all thy purpose:

5 That we may reioyce in thy saluation, and set vp the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall performe all thy petitions.

6 Now know I that the Lord will helpe his anointed, and will heare him from his Sanctuary.

PSAL. XXI.

1 Dauid in the person of the people praiseth God for the victorie, attributing it to God, and not to the strength of man. Wherewith the Holy Ghost directeth the faithful to Christ, who is the person of the kingdom.

3 To him that excolleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

The King shall reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: yea how greatly shall he reioyce in thy saluation!

2 Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire, and hast not denied him the request of his lips. Selah:

3 For thou diddest prevent him with liberal blessings, and diddest set a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.

4 He asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life for euer and euer.

5 His glory is great in thy saluation: dignity and honour hast thou laid vpon him.

6 For thou hast set him as blessings for euer: thou hast made him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

7 Because the king trusteth in the Lord, and in the mercie of the most high, he shall not slide.

8 Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies, & thy right hand shall find out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fierie oven in time of thine anger: the Lord shall destroy them in his wrath, and the fire shall deuoure them.

10 Their fruite shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from the children of men.

11 For they intended evil against thee, and imagined mischief, but they shall not preuaile.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them apart, and the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 Be thou exalted, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

Thine adversaries, that we may haue ample occasion to praise thy Name.

PSAL. XXII.

1 Dauid complained because he was brought into such extremities that he was past all hope, but after he had rehearsed the sorrows and griefes, wherewith he was vexed, 20 He reuereth himselfe from the baseness of his sensations and groweth in hope. And here vnder his owne person he setteth forth the figure of Christ, whom he did foresee by the words of prophesie that he should marterously, and strangely be afflicted, and abused, before his Father should raise and exalt him againe.

3 To him that excolleth vpon. A Psalm of Dauid.

My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken mee, and art so farre from mine health, and from the words of my roaring?

2 O my God, I cry by day, but thou hearest not: and by night, but I haue no audience.

3 But thou art holy, and dost inhabit the prayes of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou diddest deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were deliuered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a worme, & not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.

7 All they that see mee, haue me in derision:

all creatures, which was meant of Christ. And herein appeareth the vaine conceit of man, that he would thus abuse his Sinne for our saluation.

g The worldlings that put not their only trust in God. h Let the king be able to deliuer vs by thy strength, when wee be taken vnto him for our course.

a When he shall overcome his enemies, & so be assured of his vocation. b Thou declaredst thy liberall fauour toward him before he prayed. c Dauid did not onely obtaine life, but also assurance that his posteritie should reigne for euer. d Thou hast made him thy blessing to others, and a perpetuall example of thy fauour for euer. e Here he describeth the power of Christs kingdom against the enemies thereof. f This teacheth vs patiently to endure the crosse till God destroy the aduersarie. g They laid as it were their new so make Gods power to giue place to their wicked carteries. h As a mark to shew it. i Maintaine thy Church against thine aduersaries, that we may haue ample occasion to praise thy Name.

For the kinde of the mourning, and thus was the name of some question sung. a Here appeareth that horrible condition, which he sustained betwene faith & desperation. b Being tormented with extreme anguish. c Or, I cease not. d He meaneth the place of praying, when the Tabernacle: or els it is so called, because he gaue the people continually occasion to praise him. e And seeming most miserable of all creatures, which was meant of Christ. And herein appeareth the vaine conceit of man, that he would thus abuse his Sinne for our saluation.

PSALM XXXIII.

1 Beeing the Prophet had pruned the great merits of God in diuinitie, as in study manner, he gathereth a certaine af-firmance, fully persuading himselfe that God will continue the very same goodly service toward him for ever.

9. A Psalm of David.

2 Hee maketh mee to rest in greene pasture and leadeth mee by the still waters.
3 Hee restoreth my soule, and leadeth mee in 5 Thou dost prepare a table before mee in mine head with oyle, and my cup runneth ouer.

6 Doubtlesse kindnesse and mercy shall followe mee all the dayes of my life, and I shall re-maine a long season in the house of the Lord.

PSALM XXXIII.

1 Alleluia the Lord God hath made, and governeth all the world, yet toward his chosen people, his gracious goodnesse doeth most abundantly appeare: in that among them he will haue his dwelling place. Which though it was appointed among the children of Abraham, yet only they doe enter aright into the Sanctuary, which are the true worshippers of God, purged from the filth filth of this world. + Finally he magnifieth Gods grace for the building of the Temple, so that hee might stirre up all the faithfull to the true seruice of God.

9. A Psalm of David.

without cause.

6 Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies, and thy louing kindnesse: for they haue bene for euer.

22 Deliuer Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSAL. XXVI.

David oppressed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the world, calleth for ayde from God: and offers of his integrity towards Saul, desirerth God to be his iudge, and to defend his innocencie. Finally he maketh mention of his sacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desirerth to bee in the company of the faithfull in the congregation of God, whence hee was banished by Saul, promising integrity of life, and open praises and thanksgiving.

A Psalm of David.

Vdge me, O Lord, for I haue walked in mine innocencie: my trust hath bene also in the Lord: therefore shall I not slide.

2 Prooue me, O Lord, and trie me: examine my reins, and mine heart.

3 For thy louing kindnesse is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy truth.

4 I haue not haunted with vaine persons, neither kept company with the dissemblers.

5 I haue hated the assembly of the euill, and haue not companied with the wicked.

6 Hee declarerth that they cannot walke in simplicitie before God, that delight in the company of the vngodly.

6 I will wash mine hands in innocencie, O Lord, and compasse thine altar,

7 That I may declare with the voyce of thanksgiving, and set forth all thy wonderous workes.

8 O Lorde, I haue loued the habitation of thine house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 Gather not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloody men:

10 In whose hand is wickednesse, and their right hand is full of bribes.

11 But I will walke in mine innocencie: redeeme me therefore, and be mercifull vnto me.

12 My foote standeth in vprightnesse: I will praise thee, O Lord, in the Congregations.

PSAL. XXVII.

David maketh this Psalm being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the prayer and thanksgiving annexed: & wherein wee may see the constant faith of David against the assaults of all his enemies. And also the ende wherfore hee desirerth to liue and to bee deliuered, ouly to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalm of David.

The Lord is my light & my saluation, whom shall I feare? the Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon mee to eate vp my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoste pitched against me, mine heart should not be afraid: though warre be raised against me, I will trust in the Lord.

4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord, that I will require, euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to visite his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble hee shall hide mee in his Tabernacle: in the secret place of his pavilion shall he hide me, and set mee vp vpon a rocke.

6 And now shall he lift vp mine head about mine enemies round about mee: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioy: I will sing and prayse the Lord.

7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lorde, when I cry: haue mercie also vpon mee and heare mee.

8 When thou saydest, Seeke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lorde, I will seeke thy face.

9 Hide not therefore thy face from mee, nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour, leaue mee not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

10 Though my father and my mother should forsake mee, yet the Lord will gather me vp.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and leade mee in a right path, because of mine enemies.

12 Giue me not vnto the lust of mine aduersaries: for there are false witness risen vp against me, and such as speake cruelly.

13 I should haue fainted, except I had beleued to see the goodnesse of the Lord in the land of the liuing.

14 Hope in the Lord: be strong, and he shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

I will serue thee with a pure affection, and with the godly that sacrifice vnto thee.

Destroy me not in the ouerthrow of the wicked.

Whose cruell hands doe execute the malicious deuises of their hearts.

I am preferred from mine enemies by the power of God, and therefore will paye him openly.

Because he was assured of good successe in all his dangers, and that his saluation was surely layd vp in God, hee feared not the tyrannie of his enemies.

That God will deliuer me, and giue my faith the victory.

The least of country, write, and all worldly commodities grieue me not in respect of this one thing, that I may not prayse thy Name in the midst of the congregation.

David assured himselfe by the Spirit of prophesie that he should overcome his enemies, & serue God in his Tabernacle.

He grounded vpon Gods promise, and sheweth that hee is most willing to obey his commandment.

He magnifieth Gods love toward him, which farre passeth the most tender love of parents towards their children.

But either pacifieth their wrath, or bridle their rage.

In this present life before I die, as I do.

He exhorteeth himselfe to depend on the Lord, seeing he neuer failed in his promises.

PSAL. XXVIII.

Being in great fears and bewaile of heart to see God distressed by the ungodly, he desireth to be rid of them. 4. And cryeth for vengeance against them: and he lengtheneth his prayer, that God would heare his prayer. 5. Unto whose prayer he cometh with all the faithful.

A Psalm of David.

V Nether, O Lord, doe I cry: O my strength, be not deaf towards mee, lest if thou answer me, I bee like them that goe downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voyce of my petitions, when I cry vnto thee, when I hold vp my hands toward thine holy Oracle.

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

4 Reward them according to their deedes, and according to the wickednesse of their inventions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: render them their reward.

5 For they regard not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore breake them downe, and build them not vp.

6 Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voyce of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my strength and my shield: mine heart trusted in him, & I was helped: therefore mine heart shall reioyce, and with my song will I praise him.

8 The Lord is their strength, and he is the strength of the deliuerances of his anoynted.

9 Save thy people, and blese thine inheritance: feede them also, and exalt them for euer.

Meaning, his souldiers, who were as menaces, by whom God declared his power.

PSAL. XXIX.

The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world to feare God, and to be ready to be destroyed by his power. 1. As the Lord is to be feared for the thunders and tempests, so shall he be feared for the thunders of his wrath. 2. And though they be as strong as the mountains, yet he is able to bring them downe. 3. And though they be as high as the cedars, yet he is able to bring them downe.

A Psalm of David.

Give vnto the Lord ye formes of the mighty, give vnto the Lord glory and strength.

2 Give vnto the Lord glory due vnto his Name: worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary.

3 The voice of the Lord is vpon the waters: the God of glory maketh it to thunder: the Lord is vpon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is mighty: the voice of the Lord is glorious.

5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the cedars yee, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to leape like a calfe: Lebanon also, and Shiron like a yong unicorn.

7 The voice of the Lord divideth the flames of fire.

8 The voice of the Lord maketh the wilderness to tremble: the Lord maketh the wilderness to quake.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to be calfe, and discovereth the forests: therefore in his Temple doth every man speake of his glory.

For feare maketh them to cast their calues. 10. Make the wicked to be calfe, and the righteous to be calfe.

10 The Lord stretch vpon the floods, and the Lord doeth remaine King for euer.

11 The Lord shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lord shall blese his people with peace.

s Concerning the free remission of sinnes, which is the chiefe point of our faith. b To be iustified by faith, is to haue our sinnes freely remitted, and to be reputed just, Rom. 4.6.

Inte. Mine hand I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.
I have hated them that give themselves to deceitfull vanities: for I trust in the Lord.
I will be glad and reioyce in thy mercy: for thou hast seene my trouble: thou hast known my soule in adversities.

And thou hast not shut mee vp in the hand of the enemy, nor hast thou set my feet in a snare.

Have mercie vpon me, O Lord: for I am in trouble: mine eyes are my soules: thy belly is confirmed with griefe.

For my life is wasted with heavinesse, and my yeares with mourning: my strength faileth for my paine, and my bones are consumed.

I was a reproch among mine enemies,
but specially among my neighbours: and I feare to mine acquaintance, who seeing mee in the streete, shew from mee.

I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind:
I am like a broken vessell.

fear was on every side, while they conspired together against mee, and consulted to take my life.

But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, Thou
art my God.

My times are in thine hand: deliuer mee
from the hand of mine enemies, and from them
that persecute mee.

Make thy face to shine vpon thy seruant:
and saue me through thy mercie.

Let me not be confounded, O Lord: for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked bee put to confusion, and to silence in the graue.

Let the lying lips be made dumbe, which cruelly, proudly, and spitefully speake against the righteous.

How great is thy goodnesse, which thou hast layd vp for them that feare thee: I and done to them that trust in thee, euen before the sonnes presence from the pride of men: thou keepst them secretly in thy Tabernacle from the strife of tongues.

prayer, when I cryed vnto thee.

Blessed is he whose wickedness is forgiven, and whose sinne is couered.

For my life is wasted with heavinesse, and
my yeares with mourning: my strength faileth for my paine, and my bones are consumed.

I was a reproch among mine enemies,
but specially among my neighbours: and I feare
to mine acquaintance, who seeing mee in the

But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, Thou
art my God.

My times are in thine hand: deliuer mee
from the hand of mine enemies, and from them
that persecute mee.

Blessed is the man, to whom the Lord im-punitie in iniquity: and in whose spirit there is no guile.

When I held my tongue, my bones consumed: when I roared all the day,

For thine hand is heavy vpon me day and night: my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah.

Thou hast acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hid I mine iniquity: for I thought, I will confesse against my selfe my wickednesse vnto the Lord, and thou shalt forgive the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

Therefore shall every one that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee in a time, when thou mayest be heard: surely in the flood of great waters they shall not come nere him.

Thou art my secret place: thou preferu-est me from trouble: thou compassist me about with ioyfull deliuerance. Selah.

I will instruct thee, and teach thee in the way that thou shalt goe, and I will guide thee with mine eye.

passe him.

Lord, and be ioyfull all yee, that are vpriight in heart.

If men can rule bruite beasts, thinke they that God will not bridle and tame their rage: k Hee sheweth that peace and ioy of conscience is the holy Ghost, is the fruit of faith.

served from all adversities.

becometh vpriight men to be thankfull.

Praise the Lord with harpe: sing vnto him with viole and instrument of ten strings.

Sing vnto him a new song: sing cheerefully with a loud voyce.

and all his wayes are faithfull.

He loueth righteousness and iudgement:

of his mouth.

gether as vpon an heape, and layeth vp the depthes that dwell in the world set them.

manded, and it stood.

The Lord breaketh the counsell of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the deuices of the people.

1. Chron. 16.4.1.
a. Albeit he had appointed with himselfe patiently to have varied Gods pleasure, yet the vehemencie of his paine caused him to breake his purpose.
c. Though when the wicked ruled, howbeit he should have kept silence, yet his trouble caused him to change his minde.
d. He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatness of his troubles, & the shortness of his life.
e. Yet David offended in that that he reasoned with God as though that he were too farre toward him to make treasure.
f. Make mee not a mocking stocke to the wicked, nor worp me not vpon with the wicked, when they are yet so faine.
g. Seeing my troubles came of thy goodnesse, I ought to have endured them patiently.
h. Though these wicked plagues light on me, yet I will not curse thee continually, for I know that thou art righteous, as health, strength, beauty, and in whatsoever thou delight, so that the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this world.

To the excellent musician. A Psalm of David.

Thought, b I will take heede to my wayes, that I finne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my sight.

I was dumme & spake nothing: I kept silence even from good, & my sorow was more furied.

Mine heart was hote within me, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and I spake with my tongue, saying,

Lord, let me know mine end, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let mee know how long I have to live.

Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: furrly every man in his best state is altogether vanitie. Selah.

Doublelesse man walketh in a shadow, and disguizeth himselfe in vaine: hee heareth vp vs, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

And howe Lord, what wayte I for? mine hope is euen in thee.

Deliver me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.

Be not as the bene dumme, and not haue an answer, because thou didst it.

Deliver me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.

When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquity, thou as a moth b maketh his beauty to consume: surely every man is vanity. Selah.

Hear my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my cry: keepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers.

Stay thine anger from me, that I may recover my strength, before I go hence and be not.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Wayted patiently for the Lord, & he inclined vnto me, and heard my cry.

He brought mee also out of the horrible pit, out of the nayrie clay, and set my feet vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

And he hath put in my mouth a new song of praise vnto our God: many shall see it and feare, and shall trust in the Lord.

Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, and regardeth not the proud, nor such as turne aside to lies.

O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull workes so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts towards vs: I would declare, and speake of them, but they are more then I am able to expresse.

Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire:

Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire:

(for mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offering and sinne offering hast thou not required.

Then said I, Lo, I come for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me.

I desired to doe thy good will, O my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.

I have declared thy righteousness in the great Congregation: I will not reframe my lips: O Lord, thou knowest.

I have not hid thy righteousness within mine heart, but I have declared thy truth and thy saluation: I have not concealed thy mercy and thy truth from the great Congregation.

Withdrew not thou thy tender mercy from me, O Lord, let thy mercy and thy truth alway preferre me.

For innumerable troubles have compassed me: my finnes haue taken such holde vpon mee, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are more in number then the haire of mine head: therefore mine heart hath failed me.

Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuer mee: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.

Let them be confounded & put to shame together, that seek my soule to destroy it: let the be driven backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

Let them bee destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto me, Aha, aha.

Let all them that seeke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee, and let them that loue thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praised.

Though I be poore and needy, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art mine helper & my deliuerer: my God, make no tarying.

He desireth that Gods mercy may contend for him against the rage of his enemies. m. Let the same shame had confusion light vpon them, when they intended to haue brought vpon me. n. As the faithfull alway praise God for his benefits: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

PSAL XLI.

David being grievously afflicted, blisfith that his case is not as the case of his enemies, and complains of the treason of his own friends & familiars, as came to passe in Iudas, Ioh. 13. 18. After he testifies the great mercie of God gently chastising him, and justifying his enemies to triumph against him, 19. Giveth thanks to God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

Blessed is he that judgeth wisely of the poore: the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

The Lord will keepe him, and preferre him aliv, he shall be blessed vpon the earth: and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the wil of his enemies.

The Lord will strengthen him vpon the bed of sorow: thou hast turned all his bed in his sicknesse.

Therefore I said, Lord haue mercy vpon me: heale my soule, for I have sinned against thee.

Mine enemies d speake euill of mee, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?

And if hee come to see mee, he speaketh lies, for his heart heareth iniquities within him, and when he commeth forth, he telleth it.

All they hate mee whisper together against me: mine enemies imagine mine hurt.

A mischief is light vpon him, & hee that lyeth shall no more rise.

Yea, my familiar friend, whom I trusted, which did eate of my bread, hath lifted vp the heele against me.

The enemies thought by his shame punishment that God was become his mortal enemy. f. Alas, the man of my peace. g. As David felt this falsehood, and as it was chiefly accomplished in Christ, Ioh. 13. 18. So shall his members continually produce the same.

Thou hast opened mine eares: vnderstanding I spirittually meaning of the sacrifices: And here David esteemeth the ceremonies of the Law nothing in respect of the spiritual service.

When thou haddest opened mine eares and heart, I was ready to obey thee, being assured that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this end.

In the Church assembled in the Sanctuary.

David here nameth 3 degrees of our saluation: Gods mercy, whereby he paterich vs his righteousness, which signifieth his continual protection: and his trust, whereby appeareth his constant favour, so that hereof proceedeth our saluation.

As touching the judgement of the flesh, I was utterly destitute of all equanimitie: yet faith inwardly moved mine heart to pray.

He desireth that Gods mercy may contend for him against the rage of his enemies. m. Let the same shame had confusion light vpon them, when they intended to haue brought vpon me. n. As the faithfull alway praise God for his benefits: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

Oh consider this yee that forget God, lest I teare you in pieces, and there be none that can deliuer you.
He that offereth prayse, shall glorifie me: and to him that disposeth his way aright, will I shew the saluation of God.
Hee noteth the cruelty of hypocrites, which spare not in their talke or judgement their owne mothers sinnes. q I will write all thy wicked deeds in a roll, and make thee to read, and acknowledge them, whether thou wilt or no. r Under the which is contained faith and invocation. s As God hath appointed.

When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan, for his great offences, he did not onely acknowledge the sinne in God, with protestation of his mortall corruption and iniquitie, but also left a memoriall thereof to his posteritie. 7 Therefore first he desired Gods forgiveness his sinnes. 10 And renew in him his holy spirit. 12 With promise that he will not be remiss of his great graces. 18 Finally, fearing lest God would punish the whole Church for his sinne, he requesteth that he would rather increase his graces toward the Church.
To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David, when the Prophet Nathan came vnto him, after he had gone in to Bath Sheba.

Have mercy vpon me, O God, according to thy louing kindnes: according to the multitude of thy mercies.

tude of thy compassions put away mine iniquities.
Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sinne.
For I know mine iniquities, & my sinne is euil before me.
Against thee, against thee only haue I sinned, and done euill in thy sight, that thou mayest be iust when thou speakest, and pure when thou iudget.
Behold, I was borne in iniquity, & in sinne hath my mother conceived me.
Behold, thou louest truethe in the inward affections: therefore hast thou taught me wisdom in the secret of mine heart.
Purge mee with hyssope, and I shall be cleane: wash me, and I shall be whiter then snow.
Make me to heare joy & gladnesse, as the bones, which thou hast broken, may reioyce.
Hide thy face from my finnes, and put away all mine iniquities.
Create in me a cleane heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.
Call me not away from thy presence, and take not thy holy spirit from me.
Restore to me the ioy of my saluation, and stablish me with thy free spirit.
Then shall I teach thy wayes vnto the wicked, and sinners shall be conuerted vnto thee.
Deliver me from blood, O God, which art the God of my saluation, and my tongue shall sing joyfully of thy righteousness.
Open thou my lips, O Lord, & my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.
For thou desirest no sacrifice, though I would giue it: thou delicest not in burnt offering.
The sacrifices of God are a contrite spirit: a contrite and a broken heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.
Bee fauourable vnto Zion for thy good pleasure: build the wall of Ierusalem.
Then shalt thou accept the sacrifices of righteousness, even the burnt offering and oblation: then shall they offer calves vpon thine altar.
By giuing me occasion to prayse thee, what thou shalt forgive my sinnes. Which is a wounding of the heart, proceeding of faith, which seeketh vnto God for mercy. p He requesteth for the whole Church, because through his sinne it was in danger of Gods iudgement. q That is, iust and lawfull applied to the right end, which is the example of faith and repentance.

PSAL. LII.
David describeth the arrogant traynie of his aduersary Doeg, who by false iurists caused Ahimelech with the rest of the Priests to be slaine. David prophesieth his destruction, & encourageth the faithful to put their confidence in God, whose iudgements are most sharpe against his aduersaries. 9 And finally, he redresseth thanks to God for his deliuerance. In this Psalm is lastly set forth the kingdom of Antichrist.
To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David to giue instruction. When Doeg the Edomite came and shewed Saul, and said to him, David is come to the house of Ahimelech.
Hy boastest thou thy selfe in thy wickednesse, O man of power? the louing kindnes of God endureth daily.
Thy tongue imagineth mischief, and is like a sharpe raler, that curereth deceitfully.
Thou doest loue euill more then good, and lies more then to speake the truth, Selah.
Thou louest all words that may destroy: O deceitfull tongue!
So shall God destroy thee for euil: he shall recompense thy falsehood.

My finnes sicken to last in me, that I haue need of some singular kind of washing.
My conscience accuseth me so that I can haue no rest till I be reconciled.
When thou giuest sentence against sinners, they must needs confesse thee to be iust, & themselves sinners.
He confesseth that God, who loatheth purenesse of heart, may iustly destroy man, who of nature is a sinner, much more him, whom he had instructed in his heavenly wisdom. * Laus. 14. 6.
He meaneth Gods comfortable mercies toward repentant sinners. h By the bones he vnderstandeth all strength of soule & body, which by cares & mourning are consumed.
He confesseth that when Gods Spirit is cold in vs, to haue it againe reuiued, is as a new creation.
Which may assure me that I am drawn out of the slavery of sinne.
I promise forth to endure that others by his example may turne to God.

7 Behold the man that tooke not God for his ches, and put his strength in his malice.

PSAL. LIII.

1 He desireth the crooked nature, 4 The cruelty, 5 And punishment of the wicked, in his prayer for it, 6 And desireth the deliverance of the guilt, that they may reioyce together.

To him that exelleth in Megith. A Psalm of David, beginning instruction.

The fool hath said in his heart, There is b no
God, they have corrupted and done abominable wickednesse, there is none that doeth good.

2 God looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke God.

3 Every one is gone backe, they are altogether corrupt: there is none that doth good, no not one.

4 Doe not the workers of iniquitie knowe that they eate vp my people as they eate bread?
they call not vpon God.

5 There they were afraid for feare, where no feare was: for God hath scattered the bones of him that belleged thee: thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath cast them off.

6 Oh giue saluation vnto Israel out of Zion:
when God turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iakob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad.

7 When they thought there was none occasion to feare, the sudden vengeance of God lighted vpon them. 8 But his enemies power never so great, nor the danger so fearefull, yet God deliuereth him in due time.

PSAL. LIIII.

1 David brought into great danger by reason of the Ziphims, 5 Calles vpon the Name of God to deliuer him from his enemies, and free of his prayer for his great deliuerance.

To him that exelleth in Megith. A Psalm of David, beginning instruction. When the Ziphims came and said vnto Saul, Is not David hid among vs?

Saul me, O God, by thy Name, and by thy power iudge me.

2 O God, heare my prayer: hearken vnto the words of my mouth.

3 For strangers are risen vp against me, and tyrants seeke my soule: they haue not set God before them. Selah.

4 Beholde, God is mine helper: the Lorde is with them that vphold my soule.

5 Hee shall reward euill vnto mine enemies:
Oh cut them off in thy truth.

6 Then I will sacrifice freely vnto thee: I will praife thy Name, O Lord, because it is good.

7 For he hath deliuered me out of all trouble, & mine eie hath scene my desire vpon mine enemies.

8 According to thy faithfull promise for my defence. 9 For hypocrites serue God for feare or vpon conditions. 10 Vnto my fully reioyce for Gods iudgements against the wicked, if our afflictions cease.

PSAL. LV.

1 David being in great betwixt friend and enemy, and distressed by the cruelty of Saul, 12 And of the faithfulness of his familiar acquaintance, saith, 13 Praise ye the Lord, and his name is as much as the Lord to praise him. 14 After being assured of deliuerance he setteth forth the grace of God, which he had already obtained by request.

To him that exelleth in Megith. A Psalm of
David, beginning instruction.

Hear my prayer, O God, and hide not thy selfe from my supplication.

2 Hearken vnto me, and answere me: I mourne in my prayer, and make a noife,

3 For the voice of the enemy, and for the recreation of the wicked, because they haue brought iniquity vpon me, & furiously hate me.

4 Mine heart trembleth within me, and the terrors of death are fallen vpon me.

5 Feare & trembling are come vpon me, and an horrible feare hath covered me.

6 And I sayd, Oh that I had wings like a dove: then would I flee away and rest.

7 Behold I would take my flight farre off, & lodge in the wilderness. Selah.

8 Hee would make haste for my deliuerance from the stormie wind and tempest.

9 Destroy, O Lord, and consume their tongues:
for I haue seene crueltye and strife in the cite.

10 Day and night they go about it vpon the walles thereof: both in iniquitie and mischief are in the middes of it.

11 Wickednesse is in the middes thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets.

12 Surely mine enemy did not defame mee:
for I could haue borne it: neither did mine aduersary exalt himselfe against me: for I would haue hid me from him.

13 But it was thou, O man, even my companion, my guide and my familiar:

14 Which delighted in consulting together, and went into the house of God as companions.

15 Let death seise vpon them: let them goe downe quicke into the graue: for wickednesse is in their dwellings, even in the middes of them.

16 But I will call vnto God, and the Lorde will saue me.

17 Evening and morning, and at noone will I pray: & make a noife, & he will heare my voice.

18 Hee hath deliuered my soule in peace from the battell that was against me: for many were with me.

19 God shall heare and afflicte them, even hee that reigneth of olde. Selah: because they haue no changes, therefore they feare not God.

20 He said his hand vpon such as beate peace with him, and he brake his covenant.

21 The words of his mouth were softer then butter, yet warre was in his heart: his words were more gentle then oyle, yet they were swords.

shall nourish thee: he wil not suffer the righteous to fall for euer.

23 And thou, O God shake bring them down into the pit of corruption: the bloody, and de-ceitfull men shal not liue halfe their dayes: but I will trust in thee.

24 As at peace with him, yet he made war against me. For, gift to wit, which thou wouldest that God should give thee. 25 Though for their bettering and trial, he suffereth them to slip for a time. 26 Though they sometime liue longer, yet their life is curied of God, and worse then any death.

27 The words of his mouth were softer then a Being chased by the furie of his enemies into a strange country,

he was as a dambe

revengeance.

b He sheweth that it is either now time of need, that God help him. For all the world is against him and ready to devour him.
c He stayeth his confidence upon Gods promise, though he see not present helpe. d All my counsaile haue euil successe, and turne to mine owne sorrow.
e As al the world against one man, and cannot be satiate, except they haue my life.
f They think not onely to escape punishment, but the more wicked they are, the more impudent they waxe.
g If God keepe the teares of his Saints in store, much more will he remember their blood, to avenge it: and though tyrants burne the bones, yet can they not blot the teares and blood out of Gods register. h Pausing recited that which I required, I am bound to pay my vowes of thanksgiving, as I promised. i As mindfull of his great mercies, and giuing him thanks for the same. k That is, in this life and light of the same.

Be mercifull vnto me, O God, for man would swallow me vp: hee fighteth continually and vexeth me.

3 Mine enemies would dayly swallow me vp: for many fight against me, O thou most High.

4 When I was afraid, I trusted in thee.

4 I will reioice in God, because of his word, I trust in God, and will not feare what flesh can doe vnto me.

5 Mine owne words grieue me dayly: all their thoughts are against me to doe me hurt.

6 They gather together, and keepe themselves close: they marke my steps, because they wait for my soule.

7 They thinke they shall escape by iniquity: O God, cast these people downe in thine anger.

8 Thou hast counted my wandrings: put my teares into thy bottell: are they not in thy register?

9 When I crye, then mine enemies shall turne backe: this I know, for God is with me.

10 I will reioice in God because of his word: in the Lord will I reioice because of his word.

11 In God doe I trust: I will not be afraid what man can doe vnto me.

12 Thy vowes are vpon me, O God: I will render prailes vnto thee.

13 For thou hast deliuered my soule from death, and also my feete from falling, that I may walke before God in the light of the liuing.

1 David being in the desert of Ziph, where the inhabitants did betray him, and as liuing in the same cause with Saul, 2 Casteth most earnestly vnto God, with full confidence that he will performe his promise, and take his cause in hand: 3 Also that he will shew his glory in the heauens and the earth against his cruell enemies. 4 Therefore doeth he render laud and praise.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David on Michtam. When hee fledde from Saul in the cave.

Hauē mercie vpon mee, O God, haue mercie vpon mee: for my soule trusteth in thee, and in the shadow of thy wings will I trust, till the afflictions ouerpasse.

2 I will call vnto the most high God, euen the God, that performeth his promise toward me.

3 He will send from heauen, and saue mee fro the reproofe of him that would swallow me. Selah. God will send his mercie, and his trueth.

4 My soule is among lions: I lie among the children of men, that are set on fire: whose teeth are speeres and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sword.

5 Exalt thy selfe, O God, about the heauen, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth.

6 They haue laide a net for my steps: 8 my soule is pressed down: they haue digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the mids of it. Selah.

7 Mine heart is prepared, O God, mine heart is prepared: I will sing and giue praise.

8 Awake my tongue, awake viose & harpe: I will awake earely.

9 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

h That is, wholly bent to giue thee praise for my deliuerance. i Hee sheweth that both his heart shall praise God and his tongue that confesse him, and also that he will vnto other meanes to prouoke himselfe forward to the same.

10 For thy mercie is great vnto the heauens, and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

11 Exalt thy selfe, O God, about the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth.

To him that excelleth. Destroy not. A Psalm of David on Michtam.

1 Sit true? O a congregation, speake ye iustly? O Iohnes of men, iudge ye vprightly?

2 Yea, rather yee imagine mischief in your heart: b your handes execute crueltie vpon the earth.

3 The wicked are strangers from the wombe: euen fro the belly haue they erred, and speake lies.

4 Their poyson is euen like the poyson of a serpent: like the deafe adder that stoppeth his eare.

5 Which heareth not the voice of the enchanter, though he be most expert in charming.

6 Breake their teeth, O God, in their mouthes: breake the iawes of the yong Lyons, O Lord.

7 Let them melt like the waters, let them passe away: when hee shooteth his arrowes, let them be as broken.

8 Let him consume like a snail that melteth, and like the vntimely fruit of a woman, that hath not seene the sunne.

9 As a raw flesh before your pots feele the fire of thornes: so let him carie them away as with a whirlewind in his wrath.

10 The righteous shall reioyce when hee seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked.

11 And men shall say, Verely there is fruit for the righteous: doubtlesse there is a God that iudgeth in the earth.

1 David being in great danger of Saul, who sent to slay him in his bed, prayeth vnto God: 2 Declareth his innocencie, and their furie. 3 Desiring God to destroy all those that shew malice without mercy. 4 Whome though hee keeps alive for a time to exercise his people, yet in the end hee will consume them in his wrath. 5 That hee may be knowne to be the God of Iacob to the end of the world. 6 For this hee singeth praise to God, assured of his mercie.

PSAL. LXIII.

1 David prayeth against the sinne and false reports of his enemies. 2 Hee declareth their punishments and destruction, to the comfort of the iust and the glorie of God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

In that he calleth to God with his voice, it is a signe that his prayer was vehement and that his life was in danger.
That is, from their secret malice.
To wit, their outward violence.
False reports and slanders.
To be without feare of God and reuerence of man, is a signe of reprobation.
The more that wicked see Gods children in miserie, the more bold and impudent are they in oppressing them.
There is no way so secret and subtile to doe hurt, which they imagined not for his destruction.

Bare my voyce, O God, in my prayer: pre-sue my life from feare of the enemy.
2 Hide me from the conspiracie of the wicked, & from the rage of the workers of iniquity.
3 Which haue whet their tongue like a sword, and shot for their arrowes bitter words:
4 To shoote at the vpright in secret: they shoote at him suddenly and feare not.
5 They encourage themselves in a wicked purpose: they commune together to lay snares priuily, and say, Who shall see them?
6 They haue fought out iniquities, and haue accomplished that which they sought out, euen euery one his secret thoughts, and the depth of his heart.

7 But God will shoote an arrow at them suddenly: their strokes shall be at once.
8 They shall cause their owne tongue to fall vpon them: and whosoever shall see them, shall flee away.
9 And all men shall see it, and declare the worke of God, and they shall vnderstand, what he hath wrought.
10 But the righteous shall bee glad in the Lord, and trust in him: and all that are vpright of heart, shall reioyce.

9 Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it: thou makest it very rich: the riuer of God is full of water: thou preparest them corne: for so thou appointest it.

16 Come and hearken, all ye that feare God, & I will tell you what he hath done to my soule.

24 They haue scene, O God, thy goings, the goings of my God, and my King, which art in the Sanctuary.

25 The fingers went before, the players of instruments after: in the midds were the maides playing with timbrels.

26 Prayse ye God in the assemblies, and the Lord, ge that are of the fountaine of Israel.

27 There was little Benjamin with their ruler, and the princes of Iudah with their assembly, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy GOD hath appointed thy strength: stablish, O God, that which thou hast wrought in vs, 29 Out of thy Temple vpon Jerusalem, and Kings shall bring presents vnto thee.

30 Destroy the company of the spearmen, and multitude of the mighty bulles with the calves of the people, that tread vnder feete pieces of siluer: scatter the people that deliue in warre.

31 Then shall the princes come out of Egypt: Ethiopia shall haste to stretch her hands vnto God.

32 Sing vnto God, O yee kingdomes of the earth: sing praise vnto the Lord, (Selah)

33 To him that rideth vpon the most hie heavens, which were from the beginning: behold, hee will send out by his voyce a mighty found.

34 Ascribe the power to God: for his maiesty is vpon Israel, and his strength is in the cloudes.

35 O God, thou art terrible out of thine holy places: the God of Israel is hee that giueth strength and power vnto the people: prayled be God.

b He prophesieth that the Gentiles shall come to the true knowledge and worship of God. c By his terrible thunders hee will make himselfe to be knowne the God of all the word. d In shewing tearfull iudgements against thine enemies for the saluation of thy people. e He alludeth to the Tabernacle which was diuided into three parts.

S Anames, O God: for the waters are entred Seuen to my soule.

2 I sticke fast in the deepe myre, where no stay is: I am come into deep waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 I am weary of crying: my throte is dry: mine eyes faile, while I waite for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are more then the haire of mine head: they that would destroy mee, and are mine enemies falsly, are mighty, so that I restored that which I tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnes, and my faults are not hid from thee.

6 I let not them that trust in thee, O Lord, God of hostes, be ashamed for me: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through mee, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliant vnto my mothers sonnes.

9 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I wept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that sate in the gate, spake of mee, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an acceptable time, even in the multitude of thy mercy: O God, heare me in the truth of thy saluation.

14 Deliuer mee out of the myre, that I sinke not: let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood drowne me, neither let the deepe swallow me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindnesse is good: turne vnto mee according to the multitude of thy tender mercies, 17 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare mee.

18 Drawe neere vnto my soule and redeeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine aduersaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauinesse, and I looked for some to haue pity on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.

21 For they gaue me gall in my meate, and in my thirst they gaue me vineger to drinke.

22 Let their table be a snare before them, and their prosperity their ruine.

23 Let their eyes be blinded that they see not, and make their loynes alway to tremble.

24 Powre out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrathfull displeasure take them.

25 Let their habitation be voyde, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him, whom thou hast smitten: and they adde vnto the sorow of them, whom thou hast wounded.

and moone endureth, from generation to generation.

g As this is true in all godly kings, so it is chiefly verified in Christ, who with his heavenly dew maketh his Church ever to flourish.

h That is, from the red sea to the sea called Syria, and from Ephraim forward, meaning, that Christ's kingdom should be large and universal.

i Of Cilicia, and of all other countries, beyond the sea, which he meaneth by the yles. k That is, of Arabia the rich country, whereof Sheba was a part bordering upon Ethiopia.

l Though tyrants paffe not to shed blood: yet this godly king shall preferre his subjects from all kind of wrong.

m God will both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him. n Under such a king shall be most great plenty, both of fruit and also of the increase of mankind.

o They shall pray to God for his continuance, & know that God doth prosper them for his sake.

p He confesseth that except God miraculously preserve his people, that neither the king nor the kingdom can continue. q Concerning his sonne Salomon.

6 He shall come downe like the raine vpon the mowen grasse, and as the showers that water the earth.

7 In his dayes shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace shall bee so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion shall be also from sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the ends of the land.

9 They that dwell in the wilderness, shall kcepe before him, and his enemies shall licke the dust.

10 The kings of Tarshish & of the yles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall bring gifts.

11 Yea, all kings shall worship him: all nations shall serue him.

12 For he shall deliuer the poore when he crieth: the needie also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shall be mercifull to the poore & needy, and shall preserve the soules of the poore.

14 Hee shall redeeme their soules from deceit and violence, and deare shall their blood be in his sight.

15 Yea, hee shall liue, and vnto him shall they giue of the golde of sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and dayly blesse him.

16 An handfull of corne shall be sown in the earth, euen in the top of the mountaines, and the fruit thereof shall shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shall flourish out of the citie like the grasse of the earth.

17 His name shall be for ever: his name shall endure as long as the funne: all nations shall blesse him, and be blessed in him.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God of Israel which onely doth wondrous things.

19 And blessed be his glorious Name for ever: and let all the earth be filled with his glory. So be it, euen so be it.

HERE ENDE THE 9 prayers of Dauid the sonne of Ithai.

P S A L. LXXIII.

1 The Prophet toucheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperitie of the ungodly, nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers providence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19 forasmuch as the wicked vanish away, 22 and the godly enter into life everlasting, 28 in hope whereby the righteous himselfe into Gods hands.

2 P salme committed to Asaph

YET a God is good to Israel: euen to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feete were almost gone: my steps had well nere slipt.

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.

6 Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto them, and cruelitie couereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatnes: they haue more then heart can wish.

8 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

9 They glory in their pride as some doe in their chains, and in cruelitie, as some doe in apparel. 10 For they passe the dayes of their

9 They set their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh thorow the earth.

10 Therefore his people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they say, How doeth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Loe these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and increase in riches.

13 Certainly I have cleansed mine heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

14 For dayly I haue bene punished, and chastened euery morning.

15 If I say, I will iudge thus, behold the generation of thy children, I haue trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painefull for mee,

17 Vntill I went into the Sanctuary of God: then vnderstood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slippery places, and castest them downe into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and horribly consumed,

20 As a dreame when one awaketh! O Lord when thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image despised.

21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reines.

22 So foolish was I & ignorant: I was a beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide mee by thy counsell, and afterward receiue me to glorie.

25 Whom haue I in heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also, but God is the strength of mine heart, and my portion for euer.

27 For loe, they that withdraw themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that goe a whoring from thee.

28 As for me, it is good for me to draw neere to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

out Gods iudgements, the more doeth he declare himselfe a beast. m By faith I was assured that thy providence did watch alwayes ouer mee, to preserve mee. n Hee taught neither helpe nor comfort of any line of God onely. o He teacheth vs to denie our selves, to haue God our whole sufficiency, and onely contentment. p That is, forsake thee to seeke others. q Though all the world shalke from God, yet be prometh to trall in him, and to magnifie his workes.

P S A L. LXXIII.

1 The sixth psalme of the destruction of the Church and true religion, 2 under the name of Zion, and the temple destroyed: 11 and trusting in the might and fre mercies of God, 20 by his covenant, 22 they require helpe and succour for the glorie of Gods holy Name, for the saluatioun of his poore afflicted seruants: 23 and the confusion of his proud enemies.

2 A P salme to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.

O God, why hast thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled against the sheepe of thy pasture?

2 Thinke vpon the congregation, which thou hast possessed of olde, and on the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, and on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift vp thy strokes, that thou mayest for euer destroy euery enemy that doeth euill to the Sanctuary.

4 Thine

d They blaspheme God, and feare not his power & raile vpon men, because they esteeme themselves aboue all others.

e Not onely the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes fall backe, seeing the prosperitie of the wicked, and are overwhelmed with sorrowes, thinking that God considereth not a right the state of the godly.

f Though the flesh moueth euen the godly to dispute with God touching their poore estate, and the prosperitie of the wicked.

g If I giue place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy providence, seeing thou disposest all things most wisely, and preferrest thy children in their greatest dangers.

h Vntill I entred into thy schoole and learned by thy word & holy Spirit, that thou orderest all things most wisely and iustly.

i By thy fearfull iudgement.

k When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heavenly felicitie, wee cannot see all their vaine pompe.

l For the meate that man goeth about by his vaine reason to finde.

m By faith I was assured that thy providence did watch alwayes ouer mee, to preserve mee.

n Hee taught neither helpe nor comfort of any line of God onely. o He teacheth vs to denie our selves, to haue God our whole sufficiency, and onely contentment.

p That is, forsake thee to seeke others. q Though all the world shalke from God, yet be prometh to trall in him, and to magnifie his workes.

r The Church of God being oppressed by the tyranny, either of the Babylonians, or of Antiochus, prayeth to God by whose hand this yoke was layed vpon them for their sinnes.

s Which inheritance sheweth

6 They have destroyed thy true religion, and spread their banners in signs of defiance. 7 He commended the temple for the costly manner, the excellent workmanship, and beauty thereof, which notwithstanding the enemy did destroy.

8 They encouraged one another to cruelty, that not only Gods people might be destroyed, but also his religion utterly in all places suppressed.

9 They lament that they knew no Prophet among them to show them how long their misery should endure. 10 They loathe their deliverance with Gods grace and power, knowing that the punishment of the enemy should be their deliverance.

11 Meaning in the light of all the world. 12 To wit, Pharaohs army. 13 Which was a great monster of the sea, or whale, swallowing Pharaoh. 14 His destruction did relieve them, and great refreshment the had.

15 Seeing that God by his providence governeth and disposeth all things, he gathereth that he will take care chiefly for his children.

16 He meaneth the Church of God, which is exposed as a prey to the wicked. 17 That is, all places where thy word shineth not, there reigneth tyranny and ambition.

18 He sheweth that God cannot suffer his Church to be oppressed, except he loose his own right. 19 Or, justly shall more and more.

4 Thine adversaries reare in the mids of thy Congregation, & set up their banners for signes. 5 Hee thus lifted the axes upon the thicke trees, was renowned as one that brought a thing to perfection.

6 But now they breake downe the carved worke thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They have cast thy Sanctuary into the fire, and rased it to the ground, and have defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They said in their hearts, Let vs destroy them altogether: they have burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 Wee see not our signes: there is not one Prophet more, nor any with vs that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the adversaries reproch thee? shall the enemy blaspheme thy Name forever?

11 Why withdrawest thou thine hand, even thy right hand? draw it out of thy bosome, and consume them.

12 Euen God is my king of olde, working salvation in the mids of the earth.

13 Thou diddest divide the sea by thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of Leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to be meat for the people in wilderness.

15 Thou brakest up the fountaine and ruer: thou driedst up mighty rivers.

16 The day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made Summer and Winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Give nor the soule of thy turtle dove unto the beast, and forget not the Congregation of thy poore for ever.

20 Consider thy covenant: for the darke places of the earth are full of the habitations of the cruell.

21 O let not the oppressed returne ashamed, but let the poore and needy praise thy Name.

22 Arise, O God, and avenge thine owne cause: remember thy daily reproch by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: for the tumult of them that rise against thee, ascendeth continually.

24 He sheweth that God cannot suffer his Church to be oppressed, except he loose his own right. 25 Or, justly shall more and more.

P S A L. LXXV.

1 The Just shall praise the Name of the Lord, which shall come to iudge as the times appointed, & when the wicked shall be punished, and drinke of the cup of his wrath. 2 Their pride shall be abased, and the righteous shall be exalted to honour.

3 To him that excelleth in Destroying. A Psalm, or song committed to Asaph.

WE will praise thee, O God, we will praise thee, for thy Name is nere: therefore they will declare thy wondrous workes.

2 When I shall take a convenient time, I will iudge righteously.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: but I will establish the pillars of the earth. Selah.

4 I said vnto the foolish, Bee not so foolish, and to the wicked, List not up the horn.

5 Lift not up your horn on high, neither speake with a stiffe necke.

6 For to come to preferment is neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South,

7 But God is the iudge: he maketh lowe, and he maketh high.

8 For in the hand of the Lord is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full mixt, and hee powreth out of the same: surely all the wicked of the earth shall wring out and drinke the dregs thereof.

9 But I will declare for ever, and sing praises vnto the God of Iakob.

10 All the hornes of the wicked also will I breake: but the hornes of the righteous shall be exalted.

2 In the day of my trouble I fought the Lord: my fore ran & ceased not in the night: my soule refused comfort.

3 I did thinke vpon God, and was troubled: I prayed, and my spirit was full of anguish. Selah.

4 Thou keepst mine eyes waking: I was astonied, and could not speake.

5 Thus I considered the dayes of olde: and the yeeres of ancient time.

6 I called to remembrance my song in the night: I communed with mine owne heart, and my spirit searched diligently.

7 Wil the Lord absent himselfe for ever? and will he shew no more fauour?

8 Is his mercy cleane gone for ever? doeth his promise faile for evermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to be mercifull? hath he shut vp his tender mercies in displeasure? Selah.

10 And I said, This is my death: yet I remembered the yeeres of the right hand of the most High.

11 I remembered the works of the Lord: certainly I remembered thy wonders of old.

12 I did also meditate all thy workes, and did deuse of thine actes, saying.

14 Thou art the God that doest wonders: thou hast declared thy power among the people.

15 Thou hast redeemed thy people with thine arme, even the sonnes of Iakob & Ioseph. Selah.

17 The cloudes powred out water: the heavens gaue a sound: yea, thine arrowes went abroad.

18 The voyce of thy thunder was round about: the lightnings lightned the world: the earth trembled and shooke.

and ordeined a Law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should teach their children:

6 That the posterity might know it, and the children, which should be borne, should stand vp, and declare it to their children:

7 That they might set their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God, but keepe his commandements:

8 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their hearts aright, and whose spirit was not faithfull vnto God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bow, turned backe in the day of battell.

10 They kept not the Covenant of God, but refused to walke in his Law, 11 And forgate his actes, and his wonderfull workes that he had shewed them.

12 Hee did marvellous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt: even in the field of Zoan.

13 He diuided the Sea, & led them through: he made also the waters to stand as an heape.

14 In the day time also hee led them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 Hee claued the rocks in the wilderness, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 Hee brought floods also out of the stonie rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they sinned still against him, and provoked the Highest in the wilderness, 18 And tempted God in their hearts in requiring meate for their lust.

19 They spake against God also, saying, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?

20 Behold, he smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames overflowed: can hee giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard, and was angry, and the fire was kindled in Iakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel, 22 Because they beloeued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet hee had commanded the cloudes above, and had opened the doores of heaven, 24 And had rained downe M A N vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheate of heaven.

25 Man did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meate enough.

26 Hee caused the East winde to passe in the heavens, and through his power hee brought in the South winde.

27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered fowle as the sand of the sea.

28 And he made it fall in the middes of their campe, & surrounded about their habitations.

29 So they did eate, and were well filled: for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned from their lust, but the meate was yet in their mouths, 31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them.

o So that they had that, which was necessary and sufficient: but their lust made them to conueit that which they knew God had denied them.

p God vied the meanes of the wind, to teach them that all elements were at his commandement, and that no distance of place could let his working.

Hee sheweth wherein the children should be like their fathers: that is, in maintaining Gods pure Religion.

f Hee sheweth wherein the vice of this doctrine standeth: in faith, in the meditation of Gods benefites, and in obedience.

g Through these fathers were the seede of Abraham and the chosen people, yet hee sheweth by their rebellion, prouocation, falsehood, and hypocricie, that the children ought not to follow their examples.

h By Ephraim he meant also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: whose punishment declareth that they were vniuersally to God, and by their multitude, and audacity had corrupted all others.

i He proueth that not onely the posterity, but also their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God.

k Their wicked malice could be overcome by no benefites, which were great and many.

l Then to require more then is necessary, and to separate Gods power from his will, is to tempt God.

m Thus when we giue place to sin, we are mooued to doubt of Gods power, except he will alwayes be ready to iurise our lust.

n That is, in his fatherly providence, whereby he careth for his, and prouideth sufficiently.

o So that they had that, which was necessary and sufficient: but their lust made them to conueit that which they knew God had denied them.

47 Hee gaue also their fruites vnto the caterpillar, and their labour vnto the grasshopper.
48 Hee destroyed their vines with haile, and their wilde figgetrees with the hailestone.
49 Hee gaue their cattell also to the haile, and their flocks to the thunderbolts.

57 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies.
58 But turned backe, and dealt falsly like their fathers: they turned like a deceitfull bow.

O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple haue they defiled, and made Ierusalem heapes of stones.
The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meate vnto fowles of the heauen, and the flesh of thy saints vnto the beasts of the earth.

2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manassah stirre vp thy strength, and come to helpe vs.

12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedges, so that all they, which passe by the way, haue plucked her?

13 The wilde bore out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wilde beasts of the field haue eaten it vp.

14 Returne we beseech thee, O God of hostes looke downe from heauen and behold, and visit this vine,

15 And the vineyard, that thy right hand hath planted, and the yong vine, which thou madest strong for thy selfe.

16 It is burnt with fire, and cut downe: and they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thine hand bee vpon the man of thy right hand, and vpon the sonne of man, whom thou madest strong for thine owne selfe.

18 So will not wee goe backe from thee, O Lord: thou vs, and we shall call vpon thy Name.

19 Turne vs againe, O Lord God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and we shalbe saved.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

The people of Israel pray vnto the Lord to deliuer them from their enemies such as bene vnder vs, which imagine vnto them that they are gods. And they desire that all such wicked people, according as God was accustomed to strike with the storme of his wrath. 18. That they may knowe that the Lord is most high vpon the earth.

A Song of Psalm committed to Asaph.

Kepe not thou silence, O God: bee not still and cease not, O God.

For lo, thine enemies make a tumult, and they that hate thee, haue lifted vp the head.

They haue taken craftie counsell against thy people, and haue consulted against thy select ones.

They haue said, Come and let vs cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Israel be no more in remembrance.

For they haue consulted together in heart, and haue made a league against thee:

The tabernacles of Edom, and the Ishmaelites, Moab and the Agarims:

Gabal and Ammon, and Amalech, the Philistines with the inhabitants of Tyrus.

Asshur also is ioynd with them: they haue bene an arme to the children of Lot. Selah.

Do thou to them as vnto the Mediatites: as to Sifera and as to Labin at the river of Kithon.

10 They perished at Endor, and were dang for the earth.

11 Make them, as their princes, like Oreb and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes like Zebah & like Zalmunna.

12 Which haue said, Let vs take for our possession the habitations of God.

13 O my God make them like vnto a wheele, and as the stubble before the winde.

14 As the fire burneth the forest, and as the flame seareth the mountaines on fire:

15 So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraid with thy storme.

16 Fill their faces with shame, that they may seeke thy Name, O Lord.

17 Let them be confounded and troubled for ever: yea let them be put to shame, and perish.

18 That they may know that thou, which art called Iehovah art alone, the most High quer all the earth.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

David driven forth of his country. 2. Desires most ardently to come againe into the habitation of the Lord and the assembly of the Saints to praise God. 4. Promising them that they shall see the Lord. 6. That he will be their strength and defence, that he will be their refuge and their strength in Zion. 10. That he will be their strength and defence, that he will be their refuge and their strength in Zion. 10. That he will be their strength and defence, that he will be their refuge and their strength in Zion.

To him that exalleth vpon Gittith. A Psalm committed to the Sannes of Krah.

O Lord of hostes, how amiable are thy Tabernacles!

2 My soule longeth, yea, and fainteth for the courts of the Lord: for my heart and my flesh reioyce in the living God.

3 Yea, the sparrow hath found her an house, and the swallow a nest for her, where she may lay her young: even by thine altars, O Lord of hosts, my King and my God.

4 Blessed are they that dwell in thine house, they will ever praise thee. Selah.

5 Blessed is the man whose d strength is in thee, and in whose heart are thy wayes.

6 They going through the vale of Baca, make welles therein: the raine also couereth the pooles.

7 They goe from strength to strength, till euery one appeare before God in Zion.

8 O Lord God of hostes heare my prayer, hearken, O God of Iaakob. Selah.

9 Behold, O God, our shield and looke vpon the face of thine Anointed.

10 For a day in thy courts is better then a thousand other where: I had rather be a doore keeper in the house of my God, then to dwell in the Tabernacles of wickednesse.

11 For the Lord God is the sunne and shield vnto vs: the Lord will giue grace and glory, and no good thing will he withhold from them that walke vprightly.

12 O Lord of hostes, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

1 David fore of Iddisland for taken of all, prayeth for mercy for deliverance: sometimes rebourning his miseries, 5 Sometimes the miseries receive, 11 Desiring also to be instructed of the Lord, that he may know him, and glorify his name. 14 He complains also of his adversaries, and requireth to be delivered from them.

g A prayer of David.

Incline thine eare, O Lord, and heare me: for I am poore and needie.

2 Preferuethou my soule, for I am merciful:
my God, saue thou thy seruant, that trusteth in thee.

3 Be mercifull vnto mee, O Lord: for I crie vpon thee continually.

4 Reioyce the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee, O Lord, doe I lift vp my soule.

5 For thou, Lord, art good and mercifull, and of great kindnesse vnto all them that call vpon thee.

6 Giue eare, Lord, vnto my prayer, and hearken to the voice of my supplication.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou hearest me.

8 Among the gods there is none like thee, O Lord, and there is none that can doe like thy works.

9 All nations whom thou hast made, shall come and worship before thee, O Lord, and shall glorify thy Name.

10 For thou art great and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 Teach mee thy way, O Lord, and I will walke in thy truth: knit mine heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy Name.

12 I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all mine heart: yea, I will glorify thy Name for euer.

13 For great is thy mercie toward me, & thou hast delivered my soule from the lowest graue.

14 O God, the proud are risen against me, and the afflictions of violent men haue fought my soule, and haue not set thee before them.

15 But thou, O Lord, art a pitifull God and mercifull, slow to anger, and great in kindnesse and truth.

16 Turne vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me:
giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and saue the sonne of thine handmaid.

17 Shew a token of thy goodnesse toward me, that they which hate me, may see it, and be ashamed, because thou, O Lord, hast holpen mee and comforted me.

1 That is, from most great danger of death: out of the which none but onely the mighty hand of God could deliver him. 2 He sheweth that there can be no moderation nor equitie, where proud tyrants reigne, and that the lack of Gods feare is as a priuiledge to all vice and crueltie. 3 He boasteth not of his owne vertues, but confesseth, that God of his free goodnesse hath euer bene mercifull vnto him, and giuen him power against his enemies, as to one of his owne household.

was in miserie after the captiuitie of Babylon, should be restored to great exultation, 4 So that there should be nothing more comforable, then to be numbered among the members thereof.

persecutions and aduersities, 7 Being as it were left of God saken of all earthly helpe.

g A song or Psalm of Herman the Exarhite to giue instruction, committed to the singers of Kerab for him that exulteth vpon Malath. Laanath.

O Lord God of my saluation, I crie day and night before thee.

2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence: incline thine eare vnto my crie.

3 For my soule is filled with euils, and my life draweth neere to the graue.

4 I am counted among them that goe downe vnto the pit, and am as a man without strength:

5 Free among the dead, like the slaine lying in the graue, whom thou remembrest no more,
and they are cut off from thy hand.

6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in dark-nesse, and in the deepe.

hast vexed me with all thy waues. Selah.

8 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance farre from mee, and made mee to be abhorred of them: I am shut vp, and cannot get forth.

9 Mine eye is sorrowfull through mine affliction: Lord, I call daily vpon thee: I stretch out mine hands vnto thee.

10 Wilt thou shew a miracle to the dead? or shall the dead rise and praise thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy louing kindnesse bee declared in the graue? or thy faithfulness in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonderous workes bee knowne in the darke? and thy righteousness in the land of obliuion?

13 But vnto thee, haue I cried, O Lord, and early shall my prayer come before thee.

hidest thy face from me?

PSAL LXXXIX.

With many words doth the Prophet praise the goodness of God. For his strength and clemency, that he has made himself known to the world by his works, and his mercy to his people. He also speaks of the fall of David, and his restoration to the throne. Finally, he speaks of the mercy of God towards his people, and his promise to David.

A Psalm to give instruction, of Elisha the Ezrahite.

I will sing the mercies of the Lords for ever:
I with my mouth will I declare thy truth from generation to generation.

For I have said, Mercy shall be set vp for ever:
thy truth shall thou establish in the very hea-uens.

I have made a covenant with my chosen:
I have sworn to David my servant.

Thy seeds will I stablish for ever, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation.
Selah.

O Lord, when the heaven shall praise thy wonderous works, yea, thy truth in the Congregation of the Saints.

For who is equal to the Lord in the heauen? and who is like the Lord among the stones of the gods?

God is very terrible in the assemblie of the Saints, and to bee reuerenced about all that are about him.

O Lord God of hostes, who is like vnto thee, which art a mighty Lord, and thy truth is about thee.

Thou rulest the raging of the Sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.

Thou hast beaten down Rahab as a man slain: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mighty arme.

The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

Thou hast created the North and the South: Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

Thou hast a mighty arme: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

Righteousnesse and equitie are the stablement of thy throne: mercie and truth goe before thy face.

Blessed is the people that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy countenance, O Lord.

They shall reioyce continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousness shall they exalt themselves.

For thou art the glory of their strength, and by thy favour our hornes shall be exalted.

For our shield appertaineth to the Lord, and our King to the Holy one of Israel.

Thou hast said in a vision vnto thyne Holy one, and saidst, I have layd helpe vpon one that is mighty: I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

I have found David my servant: with mine holie oyle have I anointed him.

Therefore mine hand shall be established with him, and mine arme shall strengthen him.

The enemy shall not oppress him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.

But I will destroy his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

My truth also, and my mercie shall bee with him, and in my Name shall his horn be exalted.

I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the floods.

He shall cry vnto mee, Thou art my Father, my God, and the rocke of my saluation.

Also I will make him my first borne, higher then the kings of the earth.

My mercie will I keepe for him for evermore, and my Covenant shall stand fast with him.

His seed also will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

But if his children forsake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:

If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my commandments:

Then will I visite their transgression with the rod, and their iniquitie with strokes.

Yet my louing kindness will I not take from him, neither will I falsifie my truth.

My Covenant will I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

I have sworn once by mine holines, that I will not faile David, saying,

His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne shall be as the sunne before me.

He shall be established for evermore as the moone, and as a faithfull witnesse in the heauen, Selah.

But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angry with thine anointed.

Thou hast broken the Covenant of thy servant, and prophaned his crowne, casting it on the ground.

Thou hast broken down his walles:
thou hast layd his fortresses in ruine.

All that goe by the way, spoile him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.

Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battel.

Thou hast caused his dignity to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.

The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened, and couered him with shame, Selah.

O Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for ever? shall thy wrath burne like fire?

14 The children of God shall haue power above nature and their shall bring forth much fruit.

16 He prayeth the power of God in the creation of the world, and heareth the prayer of the wicked which lift them up against his mercy, and prometh to punish his sinners.

17 The Lord reigneth, and is clothed with majesty: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power, the world also shall be established that it cannot be moved.

18 Thy throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting.

19 The floods haue lifted up; O Lord: the floods haue lifted up their voice: the floods lift up their waues.

20 The waues of the sea are maruailous through the noise of many waters, when the Lord on high is more mightie.

21 Thy testimonies are sure fire: holinesse becommeth thine House, O Lord, for ever.

22 He prayeth vnto God against the violence and arrogancy of sinners, and the mourning of the afflicted, and the death of the afflicted by the affliction of his affliction, and the death of the afflicted by the affliction of his affliction.

23 O Lord God the meager, O God the auger, shew thy selfe clearly.

24 Exalt thy selfe, O Iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proud.

25 Lord how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?

26 Thy prate and speake fiercely all the workers of iniquitie vaine themselves.

27 They smite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

28 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherlesse.

29 If they say, The Lord shall not see: neither will the God of Iacob regard it.

30 Vnderstand, ye vaine among the people, and ye fooles, when will ye be wise?

31 He that planted the ear, shall hee not heare? or he that formed the eye, shall hee not see?

32 Or he that chastiseth the nations, shall hee not correct? hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall hee not know?

33 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanities.

34 Blessed is the man whom thou chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law.

35 That thou mayest giue him rest from the dayes of euill, whiles the pitte is digged for the wicked.

36 Surely the Lord will not faile his purpose, neither will he forsake his inheritance.

37 For iudgement shall returne to iustice, and all the vpright in heart shall follow after it.

38 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquities?

39 If the Lord had not holpen me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.

40 When I said, My foot slideth, thy mercy, O Lord, stayed me.

41 In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioyced my soule.

42 Hath the throne of iniquitie fellowship with thee, which forge wrong for a Law?

43 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.

44 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope.

45 And he will recompense them their wickednesse, & destroy them in their owne malice, yea the Lord our God shall destroy them.

46 It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

48 A psalme of Asaph, to be sung for the government of the world, and the rebellion of the wicked, that tempted God in the wilderness, 1. For the which they might haue offered into the land of promise.

49 Come, let vs reioyce vnto the Lorde: let vs sing aloud vnto the rocke of our saluation.

50 Let vs come before his face with prayse: let vs sing loud vnto him with Psalmes.

51 For the Lorde is a great God, and a great King above all gods.

52 In whose hande are the deepe places of the earth, and the heights of the mountaines are his.

53 To whom the Sea belongeth, for he made it, and his hands formed the dry land.

54 Come, let vs worship and fall downe, and kneele before the Lord our maker.

55 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his hand: to day, if ye will heare his voyce, 56 Harden not your heart, as in Meribah, and as in the day of Massah in the wilderness.

57 Where your fathers tempted mee, proued me, though they had seene my worke.

58 For time yeeres haue I contended with this generation & I sayd, They are a people that erre in heart, for they not knowen my wayes.

59 Wherefore I sware in my wrath, saying, Surely they shall not enter into my rest.

60 If they heare his voice, I by the contemning of Gods word, for in the wilderness of the place was he called. For I said, I will not be angry with you, for ye were without iudgement and reason. h That is, into the land of Canaan, where he promised them rest.

61 P S A L.

62 He hath care ouer his, and chastiseth them for their wealth, that they should not be for ever the wicked.

63 God will restore the state & government of things to their right vs, and then the godly shall follow him cheerefully.

64 He complaineth of the which would not helpe him to resist the enemies: yet was assured that Gods helpe would not faile.

65 When I thought there was no way but death.

66 In my trouble and distress, I neuer found thy present helpe.

67 He complaineth of the wicked iudges, pretend iustice in oppressing the Church, yet they haue not that authority of God.

68 It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

PSAL. XCVI.

1 An exhortation both to the Iewes and Gentiles to praise God for his mercie. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdom of Christ.

Sing vnto the Lord a new song : sing vnto the Lord all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and praise his Name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord ^a great and much to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are ^b idols: but the Lord ^c made the heauens.

6 Strength and glory are before him: power and beaurie are in his Sanctuary.

7 Gine vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory and ^e power.

8 Gine vnto the Lord the glory of his Name: bring ^f an offering, and enter into his courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shall be stable, and not mooue, and he shall iudge the people ^h in righteousness.

11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roare, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyful, and all that is in it: let all the trees of the wood then reioyce.

13 Before the Lord: for he cometh, for hee cometh to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteousness, and the people in his truth.

PSAL. XCVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the coming of the kingdom of Christ. 2 And addeth to the reioyce and iudgement, 3 and to reioyce and thanksgiving.

The Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the multitude of the yles be glad.

2 Cloudes and darkness are round about him: righteousness and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.

3 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne vp his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings gaue light vnto the world: the earth saw it, and was ^a afraid.

5 The mountaines melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory.

7 Confounded be all they that serue graven images, and that glory in idols: worship him ^b all yee gods.

8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Iudah reioyced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 For thou, Lord, art most High above all the earth: thou art much exalted above all gods.

10 Yee that ^c loue the Lord, hate euill: hee preferreth the soules of his Saints: he will deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

11 Light is sown for the righteous, and ioy sown for them, of Gods fauour. ^d Hee requirith two things of his children: the one that they detest vice, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliuerance. ^e Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is sown and layd in store for them.

12 Reioyce yee righteous in the Lord, and giue thanks for his holy ^f remembrance.

PSAL. XCVIII.

1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercie, and faithfullie in his promise by Christ, 10 by whom he hath communicated a his saluation to all sinners.

A Psalm.

Sing vnto the Lord a new song: for he hath done maruelous things: his right hand, and his holy ^a arme haue gotten him the victory.

2 The Lord declared his saluation: his righteousness hath he revealed in the sight of the nations.

3 Hee hath ^b remembered his mercie and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing ye loude vnto the Lord: cry out and reioyce, and sing praises.

PSAL C.
David describeth what governments hee will haue in his house and kingdom. g Hee will punish and correct by rearing forth the wicked, and chastising the guilty persons.

Psalm of David.
I Will sing mercie and iudgement: vnto thee,
O Lord, will I sing.
I will doe wisely in the perfect way, because thou commaundest me: I will walke in the vpright-nesse of mine heart in the middes of mine house.
I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes:
I hate the worke of them that fall away: it shall not cleaue vnto me.
A froward heart shall depart from mee: I will know none euill.

Unto him that pryncipally slandereth his neighbour, will I destroy him: that hath a proud looke and his heart, I cannot suffer.

Mine eyes shall be vnto the faithfull of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serue me.

There shall no deceitful person dwell within mine house: hee that telleth lies, shall not re-maine in my sight.

Because will I destroy all the wicked of the land, that I may cut off all the workers of in-iquitie from the Citie of the Lord.

David prayeth that his prayer may be answered in the faithfull to pray in the presence of Babylon. a A consolation for the building of the Church is the witness of the praise of God to be published vnto all people. b The conversion of the Gentiles, and the habitation of the Church.

A prayer of the afflicted, when hee shall be in distresse, and pouer forth his meditation before the Lord.

O Lord heare my prayer, and let my cry come vnto thee.

Hide not thy face from mee in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haste to heare me.

For my daies are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an herch.

Mine heart is smitten, and withereth like grasse, because I forgate to eate my bread.

For the voice of my groaning my bones doe cleaue to my skine.

I am like a pellicane of the wilderness: I am like an owle of the deserts.

I waich and am as a sparow alone vpon the house top.

Mine enemies reuile me daily, and they that rage against me, haue sworn against me.

Surely I haue eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping, Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.

My daies are like a shadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.

But thou O Lord, dost remaine for euer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.

Thou wilt arise and haue mercie vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the appointed time is come.

For thy seruants delight in the stones thereof, and haue pitie on the dust thereof.

Then the heauen shall feare the Name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.

When the Lord shall build vp Zion, and shall appeare in his glory,

And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.

This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall bee created, shall praise the Lord.

For he hath looked down from the height of his Sanctuary: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth,

That he might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the children of death:

That they may declare the Name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Ierusalem.

When the people shall be gathered together, and the kingdomes to serue the Lord.

Hee abated my strength in the way, and shortened my daies.

And I said, O my God, take me not away in the mids of my daies: thy yeeres endure from generation to generation.

Thou shalt forsake the foundation of the earth, and the heavens are the worke of thine hands.

They shall perish, but thou shalt endure:
when they all shall waxe old as doeth a garment:
as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.

But thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

The children of thy seruants shall continue,
and their seed shall stand fast in thy sight.

g The Church is met that they see not the time of Christ, which was promised, but haue but few yeeres and short daies. r If heauen and earth perish, much more man shall perish: but the Church by reason of Gods promise endureth for euer. f Seeing thou hast chosen thy Church out of the world, and joyndst to thee, it cannot but continue for euer: for thou art everlasting.

6 The Lord executeth righteousness and iudgement to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his wayes knowne vnto Moses, and his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercie;
slow to anger and of great kindnesse.

9 He will not alway chide, neither keepe his anger for ever.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is above the earth, so great is his mercie toward them that fear him.

12 As farre as the East is from the West: so farre hath he remooued our sinnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that fear him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: hee remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of man are as grasse: as a flowre of the field, so flourisheth he.

and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the louing kindnes of the Lord endu-reth for ever and ever vpon them that feare him, and his righteousness vpon childrens children.

18 Vnto them that keepe his covenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to doe them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

9 But thou hast set them a bound, which they shall not passe: they shall not returne to couer
the earth.

10 He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which runne betweene the mountaines.

11 They shall giue drinke to all the beastes of the field, and the wild asses shall quench their thirst.

12 By these springs shall the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 Hee watereth the mountaines from his chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruits of thy workes.

14 He causeth grasse to grow for the cattel, and herbe for the vse of man, that he may bring forth bread out of the earth.

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oyle to make the face to shine, and bread that strengtheneth mans heart.

16 The high trees are satisfieth, euen the ce-the rocks are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appointed the moone for certaine seasons: the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse, and it is night, wherein all the beasts of the forest creepe forth.

21 The Lyons roare after their pray, and seeke their meate at God.

22 When the Sunne riseth, they retire, and couch in their denes.

23 Then goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntill the evening.

24 O Lord, how manifold are thy workes!
in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beasts and great.

26 There goe the ships, yea that Leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 All these wait vpon thee, that thou mayst giue them food in due season.

28 Thou givest it to them, and they gather it, thou openest thine hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if thou hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they dye and returne to their dust.

30 Against whom thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 Glory be to the Lord for ever: let the Lord reioyce in his workes.

32 He looketh on the earth and it trembleth:
he toucheth the mountaines, and they smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lord all my life: I will praise my God, while I liue.

34 Let my words bee acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners bee consumed out of the earth, & the wicked till there be no more: O my soule, praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

36 Let the sinners bee consumed out of the earth, & the wicked till there be no more: O my

1 Praise the Lord the singular grace of God, who hath of all the people of the world chosen a people, and having chosen them, neuer casteth them away, and neuer forsaketh them, for his promise sake.

Praise

a For as much as the Israelites were exempted from the common condemnation of the world and were elected to be Gods people, the Father willeth them to love them selves mindfull by thanksgiving b By the strength and love hee meaneth the Aste where God declared his powe and his presence c Which he hath wrought in the deliverance of his people d Because his power was there by as lucely declared as if he should have declared it by mouth e The promise which God made to Abraham to be his God, and the God of his seed after him, he renewed and repeated it againe to his seed after him f He sheweth that they should not enjoy the land of Canaan by any other means but by reason of his covenant made with their fathers g That is the King of Egypt and the King of Ozer Gen. 11. 43 and so h That whom I have destined to be my people i Meaning the old fathers to whom God cued himselfe plainly, and who were fathers forth of his word k Either by leading straight, or by taking away the strength and nourishment thereof l So long he suffered adversity as God had appointed and all he suffered faithfully his patience m That the very picture of the country should beate Josephs commandment and lesson with dome at him n Spirits in God either to blame the labors of the wicked, or to love Gods children o Meaning Moses and Aaron

Praise the Lord, and call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people.
2 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, and talke of all his wonderous workes.

3 Reioyce in his holy Name, let the heart of them that seeke the Lord reioyce.

4 Seeke the Lord and his strength: seeke his face continually.

5 Remember his marvellous workes, that he hath done his wonders, and the iudgements of his mouth.

6 Ye seed of Abraham his seruant, yee children of Iaakob, which are his elect.

7 Hee is the Lord our God: his iudgements are through all the earth.

8 Hee hath alway remembered his covenant, and promise, that he made to a thousand generations.

9 Euen that which he made with Abraham, and his oath vnto Izhak.

10 And since hath confirmed it to Iaakob for a law, and to Israel for an euermlasting covenant.

11 Saying, Vnto thee will I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.

12 Albeit they were few in number, yet very few and strangers in the land.

13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdome to another people.

14 Yet suffered he no man to do them wrong, but reproboued Kings for their sake, saying,

15 Touch not mine anoynted, and doe my Prophets no harme.

16 Moreover, hee called a famine vpon the land, and utterly brake the staffe of bread.

17 But he sent a man before them: Ioseph was sold for a slaue.

18 They held his feet in the stockes, and hee was layd in yrons.

19 Vntill his appointed time came, and the counsell of the Lord had tried him.

20 The King sent and looked him: euen the Ruler of the people deliuered him.

21 He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance.

22 That hee should binde his princes vnto his will, and teach his Ancients wisdom.

23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Iaakob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And hee increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppresseurs.

25 He turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftily with his seruants.

26 Then sent he Moses his seruant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.

27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darknesse, and made it darke: and they were not disobedient vnto his commission.

29 Hee turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.

30 Their land brought forth frogs, euen in their Kings chambers.

31 Hee spake, and there came swarmes of flies, and hee in all their quarters.

32 He gaue them hail for raine, and flames of fire in their land.

33 Hee smote their vines also, and their figge

34 trees, and brake downe the trees in their coasts.

35 Hee spake, and the grasshoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable.

36 And did eat vp all the grasse in their land, and deuoured the fruit of their ground.

37 Hee smote also all the first borne in their land, euen the beginning of all their strength.

38 Hee brought them forth also with silver and golde, and there was none feeble among their Tribes.

39 Egypt was glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.

40 Hee spred a cloud to be a couering, and fire to giue light in the night.

41 They asked and he brought quailles, and he filled them with the bread of heauen.

42 He opened the rocke, and the waters flowed out, and ranne in the dry places like a river.

43 For hee remembered his holy promise to Abraham his seruant.

44 And hee brought forth his people with rroy, and his chosen with gladnesse.

45 And gaue them the lands of the heathen, & they tooke the labors of the people in possession.

46 That they might keepe his statutes, and obserue his Lawes. Praise ye the Lord.

47 and were destroyed. 2 This is the end why God preferreth his Church be- cause they should worship and call upon him in this world.

14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.

15 Then he gaue them their desire: but he sent Jeannesse into their soule.

16 They enuied Moses also in the tents, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened and swallowed vp Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assemblie: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their glory into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth graffe.

21 They forgot God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt.

22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham, and fearefull things by the red sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had I not Moses his chosen stood in the breach before him to turne away his wrath, lest hee should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned that pleasant land, and belieued not his word.

25 But murmured in their tents, and hearke- ned not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore hee lifted vp his hand against them, to destroy them in the wilderness.

27 And to destroy their seede among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countreies.

28 They ioyned themselves also vnto Baal-peor, and did eat the offerings of the dead.

29 Thus they sprouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But Phinehas stood vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was stayed.

31 And it was imputed vnto him for righteousness from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their sakes.

33 Because they vexed his Spirit, so that hee spake vnaduisedly with his lips.

34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them.

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes.

36 And serued their idoles, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils.

38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sonnes, & of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the lande was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they stayned with their owne workes, and went a whoring with their owne inuentions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and hee abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And hee gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them were lordes ouer them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were sold into bondage vnto euery nation.

they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Many a time did hee deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsels: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.

44 Yet he saw when they were in affliction, and he heard their cry.

45 And hee remembered his covenant toward them, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.

46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them that led them captiues.

47 Saue vs, O Lord our God, and gather vs from among the heathen, that wee may praise thy holy Name, and glory in thy praise.

PSAL CVII.

The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, and gathered vnto him, to giue thanks for the merciful providence of God, governing all things at his good pleasure, & sending good and calling prosperitie and aduersitie to bring men vnto him. Therefore as the righteous therein reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouths stopped.

Praise the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Let them, which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shew how he hath deliued them from the hand of the oppressour.

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the East and from the West, from the North and from the South.

4 When they wandred in the desert and wilderness out of the way, and found no citie to dwell in,

5 Both hungry and thirsty, their soule fainted in them.

6 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their distresse.

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a city of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the fountaines of men.

9 For hee satisfied the thirsty soule, and filled the hungry soule with goodnesse.

10 They that dwell in darkenesse and in the shadow of death, being bound in miserie and yron.

11 Because they rebelled against the words of the Lord, and despised the counsell of the most High.

12 When hee humbled their heart with heavinesse, then they fell downe and there was no helper.

13 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, & he deliuered them from their distresse.

14 He brought them out of darkenesse, and out of the shadow of death, and brake their bandes asunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the fountaines of men.

16 For hee hath broken the gates of brasie, and braist the barres of yron asunder.

17 Fooles by reason of their transgression, couerie, but all things are brought to despayre, then God chiefly sheweth his mighty power. They that haue no feare of God, by his sharpe rodde are brought to call vpon him, and so finde mercy.

The Prophet sheweth that neither by menaces, nor promises we can come to God, except wee be altogether newly reformed, and that his mercie ouercometh our malice. Not that God is changeable in himselfe, but that hee seemeth to vs to repent when hee altereth his punishment, and forgiveth vs. A Gathered Church, which is

This notable sentence was in the beginning vsed as the foote or tenour of the song, which was often times repeated. As this was true in the Iewes, so is there none of Gods elect, that feele not his helpe in their necessity. For, from the sea: meaning the red sea, which is on the South part of the land.

Hee sheweth that there is none affliction so grieuous, out of the which God will not deliuer his, and also exhorteth them that are deliuered to bee mindfull of so great a benefice.

Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his expresse commandment: also hereby all are exhorted to defend into themselves, forasmuch as none are punished but for their sinnes.

Hee sheweth that the cause why God doeth punish vs extremely, is because we can be brought vnto him by none other means.

When there seemeth to mans iudgement no remedie, yet hee sheweth his mighty power, by his sharpe rodde are brought to call vpon him, and so finde mercy.

The abundance that God gaue them, prouided not, but made them pines away, because God chastised it. By the greatness of the punishment, the heinous offence may be considered: for they that rise against Gods ministers, rebell against him.

Hee sheweth that all idolaters renounce God to be their glory, when in stead of him they worship any creature, much more wood, stone, metall, or caluice. If Moyses by his intercession had not obtained Gods fauour against their rebellions.

That is, Canaan, which was as it were an earnest peny of the heauenly inheritance. That is, hee swore. Sometime also it meaneth, to punish.

Which was the idole of the Moabites.

Sacrifices offered to the dead idoles.

Signifying that a haughty man iudgeth of himselfe to serue God by, is detestable, and prouoketh his anger.

When all other neglected Gods glory, he in his rage killed the adulterers, and prevented Gods wrath.

Num. 25. 13. This adie declared his lively faith, and for his faith he was accepted.

Num. 25. 13. Psal. 95. 8.

Isa. 43. 2. If so notable a Prophet of God escape not punishment, though others prouoked him to sinne, how much more shall they be subiect to Gods iudgement, which cause Gods children to sinne.

Hee sheweth how monstrous a thing idolatry is, which can winne vs to teachings abhorring to nature, whereas Gods word cannot obteine much small things. A true chastrite is to cleane wholly and onely vnto God.

h He sheweth that God accommeth to plague them after a strange sort that they themselves are cruel toward other.

i Thus giveth the Lord to every man the thing wherein he delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are given up to their lusts and reprobate minds.

k For being delinquent of many helpe, he fully trusted in the Lord, that he would deliver him.

l As thou art named mercifull, gracious and long suffering, so shew thy selfe in effect.

m Meaning, that he hath no stay nor assurance in this world.

n For hunger, that came of sorrow, hee was leane, and his naturall moisture failed him.

o The more grievous y^e Satan afflicted him, the more earnest and instant was he in prayer.

p Thy shall gaine nothing by cursing me.

q Not only in cursing is he captiv in my selfe, but also in declaring it before all the congregation.

r Mety by he sheweth that he had not to doo with them that were of little power, but with the indges and princes of the world.

a Iesus Christ in the two and twentieth of Math. verse 44. giveth the interpretation hereof, and sheweth that this cannot properly be applied vnto David, but to himselfe.

b And thence it shall stretch thorow all the world: and this power chiefly standeth in the preaching of his word.

c By the worde thy people shall be assembled into thy Church, whose increase shall bee so abundant and wonderful, as the drops of the dew.

d As Melchi-zedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect cannot be accomplished in any king save onely Christ Heb. 7. 26. e No power shall be able to resist him. f Under this similitude of a captaine, that is to greddie to destroy his enemies, that he will not scarce drinke by the way, but sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

16 Because he remembered not to show mercy, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorrowfull heared to slay him.

17 As he loved cursing, so shall it come vnto him, and as hee loved not blessing, so shall it bee farre from him.

18 As he clothed himselfe with cursing like a rayment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it be vnto him as a garment to cover him, and for a girdle, wherewith hee shall bee alwayes girded.

20 Let this be the reward of mine aduersarie from the Lord, and of them that speake euill against my soule.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deale with me according vnto thy Name: deliver me, (for thy mercy is good)

22 Because I am poore and needy, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart like the shadow that declineth, and am shaken off as the grasshopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, and my flesh hath lost all fatnesse.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them, which they looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Help me, O Lord my God: save me according to thy mercie.

27 And they shall knowe that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shall arise, & be confounded, but thy seruants shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their confusion as with a cloke.

30 I will giue thanks vnto thy Lord greatly with my mouth, & praise him among the multitude.

31 For he will stand at the right hand of the poore, to saue him from them that would condemn his soule.

4 The Lord sware, & will not repent, Thou art a Priest for ever, after the order of Melchi-zedek.

5 The Lord that is at thy right hand, shall wound kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He shall be iudge among the heathen: he shall fill all with dead bodies, and smite the head over great countries.

7 He shall drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his head.

d As Melchi-zedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect cannot be accomplished in any king save onely Christ Heb. 7. 26. e No power shall be able to resist him. f Under this similitude of a captaine, that is to greddie to destroy his enemies, that he will not scarce drinke by the way, but sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

d That is, be comforted by mine example.
e He sheweth that there can be no true feare of God without such knowledge of his word.

a Though my strength faile me, yet my soule groweth and flourisheth, resting still in thy word.

b Like a skinned bottle, or bladder that is parched in the smoke.
c How long wilt thou abide thy servant?

d They haue not only oppressed me violently, but also craftily conspired against me.
e He assureth himselfe, that God will deliuer him & destroy such as valiantly persecute them.

a Because none should esteeme Gods word according to the changes of things in this world, hee sheweth that it abideth in heauen, and therefore is immutable.

b Seeing the earth and all creatures remaine in that estate wherein thou hast created them, much more thy truth remaineth constant and vnderchangeable.

c He proueth by effect, that he is Gods child, because he seeketh to vnderstand his word. d There is nothing so perfect in earth, but it hath an end, only Gods word lasteth for euer.

a He sheweth that we cannot loue Gods word except we exercise our selues therein and practise it.

b Whosoever doth submit himselfe only to Gods word, shall not onely be safe against the practises of his enemies, but also learne more wisdom than they that profess it, and are men of experience.

c So then of our selues we can doe nothing: but when God doth inwardly intrude vs with his spirit, we feelee his graces sweeter then honey.

97 Oh how loue I thy Law! it is my meditation^a continually.

100 I vnderstood more then the ancient, because I keepe thy precepts.

101 I haue refrained my feet from euery euill way, that I might keepe thy word.

102 I haue not declined from thy iudgments: for^c thou didst teach me.

125 I am thy seruant: graunt mee therefore vnderstanding, that I may know thy testimonies.

126 It is^c time for thee, Lord, to worke: for they haue destroyed thy Law.

P S A L. CXXII.

1 David reioyeth in the name of the faithfull, that God hath accomplished his promise, and placed his Arke in Zion. 5 For the which he giueth thanks, 8 And prayeth for the prosperitie of the Church.

A Song of degrees, or Psalme of David.

I Reioyced when they said to me, We will goe into the house of the Lord.

2 Our feet shall stand in thy gates, O Ieru-salem.

3 Ierualem is builded as a city, that is compact together in it selfe:

4 Whereunto the Tribes, euen the Tribes of the Lord goe vp according to the testimonie to Israel, to praise the Name of the Lord.

5 For there are thrones set for iudgement, euen the thrones of the house of David.

6 Pray for the peace of Ierualem: let them prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy walles, and prosperitie within thy palaces.

8 For my brethren and neighbours sakes I will with thee now prosperitie.

9 Because of the House of the Lord our God,
I will procure thy wealth.

10 The fauour of God prosper thee both within and without.

11 Not only for mine owne sake, but for all the faithfull.

P S A L. CXXIII.

1 A prayer of the faithfull, which were afflicted either in Babylon or vnder Antiochus, by the wicked mortallings and contemners of God.

A Song of degrees.

I Lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heauens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of seruants looke vnto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden vnto the hand of her mistresse: so our eyes waite vpon the Lord our God, vntill he haue mercie vpon vs.

3 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs: for wee haue suffered too much contempt.

4 Our soule is filled too full of the mocking of the wealthy, & of the despitefulness of the proud.

5 There is alway helpe
aboue, if with hungry desires they call for it.

P S A L. CXXIII.

1 The people of God, escaping a great perill, doe acknowledge themselves to be deliuered, not by their owne force, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the greatness of the perill, 6 And praise the Name of God.

A Song of degrees, or Psalme of David.

I F the Lord had not bene on our side, (may Israel now say)

2 If the Lord had not bene on our side, when men rose vp against vs,

3 They had then swallowed vs vp quicke, when their wrath was kindled against vs.

4 Then the waters had drowned vs, and the streame had gone ouer our soule:

5 Then had the swelling waters gone ouer our soule.

6 Praised be the Lord, which hath not giuen vs as a praye vnto their teeth.

7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and hath made heauen and earth.

1 Hee describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions, 4 And desireth their wealth, 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

A Song of degrees.

T Hey that trust in the Lord, shall bee as mount Zion, which cannot be remoued, but remaineth for euer.

2 At the mountaines are about Ierualem: so is the Lord about his people from henceforth and for euer.

3 For the rod of the wicked shall not rest on the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put forth their hand vnto wickednes.

4 Doe well, O Lord, vnto those that be good and true in their hearts.

5 But these that turne aside by their crooked ways, them shall the Lord leade with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shall be vpon Israel.

6 He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites, and such as haue no zeale of the truth.

P S A L. CXXVI.

1 This Psalm was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was man-desire after the iustices of captiuitie forgiuen by Ieremie, Chap. 35. 12. and 29. 10.

A Song of degrees, or Psalme of David.

W Hen the Lord brought againe the capti-uitie of Zion, wee were like them that drame.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioy: then said they among the heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.

3 The Lord hath done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce.

4 O Lord, bring againe our captiuitie, as the rivers in the South.

5 They that sowe in teares, shall reape in ioy.

6 They went weeping, and caried precious seed: but they shall returne with ioy, and bring their sheaues.

7 They were sufficiently thankful.

8 It is no more impossible to God to deliuer his people, then to cause the rivers to runne in the wildecrosse and barren places.

9 That is, seed which was scarce and deare: meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promise to returne, had their desire.

1 Hee sheweth that the whole estate of the world, both domesticall and politick, standeth by Gods merre providence and blessing.

3 And that to haue children well nurshed, is an especiall grace and gift of God.

A Song of degrees, or Psalme of Salomon.

in vaine that build it: except the Lord keepe
the citie, the keeper watcheth in vaine.

2 It is in vaine for you to rise early, and to lie downe late, and eat the bread of sorrow: but Lord, and the fruit of the wombe his reward.

4 As are the arrowes in the hand of the strong man, so are the children of youth.

5 Blessed is the man that hath his quiver full of them: for they shall not bee ashamed, when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

as it were a rest.

these are signes of Gods blessings, and not the number. 8 Such children shall be able to stop their aduersaries mouths, when their godly life is maliciously assey-sed before Iudges.

did not onely sar-cously rage against the faithfull, but der the crosse, lest

PSAL. CXXVIII.

1 He firmeth that blessedness appointed to all that fear the Lord, and shall dwell in his ways.

A Song of degrees.

Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord, and walketh in his ways.

2 When thou shalt eat the labours of thine hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine on the sides of thine house, and thy children like the olive plants round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zion shall bless thee, and thou shalt see the wealth of Jerusalem all the dayes of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace upon Israel.

a God appointeth not our life, except it be reformed according to his word.
b The world esteemeth them happy, which live in wealth and idleness: but the holy Ghost approveth them best that live of the meane practice of their labours.
c Because God favour appeareth in some outward thing more then in increase of children, he promisseth to enrich the faithfull with this gift.
d Because of the spiritual blessing which God hath made to his Church, these temporal things shall be granted.
e For except God blessed his Church publicly, this private blessing were nothing.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 He acknowledgeth his Church to be afflicted, and that he will deliver her.

They have oftentimes afflicted me from my youth (may Israel now say)

2 They have oftentimes afflicted me from my youth: but they could not prevail against me.

3 The plowers plowed upon my backe, and made long furrows.

4 But the righteous Lord hath cut the cords of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shall be all ashamed and turned backward.

6 They shall be as the grass on the house tops, which withereth afore it cometh forth.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hand, neither the glaiuer his lap:

8 Neither they which goe by say, The blessing of the Lord is upon you, or, We bless you in the Name of the Lord.

a The Church now afflicted, ought to remember how her oppression hath beene such from the beginning to be merited most grievously by the wickednes in time past.
b Because God is righteous, he cannot give his adversaries, and deliver his own out of the plough.
c The enemies shall lift themselves much higher, as he will approach more and more, we are comforted with the hope of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humilitie.
d That is, the wicked shall perish, and none shall passe for them.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The people of God from their base and fruitlesse state cry unto God, and are heard.

A Song of degrees.

Of the deepe places have I called unto thee O Lord.

2 Lord, heare my voyce: let thine eares attend to the voyce of my prayers.

3 If thou, Lord, severely markest iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But mercie is with thee, that thou mayest be feared.

5 I have waited on the Lord: my soule hath waited, and I have trusted in his word.

6 My soule waiteth on the Lord more then the morning watch watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israel waite on the Lord: for with the Lords mercie, and with him a great redemption.

8 And hee shall redeeme Israel from all his iniquities.

a Being in great distress, as here.
b He denieth that we cannot be saved without Gods mercy, for he severely markest iniquities.
c Because of his mercie, though we are sinners, we should still trust in his word.
d He denieth to whom the mercy of God should be ascribed, as here.
e Because of his mercie, though we are sinners, we should still trust in his word.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 David charged with ambition and greedy desire to reigne, professeth his humilitie and modestie before God, and teacheth all men what they should doe.

A Song of degrees or Psalm of David.

Lord, mine heart is not haughty, neither are mine eyes lofty, neither have I walked in greatness, and hid from me.

2 Surely I have behaved my selfe, like one wained from his mother, and kept silence: I am in my selfe as one that is wained.

3 Let Israel waite on the Lord from henceforth and for ever.

PSAL. CXXXII.

1 The faithfull grounding on Gods promise made unto David, sheweth how he should be to the Church, both as king and as priest, and the building of the Temple, as here sheweth as our fathers did.

A Song of degrees.

Lord, remember David with all his affliction.

2 Who sware unto the Lord, and vowed unto the mighty God of Isackob saying,

3 I will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come upon my pallier or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eyelids to slumber.

5 Until I finde out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mighty God of Isackob.

6 Lo, we heard of it in Ephraim, and found it in the fields of the forrest.

7 Wee will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footstool.

8 Arise, O Lord, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saints reioyce.

10 For thy servant Davids sake refuse not the face of thine Appointed.

11 The Lord hath sworne in truth unto David, and he will not shrinke from it, saying, Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.

12 If thy sonnes keepe my Covenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit upon thy throne for ever.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loved to dwell in it, saying, 14 This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell, for I have a delight therein.

15 I will surely bless her vitales, and will satisfie her poore with bread.

16 And will clothe her Priests with salvation, and her Saints shall shout for ioy.

17 There will I make the home of David to bud: for I have decreed, a light for mine Appointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish.

a He setteth forth his great humilitie, as an example to all rulers and governors.
b Which putteth the measure and limits of his vocation.
c He was voyde of ambition and wicked desire.

a That is, with how great difficulty he came to the kingdom, and with how great care and paine he went about to build the Temple.
b Because the chief change of the king was to set forth Gods glory, he sheweth that he could take no rest, neither would hee give any worldly thing, necessary before he had executed his office.
c That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence.
d The common bruit was that the Arke should remaine in Ephraim: that is, in Beth-lehem a plentiful place, but after we perceived that thou wouldst place it in Jerusalem which was barren as a forrest, and compassed about onely with hills.
e That is, Jerusalem, because that afterward his Arke should remove to none other place.
f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priests and in the people.

g As thou first madest promise to David, so cometh it to his posteritie, that whatsoever they shall aske for their people, it may be granted.
h Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spiritual.
i Meaning for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulness of the place: for he promisseth to bless it, declaring before, that it was barren.
k That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe.
l Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promisseth to restore it.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 This Psalm commendeth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the servants of God.

A Song of degrees or Psalm of David.

Behold, how good and how comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell even together.

2 As for David, though some sang that him, yet when hee was established king, as he was, they joyed all together like brethren: and therefore he sheweth by this a Because the greatest part were against David, though some sang that him, yet when hee was established king, as he was, they joyed all together like brethren: and therefore he sheweth by this

The grace which came from Christ
the head unto his Church.

c By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentiful
countrie about Ierusalem.

It is like to the precious ointment vpon
the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Aarons beard, which went downe on the border of his garments:

And as the dew of Hermon which falleth vpon the mountaines of Zion: for there the Lord appointed the blessing and life for euer.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

He sheweth the Leuites watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

A Song of degrees.

Behold, praise ye the Lord, all yee seruants of the Lord, yethat by night stand in the house of the Lord.

Lift vp your hands to the Sanctuary, and praise the Lord.

The Lord that hath made heauen & earth, blesse thee out of Zion.

a Ye that are Le-uites and chiefly appointed to this office.

b For their charge was not only to keepe the Temple,
but to pray there & to giue God thanks.

c And therefore hath all power, blese thee with his Fatherly love declared in Zion. Thus the Leuites vied to praise the Lord, and blese the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

He sheweth all the faithful, of what estate iouer they be, to praise God for his marvellous works. 12 And specially for his grace toward his people, whereby he hath declared his kindest 13 To the confusion of all idolaters and their images.

Praise ye the Lord.

Praise the name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise him.

Yee that stand in the House of the Lord and in the courts of the House of our God.

Praise ye the Lord: for the Lord is good:
sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

For the Lord hath chosen Iacob to himselfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure.

For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

Whatsoever pleased the Lord that did he in heauen & in earth, in the sea, & in all the depths.

Hee bringeth vp the cloudes from the ends of the earth, and maketh the lightnings with the raine: hee draweth forth the winde out of his treasures.

He smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.

Hee hath sent tokens and wonders into the mids of thee, O Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his seruants.

He smote many nations, and slew mighty Kings:

As Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og, king of Bashan, & all the kingdomes of Canaan:

And he gaue their land for an inheritance,
euen an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

Thy Name, O Lord, endureth for euer: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

For the Lord will iudge his people, and be pacified toward his seruants.

The idoles of the heathen are siluer and gold, euen the worke of mens hands.

They haue a mouth, and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

They haue eares and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

fession that he giueth vs all of his mere liberality.

Praise ye the Lords of lords: for his mercie

Which by his wisdom made the heauens:
for his mercy endureth for euer:

dureth for euer:

With a mighty hand and stretched out arme: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which diuided the red Sea in two partes:
for his mercy endureth for euer:

And made Israel to passe through the mids
of it: for his mercy endureth for euer:

And overthrew Pharaoh and his hoste in the red Sea: for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which led his people thorow the wilderness:
for his mercy endureth for euer:

Which smote great Kings: for his mercie

And slew mightie Kings: for his mercie

As Sihon king of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for euer:

And Og the king of Bashan: for his mercy

And gaue their land for an heritage: for

Euen an heritage vnto Israel his seruant:

Praise ye the God of heauen, for his mercy endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXXXVII.

The people of God in their banishment, seeing Gods true Religion decay, lived in great anguish and sorrow of heart, which grieueth the Caldeans did little piety, 2 That they rather interested the sa. e daily with iammis, reproches and blasphemies against God.
3 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who persecuted the Babylonians against them, 4 And moued by the Spirit of God prophesie the destruction of Babylon, a He calleth to God with lively faith, being assured of his mercie, because he had beforetime sinned, that God helped him ever in his dangers. f For it is in Gods hand to overthrow the counsels and enterprises of the wicked. g It seemeth that he alludeth to Saul. h To wit, God for David saw that they were reprobate, & that there was no hope of repentance in them. i Gods plagues shall light vpon him in such sort, that he shall not escape. k That is, he defended and preferred by his fatherly providence and care.

7 O Lord God the strength of my saluation, thou hast covered mine head in day of battell.
8 Let not the wicked haue his desire: O Lord: performe not his wicked thought, lest they be proud. Selah.
9 As for the chiefe of them that compassed mee about, let the mischief of their owne lips come vpon them.
10 Let coales fall vpon them: let him cast them into the fire, and into the deepe pits that they rise not.
11 For the backbiter shall not bee established vpon the earth, euill shall hunt the cruell man to destruction.
12 I knowe that the Lord will auenge the afflicted, and iudge the poore.
13 Surely the righteous shall praise thy Name, and the iust shall dwell in thy presence.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 David being grievously persecuted vnder Saul, such flesh was to God to haue succour, 2 Desiring him to breake his afflictions, that he may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

A Psalm of David.

O Lord, I call vpon thee: haste thee vnto me: heare my voice, when I cry vnto thee.
2 Let my prayer be directed in thy sight as incense, and the lifting vp of mine handes as an euening sacrifice.
3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe the doore of my lips.
4 Incline not mine heart to euill, that I should commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquity: and let me not eate of their delicacies.
5 Let the righteous smite me: for that is a benefice: and let him reprove me, and it shall be a precious oyle that shall not breake mine head: for within a while I shall enuie pray in their miseries.
6 When their iudges shall be cast downe in stonie places, they shall heare my wordes, for they are sweete.
7 Our bones lie scattered at the graues mouth, as he that heweth wood or diggeth in the earth.
8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: I leane not my soule deliuer.
9 Keepe mee from the snare, which they haue layd for me, and from the gennes of the workers of iniquitie.
10 Let the wicked fall into his nets together, whiles I escape.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 The Prophet vsing an allusion, not carried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would tell Saul: but with a quiet minde directed his earnest prayer to God, who did preserve him.

A Psalm of David, to giue instruction, and a prayer when he was in the same.

I cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I prayed vnto the Lord.
2 I powred out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.
3 I poured out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

a Davids patience and instant prayer to God condemneth their wicked rage, which in their troubles either despaire and murmure against God, or els seek to others then to God, to haue redresse in their miseries.

3 Though my spirit was in perplexity in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily layd a snare for me.
4 I looked vpon my right hand, and beheld, but there was none that would know me: all refuge failed me, and none cared for my soule.
5 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lord, and sayd, Thou art mine hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.
6 Hearken vnto my cry, for I am brought very low: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.
7 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may praise thy Name: then shall the righteous come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.
Ioyce at my wonderfull deliuerance, or to set a crowne vpon mine head.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 An earnest prayer for remission of sinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iust iudgements. 2 He desireth to be restored to grace, so to be gouerned by his holy Spirit, that he may spend the remanent of his life in the true feare and seruice of God.

A Psalm of David.

Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my supplication: answere me in thy truth, and in thy righteousnes.
2 (And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shall none that liueth, be iustified.)
3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soule: he hath smitten my life downe to the earth: hee hath layd mee in the darknesse, as they that haue bene dead a long age.
4 And my spirit was in perplexitie in me, and mine heart within me was amazed.
5 Yet doe I remember the time past: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I doe meditate in the workes of thine hands.
6 I stretch forth mine handes vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thurstie land. Selah.
7 Heare mee speedily, O Lord, for my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from mee, else I shall be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.
8 Let mee heare thy louing kindnesse in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shew me the way, that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.
9 Deliuer mee, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I hid me with thee.
10 Teach mee to doe thy will, for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit leade mee vnto the land of righteousness.
11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteousness bring my soule out of trouble.
12 And for thy mercy slay mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppresse my soule: for I am thy seruant.

a Let thine holy Spirit conuince me how to come forth of these great cares and troubles. i I hid my selfe vnder the shadow of thy wings that I might be defended by thy power. k He confesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will cometh by the Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his word, giueth vnderstanding by his Spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him. l That is, iustly and aright: for so soone as wee decline from Gods will, we fall into error. m Which shall be a signe of thy Fatherly kindnesse toward mee, in resigning my selfe wholly vnto thee and trusting in thy protection.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 He praiseb the Lord with great affection and humilitie for his kinde mercies, and for his victories obtained, 2 Demanding helpe, and the destruction of the wicked, 3 Promising to acknowledge the same with songs of praise, 4 And declaring wherein the saluation of any people consisteth.

Though he suffer
them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment, and such like, yet his fatherly love and pitie never faileth them, yea, rather to his shame, for he is their saviour.

g Meaning, all them that are delectate of worldly meanes & success.

h He affereth the Church that God reigneth for ever for the preservation of the same.

The Lord raiseth up the crooked: the Lord & leueth the righteous.

9 The Lord keepeth the strangers: he relieueth the fatherles and widow: but he overthroweth the way of the wicked.

10 The Lord shall reigne for euer: O Zion, thy God shall be with thee from generation to generation.
Praise ye the Lord.

P S A L. CXLVII.

The Prophet praiseth the boundlesse power, influence, and providence of God upon all his creatures. 2 But specially upon his Church, which he gathereth together after their dispersion, 19
Declaring his word and iudgement to be true, because he hath done to some other people.

Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is a pleasant thing, and praise is comely.

1 The Lord doth build vp Ierusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.

2 He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth vp their sores.

3 Hee counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names.

4 Great is our Lord, and great is his power:
his wisdom is infinite.

5 The Lord relieueth the meeke, and abaseth the wicked to the ground.

6 Sing vnto the Lord with praise: sing vpon
the harpe vnto our God.

7 Which couereth the heauen with clouds, and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the grasse to grow vpon the mountaines.

8 Which giveth to beasts their foode, and to the yong ravens that scree.

9 He hath not pleasure in the strength of an horse, neither delighteth he in the legs of man.

10 But the Lord delighteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.

11 Praise the Lord, O Ierusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.

12 For he hath made the barres of thy gates strong, and hath blessed thy children within thee.

13 He setteth peace in thy bowlers, and satisfieth thee with the fruit of wheate.

14 He sendeth forth his commandement vpon earth, and his word runneth very swiftly.

15 He giveth snow like wooll, and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

16 He casteth forth his ycelike morsels: who can abide the cold thereof?

17 He sendeth his word and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.

18 He sheweth his word vnto Iacob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.

19 Hee hath not dealt so with every nation, neither haue they known his iudgements. Praise ye the Lord.

a He sheweth wherein we ought to exercise our selues continually, and to take our pastime: to wit,
in praising God.
b Because the Lord is the Iam-
mer of the Church,
it cannot be destroyed, though the members ther-of be dispersed, and seme as it were for a time to be cut off.
c With affliction,
or sorrow for sinne.
d Though it seeme to man incredible, that God should assemble his Church, being so dispersed, yet nothing can be too hard to him, that can number and name all the starres.
e For the more high that the victor cline, the greater is their fall in the end.
f He sheweth by the examples of Gods mightie power, goodness, and wisdom, that we can neuer want most iust occasion to praise
God.
g For their crying was as if it were a confession of their need, which cannot be relieved,
but by God onely.
h If God shewe
himselfe mercifull of the most compassionate soules, can he suffer them
to die with famine, whom he hath assured of life everlasting? h Though to vs law-full meanes is both profitable and pleasant, yet to put our trust in them, is to despise God of his honour. He doth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessary, but preferreth it for the same, and maketh it strong against all outward force. f. e. i. s. u. k His secret working in all creatures is as a commandment to keepe them in order, and to giue them in mouing and fore. b. For immediately and without resisting all things obey him. m. As before hee called Gods secret working in all his creatures his word: so he meaneth here by his word the doctrine of life everlasting, which he hath left to his Church as a most precious treasure.

The cause of this difference is Gods free mercie, which hath elected his in his Christe Iesus to saluation: and his iust iudgement, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternall damnation.

P S A L. CXLVIII.

He praiseth all creatures to praise the Lord in his sanctuary, and all places, 14 Specially his Church, for the power that hee hath giuen to the same, after that he had chosen them and redeemed them with himselfe.

g Praise ye the Lord.

Praise ye the Lord from the heauen: praise ye him in his high places.

2 Praise ye him, all ye his Angels: praise him, all his armie.

3 Praise ye him, sunne and moone: praise ye him all bright starres.

4 Praise ye him, heauens of heauens, and waters, that be about the heauens.

5 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 And he hath established them for euer, and euer he hath made an ordinance, which shall not passe.

7 Praise ye the Lord from the earth, ye dragons and all depths:

8 Fire and hails, snow and vapours, stormy wind, which execute his word:

9 Mountaines and all hilles, fruitfull trees, and all cedars:

10 Beasts and all cattell, creeping things and feathered fowles:

11 Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all iudges of the world:

12 Yong men and maidens, also old men and children:

13 Let them praise the Name of the Lord: for his Name onely is to be exalted, and his praise above the earth and the heauens.

14 For he hath exalted the horn of his people, which is a praise for all his Saints, euen for the children of Israel, a people that is neere vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

f Which come not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed ordinance:
g For the greater gifts that any hath received, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bound is he to praise God for the same: but neither his nor low condition or degree can be exempted from this dutie. h That is, the dignitie power & glory of his Church. i By reason of his covenant made w Abraham.

P S A L. CXLIX.

An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his victorie and conquest, that hee giueth his Saints against all enemies.

g Praise ye the Lord.

Sing ye vnto the Lord a newe song: let his praise be heard in the Congregation of Saints.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that made him, and let the children of Zion reioyce in their King.

3 Let them praise his Name with the flutes:
let them sing praises vnto him with the timbrell and harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: he will make the meeke glorious by deliverance.

5 Let the Saines bee ioyfull with glory: let them sing loud vpon their beds.

6 Let the high Aes of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sword in their hands,

7 To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, and corrections among the people:

8 To bind their kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron,

9 That they may execute vpon them the sentence that continuall rest and quietnes, which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them: e. This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdom of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies:
and it giueth no liberty to any to revenge their priuate injuries. f Not onely the people, but the kings that were their enemies, should be destroyed.

o By mercy and truth, he meaueth the commandments of the law, and ſecond table, for the mercy & faithfullneſſe that we ought to ſe to ward our neighbours. p Keep them as a moſt precious well.
q Haue them ever in remembrance.
r By this part we comprehend the whole body of the law, be it written in the book, or promiſed by the law, both corporall and ſpiritual.

My ſonne, if thou wilt receive my wordes, and hearken to my commandments within thee, And cauſe thine eares to hearken vnto wiſedome, and encline thine heart to vnderſtanding, For if thou calleſt after knowledge, and cryeſt for vnderſtanding, If thou ſeekeſt her as ſiluer, and ſearcheſt for her as for hidden treasures, Then ſhalt thou vnderſtand the feare of the Lord, and ſhalt know the knowledge of God. For the Lord giveth wiſedome, out of his mouth cometh knowledge and vnderſtanding, Hee will preſerue the ſtate of the righteous: he is a ſhield to them that walke vprightly, That they may keepe the wayes of iudgement: and he preſerue the way of his Saints. They ſhall know vnderſtand righteouſneſſe, and iudgement, and equity, and every good path. When wiſedome entrench into thine heart, and knowledge delighteth thy ſoule, Then ſhall thy counſell preſerue thee and vnderſtanding ſhall keepe thee, And deliuer thee from the cuill way, and from the man that ſpeaketh froward things, And from them that leave the wayes of righteouſneſſe to walke in the wayes of darkneſſe: Which reioyce in doing euill, and delight in the frowardneſſe of the wicked, Whoſe wayes are crooked, and they are low in their paths, And it ſhall deliuer thee from the ſtrange woman, ſuch from the ſtranger, which flattereth with her wordes, Which forſaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God, Surely her houſe tendeth to death, and her paths vnto the dead, All they that goe vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they hold of the wayes of life, Therefore walke thou in the way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous, For the juſt ſhall dwell in the land, and the vpright men ſhall remaine in it, But the wicked ſhall be cut off from the earth, and the tranſgreſſours ſhall be rooted out of it.

C H A P. III.

The wordes of God giue life. 1. Truſt in God. 2. Feare him. 3. Honour him. 4. Suffer his correction. 5. To them that follow the word of God, all things ſhall ſucceed well.

My ſonne, forget not thou my Law, but let thine heart keepe my commandments, For they ſhall increaſe the length of thy dayes, and the yeeres of life, and thy proſperitie, Let not mercy and truth ſoake thee: binde them on thy necke, and writethem vpon the table of thine heart, So ſhalt thou find fauour, and good vnderſtanding in the ſight of God and man, Truſt in the Lord with all thine heart, and ſeare not vnto thine owne wiſedome, In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he ſhall direct thy wayes, Be not wile in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill, Health ſhall be vnto thy navel, and marrow vnto thy bones,

Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the firſt fruits of all thine increaſe, So ſhall thy barnes bee filled with abundance, & thy preſſes ſhall burſt with new wine, My ſonne, reſiſt not the chaffening of the Lord, neither be grieved with his correction, For the Lord correſteth him, whom hee loveth, even as the father doth the child, in whom he delighteth, Bleſſed is the man that ſineth wiſedome, and the man that getteth vnderſtanding, For the merchandiſe thereof is better then the merchandiſe of ſiluer, and the gaine thereof is better then golde, It is more precious then pearles: and all things that thou canſt deſire, are not to be compared vnto her, Length of dayes is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and glory, Her wayes are wayes of pleaſure, and all her paths proſperitie, She is a tree of life to them that lay holde on her, and bleſſed is he that retaineth her, The Lord by wiſedome hath laid the foundation of the earth, and hath ſtabliſhed the heauens through vnderſtanding, By his knowledge the deeps are broken vp, and the cloudes drop downe the dew, My ſonne, let not theſe things depart from thine eyes, but obſerue wiſedome and counſell, So they ſhall be life to thy ſoule, and grace vnto thy necke, Then ſhalt thou walke ſafely by the wayes, and thy foote ſhall not ſtumble, If thou ſleepeſt, thou ſhalt not be afraid: and when thou ſleepeſt, thy ſleepe ſhall be ſweete, Thou ſhalt not feare for any ſudden feare, neither for the deſtruction of the wicked, when it cometh, For the Lord ſhall be for thine affurance, and ſhall preſerue thy foote from ſlipping, Withhold not the good from the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to doe it, Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go and come againe, and to morrow will I give thee, if thou haue it, Intend none hurt againſt thy neighbour, ſeeing he doeth ill, without feare by thee, Strive not with a man cauſeleſſe, when he hath done thee no harme, Be not enuious for the wicked man, neither chide any of his wayes, For the froward is abomination vnto the Lord: but his ſecret is with the righteous, The curſe of the Lord is in the houſe of the wicked: but hee bleſſeth the habitation of the righteous, With the ſcornfull is he ſcornfull, but hee giueth grace vnto the humble, The wife ſhall inherit glory: but foolies diſhonour, though they be exalted.

C H A P. IIII.

Wiſdom and her fruites ought to be ſeeked. 1. The way of the wicked muſt be reſiſted. 2. By the word of God the heart is kept, and conſe of life muſt be guarded.

Hear, O ye children, the inſtruction of a father, and giue eare to learne vnderſtanding, and which which is a father vnto the people, read Chapter 1. verſe 2.

As was commanded in the Law, Exod. 23. 2. Deut. 10. 12. and by this they acknowledged that God was the giuer of all things, and that they were ready to beſtow all at his commandment.
g For to the faithfull diſtributer God giueth in greater abundance.
e Job. 22. 2. ſeek.
h Meaning, that he that ſeeketh wiſedome, that is, ſuffereth himſelfe to be governed by the word of God, ſhall haue all proſperitie both corporall and ſpiritual.
i Which bringeth forth ſuch fruites that they that eat thereof, haue life: and hee alſo leadeth to the tree of life in paradise.
k Hereby he ſheweth that this wiſedome, which he ſpeaketh, is euerlaſting, becauſe it was before all creatures, and that all things euen the whole world were made by it.
l For when God deſtroyeth the wicked, he will ſaue his as he did Lot in Sodom.
m Not only from them to whom the poſſeſſion belongeth, but alſo from them that ſeeke to ſteale it from them, which haue need of this of their owne.

hath abused his wife, and so concludeth, that neither Gods Lawe nor the law of nature admitteth any ransom for the adulterie.

when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?

folding of the hands to sleepe.

walketh with a froward mouth.
13 He maketh a signe with his eyes: he t signifiet with his feet: he instructeth with his fingers
14 Lewd things ^{are} in his heart: he imagineth

15 Therefore shall his destruction come spe-dily: hee shall be destroyed suddenly without recouerie.
16 ¶ These six things doth the Lord hate: yes,
his soule abhorreth seuen:
17 The haucie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood, 18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, ^a feet that be swift in running to mischief, that raiseth vp contentions among brethren.

tie them about thy necke.
22 It shall leade thee when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee.

woman.

ther let her take thee with her^m eye lids.
26 For because of the whorish woman, a man is brought to a morsel of bread, and a woman will hure for the precious life of a man.
27 Can a man take fire in his bosome, & his clothes not be burnt?
28 Or can a man goe vpon coales, and his feet not be burnt?
29 So he that goeth in to his neighbors wife, shall not be innocent, whosoever toucheth her.
30 Men do not^o despise a thiefe, when he stealeth to satisfie his^p soule, because he is hungry.
31 But if hee bee found, hee shall restore seuen

32 But hee that committeth adulterie with a woman, he is destitute of vnderstanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.
33 Hee shall finde^q a wound and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.
34 For ielousie is the rage of a man: therefore he will not^r spare in the day of vengeance.
35 He can not beare the sight of any ransom:

CHAP. VII.

1 An exhortation to wisdom and to the word of God, 5 which will preserve vs from the harlot, 6 whose manners are defined.

MY sonne, keepe my words, and hide my com-mandements with thee.
2 Keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue, & mine instruction as the apple of thine eyes.

3 Bind them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.
4 Say vnto wisdom, Thou art my sister: and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman, 5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, ^{even} from the stranger that is smooth in her words.
6 ¶ As I was in the window of mine house
I looked thorow my window,
7 And I saw among the fooles, and considered among the children a young man destitute of vnderstanding,
8 Who passed thorow the streete by her corner, and went toward her house, 9 In the twilight in the euening, when the night began to be blacke and darke.
10 And behold, there met him a woman with an harlots^{||} behauiour, and^{||} subtil in heart.
11 (Shee^{||} is babling and lowd, whose feet cannot abide in her house.
12 Now she is without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at euery corner)
13 So she caught him & kissed him, and^{||} with an impudent face layd vnto him, 14 I haue^{||} peace offerings: this^{||} day haue I payed my vowes.
15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.
16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, carpets and laces of Egypt.
17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrre, aloes, and cynamom.
18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in daliance.
19 For mine husband is not at home: hee is gone a journey farre off.
20 Hee hath taken^t with him a bagge of filuer, and will come home as the day appointed.
21 Thus with her great craft shee caused him to yeeld, and with her flattering lips she intised him.
22 And he followed her straightwayes, as an oxe that goeth to the slaughter, and^{||} as a foole to the stockes for correction, 23 Till a dart strike thorow his liuer, as a bird hasteth to the snare, not knowing that^{||} he is in danager.
24 ¶ Heare me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the words of my mouth.
25 Let not thine heart decline to her wayes:
wander thou not in her paths.
26 For shee hath caused many to fall downe wounded, & the^{||} strong men are all slaine by her.

4 A slothfull hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 He that gathereth in summer, is the sonne of wisdom: but he that sleepeth in harvest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memoriall of the iust shall be blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot.

8 The wise in heart will reueue commandments: but the foolish in talk shall be beaten.

9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh boldly: but hee that peruerteth his wayes, shall bee knowne.

10 Hee that winketh with the eye, worketh sorrow, and he that is foolish in talk, shall bee beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well-spring of life: but iniquity couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth vp contentions: but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lipps of him that hath vnderstanding, wisdom is found, and a rod shalbe for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdom.

14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a prent destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his strong city: but the feare of the needy is their poverty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, and he that inuenteth slander, is a foole.

19 In many words there cannot want iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is a fined siluer: but the heart of the wicked is litle worth.

21 The lips of the righteous doe feede many: but fooles shall die for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he doeth adde no sorrowes with it.

23 It is as a pastime to a foole to doe wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God will graunt the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerslasting foundation.

26 As vinegar is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slothful to them that send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yeres of the wicked shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shalbe gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall be for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall neuer be remooued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitfull in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

CHAP. XI.

False balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perite & weight please him.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The vprightnesse of the iust shall guide them: but the inwardnesse of the transgressors shall destroy them.

4 Riches auail not in the day of wrath: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

5 The righteousness of the vpright shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednesse.

6 The righteousness of the iust shall deliuer them: but the transgressors shall be taken in their owne wickednesse.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the vnjust shall perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his stead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperity of the righteous the city is reioyced: and when the wicked perish, there is ioy.

11 By the blessing of the righteous the city is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding will keepe silence.

13 Hee that goeth about as a slanderer, discovereth a secret: but he that is of a faithfull heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsell is, the people fall: but where many counsellers are, there is health.

15 He shall be sore vexed, that is surety for a stranger, and he that hateth suretyship, is sure.

16 A gracious woman attaineth honour, and the strong men attaine riches.

17 He that is mercifull, rewardeth his owne soule: but hee that troubleth his owne flesh, is cruell.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull worke: but he that soweth righteousness, shall reeue a sure reward.

19 As righteousness leadeth to life: so he that followeth euill, seeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delight.

21 Though hand is in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall escape.

22 As a iewell of gold in a swines snout: so is a faire woman which lacketh discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is onely good: but the hope of the wicked is indignation.

24 There is that scattereth, and is more increased: but he that spareth more, then is right, surely commeth to poverty.

25 The liberal person shall haue plenty, and he that watereth, shall also haue raine.

26 He that withdraweth the corne, the people will curse him: but blessing shall be vpon the head of him that selleth corne.

28 He that trusteth in his riches shall fall: but the righteous shall flourish as a tree.

29 He that troubleth his owne house, shall inherit the winde, and the foole shall be a servant to the wife in heart.

30 The fruite of the righteous is as a tree of life, and he that winneth soules is wise.

31 Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: how much more the wicked and the sinner?

32 He that is a possessor of the gifts of God, shall be punished as he desireth, 1 Pet. 4. 18.

CHAP. XII.

He that loveth instruction, loveth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth favour of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginations wil he condemn.

3 A man can not be established by wickedness: but the roote of the righteous shall not be moved.

4 A virtuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as a corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the just are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitful.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will deliver them.

7 God overcometh the wicked: and they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shall be despised.

9 He that is despised, & is his owne servant, is better then he that boasteth himselfe, and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his head: but the covetous of the wicked are cruell.

11 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the idle, shall have of it nothing.

12 The wicked desireth the net of evils: but the roote of the righteous groweth fruit.

13 The evil man is snared by the wickednes of his lips: but the just shall come out of aduerty.

14 A man shall be satiate with good things by the fruite of his mouth: and the recompence of a mans hands shall give vnto him.

15 The way of a foole is right in his owne eyes: but he that heareth counsell, is wise.

16 A foole in a day shall be known by his anger: but he that couereth shame, is wise.

17 He that speaketh truth, will shew righteousness: but a false witness is full of deceit.

18 There is that speaketh words like the prickings of a sword: but the tongue of wise men is health.

19 The lip of truth is a desirable thing: but a lying tongue is a filthy thing.

20 Decree is in the heart of them that imagine euill: but to the counsellors of peace shall be say.

21 There shall none inquiry come to the just: but the wicked are full of euill.

22 The lying lips are an abomination to the Lord: but they that desire truth are his delight.

23 A wife man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of the fool publissheth foolishnesse.

24 The hand of the diligent shall beare rule: but the idle shall be vnder tribute.

25 Humilitie in the heart of man doth bring it downe: but a good word reioyceth it.

26 The righteous is more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked will de- cease them.

27 The deceitfull man rosteeth not that hee rooke in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

28 Life is in the way of righteousness, and in that path way there is no death.

29 He that is much by lawfull means, yet will hee not spend it vpon himselfe.

CHAP. XIII.

A wise sonne will obey the instruction of his fa- ther: but a scorner will heare no rebuke.

2 A man shall eate good things by the fruit of his mouth: but the soule of the trespassers shall suffer violence.

3 He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lippes, destruction shall come to him.

4 The sluggard lusteth, but his soule hath nought: but the soule of the diligent shall have plenty.

5 A righteous man hateth lying words: but the wicked causeth slander and shame.

6 Righteousnesse preserveth the vpright of life: but wickednesse overthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himselfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himselfe poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man will give his riches for the ransom of his life: but the poore cannot heare the reproch.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth: but the candle of the wicked shall be put out.

10 Onely by pride doeth man make conten- tion: but with the well aduised is wisdom.

11 The riches of vanitie shall diminish: but he that gathereth with the hand, shall increase the.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the desire cometh, it is as a tree of life.

13 He that despiseth the word, he shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commande- ment, he shall be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man is as the wel- spring of life, to turne away from the shares of death.

15 Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the disobedient is hated.

16 Every wise man wil worke by knowledge: but a foole will spread abroad folly.

17 A wicked messenger falleth into euill: but a faithfull ambassage is preservation.

18 Pouertie and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but hee that regardeth correction, shall be honoured.

19 A desire accomplished delighteth the soule: but it is an abomination to foolles to depart from euill.

20 He that walketh with the wise shall be wise: but a companion of foolles shall be afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God will recompense good.

22 The good man shall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the riches of the sin- ner is laid vp for the iust.

23 Much food is in the field of the poore: but the field is destroyed without discretion.

24 He that spareth his rod, hateth his sonne: but he that loveth him, chasteneth him be- time.

25 The righteous careth to the conseruation of his mind: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

must consider that

Gods working.

A Wife woman buildeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne hands.
He that walketh in his righteousness, search the Lords: but hee that is lewd in his wayes, despiseth him.

In the mouth of the foolish is the rod of pride: but the lips of the wise preserve them.
Where none contention are, there the cribbe is empty: but much increase commeth by the strength of the oxen.

A faithfull witnesse will not lie: but a false record will speake lies.

A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that will vn-derstand.

Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceivest not in him the lips of knowledge.

The wisdom of the prudent is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnes of the fool is deceit.

The foole maketh a mocke of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

The heart knoweth the bitterness of his soule, and the stranger shall not meddle with his ioy.

The house of the wicked shall be destroyed:
but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the wayes of death.

Euen in laughing the heart is sorrowfull, and the end of that mirth is heavinesse.

The heart that declineth, shall bee sariate with his owne wayes: but a good man shall depart from him.

The foolish will beleue every thing: but the prudent will consider his steps.

A wife man feareth, and departeth from quill: but a foolerageth, and is careless.

He that is hasty to anger, committeth folly, and a fustle body is hated.

The foolish doe inheric folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

The euill shall bow before the good, and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

The poore is hated euen of his own neighbour: but the friends of the rich are many.

The finner despiseth his neighbour: but he that hath mercy on the poore, is blessed.

Do not they erre that imagine euill? but to them that thinke on good things, shall be mercy
and truth.

In all labour there is abundance: but the talke of the lips bringeth onely want.

The crowne of the wise is their riches: and the folly of fool is foolishnesse.

A faithfull witnesse deliuereth soules: but a deceiuer speaketh lies.

In the feare of Lord is an assured strength, and his children shall haue hope.

The feare of the Lord is as a wellspring of life to auoid the snares of death.

In the multitude of the people is the honour of a king, and for the want of people commeth the destruction of the prince.

He that is slow to wrath, is of great wisdom:
but he that is of a hasty mind, exalteth folly.

A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but enuy is the rotting of the bones.

He that oppresseth the poore, reprooneth him that made him: but he honoureth him, that hath mercy on the poore.

1 That is, the strength of a king standeth in many people.

2 For iudg.

3 Chap. 17.5.

32 The wicked shall be cast away for hisma-lice: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisdometh reflect in the heart of him that hath vnderstanding, and is knowen in the mids of fooles.

34 Iustice exalteth a nation, but sinne is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a king is in a wise seruant:
but his wrath shall be toward him that is lewd.

CHAP. XV.

A Soft answer putteth away wrath: but grie-uous words stirre vp anger.

The tongue of the wise vseth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fool is babbled out foolishnesse.

The eyes of the Lord in every place behold
the euill and the good.

A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnesse thereof is the breaking of the mind.

A fool despiseth his fathers instruction, but hee that regardeth correction, is prudent.

The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is veruible.

The lips of the wise do spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.

The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he loueth him that followeth righteousnesse.

Instruction is euill to him that forsaketh
the way, and he that hateth correction, shall die.

Hell and destruction are before the Lord:
how much more the hearts of the sonnes of men?

A scorner loueth not him that rebuketh him, neither will he goe vnto the wise.

A ioyfull heart maketh a cheerefull countenance: but by the sorrow of the heart the minde is heavy.

The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the fool is fed with foolishnesse.

All the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a good conscience is a continuall fest.

Better is a little with the feare of the Lord:
then great treasure, and trouble therewith.

Better is a dinner of Greene herbes where loue is, then a stalled oxe and hatred therewith.

An angry man stirreth vp strife: but hee that is slow to wrath, appeaseth strife.

The way of a slothfull man is as an hedge of thornes: but the way of the righteous is plain.

A wife sonner reioyeth his father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

Foolishnesse is ioy to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vp rightly.

Without counsell, thoughts come to nought: but in the multitude of counsellers there is stedfastnesse.

A ioy commeth to a man by the answer of his mouth: & how good is a word in due season?

The way of life is on high to the prudent, to auoid from hell beneath.

The Lord will destroy the house of the proud men: but hee will stablish the borders of the widow.

The thoughtes of the wicked are abomina-on to Lord: but the pure haue pleasant words.

swer: but the wicked mans mouth habeth evil things.
29. The Lord is farre off from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.
30. The light of thy eyes reioyceth the heart,

32. He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obeyeth correction, get-

33. The feare of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom: and before honour is humility.

CHAP. XVI.

1. The preparations of the heart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.
2. All the wayes of man are cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the spirits.
3. Commit thy works vnto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be directed.
4. The Lord hath made all things for his own sake: yea, euē the wicked for the day of euill.
5. All that are proud in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: though his hand is in hand, hee shall not be vnpunished.
6. By mercy and truth iniquities shall be forgiuen, and by the feare of the Lord they depart from euill.
7. When the wayes of a man please the Lord,
he will make also his enemies as peace with him.
8. Better is a little with righteousness, then great revenues without equity.
9. The heart of man purpouseth his way: but the Lord doth direct his steps.
10. A diuine sentence shall be in the lips of the king: his mouth shall not transgresse in iudgment.
11. A true wayght and balance are of the Lord: all the wayghts of the bag are his worke.
12. It is an abomination to kings to commit wickednesse: for the throne is stablished by iustice.
13. Righteous lips are the delight of kings, and the king loueth him that speaketh right things.
14. The wrath of a king is as messengers of death: but a wise man will pacifie it.
15. In the light of the kings countenance is life: & his fauour as a cloud of the latter raine.
16. How much better is it to get wisdom, then gold: and to get vnderstanding, is more to be desired then silver.
17. The path of the righteous is to decline from euill: & he keepeth his soule that keepeth his way.
18. Pride goeth before destruction, and an high mind before the fall.
19. Better it is to be of humble mind with the lowly, then to diuide the spoiles with the proud.
20. He that is wise in his business, shall be good:

mination.
22. Vnderstanding is a wellspring of life vnto the that haue it: and the instruction of foolcs is folly.

leadeth him into the way that is not good.
30. He shutteth his eyes to deuide wickednes:
he moutheth his lips, and bringeth euill to passe.
31. Age is a crowne of glory, when it is found in the way of righteousness.
32. Hee that is slow vnto anger, is better then the mighty man: and hee that ruleth his owne mind, is better then he that winneth a city.
33. The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

1. Better is a dry morsell, if peace be with it, then an house full of sacrifices with strife.
2. A discreet seruant shall haue rule ouer a lewd sonne, and hee shall diuide the heritage among the brethren.
3. As is the sining pot for silver, and the for-nice for gold, so the Lord cryeth the hearts.
4. The wicked giueth heed to false lips, and a liar hearkeneth to the naughty tongue.
5. Hee that mocketh the poore, reprocheth

6. Childrens children are the crowne of the elders: and the glory of the children is their fa-

7. High talke becommeth not a foole, much lesse a lying talke a prince.
8. A reward is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that haue it: reprobation, whicher loeuer it cometh.
9. Hee that couereth a transgression, seeketh loue: but hee that repeateth a matter, separateth the prince.
10. A reprobelle entrencheth more into him that hath vnderstanding, then an hundredth stripes into a foole.
11. A feditious person seeketh onely euill, and a cruell messenger shall be sent against him.
12. It is better for a man to meet a beare robed of her whelps, then a foole in his follie.
13. Hee that rewardeth euill for good, euill shall not depart from his house.
14. The beginning of strife is as one that openmedled with, leaue off.

15. He that iustificeth the wicked, and he that condemneth the iust, euē they both are abomination to the Lord.
16. Wherefore is there a price in the hand of the foole to get wisdom, and he hath none heart?
17. A friend longeth at all times: and a brother is borne for aduersitie.
18. A man desirous of vnderstanding, toucheth the hand, and becommeth surety for his that hath a naughty tongue, shall fall into euill.

21 Hee that begetteth a foole, getteth himselfe sorrow, and the father of a foole can haue no ioy.

22 A ioyfull heart causeth good health: but a sorrowfull mind drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bo-some to wrest the wayes of iudgement.

24 * Wisdom is in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the corners of the world.

25 A foolish sonne is a griefe vnto his father, and a heauinesse to her that bare him.

26 Surely it is not good to condemne the iust, nor that the princes should smite such * for equitie.

27 He that hath knowledge, spareth his words, and a man of vnderstanding is of an excellent spirit.

28 Euen a foole, when hee holdeth his peace is counted wise, and he that stoppeth his lips, prudent.

CHAP. XVIII.

For the desire thereof hee will * separate himselfe to seeke it, and occupie himselfe in all wisdom.

1 A foole hath no delight in vnderstanding:
but that his heart may be * discovered.

2 When the wicked commeth, then commeth contempt, and with the vile man reproch.

3 The words of a mans mouth are like deepe waters, and the wellspring of wisdom is like a flowing ruer.

4 It is not good to * accept the person of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in iudgement.

5 A foolers lips come with strife, & his mouth calleteth for stripes.

6 A foolers mouth is his own destruction, and his lips are a snare for his soule.

7 The words of a tale-bearer are as flatter-ings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the belly.

8 Hee also that is slouthfull in his worke, is euen the brother of him that is a great waster.

9 The Name of the Lord is a strong tower:
the righteous runneth vnto it, and is exalted.

10 The rich mans riches are his strong citie:
and as an high wall in his imagination.

11 Before destruction the heart of a man is haunted, and before glory getteth lowlinesse.

12 Hee that answereth a matter before hee heareth it, is follie and shame vnto him.

13 The spirit of a man will sustaine his infirmities: but a wounded spirit, who can beare it?

14 A wife heart getteth knowledge, and the care of the wife seeketh learning.

15 A mans gift enlargeth him, and leadeth him before great men.

16 * He that is first in his owne cause, is iust:
then commeth his neighbour, and maketh enquie of him.

17 The loe causeth contentions to cease, and maketh a partition among the mighty.

18 A brother offended is harder to winne then a strong citie: and their contentions are like the barre of a palace.

19 With the fruit of a mans mouth shall his belly be satisfied, and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.

20 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that * loue it, shall eat the fruit thereof.

21 Hee that findeth a * wife, findeth a good thing, and receiveth fauour of the Lord.

22 The poore speaketh with prayers: but the rich answereth roughly.

23 A man that hath friends, ought to shew himselfe friendly: for a friend is neerer then a brother.

24 That is, oftentimes such are found which are more ready to doe pleasure, then hee that is more bound by doctrie.

CHAP. XIX.

Better * is the poore that walketh in his vprightness, then hee that abuseth his lips, and is a foole.

1 For without knowledge the minde is not good, and he that hasteth with his feet, sinneth.

2 The foolishnesse of a man peruerteth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

3 Riches gather many friends: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

4 A false witness shall not be vn Timerished:
and he that speaketh lies, shall not escape.

5 Many reuerence the face of the prince, and every man is friend to him that giveth gifts.

6 All the brethren of the poore doe hate him:
how much more wil his friends depart farre from him? though he be instant * with words, yet they will not.

7 He that possesseth vnderstanding, bloueth his owne soule, & keepeth wisdom to find goodnes.

8 A false witness shall not be vn Timerished:
and he that speaketh lies, shall perish.

9 Pleasure is not comely for a foole, much lesse for a seruant to haue rule over princes.

10 The discretion of a man deferreth his anger: and his glory is * to passe by an offence.

11 The Kings wrath is like the roaring of a lion: but his fauour is like the dew vpon the grasle.

12 A foolish sonne is the calamitie of his father, and the contentions of a wife are like a continual dropping.

13 House and riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but a prudent wife commeth of the Lord.

14 Slouthfulnessse causeth to fall asloope, and a deceitfull person shalbe afflicted.

15 He that keepeth the commandement, keep-eth his owne soule: but hee that despiseth his wayes, shall die.

16 Hee that hath mercy vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord wil recompense him that which he hath giuen.

17 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope, and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring.

18 A man of much anger shall suffer punishment, and though thou * deliuer him, yet will his anger come againe.

19 Heare counsel and receiue instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.

20 Many denieth * in a mans heart: but the counsell of the Lord shall stand.

21 That that is to be desired of a man, is his goodnesse, and a poore man is better then a liar.

22 The feare of the Lord leadeth to life: and he that is filled therewith, shall continue, and shall not be visited with euill.

23 The slouthfull hideth his hand in his bo-some, and will not put it to his mouth againe.

24 Smite a scorner, and the foolish will be ware: and reprobis the prudent, and he will vnder-stand knowledge.

13 As the cold of the snow^a in the time of harhim: for he refresheth the soule of his masters.

14 A man that boasteth of false liberalitie, is like clouds and wind without raine.

15 A Prince is pacified by staying of anger, and a soft tongue breaketh the bones.

16 If thou haue found hony, eat that is sufficient for thee, lest thou be ouer full, and vomit it.

17 Withdraw thy foote from thy neighbours house, lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is like an hammer & a sword, and a sharpe arrow.

19 Confidence in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth & a sliding foot.

20 Hee that taketh away the garment in the cold season, is like vinegar poured vpon nitre, or like him that singeth songs to an heauy heart.

21 If hee that hateth thee be hungry, giue him bread to eat, and if hee be thirstie, giue him water to drinke.

22 For thou shalt lay fire vpon his head, and the Lord shall recompense thee.

23 As the Northwind drieth away the raine, so doeth an angry countenance the flandering tongue.

24 It is better to dwell in a corner of the house top, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

25 As are the cold waters to a weary soule, so is good newes from a farre country.

26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled wel & a corrupt spring.

27 It is not good to eate much hony: so to search their owne glory, is not glory.

28 A man that restraineth not his appetite, is like a city which is broken downe and without walles.

CHAP. XXVI.

As the snow in the Summer, and as the raine in the Haruest are not meet, so is honour vnseemely for a foole.

1 As the sparrow by flying, and the swallow by flying escape, so the curle that is causelesse, shall not come.

2 Vnto the horse belongeth a whip, to the asse a bridle, and a rod to the fooles backe.

3 Answer not a foole according to his foolishnesse, lest thou also be like him.

4 Answer a foole according to his foolish-nesse, lest he be wise in his owne conceit.

5 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a foole, is as hee that cutteth off the feet, and drinketh iniquitie.

6 As they that lift vp the legs of the lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

7 As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is hee that giueth glory to a foole.

8 As a thorne standing vpon in the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fooles.

9 The Excellent that formed all things, both rewardeth the foole, and rewardeth the transgressours.

10 As a dog turneth againe to his owne vomit, so a foole turneth to his foolishnesse.

11 Seest thou a man wise in his owne conceit?
More hope is of a foole then of him.

12 The slouthfull man saith, A lion is in the way: a lion is in the streets.

13 As the doore turneth vpon his hinges, so doeth the slouthfull man vpon his bed.

14 The slouthfull hideth his hand in his bo-some, and it grieveth him to put it againe to his mouth.

15 The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceit, then seuen men that can render a reason.

16 Hee that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dog by the eares.

17 As hee that saineth himselfe mad, casteth firebrands, arrowes, and mortall things.

18 So doeth the deceitfull man with his friend, and saith, Am not I in sport?

19 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a tale-bearer strife ceaseth.

20 As the cole maketh burning coales, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.

21 The words of a tale-bearer are as flatter-ings, and they go downe into the bowels of the belly.

22 As filner drosse overlaid vpon a potsherd, so are burning lips, and an euill heart.

23 Hee that hateth, will counterfeite with his lips, but in his heart he layeth vp deceit.

24 Though hee speake fauourably, beleue him not: for there are seuen abominations in his heart.

25 Hatred may be couered by deceit: but the malice thereof shall be discovered in the congregation.

26 He that diggeth a pit shall fall therein, and he that rolleth a stone, it shall returne vnto him.

27 A false tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth causeth ruine.

CHAP. XXVII.

Boast not thy selfe of to morrowe, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth: a stranger, and not thine own lips.

3 A stone is heauy, and the sand weightie:
but a foolies wrath is heavier then them both.

4 Anger is cruel, & wrath is raging: but who can stand before enuie?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.

6 The wounds of a louer are faithful, and the kisses of an enemy are pleasant.

7 The person that is full, despiseth an hony combe: but vnto the hungry soule every bitter thing is sweet.

8 As a bird that wandreth from her nest, so is a man that wandreth from his owne place.

9 As oymment and perfume reioyce the heart, so doeth the sweetnesse of a mans friend by heartie counsell.

10 Thine owne friend and thy fathers friend forsake thou not: neither enter into thy brothers house in the day of thy calamitie: for better is a neighbour that is neere, then a brother farre off.

11 My sonne, be wise, and reioyce mine heart, that I may answer him that reprocheth me.

12 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish goe on still, and are punished.

13 Take his garment that is suretie for a

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 He wicked flee when none pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.
2 For the transgression of the land, there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnder-standing and knowledge shall the like wife endu-reth long.
3 A poore man, if hee oppress the poore, is like a roaring ranke that leueth no food.
4 Hee that forsaketh the Law, praueth the wi-ked, and shall be despised, and shall himselfe be despised.
5 Wicked men understand not iudgement: but they that feare the Lord vnderstand all things.
6 Better is the poore that walketh in his uprightnesse, then hee that peruerth his wayes, though he be rich.
7 He that keepeth the Law, is a child of enderstanding: but hee that teacheth the gluttons, shameth his father.
8 He that increaseth his riches by vniuste interest, gathereth them for him that will bee mercifull vnto the poore.
9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the Law, even his prayer shall be abominable.
10 He that causeth the righteous to stray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit: and vpright shall inherit good things.
11 The rich man is wiser in his own conceits, then the poore that hath vnderstanding can refute him.
12 When the righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vpon the man, is trouble.
13 He that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper:
but he that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercie.
14 Blessed is the man that feareth alway: but he that despiseth his heart, shall fall into euill.
15 As a roaring lion, and an hungry bear,

16 A prince of vnderstanding is also a great oppressour: but he that hath customnells, shall prolong his dayes.
17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a person, shall see vnto the graue, and they shall not stay him.
18 He that walketh vprightly shall be saved:
but hee that is froward in his wayes, shall once fall.
19 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread, but he that followeth the idle, shall be filled with pouertie.
20 A faithfull man shall abound in blessings, and hee that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent.
21 To haue respect of persons is not good: for that man will transgress for a piece of bread.
22 A man with a wicked eye, hasteth to riches, and knoweth not that pouertie shall come vpon him.
23 He that rebuketh a man, shall finde more fauour at the length, then he that flattereth with his tongue.
24 He that robbeth his father and mother, and saith, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.
25 Hee that is of a proud heart, stirreth vp strife: but hee that trusteth in the Lord, shall be exalted.
26 Hee that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisdom, shall be dehured.
27 Hee that giveth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shall haue many curses.
28 When the wicked rise vpon men, they bid them selues: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Man that hardeneth his necke when he is rebuked, shall suddenly be destroyed, and cannot be recouered.
2 When the righteous are in authority, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.
3 A man that louch wisdom, shall be as foolish: but hee that feareth the Lord, shall be wise.
4 A king by iudgement maketh rich the coun-trei: but a man that destroyeth, shall be as a spoiler.
5 A man that destroyeth his neighbour, is as a net for his steps.
6 In the transgression of an euill man is his figure: but the righteous doeth long & reioyces.
7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.
8 Scornefull men bring a city into a snare:
but with men turne away wrath.
9 If a wise man contend with a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rell.
10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soules.
11 A foole putteth out all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in till after ward.
12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lies, all his seruants are wicked.
13 The poore and the flatterer mixe together, and the Lord lighteneth both their eyes.

20 Seest thou a man hasty in his matters? there is more hope of a foole, then of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth vp his seruant from youth, at length he wil be euen as his sonne.

22 An angry man stirreth vp strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.

The prophesie which the man spake vnto Ithiel, Surety to Ithiel, and Vcal.

1 Surely I am more foolish then any man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.

2 For I haue not learned wisdom, nor attained to the knowledge of holy things.

3 Who hath ascended vp to heauen, and descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fist?

4 Who hath bound the waters in a garment? Who hath established all the ends of the world? What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

5 Every word of God is pure: he is a shield to those that trust in him.

6 Put nothing vnto his words, lest hee reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.

7 Two things haue I required of thee O denie me them not before I die.

8 Remove farre from mee vanitie and lies: giue me not pouertie, nor riches: feede me with soude conuenient for me.

9 Lett I be full, and denie thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or least I be poore and steale, & take the Name of my God in vaine.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he curse thee, when thou hast offended.

11 There is a generation that curse their father, and dooth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceits, and yet are not washed from their filthiness.

13 There is a generation whose eyes are haury, and their eye lids are lifted vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swordes, and their iawes as knives to eate vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

15 The boord each hath two daughters which cry, Giue, giue. There be three things that will not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is enough.

16 The grane, & the barren wombe, the earth, that cannot bee satisfied with water, and the fire that sayth not, It is enough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father & despiseth the instruction of his mother, let the rauen of the valley picke it out, & the yong eagles eate it.

18 There bee three things hid from mea: yea, foure that I know not:

19 The way of an eagle in the aire, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the mids of the sea, and the way of a man with a maide.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: shee eateth and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

21 For three things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it cannot susteine it selfe.

22 For a seruant when hee reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meate,

23 For a hateful woman, when she is married, & for a handmaid that is heiress to her mistresse.

24 These bee foure small things in the earth, yet they are wise, and full of wisdom:

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meat in summer:

26 The couies a people not mightie, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The grasshopper hath no king, yet go they forth all by bands:

28 The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be three things that order wel their going: yea, foure are comely in going.

30 A lion that is strong among beasts, and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A lusty grayhound, and a goat, and a king, against whom there is no rising vp.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy selfe vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth.

33 When one churneth milke, hee bringeth forth butter: and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out, so he that forceth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

CHAP. XXXI

3 He exhorteth to chastitie and iustice. 10 and sheweth the conditions of a wife and worthy woman.

THE WORDS OF KING LEMUEL:

The prophesie which his mother taught him.

1 VVhat my sonne! & what the son of a my wombe! & what O sonne of my desires!

2 Giue not thy strength vnto women, nor thy wayes which is to destroy kings.

3 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drinke wine, nor for princes strong drinke.

4 Lett he drinke and forget the decree; and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

5 Giue yee strong drinke vnto him that is ready to perish, and wise vnto them that haue grieue of heart.

6 Let him drinke, that hee may forget his pouerty, and remember his miserie no more.

7 Open thy mouth for the dumbe in the wombe, and neglect his office, which is to execute iudgement.

8 Defend their cause that are poore: to helpe themselves.

The leech hath two forks in her tongue, which hee calleth her two daughters, whereby shee sucketh the blood, and neuer satiate: neuer so are the contentious contentious insatiable. Which haunt in the valley of scorpions.

Shee hath her desires, and after counterfeits as though she were an honest woman. These commonly abuse the state whereunto they are called. Which is married to her master after the death of her mistresse. They containe great doctrine and wisdom.

If man be not able to compasse these common things by his wisdom, we cannot attribute wisdom to man, but folly.

Make assay, and continue not in doing euill.

That is, of Solomon, who was called Lemuel, that is, of God, because God had ordained him to be king over Israel. The doctrine which his mother Bech sheba taught him.

By this often repetition of one thing, she declareth her motherly affection. Meaning that women are the destruction of kings if they haunt them. That is, the king must not give himselfe to wantonnesse, and neglect his office, which is to execute iudgement. For wisdom doeth comfort the heart as Psal. 104. 15. g. Defend their cause that are poore: to helpe themselves.

caste all the children of destruction.

9 Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and iudge the afflicted and the poore.

10 ¶ Who shall find a virtuous woman? for her price is farre above the pearles.

11 The heart of her husband trusteth in her, and he shall have no need of spoile.

12 Shee will doe him good, and not euill all the dayes of her life.

13 She seeketh wooll and flax, and laboureth cheerefully with her hands.

14 Shee is like the ships of merchants: shee bringeth her foods from afairs.

15 And she riseth, while it is yet night: and giueth [the portion to her household], and the ordinary to her maids.

16 Shee considereth a fiede, and getteth it: and with the fruits of her hands shee planteth a vineyard.

17 Shee girdeth her loynes with strength, and strengtheneth her armes.

18 Shee feelth that her merchandise is good: her candle is not put out by night.

19 Shee putteth her hands to the wheele, and her hands handle the spindle.

20 Shee stretcheth out her hand to the poore, and stretcheth forth her hands to the needy.

21 Shee feareth not the snowe for her familie: for all her familie is clothed with skarlet.

22 Shee maketh her selfe carpets: fine linnen and purple is her garment.

23 Her husband is knowen in the gates, when he sitteth with the Elders of the land.

24 Shee maketh [thee], and selleth them, and giueth girles vnto the merchant.

25 Strength and honour is her clothing, and in the latter day she shall reioyce.

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and the law of grace is in her tongue.

27 Shee overseeth the wayes of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.

28 Her children rise vp, and call her blessed: her husband also shall praise her, saying,

29 Many daughters haue done virtuously: but thou surmountest them all.

30 Favour is deceitfull, and beautie is vanitie: for a woman that feareth the Lord shee shall bee praised.

31 ¶ One of her of the fruits of her hands, and let her owne workes praise her in the gates.

ECCLESIASTES, OR THE PREACHER.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon as a Preacher and seer then defined to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deccretable vanities of this world: that man should not be addicted to anything vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of heavenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinion which sit their felicitie either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that man true felicitie consisteth in that, that hee is united with God, and shall enjoy his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, saue inasmuch as they further vs to attain to this heavenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

All things in the world are full of vanities, and almost indur- able. 12 All things are vanity, and a great griefe.

Vanities are all things in the world, and almost indur- able: and all things are vanity, and a great griefe.

¶ Hee wordes of the Preacher, the sonne of David king in Ierusalem.

¶ Vanities of vanities, sayth the Preacher, vanities of vanities, all is vanity.

¶ What remaineth, vnto man in all his t- raine, which hee suffereth vnder the sunne?

¶ One generation passeth, another generation cometh, but the earth remaineth for euer.

¶ The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth down, and draweth to his place where he riseth.

¶ The wind goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the winds goeth round about, and returneth by his circuits.

¶ All the rivers goe into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the rivers goe vnto the place, whence they returne, and goe.

¶ All things are full of labour: man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

¶ ¶ What is it that hath bin, that shall be: & what is it that hath bin done, that which shall be done: & there is no new thing vnder the sun.

10 Is there any thing, whereof one may say, Behold this, it is new? it hath bin already in the old time that was before vs.

11 There is no memory of the former, neither shall there bee a remembrance of the latter that shall be, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ I the Preacher haue bin king ouer I- rael in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and find out wisdomes by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this foretravell hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby.)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and behold, all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked, can none make straight: and that which is faulth, cannot be num- bered.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, and excell in wisdom al them that haue been before me in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath seeme much wisdom, and knowledge.

17 And I set mine heart to know wisdom, and knowledge, and to know the foolishnesse: I knew also that there is a variation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdom, is much griefe: and he that increaseth knowledge, in- creaseth sorrow.

¶ The faults that are committed, much like trouble them. ¶ That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no common: his but griefe and trouble of conscience. ¶ Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body and mind: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his mind neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

¶ Hee proreth that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this world by labour and study, hee should haue obtained it, because hee had gifts and aides of God thereunto about all other.
¶ Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of fiane, to humble man, and to teach him to depend only vpon God.
¶ Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to goe otherwise then they doe: neither can hee number the faults that are committed, much like trouble them.
¶ That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no common: his but griefe and trouble of conscience.
¶ Wisdom and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body and mind: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his mind neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

CHAP.

CHAP. II.

These things, being thus said, the wiser man, who is the author of this book, doth thus conclude the whole book.

1 I sayd in my heart, Goe to now, I will prooue thee with ioy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanitie.

2 I sayd of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioy, What is this that thou doest?

3 I fought in mine heart: to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in wisdom, and to take holde of folly, till I might see where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they enjoy vnder the Sunne, the whole number of the dayes of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue built me houses: I haue planted me vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens and forchards, and planted in them trees of all fruit.

6 I haue made me cisternes of water, so water therewith in the woods that grow with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants and maides, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beeces and sheepe about all that were before me in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto mee also siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of Kings and prouinces: I haue provided me men fingers, and women fingers, and the delights of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and increased about all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withheld not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioiced in all my labour: and this way my portion of all my trauel.

11 Then I looked on all my works that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauell that I had laboured to doe: and beholde, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profit vnder the Sunne.

12 And I turned to behold wisdom, and madnes, and folly: (for who is the man that shall come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I saw that there is profit in wisdom, more then in folly: as the light is more excellent then darkenesse.

14 For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the fooles walketh in darkenesse: yet I know also that the same condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the fooles. Why therefore doe I then labour to bee more wise? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shall bee no remembrance of the wise, nor of the fooles: for ever: for that that now is, in the dayes to come, shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wise man, as doeth the fooles?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the Sunne is grievous vnto me: for all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the Sunne, which I shall leane to the man that shall bee after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall bee wise or fooles? yet shall he haue rule over all my labour, wherein I haue trauelled, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the Sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the Sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauelle is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauelled herein, shall he giue his portion: this also is vanitie, and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauelle and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauelled vnder the Sunne?

23 For all his dayes are forrowes, and his trauelle griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profit to man, but that he eate, and drinke, and delight his soule with the profit of his labour: I saw also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eat, and who could haue to outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his fight, God giueth wisdom, & knowledge, and ioy: but to the sinner hee giueth paine to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this also is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

CHAP. III.

All things haue their time: 14 The works of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

1 To all things there is an appointed time, and a time to euery purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to bee borne, and a time to die: a time to plant, and a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to build.

4 A time to weepe, & a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce;

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to bee farre from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rend, and a time to sowe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profit hath hee that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauileth?

10 I haue seen the trauell that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby.

11 He hath made euery thing beautiful in his time: also he hath set the world in their heart, yet cannot man find out the work that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to doe good in his life.

13 And also that euery man eatech and drinke, and seech the commoditie of all his labours: this is the gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoever God shall doe, it shall bee for euery one to it can no man add, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath bene: that is now: and that that shall be, hath now bene: for God requireth that which is past.

16 And moreover, I haue seene vnder the Sun the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice, where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust

That I might seeke the true iustice which is in God.

Among other griefes this was not the least, to leane that which he had gotten by great trauell, to one that had taken so paine therefor, and whom he knew not whether he were a wise man or a foole. When man hath all laboured, hee can get no more then his food, and refreshing, yet hee confesseth also that this commeth of Gods blessing: as Chap. 9. 13. Meaning, to pleasures.

Her speech of this diversity of time for euery cause, first to declare that there is nothing in this world perpetually: next to teach vs not to be grieued, if we haue not all things as we see according to our desires, neither enjoy them so long as we would wish.

Exodus Chap. 1. 13. God hath giuen man a desire, and affection to seeke out the things of this world, and to labour therein. Beate Chap. 2. 24. and these pleasures declared that we should doe all things with sobriety & in the feare of God, forasmuch as hee giueth not his gifts to the iust, that they should be abused. That is, man shall not be able to leane in Gods works, but as he hath determined, so it shall come to passe. God only can see that, which is past, to returne.

lust and carnalised: fortime is there for every purpose and for every work.

18 I considered in my heart the state of the children of men, that God had purged them yet to see so, they ate in themselves as beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are even as one condition vnto them. As the one dieth, so dieth the other: for they haue al one breath, & there is no excellence of man above the beast: for all is vanitie.

20 All go to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21 Who knoweth whether the spirit of man ascend vpward, and the spirit of the beast descend downward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better than that a man should reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

The innocents are oppressed. 2. Mens labours are full of aile and vanitie. 3. Mans wealth is but a vaine. 4. A young man poore and wif, is to be preferred to an old King that is a foole.

So I turned and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and behold, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them: and for the strength of the hand of them that oppress them, and none comforteth them.

3 Wherefore I praised the dead which now are dead, above the liuing, which are yet aliue.

4 And I reioice him better then them both, which hath not yet bene: for hee hath not seene
the euil works which are wrought vnder the sun.

5 Also I beheld all trauaile, and all perfection of workers, that this is the euil of a man against his neighbour: this also is vanitie and vexation of spirit.

6 The foole foldeth his hands, and eateth vp his owne flesh.

7 Better is an handfull with quietnesse, then two handfulls with labour and vexation of spirit.

8 Again I returned, and saw vanitie vnder the sunne.

9 There is one alone, & there is not a second, which hath neither sonne nor brother yet there none end of all his trauaile, neither can his eye be satisfied with riches: neither can he thinke, For whom do I trauaile and defraud my soule of pleasure? this also is vanitie, & this is an euil trauaile.

10 Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

11 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellow: but woe vnto him that is alone: for hee falleth, and there is not a second to lift him vp.

12 Also if two sleepe together, then shall they haue heate: but to one how should there be heate?

13 And if one overcome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefold cord is not easily broken.

14 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an old and foolish King, which wil no more bee admonished.

15 For out of the prison he cometh forth to reioyce: when as he that is borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

16 I beheld also liuing, which walketh vnder the sunne with the second childe, which shall stand vp in his place.

17 There is none end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shall not reioyce in him: surely this is also va-nitie and vexation of spirit.

18 Take heed to thine foot when thou entrest into the house of God, and be more ready to heare then to giue the sacrifice of fooles: for they know not that they doe euill.

Meaning, they think themselves abed, whether they have bene in time past, and so care on none for him. 2. That is, with what attention thou comest to heare the word of God. 3. Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

CHAP. V.

1. Not to beake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 2. The content can neuer be enough. 3. The labourer sleepes in iustice.
24. Man when he dieth, which washing with him. 28. To liue iustly, and with a contrite mind, is the gift of God.

But not a rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be hastie to utter a thing before God:
for God is in the heavens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be few.

3 For as a dreame cometh by the multitude of businesse: so the voice of a foole is in the multitude of words.

4 When thou hast vowed a vow to God, defer not to pay it: for he delighteth not in fooles:
pay therefore that thou hast vowed.

5 It is better that thou shouldest not vowe, then that thou shouldest vow and not pay it.

6 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy flesh to sinne: neither say before the Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God by angry by thy voyce, and destroy the worke of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities are also many words: but feare thou God.

8 If in a country thou see the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, be not astonied at the matter: for hee that is higher then the highest, regardeth, and there is higher then they.

9 And the abundance of the earth is ouer all:
the King also conspireth by the field that is tilled.

10 He that loveth siluer, shall not be satisfied with siluer, and he that loveth riches, shall be without the fruit thereof: this is also vanitie.

11 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

12 The sleepe of him that trauelleth, is sweete, whether hee eat little or much: but the sicke-ness of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

13 There is an euill sicknesse that I haue seene vnder the sunne: it is, riches referred to the owners thereof for their euill.

14 And these riches perish by euill trauell, and he begetteth a sonne, and in his hand is nothing.

15 As he came forth of his mothers belly, he shall returne naked to goe as he came, and shall beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

16 And this also is an euill sicknesse, that in all points as he came, so shall he goe, and what profit hath he that he hath trauelled for the wind?

17 Also all his dayes he eateth in darkness.

Dead flies cause to stink, and putrifie the document of the spothearie: 1 death a little folly him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glory.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand, but the heart of a fool is at his left hand.

3 And also when the fool goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he telleth vnto all that he is a fool.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentleness pacifieth great finnes.

5 There is an euill that I haue seene vnder the sunne, as an error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the rich sit in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses, and princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 Hee that remooueth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, and he that curteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, & one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed:
no better is a babler.

12 The words of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lips of a fool deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishnesse, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnesse.

14 For the fool multiplieth wordes, saying,
Man knoweth not what shalbe: and who can tell him what shalbe after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doth weary him:
for he knoweth not to goe into the city.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy King is a childe, and thy princes eate in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy King is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for drunkennesse.

18 By slothfulness the roofe of the house goeth to decay, and by the idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but silver answereth to all.

20 Curse not the king, no nor in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the foole of the heauen shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be libell to the poore, 2 Not to doubt of Gods providence.
3 All worldly profit is but vanitie. 4 God will iudge all.

5 Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after many dayes thou shalt find it.

6 Giue a portion to seuen, and also to eight:
for thou knowest not what euill shall bee vpon
the earth.

7 If the cloudes be full, they will poure forth raie vpon the earth: and if the tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

8 He that obserueth the wind, shall not sow, and he that regardeth the cloudes, shall not reape.

9 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones doe grow in the wombe of her that is with child: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

10 In the morning sow thy seede, and in the euening let not thine hand be idle: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or that, or whether both shall be alike good.

11 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

12 Though a man liue many yeres, and in them all be reioyce, yet he shall remember the dayes of darkenesse, because they are many, all that commeth is vanitie.

13 Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

14 Therefore take away griefe out of thine heart, and cause euill to depart from thy flesh:
for childhood and youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on Gods youth, and not to deferre till age. 2 The foole returneth to God. 3 Wisdom is the gift of God, and conflict in fearing him and keeping his commandments.

Remember now thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth, whiles the euill dayes come not, nor the yeres approach, wherein thou shalt say,
I haue no pleasure in them:

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the cloudes returne after the raine.

3 When the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders shall cease, because they are few, and they waxe darke that looke out by the windows:

4 And the doores shall be shut without by the base sound of the grinding, and he shall rise vp at the voice of the birds: and all the daughters of singing shall be abased.

5 Also they shall be afraid of the hie thing, and feare shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be driuen away:
for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners goe about in the streete.

6 Whiles the silver cord is not lengthened, nor the golden pewer broken, nor the pitcher broken at the well, nor the wheele broken at the cisterne:

7 And dust returne to the earth as it was, and the spirit returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wife the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, and cansed them to heare, and searched forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to finde out pleasant words, and an vpriight writing, such the words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are like goades, and like rules fastened by the masters of the assembly, which are given by one pastor.

12 And of other things beside these, my sonne, take thou heede: for there is none end in making that couereth the braine, which is in colour like golde.

13 Meaning the liuer. 1 Which is the head. 2 That is, the heart, out of ther to ioy or torment, and sleepeh not as the wicked imagine. 4 Which are

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD, according to his promise, Deuter. 18. 15. that hee would neuer leave his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereas they had a speciall reuelation, but also to interpret and declare the Lawe, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the vtilitie and profit of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe, they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First, to the doctrine contained briefly in the two Tables: secondly, to the promises and threatnings of the Lawe: and thirdly, to the Covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Saviour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promise particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their destruction, and the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more fully declared it then Moses, and set forth more lively Iesus Christ, in whom this Covenant of grace was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine as hee saue that the disaile of the people required. Hee declareth also many notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promise of the Messiah, his office, and kingdom. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vniou with the Iewes. Which are as most principall paynts contained in this booke, and a gathering of his Sermons that hee preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stood vpon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to set up the summe of their doctrine for certaine dayes, that the people might the better mark it, as Isai. 8. 1. and Habak. 2. 2.) the Priestes took it downe, and referred it among their Registers: and so by Gods providence these booke were preserved as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, hee was of the Kings Race (for Amoz, his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers doe agree) and prophesied more then 64. yeeres, from the time of Uzziah vnto the reigne of Manasse, whose father in law hee was (as the Hebrews write) and of whom hee was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets, this anything among other it is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsell, and so reuealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

o That is, Ierusalem.

p Because that he will cure haue a Church to call vpon his Name.

q That is, all destroyed. r Yee that for your vices deserved all to bee destroyed, as they of Sodom. s Because that God of his mercy refused a little number, I am not full of their sacrifices for a time, as aydes and exercises of their faith: yet because the people had no faith nor repentance, God detesteth them, Psalme 50. 13. Jewes to repene lives.

second Table, the Scriptures use in many places against the hypocrites, who pretend most holines and religion in word, but when their charity and love toward their brethren should appear, they decline from it, and show that they are not sincere.

10. Whatsoever was pure in there before is now corrupt, though they have an outward flow. 11. This is, they maintain the wicked and the extortioners: and how any do not punish them, but are themselves such. 12. When God will show his selfe mercifull to his Church, he callth himselfe, The Holy one of Israel, but when he hath to doe with his enemies, he is called Mighty, as against whom no power is able to resist. 13. I will take vengeance of mine adversaries the Jewes, and so favour my desire by punishing them. Which thing yet he doeth with griefe, because of his Covenant. 14. Let the faithfull among them should bee overcome with his threatening, he addeth this consolation. 15. It is only the worke of God that shall overcome the wicked man, which thing he doeth because of his promise made concerning the salvation of his Church. 16. By justice is meant Gods faithfull prophet, which is the cause of the deliverance of his Church. 17. The wicked shall be brought downe from Gods promise. Psal. 91. 9. 18. That is, the trees and plantar which were ye counte for holines, which was forbidden, Deut. 16. 21.

1. Bring me no oblations, in value: incense is an abomination unto me: I cannot suffer your new moons, nor Sabbaths, nor solemne dayes (it is iniquitie) nor solemne assemblies.
2. My hate hateth your new moons and your appointed feastes: they are a burden unto me: I am weary to beare them.
3. And when you shall stretch out your hands,
I will hide mine eyes from you: and though ye make many prayers, I will not heare: for your hands are full of blood.
4. Wash you, make you cleane: take away the euill of your workes from before mine eyes:
cease to doe euill.
5. Learn to doe well: seeke iudgement, re-lieue the oppressed: iudge the fatherlesse, and defend the widow.
6. Come now, and let vs reason together, saith the Lord: though your sinnes were as crimson, they shall be made white as snow: though they were red like scarlet, they shall be as wooll.
7. If ye consent and obey, ye shall eate the good things of the land.
8. But if ye refuse and be rebellious, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.
9. How is the faithfull cirtie become an harlot? it was full of iudgement, and justice lodged therein: but now they are murderers.
10. Thy siluer is become dross: thy wine is like strong water.
11. Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loueth gifts, and fol-loweth after rewards: they iudge not the fatherlesse, neither doeth the widowes cause come before them.
12. Therefore saith the Lord God of hostes, the Mighty one of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge mee of mine enemies.
13. Then I will mine mine hand vpon thee, and burne out thy dross: till it be pure, and take a way all thy mine.
14. And I will restore thy Iudges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward shalt thou be called a cirtie of righteousness, and a faithfull cirtie.
15. Zion shall be redeemed in iudgement, and they that returne in her, in iustice.
16. And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together: and they that forsake the Lord, shall be consumed.
17. For they shall be confounded for the oaks, which ye haue desired, and ye shall be ashamed of the gardens that ye haue chosen.
18. For ye shall be as an oke whose leafe fadeth:
and as a garden that hath no water.

1. And the fire shall be as a towne, and the maker thereof, as a sparke: and they shall both burne together, and none shall quench them.

CHAP. II.

1. The Church shall be restored by Christ, and the
2. The punishment of the rebellion and obstinacy.

The word that Isaiah the sonne of Amos saw vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.
1. It shall be in the last dayes, that the moun-taine of the House of the Lord shall bee prepared in the top of the mountaines, and shall be exalted above the hilles, and all nations shall flow vnto it.
2. And many people shall come, and say, Come, and let vs goe vnto the house of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iacob: and hee will teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his paths:
for the Law shall goe forth of Ierusalem, and the word of the Lord from Ierusalem.
3. And three shall be kept in Ierusalem, and rebooke many people, saying, I will breake their bowes also into mattocks, and their speares into scythes: nation shall not lift vp a sword against nation, neither shall they learne to fight any more.
4. O house of Iacob, come ye, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord.
5. Surely thou shalt not be taken thy people, the house of Iacob, because they are a sid of the East hills, and are workers as the Philistines, and speak with strange children.
6. Their land also was full of siluer and gold, and there was none end of their treasures: and their land was full of horses, and their charrets were infinite.
7. Their land was also full of idols: they worshipped the worke of their owne handes, which their owne fingers haue made.
8. And a man bowed himselfe, and a man troubled himselfe: therefore spare them not.
9. Enter into the rocke, and hide thee in the dust from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glory of his Maiestie.
10. The high lookes of man shall be humbled, and the loftinesse of men shall be abased, and the Lord onely shall be exalted in that day.
11. For the day of the Lord of hostes vpon all the proud and haupie, and vpon all that is exalted: and it shall be made low.
12. Buan vpon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and exalted, and vpon all the oaks of Bashan.
13. And vpon all the his: mountaynes, and vpon all the hils that are lifted vp, 14. And vpon every his tower, and vpon euery strong wall,
15. And vpon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all that therein is, and upon all that therein is, which were peace and love doeth begin and grow in this life, but shall be perfected when we are ioyned with our Head Christ Iesus. 1. Seeing the Gentiles will be so ready, make you haste and shew them the way to worship God, as the Prophet saith, The small hope that the Jewes would conuert, complained to God, as though he had utterly forgotten them for their sinne. 2. Fall of the corruption that reigned chiefly in the East parts. 3. They also rather give themselves to the fashions of other nations. 4. The Prophet first condemned their superstition and idolatry: next their covetousnes, and thirdly their vaine trust in worldly merases. 5. He noteth the nature of the idolaters, which are neuer satisfied in their superstitions. 6. Thus the Prophet speaketh being inflamed with the zeale of Gods glory, and that he might renew them with Gods iudgement. 7. Meaning, as much as God shall begin to execute his iudgements. 8. By hierrees and mountaynes are meant them that are proud upon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the haughtines of men shall be brought low, and the offence of men shall be abased, and the Lord shall only be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles will he utterly destroy.

19 Then shall they goe into the holes of the rocks, & into the caves of the earth, from before the face of the Lord, and from the glory of his maiestie, when he shall arise to destroy the earth. 20 At that day shall man cast away his silver idoles & his golden idoles (which they had made themselves to worship them) to the mowles, and to the backes,

21 To goe into the holes of the rocks, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes from before the face of the Lord, and from the glory of his maiestie, when he shall rise to destroy the earth.

22 Cease you from the man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is hee to be esteemed?

CHAP. III.

For the time of the people, God will take away the wife men and give them foolish princes. 14 The counsel of the counsellors. 16 The pride of the women.

For loe, the Lord God of hostes will take away from Ierusalem and from Iudah the stay and the strength: even all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, & the man of warre, the iudge, and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captain of fiftie, and the honourable, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint children to bee their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 The people shall be oppressed one of another, and every one by his neighbour: the children shall presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honourable.

6 When every one shall take hold of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing, thou shalt bee our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand:

7 In that day he shall sweare, saying, I cannot bee an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtlesse Ierusalem is fallen, and Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue & workes are against the Lord, to prouoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The trial of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, they declare their sinnes, as Sodom, they hide the not. Wo be vnto their soules: for they have rewarded euill vnto themselves.

10 Say ye, Surely it shall be well with the iust: for they shall eate the fruit of their workes.

11 Wo be to the wicked, it shall be euill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him.

12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule over them: O my people, they that lead thee, cause thee to erre, & destroy the way of thy pathes.

13 The Lord standeth vp to plead, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the Ancients of his people & the princes thereof:

for ye haue eaten vp the vineyard: the spoyle of the poore in your houses.

15 What haue ye to do that ye beate my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, even the Lord of hosts?

16 The Lord also saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walke with stretched out neckes, and with wandering eyes, walking and minning as they go, & making a tinkling with their feete,

17 Therefore shall the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion bald, and the Lord shall discouer the secret parts,

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, and the calles, and the round tyres,

19 The sweete balles, and the bracelets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the sloppes, and the headbands, and the tables, and the eare rings,

21 The rings and the mufflers,

22 The costly apparell and the vailles, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnes,

23 And the glasses and the fine linnen, and the hoods and the launes,

24 And in stead of sweete sauour, there shall be stinke, and in stead of a girdle, a rent, and in stead of dressing of the haire baldnesse, and in stead of a stomacher, a girding of sackcloth, and burning in stead of beauty.

25 Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battell.

26 Then shall her gates mourne and lament, and she being desolate, shall sit vpon the ground, desolatenesse, and also the common weale, which hath not remedied it.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 The small remnant of men after the destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The grace of God vpon them that remaine.

And in that day shall seven women take hold of one man, saying, We will eate our owne bread, and we will wear our owne garments: onely let vs be called by thy name, and take away our reproch.

2 In that day shall the budde of the Lord be beautifull and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall bee excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then hee that shall be left in Zion, and hee that shall remaine in Ierusalem, shall be called holy, and every one shall be written among the liuing in Ierusalem,

4 When the Lord shall wash the filthinesse of the daughters of Zion, & purge the blood of Ierusalem out of the middes thereof by the spirit of iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shall create vpon every place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for vpon all the glory shall be a defence.

6 And a covering shall be for a shadow in the day for the heate, and a place of refuge and a covert for the storme, and for the raie.

so That is, ye shew all cruelty against them.

He menaceth the people because of the arrogancy and pride of their women, which gaue themselves all wantonnesse and dissolution, which declared their pride.

As a signe, that they were not chaste.

Which shewed their wantonnesse. They delighted them in slippers that did creeke, or had little places sowed vpon them, which tickled as they went.

In rehearsing all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnesse and vaine of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according to their degree.

Meaning, that God will not onely punish the women, but their husbands which haue suffered this

When God shall execute his vengeance, there shall not be one man found to be the head to many women, and they contrary to womanly chastenesse, shall seeke vnto men, and offer themselves to any condition.

Hee then our husband, and let vs be called by thy name.

As for they thought it to be without an head and husband.

He comforteth this Church in this desolation, which shall spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods grace should be as precious toward the faithful as though they were at the church as Chap.

vi. Some by the bud of the Lord meane Christ. He alludeth to the words of life, wherof read Exo. 32. meaning Gods secret counsel, wherein his elect are predestinate to life everlasting. That is the cruelty, extortion, auarice, and wickednesse. When things shall be redressed that were amisse. He alludeth to the pillar of the cloude. Exod. 13. 21. meaning that Gods fauour and protection should appeare in every place. The faithfull are called the glory of God because his image, and his grace shine in them. God promiseth to be the defence of his Church against all trouble and danger.

CHAP. V.

Under the bushbuds of the vine, he describeth the state of the people. 8 Of the amara, 11 their drunkenness, 13 of their captiuitie.

a The Prophet by this song doth let before the peoples eyes their ingratitude, and Gods mercy.

b That is, to God.

c Jer. 31. 1. 31.

d Meaning that he had planted his Church in a place most plentiful and abundant.

e He spared no diligence nor cost.

f In the fourth verse he declareth what they were.

g He maketh them judges in their owne cause, for as much as it was evident that they were the cause of their owne ruine.

h I will take no more care for it, meaning, that he would take from them his word and ministers, and all other comforts.

i And them contrary plagues.

k Indgement and righteousness are fruits of the grace of God, and therefore in the cruel oppressors there is no religion.

l Of them that are oppressed.

m To win for the sinner to dwell in.

n I have heard the complaint and cry of the poore.

o Which complaineth about their potteries: in which were should be yeeld one potter.

p Which containeth an hundred potteries.

q As Ephraim containeth ten potteries, and is in dry things as much as Beth in Ierusalem.

r That there is no paine nor diligence to follow their lusts.

s Which are neuer weary of their rioting and excess pleasures but vie all meane to procure to the same.

t They regard not the predominant care of God ouer them, nor for what end he hath created them.

u That is, shall certainly goe: for so the Prophets vse to speake, although the thing which shall come to passe were done already.

v Meaning the graine that swalloweth them, that shall die for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction it shall neuer be satiate.

w God comforteth the poore lambs of his Church which had bin stragglers in other countreys, promising that they should dwell in those places againe, whereof they had bene depriued by the heathen and cruel tyrants.

Now will I sing to my beloved a song of my beloved to his vineyard, ^a My beloved had a vineyard in a very fruitfull hill.

^b And hee hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, ^c and hee built a tower in the mids thereof, and made a winepresse therein: then hee looked that it should bring forth grapes: but it brought forth wild grapes.

^d Now therefore, O inhabitants of Ierusalem and men of Iudah, I pray you, ^e betwene me and my vineyard.

^f What could I haue done any more to my vineyard that I haue not done vnto it? why haue I looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it bringeth wild grapes?

^g And now I will tell you what I will doe to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten vp: I will breake the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden downe:

^h And I will lay it waste: it shall not be cut, nor digged, but briars, and thornes shall grow vp: I will also command the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

ⁱ Surely the vineyard of the Lord of hostes, the house of Israel, and the men of Iudah are his pleasant plant, and hee looked for ^k iudgement, but behold oppression: for righteousness, but behold a crying.

^l Woe vnto them that sayne house to house, and lay field to field, till there be no place, that ye may be placed by your selues in the mids of the earth.

^m This is in mine eares, sayth the Lord of hostes. Surely many houses shall be desolate, even great and faire without inhabitant.

ⁿ For ten acres of vines shall yeeld one bath, and the seed of an homer shall yeeld an ephah.

^o Woe vnto them, that rise vp early to follow drunkennesse, and to them that continue vntill night, ^p till the wine do inflame them,

^q And the harpe and viole, timbrel and pipe, and wine are in their feasts: but they regard not the worke of the Lord, neither consider the worke of his hands.

^r Therefore my people is gone into captiuitie, because they had no knowledge, and the glorie thereof are men famished, and the multitude thereof is dried vp with thirst.

^s Therefore a bell hath enlarged it selfe, and hath opened his mouth without measure, and their glory, and their multitude, and their pompe, and he hath reioyceth among them, shall descend into it.

^t And man shall be brought downe, & man shall be humbled, even the eyes of the proud shall be humbled.

^u And the Lord of hostes shall be exalted in iudgement, and the holy God shall be sanctified in iustice.

^v Then shall the lambes feede after their maner, and the strangers shall vnto the desolate places of the fat.

^w Woe vnto them, that draw equiue with cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as with cart ropes:

^x Which say, Let him make his way: let him hasten his worke, that we may see it: and let the counsell of the holy one of Israel draw nere and come, that we may know it.

^y Woe vnto them that speake good of full, and euill of good, which put darknes for light, and light for darkenesse, that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for fowre.

^z Woe vnto them, that are wife in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne sight.

^a Woe vnto them that are mightie to drinke wine, and vnto them that are strong to powre in strong drinke:

^b Which iustifie the wicked for a reward, & take away the righteousness of the righteous from him.

^c Therefore as the flame of fire deuoureth the stuble, & as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their root shall be as rottennesse, and their bud shall rise vp like dust, because they haue cast off the Law of the Lord of hostes, and contemned the word of the holy one of Israel.

^d Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched out his hand vpon them, & hath smitten them: that the mountaines did tremble: and their carkeises were torne in the middes of the streets, and for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

^e And he will lift vp a signe vnto the nation afarre, and will hiss vnto them from the end of the earth: and behold, they shall come hastily with speede.

^f None shall faint nor fall among them: none shall slumber nor sleep, neither shall the girdle of his loynes bee loosed, nor the latchet of his shooes be broken.

^g Whose arrowes shall be sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horse hooves shall be thought like flint, and his wheelles like a whirlewind.

^h His roaring shall be like a lion, and he shall roare like lions whelpes: they shall roare, and lay hold of the pray: they shall take it away, and none shall deliuer it.

ⁱ And in that day they shall roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: and if they looke vnto the earth, behold darkenesse and sorrow, and the light shall be darkened in their skie.

CHAP. VI.

1. Isaiah sheweth his vocation by the vision of the diuine maiesty. 9 He sheweth the obstinacie of the people. 12 The destruction of the land. 13 The sinners reuered.

In the yeere of the death of king Vzziah, I saw also the Lord sitting vpon an high throne, & lifted vp, and the lower parts thereof filled the Temple.

^a The Seraphims stode vpon it, every one had sixe winges: with twaine he couered his face, and with twaine he couered his feete, and with twaine he did sit.

^b As a Iudge ready to giue sentence. ^c Of his garment, or of his throne. ^d They were Angels, so called because they were of a fiery colour, to signifie that they burnt in the love of God, or were light as fire to execute his will. ^e Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightness of Gods glorie. ^f Whereby was declared that man was not able to see the brightness of God in them. ^g Which thing declareth the prompt obedience of the Angels to execute Gods commandment.

^y Which vs all allurement, occasion, and causes to hinder their confidence in God.

^z He sheweth what are the words of the wicked, when they are menaced with Gods iudgements, s. Pet. 3. 4.

^a Which are not ashamed of shame, nor care for honestie, but are grown to a desperate impietie.

^b Which are contentment of all doctrine and admonition.

^c Which are neuer weary, but shew their strength, and bragge in gluttonie and drunkennesse.

^d Both they and their posterity, to that nothing shall be left.

h This oft repetition signifieth that the holy Angels cannot iacuse themselves in praying God to teach vs that in al our liues we should giue out praises to the conuincall praise of God.

i His glory doeth not onely appeare in the heuens, but through all the world, and therefore all creatures are bound to praise him.

k Which things were to confirme the Prophet, that he was not the voyce of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindness: that should come vpon the Jewes.

l He speakes this for two causes: the one, because he was a mortal creature, and therefore had more need to glorifie God then the Angels, did it not: and the other, because the more nere that man approacheth to God, the more doth he know his owne sinne and corruption.

23 And at the same day every place, wherein shall be a thousand vines, shall be at a thousand pieces of silver: so it shall be for the briers and for the thornes.

24 With arrowes and with 7 bowes shall one comethither: because all the land shall be briers and thornes.

25 But on 2 all the mountaines, which shalbe digged with the mattocke, there shall not come thither the feare of briers and thornes: but they shall bee for the sending out of bullocks, and for the treading of sheepe.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The captiuitie of Israel and Iudah by the Assyrians. 2 The multitude of the brent. 3 The destruction of the Assyrians. 4 Christ the stone of stumbling to the wicked. 5 The word of God must be engaged to.

Moreover, the Lord said vnto me, Take thee a great roll, & write in it with a mans pen, Make speed to the spoile: haste to the pray.

2 Then I tooke vnto me 6 faithfull witnesses to record, Vriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of Ieberechiah.

3 After, I came vnto the 4 Prophetesse, which conceived, and bare a sonne. Then said the Lord to mee, Call his name, Maher-shalal-hash-baz.

4 For before the 5 childe shall haue knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, he shall take away the riches of Damascus, and the spoile of Samaria, before the King of Asshur.

5 ¶ And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth vp vpon them the waters of 8 the Riuer mightie and great, 9 and the King of Asshur with all his glory, and he shall come vp vpon all their riuers, and goe ouer all their bankes,

8 And shall breake into Iudah, and shall ouerflow, and passe through, and shall come vp to the necke, and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O 10 Immanuel.

9 Gather together on heapes, O ye 11 people, and ye shalbe broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selues, and you shalbe broken in pieces: gird your selues, and you shalbe broken in pieces.

10 Take counsell together, yet it shall bee brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to mee in taking of mine hand, and taught mee, that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A 13 confederacie, to all them to whom this people faith a confederacie, neither feare you 14 their feare, nor be afraid of them.

13 ¶ Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your dread,

14 And he shall be as a 15 Sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare and as a net to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall, and shall be broken, and shall be snared, and shall be taken.

16 ¶ Binde vp the testimonie, seale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I wil waite vpon the Lord that hath hid his face from the house of Iacob, and I wil looke for him.

18 Beholde, I and the 19 children whom the Lord hath giuen me, as signes and as wonders in Israel, by the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in Mount Zion.

19 And when they shall lay vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, and at the soothsayers, which whisper & murmure, Should not a people enquire at their God? from the 20 living to the dead?

20 To the 21 Law, and to the testimonie, if they speake not according to this word: it is because there is no 22 light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted and famished, shall goe to and fro in 23 it: and when he shall be hungry, he shall euen fret himselfe, 24 & curse his king and his gods, and shall looke vpward.

22 And when he shall looke to the earth, behold trouble, and 25 darknesse, vexation, and anguish, and he is driuen to darknesse.

23 Seeke remedie in the word of God, where his will is declared. 24 They haue no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of the blind. 25 That is, in Iudas, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grievously offended God. 26 In whom afore they put their trust. 27 They shall thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

CHAP. IX.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles. 2 A prophesie of Christ. 3 The destruction of the ten tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

YET 2 the darknesse shall not bee according to the affliction, 3 that it had when at the first hee touched lightly the land of Zebulun and the lande of Naphthali, nor afterward when hee was more grievous by the way of the sea beyond Iordan in Galilee of 4 the Gentiles.

2 The people that 5 dwelled in darknesse, haue seene a great 6 light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

3 Thou hast 7 multiplied the nation, and not increased their ioy: they haue reioiced before thee according to the ioy in harvest, 8 or as men reioice when they diuide a spoile.

4 For the 9 yoke of their burthen, and the staffe of their shoulder, and the rod of their oppressor hast thou broken, as in the day of Midian.

5 Surely euery battell of the warriour 10 with noise, & with tumbling of garments of blood: but this shall be 11 with burning, and deuouring of fire.

Hag. 2. 10. 11 Thou gauest them perfit ioy by deliuering them: and by destroying the tyrants that had kept them in euill bondage. 12 As thou diddest deliuer them by Gideon from the Midianites, Iude 7. 25. 13 He speaketh of the deliuerance of his Church, which he hath deliuered miraculously from his enemies, but specially by the coming of Christ, of whom he prophesith in the next verse.

3 Meaning, them that were willing to heare and obey the word of God, whom the world hated, as though they were monsters and not worthy to live.

4 This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing could come vnto them, but by the will of the Lord.

5 Answered the wicked thus, Should not Gods people seeke succour onely at him?

6 That is, will they refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and seeke helpe at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan?

7 They haue no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of the blind. 8 That is, in Iudas, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grievously offended God. 9 In whom afore they put their trust. 10 They shall thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

 5 His singular love and care for his elect.

6 This is another prophetic against them of Samaria, which were mockers and contemners of Gods promise and menaces. We were but weak, when the enemy overcame vs, but we will make our selues so strong that we will neither care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatnings.

7 Rezin king of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slaine by the Assyrians, after whose death Aram, that is the Syrians were against Israel, which on the other side was assailed by the Philistines.

8 Wickednesse as a bellows kindleth the fire of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his wicked enemies.

9 Though there were no loterime enemy, yet they shall destroy one another.

10 Their greedines shall be insatiable, so that one brother shall eat vp another, as though he should eat his owne flesh.

7 The increase of his government and peace shall have none end: he shall sit vpon the throne of David, and vpon his kingdom, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement, & with iustice, from henceforth, even for euer: the zeale of the Lord of hostes will performe this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath sent a word into Iakob, and it hath lighted vpon Israel.

9 And all the people shall knowe, even Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of their heart,

10 The bricks are fallen, but we will build it with hewen stones: the wild figge trees are cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Neuerthelesse, the Lord will raise vp the aduersaries of Rezin against him, and ioyne his enemies together.

12 Aram before and the Philistims behinde, and they shall deuoure Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of hostes.

14 Therefore will the Lord cut off from Israel head and taile, branch and ruff in one day.

15 The ancient and the honourable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people canse them to erre: and they that are led by them are deuoured.

17 Therefore shall the Lord haue no pleasure in their yong men, neither will he haue compassion of their fatherlesse and of their widows: for every one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euery mouth speaketh folliie: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickednesse burneth as a fire: it deuoureth the briars and the thornes, and will kinde in the thicke places of the forest: and they shall mount vp like the lifting vp of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hostes, shall the land be darkened, and the people shall bee as the meate of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall snatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and he shall eat on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: euery one shall eat the flesh of his owne arme.

21 Manasseh Ephraim: & Ephraim Manasseh, and they both shall be against Iudah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAP. X.

1 Of wicked lawmakers. 2 God will punish his people by the Assyrians and after destroy them. 3 The remnant of Israel shall be saved.

¶ VOvnto them that decrees wicked decrees, and write grievous things.

2 To keepe backe the poore from iudgement, and to take away the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widows may be their pray, and that they may spoile the fatherlesse.

3 What will yee doe now in the day of visitation, and of destruction, which shall come from farre? to whome will yee flee for helpe? and where will ye leaue your glory.

4 ¶ Without mee sherry one shall fall among them that are bound, and they shall fall downe among the slaine: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ O Ashur, the rodde of my wrath: and the staffe in their hands is mine indignation.

6 I will send him to a dissembling nation, and I will giue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoile and to take the pray, and to tread them vnder feete like the mire in the streete.

7 But hee thinketh not so, neither doeth his heart esteeme it so: but hee imagineth to destroy and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For he sayth, Are not my princes altogether Kings?

9 Is not Calno as Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdoms of the idoles, seeing their idoles were aboute Ierusalem, and aboute Samaria:

11 Shall not I, as I haue done to Samaria and to the idoles thereof, so doe to Ierusalem, and to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lord hath accomplished all his worke vpon mount Zion and Ierusalem, I will visite the fruite of the proud heart of the king of Ashur, & his glorious and proud looks,

13 Because hee sayd, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisdom because I am wise: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, and haue spoyled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whipeer.

15 Shal the axe boast it selfe against him that heweth therewith? or shal the saw exalt it selfe against him that moueth it? or as if the rod should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe should exalt it selfe as it were no wood.

16 Therefore shal the Lord God of hostes send among his fat men leanness, and vnder his glory he shall kinde a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Israel shal be as a fire, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it shal burne, and deuoure his thorns & his briars in one day:

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitfull fieldes both foule and flesh: & he shal be as the fainting of a standard bearer.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Iakob, stay no more vpon him that smote them, but shall stay vpon the Lord, the holy one of Israel in truth.

21 The remnant shall returne, even the remnant of Iakob vnto the mighty God.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption & decreed shall overflow with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption even determined, in the middes of all the land.

d Because they haue forsaken me, some shall go into captiuitie, and the rest shall be slaine. e God calleth for the Assyrians to be the executioners of his vengeance.

f That is, the Assyrians against the leues, which are but hypocrites, and in the end and security verie in danger of the wrath of God, out of the wicked in one very thing and yet for Gods intention is to chastise them for their amendment, and the Assyrians purpose is to destroy them to enrich themselves: thus in respect of Gods iustice, it is Gods worke, but in respect of their own malice, it is the worke of the deull.

g Seeing that I haue overcome aswell one city as another, so that none could resist, shall Ierusalem be able to escape mine hands?

h When hee hath sufficiently chastised his people, hee beginneth at his owne house: then will hee burne the rods.

i Meaning of Sauerib.

k Here we see that no creature is able to doe any thing, but as God appointeth him, and that they are all but his instruments to doe his worke, though the intentions be diuers as verse 6.

salem, & how the Israelites, when it should come to pass, should be delivered.
2 Fecare and destruction shall come upon Iudah:
for the princes
of the people shall be all led away captives.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of Aschur: he shall smite thee with a rod, & shall lift up his staff against thee after the manner of Egypt.

25 But yet a very little time, & the wrath shall be consumed, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hosts shall raise up a scourge for him, according to the plague of Mi-dian in the rocks Oreb: and as his staff was upon the Sea, so he will lift it up after the manner of Egypt.

27 And at that day shall his burden be taken away from off thy shoulder, & his yoke from off thy neck: and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.

28 He is come to Aiath: he is passed into Mi-gdon: at Michmash shall he lay up his armour.

29 They have gone over the flood: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Ramiah is afraid. Gibion of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift up thy voice, O daughter Gallim, cause laith to heare, O poore Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is removed: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered themselves together.

32 Yet there is a time that he will stay at Nob:
he shall lift up his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Ierusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord God of hosts shall cut off the bough with fere, and they of high stature shall be cut off, and the high shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut away the thicke places of the forest with yron, and Lebanon shall haue a mighty fall.

1 Christ comes to the rescue of Iudah: 2 His weapons and kingdom.
3 The fruites of the Gospel. 4 The calling of the Gentiles.
5 Yet there shall come a rodde forth of the Bastoke of Ithai, and a grasse shall grow out of his rootes.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest vpon him: the Spirit of wisdom and vnderstanding, the Spirit of counsell and strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord.

7 And shall make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for hee shall not iudge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprocue by the hearing of his eares.

8 But with righteousness shall hee iudge the poore, and with equitie shall hee reprocue for the moeke of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

9 And iustice shall be the girdle of his loynes, and faithfulness the girdle of his reines.

10 The wolfe also shall dwell with the lambe, and the leopard shall lie with the kid, and the calfe and the lyon, and the fat beast together, and a little child shall lead them.

11 And the kow and the beare shall feed: their young ones shall lye together: and the lyon shall carse strawe like the bullocke.

12 And the sucking child shall play vpon the hole of the aspe, and the weaned child shall put his hand vpon the cockatrice hole.

13 Then shall none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holinesse: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters that couer the sea.

14 In that day shall the Lord God of hosts reforme them, and worke in them such miracles, that they shall be like lambs: snouing and lonyng one another, and shall not be afraid of their enemies. Chap. 11. 14. 4. It shall be as great a bounty as the waters in the sea.

10 And in that day the roote of Ithai, which shall stand up for a signe vnto the people, the nations shall seeke vnto it, and his rest shall be glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lord stretch out his hands againe the second time, to possesse the remnant of his people: (which shall be left) of Aschur, and of Egypt, and of Pachros, and of Ethiopia, and of Ilam, and of Shinear, and of Hamath, and of the yles of the sea.

12 And he shall set up a signe to the nations, and assemble the dispersed of Israel, and gather the scattered of Iudah from the foure corners of the world.

13 The hatred also of Ephraim shall depart, and the aduersaries of Iudah shall bee cut off: Ephraim shall not enuie Iudah, neither shall Iudah vexe Ephraim.

14 But they shall see vpon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the West: they shall spoyle them of the East together: Edom and Moab shall be the stretching out of their hands, and the children of Ammon their obedience.

15 The Lord also shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptians, and with his mighty wind shall lift up his hand ouer the river, and shall smite him in his seven streames, and cause men to walke therein with shoes.

16 And there shall bee a path to the remnant of his people which are left of Aschur, like as it was vnto Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

& wil not feare for the Lord God is my strength out of the wells of saluation.

mong the people: make mention of them, for his Name is exalted.

The Army of the Medes and the Persians against Babylon.
Ye Babylonians.

The Babylonians anger, & griefe shall be so much, that their faces shall burne as fire.
 They that are overcome, shall thinke that all the powers of heauen and earth are against them. Ezech. 33. 7. Ier. 51. 3. 1. The comparison of Babylon to the whole world, because they in effect ruled themselves by reason of their great empire.
 He saith the principall vice, wherein they are most giuen, as are all that abound in wealth.
 Hee saith the great slaughter that shall be, seeing the enemy shall neither for gold, nor silver spare a mans life, as verie 7.
 Meaning the power of Babylon with their buccid soldiers.
 This was not accomplished when Cyrus took Babylon, but after the death of Alexander the great.

 Who vseth to goe from country to country to find pasture for their beasts, but there shall they finde none.
 Which were either wilde beasts, or loules, or wretched spirits whereby Satan deluded man, as by the fairies, goblins, and such like fantasy.

4 The noise of a multitude in the mountains, like a great people: a tumultuous voice of the kingdomes of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts numbeth the holte of the battell.

5 They come from a farre country, from the end of the heauen: saith the Lord with the weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howle you, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be weakened, and all mens hearts shall melt.

8 And they shall be afraid: anguish and sorrow shall take them, and they shall haue paine, as a woman that travaileth: every one shall bee amazed at his neighbour, and their faces shall be like flames of fire.

9 Behold, the day of the Lord commeth, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the land waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the starres of heauen and the planets thereof shall not giue their light: the sunne shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moone shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will visit the wickednesse vpon the world, and their iniquity vpon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogancie of the proud to cease, and will cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I will make a man more precious then fine gold, euen a man aboue the wedge of gold of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heauen, and the earth shall remouee out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall be as a chafed doe, and as a sheepe that no man taketh vp: every man shall turne to his owne people, and flee ech one to his owne land.

15 Every one that is found, shall bee stricken through: and whosoever ioyne himselfe, shall fall by the sword.

16 Their children also shall bee broken in pieces before their eyes: their houses shall be spoyled, and their wives rauished.

17 Behold, I will stirre vp the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, nor be desirous of gold.

18 With bowes also shall they destroy the children, and shall haue no compassion vpon the fruit of the wombe, and their eyes shall not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glory of kingdomes, the beauty and pride of the Caldeans shall bee as the destruction of God in Sodom and Gomorah.

20 It shall not be inhabited for euer, neither shall it be dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall their shepherds make their foldes there.

21 But yf Zizim shall lodge there, & their houses shall be full of Ostriches: Ostriches shall dwell there, and the Sarys shall dance there.

22 And I will shal cry in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: & the time thereof is ready to come, and the dayes thereof shall not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIII.

The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The destruction of the king of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Persians.

For the Lord will haue compassion of Iacob, and will yet chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger shall ioyne himselfe vnto them, and they shall cleaue to the house of Iacob.

2 And the people shall receiue them & bring them to their owne place, and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the Lord, for seruants and handmaydes: and they shall take them prisoners whose captiues they were, and haue rule ouer their oppressours.

3 And in that day when the Lord shall giue thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou diddest serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this prouerbe against the King of Babel, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased? and the gold thirftie Babel rested?

5 The Lord hath broken the rodde of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in anger with a continual plague, and ruled the nations in wrath: if any were persecuted, he did not let.

7 The whole world is at rest and is quiet: they sing for ioy.

8 Also the firre trees reioyced of thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art layde downe, no hewer came vp against vs.

9 Hell beneath is moued for thee to meete thee at thy coming, rayssing vp the dead for thee, euen all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the kings of the nations.

10 All they shall cry and say vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is brought downe to the graue, and the found of the viols: the womes is spread vnder thee, and the wormes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O Lucifer, sonne of the morning? and cut downe to the ground, which diddest cast lottes vpon the nations?

13 Yet thou saydest in thine heart, I will ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue beside the starres of God: I will sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

14 I will ascend aboue the height of the clouds, and I will be like the most high.

15 But thou shalt bee brought downe to the graue, to the side of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall looke vpon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the kingdomes?

17 Hee made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, and opened not the house of his prisoners.

18 All the kings of the nations, euen they all sleepe in glory, every one in his owne house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy graue like an abominable branch: like the rayment of those that are laine, and thrust thorow with a sword, which goe downe to the stones of the pit, as a carkeise troden vnder fete.

Hee sheweth why God will haue to destroy his enemies: so will because he will deliuer his Church.
 Meaning, that the Gentiles shall be ioynd with the Church and worship God.
 Signifying, that the Iewes should be superiors to the Gentiles, and that they should bee brought vnder the service of Christ by the preaching of the Apostles, whereby all are brought to the subiection of Christ, a Cor. 10. 5.
 That is, hee suffered all violence and injuries to be done.
 Meaning, that when tyrants reigne, there can bee no rest nor quietnesse, and also how detestable a thing tyrannie is, seeing the infernible creatures haue occasion to reioyce at their destruction.
 As though they feared, lest thou shouldst trouble the dead, as thou diddest the liuing: and here he denieth the proud vanity of the wicked, which know not that all creatures with their destruction shall they may reioyce.
 In stead of thy costly carpets and coverings.
 Thou that thoughtest thy selfe most glorious, and as it were placed in the heauen for the morning starre that goeth before the sunne, is called Lucifer, to whom Nebuchadnezzar is compared.

As I have begun to destroy the Assyrians in Samaria: so will I continue and destroy them wholly when I shall deliver you from Babylon.

From the tents of Media shall I willen the Philistines not to recover because the towns are dissolved in their places, for their strength shall be greater than their it was.

The Israelites which were brought to most extreme misery.

To wit, my people.

This is from the letters or Afflictions for they were sent North from Palestine.

Whereby shall I deliver you and by my voice shall I come to requite of the face of the Church.

They shall answer that defend his Church and them that joy in themselves thereunto.

Read Chap. 23.

The chiefe city, whereby the whole countrey was inclosed.

The Moabites shall get to their Idols for succour, but it shall be too late.

Which were cities of Moab.

For as is the West parts the people used to let their haire grow long when they mourned, so in the East parts they cut it off.

The Prophet speaks this in the person of the Moabites or one that felt the great judgement of God that should come vpon them.

That it was a curse that ever lived in pleasure and neuer felt sorrow.

Meaning,

grace, because thou hast destroyed thine owne land, and slaine thy people: the seed of the wicked shall not be renowned for ever.

21 Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquity of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 For I will rise vp against them (saith the Lord of hostes) & will cut off from Babel the name and the remnant, and the sonne, and the nephew, saith the Lord.

23 And I will make it a possession to the hedgehog, and pooles of water, & I will sweepe it with the besome of destruction, saith the Lord of hostes.

24 The Lord of hostes hath sworne, saying, Surely like as I have purposed, so shall it come to passe, and as I have consulted, it shall stand:

25 That I will breake to pieces Ashtur in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I tread him vnder foote, so that his yoke shall depart from them, and his burden shall bee taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsel that is consulted vpon the whole world, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations,

27 Because the Lord of hostes hath determined it, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turne it away?

28 In the year that king Ahas died, was this burden.

29 Reioyce not, (thou whole Palestina) because the rod of him that did beare thee is broken: for out of the serpents roote shall come forth a cockatrice, and the fruit thereof shall be a fierie flying serpent.

30 For the first borne of the poore shall bee fed, and the needie shall lie downe in safety: and I will kill thy roote with famine, and it shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howle, O gate, crie, O citie: thou whole land of Palestina art dissolved, for there shall come from the North a smoke, and none shall be alone at his time appointed.

32 What shall then one answer? the messengers of the Gentiles? that the Lord hath stablished Zion, and the poore of his people shall trust in it.

CHAP. XV.
A prophesie against Moab.

The burden of Moab. Surely Ar of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 He shall goe vp to the Temple, and to Dibon to the high places to weepe: for Nebo & for Medeba shall Moab howle: vpon all their heads shall be baldnesse, and every beard shauen.

3 In their streetes shall they bee girded with sackcloth: on the toppes of their howles, and in their streetes euery one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

4 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voyce shall be heard vnto Iahaz: therefore the warriors of Moab shall shout: the soule of euery one shall lament in himselfe.

5 Mine heart shall crie for Moab: his fugitiues shall flee vnto Zoar, & an heifer of three yeere olde: for they shall goe vp with weeping by the mourning of Lathice: and by the way of Horonaim they shall raise vp a cry of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be dried: therefore the grass is withered, the herbes consumed, and there was no greene herbe.

7 Therefore what they men hath left, and their substance shall they beare to the brooke of the willowes.

8 For the cry went round about the borders of Moab, and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, and the striking thereof vnto Beer-Elim.

9 Because the waters of Dimon shall bee full of blood: for I will bring more vpon Dimon, euén lions vpon him that escapeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.
The cause wherefore the Moabites did so proudly.

And I see a lambe to the ruler of the world from the rocke of the wilderness, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shall be as a bird that shall be a nest for taken: the daughters of Moab shall be at the lordes of Arnon.

3 Gather a counsel, execute iudgement, make thy shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab be thou their covert from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner shall end: the destroyer shall be consumed, and the oppressour shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall the throne be prepared, and he shall sit vpon it in stedfastnesse, in the tabernacle of David, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and hastening iustice.

6 Wee haue heard of the pride of Moab (hee is very proud) even his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his lies shall not bee so.

7 Therefore shall Moab howle vnto Moab, euery one shall howle: for the foundations of Kir-hareseth shall yet mourne, yet they shall bee stricken.

8 For the vineyards of Heshbon are cut down, and the vine of Sibmah: the lordes of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto Iahaz: they wandred in the wilderness: her goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore will I weepe with the weeping of Iahaz, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy summer fruits, and vpon thy harvest, a mourning is fallen.

10 And gladnes is taken away, and ioy out of the plentifull field: and in the vineyards shall be no singing nor shouting for ioy: the treader shall not tread wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my bowels shall sound like an harpe for Moab, and mine inward partes for Kir-hareseth.

12 And when it shall appeare that Moab shall be weary of his high places, then shall he come to his temple to pray, but he shall not preuaile.

13 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lord hath spoken, saying,

He describeth the miserable dissolution and flight of the Moabites.

To hide themselves, and their goods there.

Of them that are slaine.

So that by no means they should escape the hand of God: that will God punish vnto the enemies of his Church.

That is, offer a sacrifice: whereby he desired their long delay, which would not repent when the Lord called them, shewing them, that it is now too late, seeing the vengeance of God is vpon them.

There is no remedy, but you must flee.

Rec sheweth what should haue been done, when Israel their neighbor was in affliction, to whom because they would give no shadow nor comfort, they are now left comfortlesse.

The Assyrians shall oppress the Israelites, but for awhile.

Meaning, Christ.

Their valne confidence, and proud brags shall deceiue them, as Ierem. 48.

For all your mourning, yet the city shall be destroyed, even vnto the foundations.

This is, the Assyrians and other enemies.

Meaning, that the countrey of Moab was now destroyed, and all the precious things thereof were carried into the borders, yea into other countreies, and ouer the sea.

He sheweth that their plague was so great, that it would haue mooued any man to lament with them, as Psal. 141.

The enemies are come vpon thee,

For very sorrow and compulsion, a They shall vse all meanes to seeke helpe of their Idols, and altho valne: for Chemosh their great god shall not bee able to helpe them.

a He is called a servant, time to punish the enemies in. b Who will observe justly the time for the which hee is hired, and serve no longer, but will ever long for it.

a In large yeeres as the yeeres of an hireling, & the glorie of Moab shall be contained in all the great multitude, and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.

CHAP. XVII.

a A prophesie of the destruction of Damascus and Ephraim. b Calamities mooved to repentance a Reade Chap. 13. 1. b The chief citie of Syria.

c It was a country of Syria by the river Arnon. d It seemeth that the Prophet would comfort the Church in declaring the destruction of these two kings of Syria and Israel, when as they had conspired the overthrow of Iudah. e The ten tribes gloried in their multitude and alliance with other nations: therefore he saith that they shall be brought downe, and the Syrians also.

f Meaning, of the ten tribes which boasted themselves of their nobilitie, prosperitie, strength and multitude.

g As the abundance of corn doth not scare the harvest men that should cutte it downe: so more shall the multitude of Israel make the enemies to shrink, whom God shall appoint to destroy them.

h Which valley was plentiful and fertile.

i Because God would have his covenant stable, he promiseth to reserve some of this people, and to bring them to repentance.

k Hee sheweth that Gods corrections ever bring forth some fruit, and cause his to turne from their sinnes, and to humble themselves to him.

l As the Canaanites left their cities, when God did place the Israelites there, so the cities of Israel shall no more be able to defend their inhabitants then bulwarks, when God shall send the enemy to plague them.

m Which are excellent and brought out of other countries. n As the Lord threatneth the wicked in his Law, Levit. 26. 16. o The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians which were infinite in number, and gathered of many nations. p Hee addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull which were in Israel. q He compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which riseth over night, and in the morning is gone.

*T*He burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a citie, for it shall be a ruinous heape.

a The cities of Aroer shall be forsaken: they shall be for the flocks: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraid.

b The munition also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdomes from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith the Lord of hostes.

c And in that day the glory of Iacob shall be impoverished, and the fatneise of his flesh shall be made leane.

d And it shall be as when the harvest man gathereth the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and he shall be as he that gathereth the eares in the valley of Ephraim.

e Yet a gathering of grapes shall be left in it: as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries are in the top of the vpmost boughes, and four or five in the high branches of the fruit thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

f At that day shall a man looke to his maker, and his eyes shall looke to the holy one of Israel.

g And hee shall not looke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, neither shall he looke to those things which his owne fingers haue made, as grooves and images.

h In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughes & branches, which they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shall be desolation.

i Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not remembered the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe strange vine branches.

j In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest shall be gone in the day of possession, and there shall be desperate sorrow.

k Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sound like the noyse of the sea: for the noyse of the people shall make a sound like the noyse of mightie waters.

l The people shall make a sound like the noyse of many waters: but God shall rebuke the, and they shall see farre off, and shall be chased as the chaffe of the mountanes before the wind, & as a routing thing before the whirlewinde.

m And loe, in the evening there is trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that spoyle vs, and the lot of them that rob vs.

n The cities of Israel shall no more be able to defend their inhabitants then bulwarks, when God shall send the enemy to plague them. o Which are excellent and brought out of other countries. p As the Lord threatneth the wicked in his Law, Levit. 26. 16. q The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians which were infinite in number, and gathered of many nations. r Hee addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull which were in Israel. s He compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which riseth over night, and in the morning is gone.

CHAP. XVIII.

a Of the ruinies of the Church. b And of the vocation of the Gentiles.

*U*N, the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia, a Sending ambassadours by the sea, even in vessels of breedes vpon the waters, saying, Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, vnto a terrible people from their beginning even hitherto: a nation by little and little euen troden vnder foote: whose land the floods haue spoyled.

b All ye the inhabitants of the world, and dwellers in the earth shall see when he setteth vp a signe in the mountanes, and when hee bloweth the trumpet, ye shall heare.

c For so the Lord sayde vnto mee, I will srest and behold in my tabernacle, as the heat drying vp the raine, and as a cloud of dewe in the heat of harvest.

d For afore the harvest, when the floure is finished, and the fruite is riping in the floure, then he shall cut downe the branches with hooks, and shall take away, and cut off the boughes:

e They shall be left together vnto the fowles of the mountanes, and to the beasts of the earth: for the fowle shall summer vpon it, and every beast of the earth shall winter vpon it.

f At that time shall a present bee brought vnto the Lord of hostes (a people that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation by little & little euen troden vnder foote, whose land the rivers haue spoyled) to the place of the Name of the Lord of hostes, upon the mount Zion.

g When the Lord prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians. h I will stay a while from punishing the wicked. i Which two seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruites, whereby hee meaneth, that he will seeme to fauour them, and give them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off. j Not onely men shall contemne them but the brute beasts. k Meaning, that God will pittie his Church, and receive that little remnant as an offering vnto himselfe.

CHAP. XIX.

a The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. b Of their conversion to the Lord.

*T*He burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord briedeth vpon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shall be moued at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the mids of her.

a And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: so every one shall fight against his brother, and every one against his neighbour, citie against citie, and kingdom against kingdom.

b And the spirit of Egypt shall faile in the mids of her, and I will destroy their counsell, and they shall seeke at the idoles, and at the forcerers, and at them that haue spirits of diuination, and at the soothsayers.

c And I will deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of cruel lords, and a mightie king shall rule ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

d Then the waters of the sea shall faile, and the river shall be dried vp, and wasted.

e And the rivers shall goe farre away: the rivers of defence shall be emptied and dried vp: the reedes and flags shall be cut downe.

f Hee sheweth that the sea and Nilus their great river whereby they thought themselves most sure, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would send the Assyrians among them, that should keepe them ynder as slaues. g For Nilus ran into the sea by seven streames, as though they were so many rivers.

a He meaneth that part of Ethiopia which lieth toward the sea which was full of ships that the failes (which he compareth to wings) seemed to shadow the sea. b Which in those countreys were great, inasmuch as they made ships of them for swiftnesse. c This may be taken, that they sent others to comfort the lewes, and to promise them helpe against their enemies, and so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength: that the lewes should not trust therein: or that they did sollicite the Egyptians, and promise them aide to goe against Iuda.

d To wit, the lewes, who because of Gods plagues, made all other nations afraid of the like, as God threatned, Deut. 28. 37. e Meaning, the Assyrians, as chap. 8. 7. f When the Lord prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians. g I will stay a while from punishing the wicked. h Which two seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruites, whereby hee meaneth, that he will seeme to fauour them, and give them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off. i Not onely men shall contemne them but the brute beasts. j Meaning, that God will pittie his Church, and receive that little remnant as an offering vnto himselfe.

g. The Hebrew word is month, whereby they mean the spring out of the which the water gusheth out of a mouth.
h. The Scriptures use to describe the destruction of a country by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, figs, &c. and such other things, whereby countries are enriched.
i. Called also Tarsus, famous cite upon Nilus.
k. He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who persuaded the king that he was wise, and noble, and that his house was most ancient, and so hee flattered himselfe, saying, I am wise.
l. Or, Memphis, a chiefe Alexandria and now called the great Citra.
m. The principal upholders thereof are the chiefe cause of their destruction.
n. For the spirit of wisdom he hath made them drunken & piddie with the spirit of error.
o. Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weak.
p. Considering that through their occasion the Jews made not God their defence, but put their trust in them, and were therefore now punished, they shall leave left the like light upon them.
q. Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God by the speech of Canaan, meaning the language wherein God was then served.
r. Shall renounce their superstitions, & profess to serve God aright.
s. Meaning, of fix cities five should serve God, and the sixth remains in their wickedness, and so of six parts there should be but one lost.
t. There shall be evident signes and tokens, that Gods religion is there: which manner of speech is taken of the Patriarchs, and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place and full manner how he would be worshipped.
u. This declareth that the prophesie should be accomplished in the time of Christ.
x. By these ceremonies hee comprehendeth the spiritual service under Christ.
y. By these ceremonies, which were then chiefe enemies of the Church, he sheweth that the Gentiles and the Jewes should be joyned together in one faith and religion, and should be all one fold under Christ their shepherd.

7 The grass in the river, and as the head of the rivers, and all that groweth by the river shall wither, and be driven away, and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall mourne, and all they that cast angle into the river, shall lament, and they that spread their net upon the waters, shall be weakened.

9 Moreover, they that worke in flaxe of divers sorts, shall be confounded, & they that weave nets.

10 For their nets shall be broken, and all they that make ponds shall be heave in heart.

11 Surely the princes of Zoan are fooles: the counsell of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become foolish: how say ye vnto Pharaoh, I am the sonne of the wife? I am the sonne of the ancient kings?

12 Where are now thy wise men, that they may tell thee, or may know what the Lord of hostes hath determined against Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of Noph are deceived, they have deceived Egypt, even the corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the spirit of error: and they have caused Egypt to erre in every worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomit.

15 Neither shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may do, nor the taile, the branch nor the rush.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like vnto women: for it shall be afraid and feare because of the enoming of the hand of the Lord of hostes, which he shaketh over it.

17 And the land of Iudah shall be a feare vnto Egypt: every one that maketh mention of it, shall be afraid thereof, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which he hath determined upon it.

18 In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speak the language of Canaan, and shall sweare by the Lord of hostes: one shall be called the cite of destruction.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord be in the mids of the land of Egypt, & a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

20 And it shall be for a signe and for a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall crie vnto the Lord, because of the oppressours, and he shall send them a Saviour, and a great man, and shall deliver them.

21 And the Lord shall be known of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and do sacrifice and oblation, and shall vow vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heale it: for he shall returne vnto the Lord, & he shall be intreated of them and shall heale them.

23 In that day shall there be a path from Egypt to Asshur, & Asshur shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Asshur: so the Egyptians shall worship with Asshur.

24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and Asshur, even a blessing in the mids of the land.

For the Lord of hostes that bleiseth, saying, Blessed is my people Egypt & Asshur, the worke of mine hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

CHAP. XX.

The three years captivity of Egypt and Ethiopia described by the three years going naked of Isaiah.

1 In the yeere that Tartan came to Ashdod, (when Sargon king of Asshur sent him) and had fought against Ashdod, and taken it.

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the sackcloth from thy loynes, and put off thy shooe from thy foote. And hee did so, walking naked and barefoote.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked & barefoote three yeeres as a signe and wonder upon Egypt, and Ethiopia,

4 So shall the king of Asshur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both yong men and old men, naked and barefoote, with their buttockes vncovered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall feare, and bee ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glorie.

6 Then shall the inhabitant of this yle say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be deliuered from the king of Asshur, and how shall we be deliuered?

CHAP. XXI.

Of the destruction of Babylon by the Persians and Medes.

1 The burden of the desert sea. As the whirlwinds in the South vs to passe from the wilderness, so shall it come from the horrible land.

2 A grievous vision was shewed vnto mee, The transgressour against a transgressour, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Go, vnto Elam, besiege Media: I haue caused all the mourning thereof to cease.

3 Therefore are my loines filled with sorow: sorrowes haue taken me as the sorrowes of a woman that traueleth: I was bowed downe when I heard it, and I was amazed when I saw it.

4 Mine heart failed: fearefulnesse troubled me: the night of my pleasures hath been turned into feare vnto mee.

5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watch tower: eat, drinke: arise, ye princes, annoynt the shilde.

6 For thus hath the Lord said vnto mee, Go, set a watchman, to tell what hee seeth.

7 And hee saw a chariot with two horsen: a chariot of an asse, and a chariot of a camell: and he hearkened and tooke diligent heede.

8 And hee cried, A lion: my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch tower in the day time, and I am set in my watch every night:

9 And beholde, this mans chariot commeth with two horsen. And he answered and said, Babel is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath he broken vnto the ground.

10 O my threshing, and the corne of my floote. That which I haue heard of the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, haue I shewed vnto you.

Of whom they boasted & gloried. g. Meaning Iudaea, which was compassed about with their enemies, as an ile with waters.

a. On the sea side betweene Iudaea and Caldea was a wilderness, wherby hee meant Caldea. b. That is, the ruine of Babylon by the Medes and Persians. c. The Assyrians & Caldeans, which had destroyed other nations, shall be overcome of the Medes and Persians: and this he prophesied an hundred yere before it came to passe. d. By Elam he meant the Persians. e. Because they shall find no succour, they shall mourne no more, or, I haue caused them to cease mourning, whom Babylon had afflicted. f. This the Prophet speaketh in the person of the Babylonians. g. He prophesieth the death of Belshazzar, as Dan 5. 30. who in the mids of his pleasures was destroyed. h. Whiles they are eating & drinking, they shall be commanded to runne to their weapons. i. To wit, in a vision by the spirit of prophesie. k. p A mountaine of the Idumeans.
q He describeth the quietnesse of the people of Damash, who were night and day in feare of their enemies, and euer ran to and fro to enquire newes.
r For feare, the Arabians shall flee into the woods, and he appointeth what way they shall take.
s Signifying that for feare they shall not tary to eate nor drinke.
t He appointeth them refuge for one yeere only, and then they should be destroyed.
u Reade Chap. 16. 14. x Which was the name of a people of Arabia: and by the horrible destruction of all these nations, he teacheth the Iewes that there is no place for refuge or to escape Gods wrath, but only to remaine in his Church, and to live in his feare.

me out of Seir. Watchman, what was in the night? Watchman, what was in the night?
12 The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night. If ye will alke, enquire: returne and come.
13 ¶ The burden against Arabia. In the forest of Arabia shall yee tary all night, even in the wayes of Dedanim.
14 O inhabitants of the land of Tema, bring forth water to mee: the thirstie, and prevent him that thirst with his bread.
15 For they flee from the drawn swords, even from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousnesse of warre.
16 For thus hath the Lord said vnto mee, Yet a yeere according to the yeeres of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall faile.
17 And the residue of the number of strong archers of the Iannes of Kedar shall be few: for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Has prophesie of the destruction of Ierusalem by Nebuchad-nezzar. 15 A rebreasing against Shebna. 20 To whose office Eliakim is preferred.

a Meaning, Iudea, which was composed about with mountaines, and was called the valley of vision, because of the Prophets, which were alwayes there, whom they named Seers.
b He speaketh to Ierusalem, whose inhabitants were fled vnto the house tops for feare of their enemies.
c Which wast wont to be full of people and ioy.
d But for hunger.
e And led into captiuitie. f Which have fled from other places to Ierusalem for succour.
g He sheweth what is the duty of the godly, when Gods plagues hang ouer the Church, and specially of the ministers, Ierem. 9. 1.
h That is, the shout of the enemies whom God had appointed to destroy the city.
i He putteth them in mind how God deliuered them once from Sin: beld who brought the Persians and Cyrenians with him, that they might by returning to God auoyde that great plague which they should clauffer by Nebuchad-nezzar.
k The secret place where the army was to wit, in the house of the fore P. King. 7. 2. 1 Ye fortified the ruinous places which were neglected in time of peace: meeting the whole City, and the City of David, which was within the compass of the other. m Emburied downe such as might hur, or else to know what men they were able to make.
n To provide if neede should bee of water. o To God that made Ierusalem: that is, they trusted more in these worldly means, then in God.

THe burden of the valley of vision. What sayeth thee now, that thou art wholly gone vnto the house tops?
2 Thou that art full of noise, a citie full of bruit, a ioyous citie: thy slainemen shall not be slaine with sword, nor die in battell.
3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bow: they shall be bound: all that shall be found in thee, shall be bound together, which have fled from the furre.
4 Therefore said I, Turne away from mee, I will weep bitterly: labour not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.
5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perplexity by the Lord God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and crying vnto the mountaines.
6 ¶ And Elam bare the quiver in a mans chariet with horsemen, and Kir vncouered the shield.
7 And thy chiefe valleys were full of charrets, and the horsemen set themselves in aray against the gate.
8 And he discovered the couering of Iudah: and thou diddest looke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.
9 And yee haue scene the breaches of the citie of David: for they were many, and ye gathered the waters of the lower poole.
10 And yee numbred the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses haue yee broken downe to fortifie the wall.
11 And haue also made a ditch betwene the two walles, for the waters of the old poole, and haue not looked vnto the maker thereof, neither had respect vnto him that formed it of old.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hostes call vnto weeping and mourning, and to baldnes and girding with sackcloth.
13 And behold ioy and gladnes, slaying oxen and killing sheepe, eating flesh, & drincking wine, P eating and drinking, for to morow we shall die.
14 And it was declared in the eares of the Lord of hostes, Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you, till ye die, faith the Lord God of hostes.
15 Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Goe, get thee to that treasurer, to Shebna, the steward of the house, and say.
16 What halt thou doe here? and whom hast thou here? that thou shouldst here hew thee out a sepulchre, as he that heweth out his sepulchre in a hie place, or that graue an habitation for himselfe in a rocke?
17 Behold, the Lord will cary thee away with a great captiuitie, and will surely coner thee.
18 Hee will surely rolle and turne thee like a ball in a large countrey: there shalt thou die, and there the charrets of thy glory shall be the shame of thy lords house.
19 And I will driue thee from thy station, and out of thy dwelling will he destroy thee.
20 And in that day will I call my seruant Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, 21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power also will I commit into his hand, and hee shall be a father of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the house of Iudah.
22 And the key of the house of David will I lay vpon his shoulder: so hee shall open, and no man shall shut: and hee shall shut, and no man shall open.
23 And I will fasten him as a y naile in a sure place, and he shall bee for the throne of glory to his fathers house.
24 And they shall hang vpon him all the glory of his fathers house, even of the nephewes and posterity: all small vessels, from the vessels of the cups, even to all the instruments of musick.
25 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shall the naile that is fastened in the sure place, depart and shall be broken & fall, and the burden that was vpon it, shall be cut off: for the Lord hath spoken it, the draft of Shebna. x I will commit vnto him the full charge and government of the kings house. y I will establish him, and confirme him in his office: of this phrase, reade Ezra 9. 9. z Meaning, that both small and great that shall come of Eliakim, shall haue prayse and glory by this faithfull officer. a Hee meaneth Shebna, who in mans iudgement should neuer haue fallen.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 A prophesie against Tyre. 17 A promise that is shall be re-flourish.

THe burden of Tyre. Howlee yee shippes of Tarshish: for it is destroyed, so that there is none house: none shall come from the land of Chittim: it is reuealed vnto them.
2 Be still, yee that dwell in the yles: the merchants of Zidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue replenished thee.
3 The seede of Nilus growing by the abundance of waters, and the harvest of the river was her reuenues, and she was a mart of the nations.
4 Be ashamed, thou Zidon: for shee hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I haue not travelled, nor brought forth child: neither p In stead of reuerence yee were ioyfull and made great cheere, containing the admonitions of the Prophets, saying, Let vs eate and drinke: for our Prosphets say, that we shall die to morow.

q Because the Hebrew word doeth also signifie one that doeth nourish and cherish, there are of the learned that thinke that this wicked man did nourish secret friendship with the Assyrians & Egyptians to betray the Church, & to provide for himselfe against all dangers in the meane season he packt craftily, and got of the best offices into his hand vnder Hozekiah, euer alpiring to the highest.
r Meaning, that he was a stranger, and came vp of nothing.
s Whereas hee thought to make his name immortal by his famous sepulchre, he died most miserably among the Assyrians.
t Signifying, that whatsoeuer dignitie the wicked attaine vnto, at length it will turne to the shame of those princes, by whom they are preferred.
u To be steward againe out of the which office hee had bene put, by the draft of Shebna.
x I will commit vnto him the full charge and government of the kings house.
y I will establish him, and confirme him in his office: of this phrase, reade Ezra 9. 9.
z Meaning, that both small and great that shall come of Eliakim, shall haue prayse and glory by this faithfull officer.

A Because these two countreys were joynt in league together, 1 Tyus will sell other merchandises to goe to Cilicia, and to some no more there. m Who maketh her merchants like princes. n The strength will no more lesse then therefore see to other countreys for succour. o For Tyus was near touched not afflicted before. p Because Tyus was built by them of Zidon. q The Caldeans which dwelt in tents in the wilderness, were gathered by the Assyrians in cities. r The people of the Caldeans destroyed the Assyrians: where by the Prophet meaneth, that seeing Caldeans were able to overcome Assyrians, which were so great a nation, much more shall shee overcome nations of Caldea and Assyria be able to overthrow Tyus. s That is, Tyus by whom ye are enriched. t Tyus shall lie destroyed seventy yeeres, which he calleth the reigne of one King, or a man's age. u Shall vie all craft and subtilty to entice men a gaine vnto her. x She shall labour by all meanes to overcome her first credit: as an harlot when she is long forgotten, seeketh by all meanes to entertaine her lovers. y Though she haue bene chastised of the Lord, yet shee shall returne to her olde wicked practises, and for gaine shall giue her selfe to all mens lusts like an harlot. z He sheweth that God yet by the preaching of the Gospel will call Tyus to repentance, and turne her heart from avarice and filthy gaine, vnto the true worshiping of God, and liberality toward his Saints.

nourished young men, we brought vp virgins.
When the same cometh to the Egyptians they shall be a fory, concerning the rumour of Tyus.

6 Goe you ouer to Tarshish: howle, ye that dwell in the yles.

7 Is not this that your glorious city? her antiquity is of ancient dayes: her owne feete shall leade her a farre off to be a sojourner.

8 Who hath decreed this against Tyus (that is crowneth men) whose merchants are princes? whose chapmen are the nobles of the world?

9 The Lord of hostes hath decreed this, to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Passe through thy land like a flood to the daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand vpon the sea: he shooke the kingdomes: the Lord hath giuen a commaundement concerning the place of merchandise, to destroy the power thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more reioyce when thou art oppressed: O virgin daughter of Zidon: rise vp, goe ouer vnto Chittim: yet there thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Caldeans: this was no people: 4 Asshur founded it by the inhabitants of the wilderness: they set vp the towers thereof: they raised the palaces thereof, and hee brought it to ruine.

14 Howle yee shippes of Tarshish, for your strength is destroyed.

15 And in that day shall Tyus be forgotten seventy yeeres (according to the yeeres of one King) at the end of seventy yeeres shall Tyus sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe and go about the city (thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) make a melody, sing moe songs that thou mayest be remembered.

17 And at the end of seventy yeeres shall the Lord visite Tyus, and she shall returne to her wages, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the world.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages shall be holy vnto the Lord: it shall not be laid vp nor kept in store, but her merchandise shall bee for them that dwell before the Lord, to cate sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

CHAP. XXIIII

A prophesie of the curse of God for the sinnes of the people, 13. A remembrance of the Lord shall praise the Lord.

Behold, the Lord maketh the earth empty, and hee maketh it waste: hee turneth it upside downe, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there shall be like people, like Priests, and like seruants, like master, like mayde, like mistresse, like buyer, like seller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker to vsury.

B Because this was a name of dignity it was also applied to them, which were not of Aarons family, and so signifieth also a man of dignity, as 1 Sam. 9. 16. and 20. 25. 2. Chron. 28. 27. and by this word the Prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, where there shall be neither order, nor policy. Hosea 4. 9.

3 The earth shall be waste empty, and vtterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this word.

4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away, the world is feeble and decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth also deceiveth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euermlasting Couenant.

6 Therefore hath the curse denoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate: Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are burned vp, and few men are left.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merry heart, do mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: the noise of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioy of the harpe ceaseth.

9 They shall not drinke wine with mirth: strong drinke shall be bitter to them that drink it.

10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe: reuery house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streetes: all ioy is darkened: the mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the citie is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 Surely thus shall it be in the mids of the earth; among the people, as the shaking of an oliue tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shall lift vp their voyce: they shall shout for the magnificence of the Lord: they shall reioyce from the sea.

15 Wherefore praise yee the Lord in the valleys; euen the Name of the Lord God of Israel, in the yles of the sea.

16 From the vttermoost part of the earth wee haue heard prayes, euen glory to the Lord: I sayd, My leanness, my leanness, woe is me: the transgressors haue offended: yea, the transgressors haue grievously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And hee that flecth from the noise of the feare, shall fall into the pit: and he that commeth vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, & the foundations of the earth doe shake.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolved: the earth is mooued exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and shall be removed like a tent, and the iniquity thereof shall be heavy vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 And in that day shall the Lord visite the host above that is on high, euen the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together as the prisoners in the pit: & they shall be shut vp in the prison, and after many dayes shall they be visited.

23 Then the moone shall be abashed, and the sun ashamed, when the Lord of hostes shall reigne in mount Zion and in Ierusalem: and glory shall be before his ancient men.

no more then they did: Noahs flood. n There is no power so high or mighty, but God will visite him with his rods. o Not with his rods, as verse 21. but shall be comforted. p When God shall restore his Church, the glory thereof shall shine, and his ministers (which are called his ancient men) that the sunne and the moone shall be dark in comparison thereof.

c That is, rendereth not her fruit for the sinne of the people, whom the earth deuioured of their nouriture, because they deuioured God of his honour.

d Written in the Law, as Leuit. 26. 14. deut. 28. 16.

e Thus the Prophets vied to apply particularly the menaces and promises, which are general in the Law.

f With heate and drought, or els that they were consumed with the fire of Gods wrath.

g Which as it was without order, so now should it be brought to desolation and confusion: and this was not onely meant of Ierusalem, but of all the other wicked cities.

h Because they did not use Gods benedictions aright, their pleasures should faile, and they fall to mourning.

i He comforteth the faint hearted, declaring that in this great desolation the Lord will assemble his Church which shall praise his Name, as Chap. 30. 33.

k From the vtmost coasts of the world, where the Gospel should be preached, as verse 16.

l Meaning to God, who will publish his Gospel thorow all the world.

m I am consumed with care, considering the affliction of the Church, both by foren enemies, and domestically. Some read, my secret, my secret: that is it was seile to the Prophet, that good should be preferred, and the wicked destroyed.

n Meaning, that Gods wrath and vengeance should be ouer and vnder them: so that they should not escape.

CHAP. XXV.

A thanksgiving to God in that he sheweth himselfe iudge of the world, by punishing the wicked & maintaining the goodly.

O Lord, thou art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderfull things, according to thy counsels of old, with a stable truth.

2 For thou hast made of a city an heape, of a strong citie, a ruine: even the palace of strangers of a citie, it shall neuer be built.

3 Therefore shall the mighty people give glorie vnto thee: the citie of the strong nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, even a strength to the needie in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadow against the heate, or the blast of the mighty is like a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, as the heate in a drie place: he will bring downe the song of the mighty, as the heat in the shadow of a cloude.

6 And in this mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, even a feast of wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines, and of fat things.

7 And he will destroy in this mountaine the cowering that couereth all people, and the vaile that is spread vpon all nations.

8 He will destroy death for ever: and the Lord God wil wipe away the teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Lo, this is our God: we haue waited for him, & he will saue vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him, we will reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and Moab shall be threshed vnder him, even as straw is threshed in Madmenah.

11 And hee shall stretch out his hand in the midst of them (as hee that swimmeth stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his hands shall he bring downe their pride.

12 The defence also of the height of the wals shall he bring downe and lay low, and cast them to the ground, even vnto the dust.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithfull, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Iudah, We haue a strong citie: saluation shall God set for walles and bulwarkes.

2 Open ye the gates that the righteous nation, which keepeth the truth, may enter in.

3 By an assured purpose wilt thou preferre perfect peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord God is strength for evermore.

5 For he will bring downe them that dwell on hie: the hie citie hee will abase: even vnto the ground will he cast it downe, & bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote shall treade it downe, even the feere of the poore, and the steps of the needie.

7 The purpose cannot be changed. e There is no power to hie: can let God, when he will deliver his. f God will let the poore afflicted with the power of the wicked.

7 The way of the iust & righteousness: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the iust.

8 Also wee, O Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy iudgements: the desire of our soules to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within me will I seeke thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne righteousness.

10 Let mercy be shewed to the wicked, yet he will not learne righteousness: in the land of vprightnesse will he do wickedly, and will not behold the maiestie of the Lord.

11 O Lord, they will not beholde thine hie hand: but they shall see it, and bee confounded with the zeale of the people, and the fire of thine enemies shall deuoure them.

12 Lord vnto vs thou wilt ordaine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our worke for vs.

13 O Lord our God, other lords beside thee, haue ruled vs, but we will remember thee onely, and thy Name.

14 The dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memory.

15 Thou hast increased the nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious, thou hast enlarged all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with child, that draweth neere to the trauaile, is in sorrow, and crieth in her paines, so haue we bene in thy sight, O Lord.

18 Wee haue conceived, wee haue borne in paine, as though wee should haue brought forth wind: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of the world fall.

19 Thy dead men shall liue: even with my body shall they rise, Awake & sing ye that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores after thee: hide thy selfe for a very litle while, vntill the indignation passe ouer.

21 For lo, the Lord commeth out of his place, to visite the iniquitie of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the earth shall disclose her blood, and shall no more hide her slaine.

again by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp to ioy when they feelee the dew of Gods grace. x He exhorteth the faithfull to be patient in their afflictions and to waite vpon Gods worke. y The earth shall vomite and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may eie for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A propheticall against the kingdoms of Satan, and of the world, the Church for their deliuerance.

In that day the Lord with his sore and great and mighty sword shall visit Leviathan, that piercing serpent, even Leviathan, that crooked serpent, & he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard of redde wine.

3 I the Lorde doe keepe it: I will water it euery moment: lest any abuse it, I will keepe it night and day.

e Meaning of the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the Church, should bring forth, as most agreeable to the Lord.

g We haue constantly abode in the adversities wherewith thou hast afflicted vs. h Meaning that by afflictions men shall learne to feare God.

i The wicked though God shew them euident signes of his grace, shall be neuer the better.

k Through enuy and indignation against thy people. l The fire and vengeance, wherewith thou dost destroy thine enemies.

m The Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according to thy word.

n Meaning, that the reprobate, even in this life shall haue the beginning of euiling death.

o To wit, the company of the faithfull by the calling of the Gentiles.

p That is, the faithfull by thy rods were moued to pray vnto thee for deliuerance.

q To wit, in extreme sorrow.

r Our sorowes had none end, neither did we enioy the comfort that we looked for.

s The wicked and men without religion were not destroyed.

t He comforteth the faithfull in their afflictions, shewing them that even in death they shall haue life: and that they should most certainly rise to glory.

u The contrary should come to the wicked, as verily as herbs dead in winter flourish againe.

v As herbes dead in winter flourish againe by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp to ioy when they feelee the dew of Gods grace.

x He exhorteth the faithfull to be patient in their afflictions and to waite vpon Gods worke.

y The earth shall vomite and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may eie for vengeance against the wicked.

z By the time appointed.

a That is, by his mighty power, and by his word.

He prophesieth here of the destruction of Satan and his kingdom vnder the name of Leviathan, which is the serpent.

b Meaning, that the Church should bring forth, as most agreeable to the Lord.

d Therefore he will destroy the kingdom of Sassa, because he loatheth his Church for his owne merces sake, and can not be angry with it, but witheth that he may powre his anger vpon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by briars and thornes.

e He marvelleth that Israel will not come by gentle meane, except God make them to seele his roade, and so bring them vnto him.

f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the route spring againe and bring forth in great abundance.

g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercy, and his enemies in iustice.

h That is, thou wilt not destroy the root of thy Church, though I punish thee for some to perill by the sharpe wind of affliction.

i He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all lecherie and the monuments thereof destroyed.

k Notwithstanding his fauour, charite will show them after, yet Ierusalem shall be destroyed and graue for euill shall grow in it.

l God shall not haue neede of mighty enemies for the very women shall doe it to their great shame.

m He shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nile, for some fled toward Egypt thinking to haue escaped.

n In the time of Cyrus, by whome they should be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

4 Anger is not in mee: who would set the briars & the thorns against me in battell? I would go through them, I would burne them together.

5 Or will hee feele my strength, that hee may make peace with me, and be at one with me?

6 Hereafter Iacob shall take roote: Israel shall flourish and grow: and the world shall be filled with fruit.

7 Hath hee smitten him, as hee smote those that smote him? or is he slaine according to the slaughter of them that were slaine by him?

8 In measure of the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when hee bloweth with his rough wind in the day of the east winde.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquity of Iacob be purged, and this is all the fruit, the taking away of his sin: when he shall make all the stones of the altars, as chalke stones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not stand vp.

10 Yea the defenced city shall be desolate, and the habitation shall be forsaken and left like a wilderness. There shall the calfe feede, and there shall be lie and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs of it are drie, they shall bee broken: the women corpe and set them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore he that made them shall not haue compassion of them, and hee that formed them, shall haue no mercy on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lord thresh from the chanel of the Riuer vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered, one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpe bee blowne, and they shall come, which perished in the land of Asshur, and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shall worship the Lord in the holy Mount at Ierusalem.

14 Notwithstanding his fauour, charite will show them after, yet Ierusalem shall be destroyed and graue for euill shall grow in it.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkenness of Israel. 2 The outward sight of them that should learne the word of God. 24 God doeth all things in time and place.

Vnto the crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beauty shall be a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that bee fatte, and are overcome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lorde hath a mighty and strong buff like a tempest of haile, and a whirlwind that overthroweth, like a tempest of mightie waters that overflowe, which throwe to the ground mightily.

3 They shall be troden vnder foote, even the crown & the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beauty shall bee a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that bee fatte, and as the hasty frumte afore summer, which when hee that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be for a crowne of glory, and for a diademe of beauty vnto the residue of his people:

6 And for a spirit of iudgement to him that siteth in iudgement, and for strength vnto them that tume away the battell to the gate.

7 But they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the Priest & the prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are swallowed vp with wine: they haue gone astray through strong drinke: they faile in vilion: they stumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filthy vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 Whome shall hee teach knowledge? and whome shall hee make to vnderstand the things that he heareth? them that are weaned from the milke, and drawn from the breasts.

10 For precept must be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little.

11 For with a flammering tongue, and with a strange language shall hee speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whome he said, This is the rest: a giue rest vnto him that is weary, and this is the refreshing, but they would not heare.

13 Therefore shall the worde of the Lorde be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little and there a little: that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

14 Wherefore heare the worde of the Lorde ye scornfull men, that rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a p couenent with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe through it, shall not come at vs: for we haue made a falsehood our refuge, and vnder vanitie we wee hidde.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lay in Zion a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation. Hee that beleueeth, shall not make haste.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and righteousness to the balance, and the haile shall sweepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shall ouerflowe the secret place.

18 And your couenent with death shall be dissolved, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe through it, then shall ye be troden downe by it.

19 When it passeth ouer, it shall take you away: for it shall passe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall be onely y feare, to make you to vnderstand the hearing.

20 For the bedde is a strait, that it cannot suffice, and the couering narrowe, that one cannot wrappe himselfe.

21 For the Lord shall stand as in mount Perazim: hee shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his acte, his strange acte.

22 Now therefore bee no mockers, lest your bonds increase: for I haue heard of the Lorde of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken ye, and heare my voice: hearken ye, and heare my speech.

24 Be content with Christ. 1 In the restitution of his Church, iudgement and iustice shall reigne. 2 Gods corrections and affliction. 3 Affliction shall discover their vaine confidence, which they keepe secret to themselves. 4 Terror and destruction shall make you to leaue that, which exhortations and gentleness could not bring you vnto. 5 Your affliction shall be so sore, that you are not able to endure it. 6 When David ouercame the Philistines. 7 Sa. 5. 20. 8 Chas. 14. 11. 9 Where Iosua discomfited five kings of the Amorites. 10. 10. 12.

f Hee will giue counsell to the gouernor & strength to the capitaine, to driue the enemies in at their owne gates.

g Meaning, the hypocrites, which were among them and were altogether corrupt in life & doctrine, which is here meant by drunkenness and vomiting.

h For there was none that was able to vnderstand: but were foolish and as vnneces as yong babes.

i They must haue one thing oftentimes told.

k Let one teach what he can, yet they shall no more vnderstand him, then if hee spake in a strange language.

l That is, the Prophet, whom God should send.

m This is the doctrine, whereupon ye ought to stay and rest.

n Shew to them that are weary and haue neede of rest, what is the true rest.

o Because they will not receive the word of God, wher it is offered, at conuersion of their owne malice, if after they heare these hardnes, that they care not for it, as before, Chap. 6. 9.

p They thought they had faith to moue Gods iudgements, and that they could escape though all other perished.

q Though the prophets condemned their idoles and vaine trust of selfe, hood and vanity, yet the wicked thought in themselves, that they would trust in these things.

r That is, Christ, by whom all the building must be tried & vpholde.

s Psal. 118. 22. mate. 21. 42. acte 4. 11. rom 9. 33. 1. pet. 2. 6.

t He shall be quiet, and seeke none other remedies, but be content with Christ.

u In the restitution of his Church, iudgement and iustice shall reigne.

v Gods corrections and affliction.

w Affliction shall discover their vaine confidence, which they keepe secret to themselves.

x Terror and destruction shall make you to leaue that, which exhortations and gentleness could not bring you vnto.

e As the plowman hath his appointed time, and diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lord for his vengeance: for he punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sort, and some after another, so that his chosen seed is beaten and tried, but not broken, as are the wicked.

24 Doeth the plow-man plow all the day, to fowe? doeth he open, and breake the clogs of his ground?

25 When he hath made it ^c plaine, will he not then sow the fitches, and sow cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rye in their place?

29 For his God doth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teach him.

27 For fitches shal not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shal a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread ^c come when it is threshed, hee doeth not alway thresh it, neither doeth the wheele of his cart ^c make a noyse, neither will he breake it with the teeth thereof.

26 This also commeth from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in works.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophetic against Ierusalem. 12 The vengeance of God on them so as follow the traditions of man.

A H^e altar, altar of the cite that Dauid dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere: ^b let them kill lambes.

2 But I will bring the altar into distresse, and there shall be heauinesse and sorow, and it shall be vnto me like ^c an altar.

3 And I will besiege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and wil cast vp ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speake out of the ^d ground, and thy speech shall be ^e out of the dust: thy voyce also shall bee out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreouer, the multitude of thy ^c strangers shal be like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall bee as chaffe that passeth away: and it shal be in a moment, ^{euen} suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hostes with thunder, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlwinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fire.

7 And the ^f multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shal be as a dreame, or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holdes against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shall be like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, ^g he eateth: and when he awaketh, his soule is empty: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and loe, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, behold, he is faint, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Zion.

9 ^h Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, and make you blinde: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a spirit of slumber, and hath shut vp your eyes: the Prophets, and your chiefe Seers hath he couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

Meaning that it is all alike, either to reade, or not to reade, except God open the heart to vnderstand.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that can not reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And he shall say, I cannot reade.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people ^k come neere vnto me with their mouth, and honor me with their lips, but haue remoued their heart faire from me, and their ^l feare toward mee was taught by the precept of men,

14 Therefore behold, I will againe doe a marueilous worke in this people, ^m euen a marueilous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall ⁿ perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shal be hid.

15 Woe vnto them that ^o seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lord: for their works are in darknesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of ^p deuises shall it not be esteemed ^q as the potters clay? for shal the worke say of him that made it, He made mee not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, Hee had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a little while, and Lebanon shal be ^r turned into Carmel? and Carmel shal be counted as a Forrest?

18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blind shal see out of obscuritie, and out of darknesse.

19 The meeke in the Lord shal receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shal reioyce in the Hol-ly one of Israel.

20 For the cruel man shall cease, & the scornfull shal be confounded: and all that hastened to iniquitie, shal be cut off.

21 Which made a man to sinne in the ^s word, and tooke him in a snare: which reprooued them in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord vnto the house of Iaakob, ^t euen he that redeemed Abraham: Iaakob shall not now be confounded, neither now shall his face be pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the worke of mine hands, in the mids of him they shall sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the Holy one of Iaakob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, ^u shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

1 He reprooueth the Iewes, which in their aduersity vnto their own counsels, 2 and sought helpe of the Egyptians, 10 despising the Prophets. 16 Therefore he sheweth what destruction shall come vpon them, 18 but offereth mercie to the repentant.

W Oe to the ^a rebellious children, sayth the Lord, that take counsell, but not of mee, and ^b couer with a couering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forth to goe downe into Egypt (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his ^c princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came vnto Hanes.

5 They shal be all ashamed of the people that cannot profit them, nor helpe nor do them good, but shal be a shame and also a reproch.

k Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Math. 15 8.

l That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine, & not by my word. m Meaning, that whereas God is not worshipped according to his word, both magistrates and ministers are but fooles and without vnderstanding.

n This is spoken of them, which in heart despised Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face.

o For al your craft saith the Lord, you cannot bee able to escape mine hands no more then the clay, that is in the potters hands, hath power to deliuer it selfe.

p Shall there not be a change of all things? & Carmel that is a plentiful place in respect of that it shal be then, may be taken as a Forrest, as Chap. 31.

q They that went about to find fault with the Prophets words, and would not abide admonitions, but would entangle them and bring them into danger.

r Signifying, that except God giue vnderstanding, and knowledge, man cannot but still erre, and murmur against him.

s They seeke helpe to cloke their doings, and not godly meane.

t The chiefe of Israel went into Egypt in multitude to seeke helpe, and abode at these cities.

u Who contrary to their promise, take not me for their protectour, and contrary to my commandement seeke helpe at strangers.

v They seeke helpe to cloke their doings, and not godly meane.

w The chiefe of Israel went into Egypt in multitude to seeke helpe, and abode at these cities.

e He sheweth the Jewes, that if they would put their trust in him, he is so able, that none can resist his power: & so carefull owner them, as a bird owner her young, which ever lieth about the for their defence, which si- mulatide the scrip- ture vseth in diuers places, as Dent. 32. 11. Mat. 23. 17. f. He toucheth their conscience, they might carni- ly teele their grie- uous sin, and so truely repent, for as much as now they are almost drowned and past recovery. g By these fruits your repentance shall be known, as Chap. 3. 13. h When your repentance appea- reth. i This was accomplished soon after when Saneherib's armie was discom- fited, and he fled to his castel in Nineueh for succour. k To destroy his enemies.

a This prophetic is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Christ, & there- fore is ought chief- ly to be referred to him. b By iudgement & iustice is meant an vpright govern- ment, both in poli- tie, and religion. c Where men are weary with tra- uelling for lacke of water. d He promitteth to giue the true light, which is the pure doctrine of Gods word, and vnder- standing, & zeale of the same, con- trary to the threat- nings against the wicked, Chap. 4. 9. and 29. 10. e Vice shall no more bee called vertue, nor vertue esteemed by power and riches. f He prophesieth of such calamitie to come, that they will not spare the women & children and therefore wil- leth them to take heed, and provide. g Meaning that affliction should continue long, and when one yeere were past, yet they should looke for new plagues. h God will take from you the meanes and occasions, which made you to con- temne him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods. i By the traces he meaneth the plentifull fields, whereby men are nourished as children with the teate: or, the mothers for sorrow and heauinesse shall lacke milke.

shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall, and shall also other faile.
4 For thus hath the Lord spoken vnto vs, As the lion or lions whelpes roareth vpon his pray, against whom if a multitude of shepheards bee called, he will not be afraid at their voyce, nei- ther will humble himselfe at their noyse: so shall the Lord of hosts come down to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.
5 As birds that flie, so shall the Lord of hosts defend Ierusalem by defending and deliuering, by passing through and preferring it.
6 O ye children of Israel, come againe, in as much as ye are sunken deepe in rebellion.
7 For in that day every man shall cast out his idoles of siluer, & his idoles of gold, which your hand haue made you, euen a sinne.
8 Then shall Asshur fall by the sword, not of man, neither shall the sword of man deuoure him, and hee shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall faint.
9 And he shall go for feare to his towre, and his princes shall be afraid of the standard, saith the Lord, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Ierusalem.

CHAP. XXXII.

The condition of good rulers and officers described by the govern- ment of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

Behold, a King shall reigne in iustice, and the princes shall rule in iudgement.
2 And that man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and as a refuge for the tempest, as riuers of water in a drie place, and as the shadowe of a great rocke in a weary land.
3 The eyes of the seeing shall not bee shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.
4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnder- stand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shall be ready to speake distinctly.
5 A niggard shall no more be called liberal, nor the churle rich.
6 But the niggard will speake of niggardnes, & his heart will worke iniquity, and do wicked- ly, and speake falsely against the Lord, to make empty the hungry soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirly to faile.
7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: he deuifeth wicked counsels to vndoe the poore with lying words, & to speake against the poore in iudgement.
8 But the liberrall man will deuise of liberrall things, and he will continue his liberrallitie.
9 Rise vp ye womē that are at ease: heare my voice, ye careles daughters, harkē to my words.
10 Ye women that are carelesse, shall be in feare about a yere in daies, for the vintage shall faile, and the gatherings shall come no more.
11 Ye women that are at ease, bee astonied: feare, O ye carelesse women: put off the clothes: make beare, and gird sackcloth vpon the loynes.
12 Men shall lament for the teares, euen for the plentifull fields, and for the fruitfull vine.
13 Vpon the land of my people shall growe thornes and briers: yea, vpon all the houses of in the day of reioycing,

14 Because the palace shall be forsaken, and the middle of the city shall be left: the towre and fort- resse shall be donnes for euer, and the delights of wild asses, and a pasture of flockes.
15 Vntill the Spirit be powred vpon vs from above, & the wilderness become a fruitfull field, and the plenteous field be counted as a forest.
16 And iudgement shall dwell in the desert, and iustice shall remaine in the fruitfull field.
17 And the worke of iustice shall be peace, euen the worke of iustice and quietnesse, and assurance for euer.
18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.
19 When it haileth, it shall fall on the forest, & the citie shall be see in the low place.
20 Blessed are ye that fowe vpon all waters, and diue thither the feet of the oxe and the asse.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The destruction of them by whom God hath punished his Church.

Woe to thee that spoylest, and wast not spoiled: and dost wickedly, and they did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt cease to spoile, thou shalt be spoiled: when thou shalt make an end of doing wickedly, they shall doe wickedly against thee.
2 O Lord haue mercy vpon vs, wee haue waited for thee: be thou, which wast their arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.
3 At the noise of the tumult, the people fled: at thine exalting the nations were scattered.
4 And your spoile shall be gathered like the gathering of caterpillers: and he shall goe against him like the leaping of grasshoppers.
5 The Lord is exalted: for hee dwelleth on hie: he hath filled Zion with iudgement & iustice.
6 And there shall be stability of the times, strength, saluation, wisdom, and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shall be his treasure.
7 Behold, their messengers shall cry without, & the ambassadors of peace shall weepe bitterly.
8 The pathes are waste: the waytaring man ceaseth: hee hath broken the couenant: he hath contemned the cities: he regardeth no man.
9 The earth mourneth and fainteth: Lebanon is ashamed, and heuen downe: Sharon is like a wilderness, and Bashan is shaken and Carmel.
10 Now will I arise, saith the Lord: now will I be exalted, now will I lift vp my selfe.
11 Ye shall conceiue chaffe, and bring forth stubble: the fire of your breath shall deuoure you.
12 And the people shall be as the burning of for, and made. a That is, when the Church shall be re- stored, as y. Pro- phets, after they haue denounced Gods iudgements against the wicked, vic to comfort the godly, lest they should faint. b The field which is now fruitfull shall be as a barren forest in com- parison of that it shal be then, as Cha. 29. 17, which shall be fulfilled in Christs time, for then they that were before as the barren wilder- nes, being rege- nate shall be fruitful and they that had some beginning of godlines, shall bring forth fruits in such abundance that their former life shall seeme but as a wilderness, where no fruits were. c They shall not neede to build it in his places for feare of the enemy: for God will defend it, and turne away the stormes from hurting of their comodities. d That is, vpon far ground and well watered, which bringeth forth in abundance, or in places which before were couered with water, & now made dry for your vice. e The fields shall be so ranke, that they shall send out their cattell to eate vp their fish crops, which abundance be signes of Gods fauour and lowe toward them.

a Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as were the Caldeans and Assyrians, but chiefly of Saneherib, but not onely. b When thine appointed time shall come that God shall take away thy power: and that which thou hast wrongfully gotten, shall be giuen to others, as Amos 5. 11. c The Caldeans shall do like to the Assyrians, as the Assyrians did to Israel, & the Medes and Persians shall do the same to the Caldeans. d Hee declareth hereby what is the chief refuge of the faithfull, when troubles come, to pray & seeke helpe of God. e Which helpe but fathers to soone as they called vpon thee. f That is, the Assyrians fled before the armie of the Caldeans, or the Caldeans for feare of the Medes and Persians. g When thou, O Lord, didst lift vp thine arme to punish thine enemies. h Yet that as caterpillers destroyed with your number the whole world, shall haue no strength to resist your enemies the Caldeans: but shall be gathered on an heape and destroyed. i Meaning the Medes and Persians against the Caldeans. k That is, in the dayes of Hezekiah. l Sent from Saneherib. m Whom they of Ierusalem sent to intreat of peace. n These are the words of the Ambassadors, when they returre from Saneherib. o Which was a plentifull country, meaning that Saneherib would destroy all. p To help and deliuer my Church. q This is spoken against the enemies, who thought it was their owne: but he sheweth that their enterprise shall be in vaine, and that the fire which they had kindled for others, should consume them.

13 Heare, ye that are farre off, what I haue done, and ye that are neere, know my power.

14 The snaires in Zion are afraid: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs shall dwell with the deuouring fire, who among vs shall dwell with the euermolting burnings?

15 Hee that walketh in iustice, and speaketh righteous things, refusing gaine of oppression, shaking his hands from taking of gifts, stopping his eares from hearing of blood, and shutting his eyes from seeing euill,

16 He shall dwell on this: his defence shall be the munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him, and his waters shall be sure.

17 Thine eyes shall see the King in his glory: they shall behold the land: farre off.

18 Thine heart shall meditate feare: Where is the scribe? where is the receiuer? where is he that counted the towers?

19 Thou shalt not see a feance people, a people of a darkes speech, that thou canst not perceiue, and of a flaming tongue that thou canst not vnderstand.

20 Look vpon Zion the cite of our solenne feasts: thine eyes shall see Ierusalem a quiet habitation: a Tabernacle that cannot be removed: and the stakes thereof can neuer be taken away, neither shall any of the cordes thereof be broken.

21 For surely there the mighty Lord will be vnto vs, in a place of floods, and broades rivers, whereby shall passe no ship with oares, neither shall great ship passe thereby.

22 For the Lord is our Iudge, the Lord is our law giuer: the Lord is our King, he will saue vs.

23 Thy cordes are loosed: they could not wel strengthen the mast, neither could they spread the saile: then shall the pray be diuided for a great payler: the lame shall take away the pray.

24 And none inhabitant shall say, I am sicke: the people that dwell therein shall haue their iniquitie forgiven.

25 He declared the Afflictions and enemies of the Church, declaring their destruction by his power: b He comforteth the Church, and sheweth that they shall receiue all benefits both of body and soule.

CHAP. XXXIII.

26 For the Lord God will be vnto vs, in a place of floods, and broades rivers, whereby shall passe no ship with oares, neither shall great ship passe thereby.

27 Come neere, ye nations and heare, & hearken, ye people: let the earth heare and all that is therein the world and all that proceedeth thereof.

28 For the indignation of the Lord is vpon all nations, and his wrath vpon all their armies: he hath destroyed them, and deliuered them to the slaughter.

29 And their staine shall be cast out, and their stinke shall come vp out of their bodies, and the mountaines shall be melted with their blood.

30 And all the host of heauen shall be dissolved, and the heauens shall be folded like a booke: and all their hosts that fall as the leafe falleth fro the vine, and as it falleth from the figtree.

31 For my sword shall be drunken in the heauen: behold, it shall come downe vpon Edom, and vpon the people of my curse to iudgement.

32 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fat with fat, & with the blood of the

They had an opinion of holiness because they came of the Patriarche Isaac, but in the end were accounted of God and enemies vnto his Church, as the Egyptians were.

1. As the goat, with the fat of the kidneys of the ram for the Lord hath a sacrifice in a Burnt offering, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the unicorn shall come downe with them, and the heifers with the bulles, and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness.

8 For in the day of the Lordes vengeance, and the yeere of recompence for the iudgement of Zion,

9 And the riuers thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall be burning pitch.

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day: the smoke thereof shall go vp euermore: it shall be desolate from generation to generation: none shall passe through it for ever.

11 But the pellicane, and the hedgehog shall possesse it, and the great owle, and the rauen shall dwell in it, and he shall stretch out vpon it the line of yamitie, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 The nobles thereof shall call to the kingdome, and there shall be none, and all the princes thereof shall be nothing.

13 And it shall bring forth thornes in the places thereof, nettles, and thistles in the strong holdes thereof, and it shall be an habitation for dragons, and a court for ostriches.

14 There shall meete also Zim and Lim, and the Strye shall crye to his fellowe, and the screech owle shall rest there, and shall finde for her selfe a quiet dwelling.

15 There shall the owle make her nest, and lay and hatch, & gather them vnder her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, euery one with her make.

16 Seeke in the booke of the Lord, & reade: none of these shall faile, none shall want her make: for his mouth hath commanded and his very spirit hath gathered them.

17 And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath diuided it vnto them by line: they shall possesse it for ever: from generation to generation shall they dwell in it.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 The great joy of them that delight in Christ: 2 Their offer which please the Gospel: 3 The fruites shall be their reward.

4 He desert and the wilderness shall reioyce, and the wast ground shall be glad and flourish as the rose.

5 It shall flourish abundantly, & shall greatly reioyce also & ioy: the glory of Lebanon shall be giuen vnto it: the beauty of Carmel, and of Sharon, they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellencie of our God.

6 Strengthen the weak hands, & comfort the feeble knees.

7 Say vnto them that are fearefull, Be ye strong, feare not: behold, your God commeth with vengeance: euen God with a recompense, he will come and saue you.

8 Then shall the eyes of the blind be lightened, and the eares of the deafe be opened.

9 Then shall the lame man leape as an hart, and the dumbe mans tongue shall sing: for in the wilderness shall waters breake out, and riuers in the desert.

10 To encourage one another, and specially the ministers to exhort & comfort the weak, that they may patiently abide the coming of God, which is at hand.

11 To destroy your enemies. 12 When the knowledge of Christ is revealed: 13 They that were barren and destitute of the graces of God, shall haue them giuen by Christ.

f That is, both of young and olde, poore and rich of his enemies.

g That famous city shall be consumed as a sacrifice burnt to alther.

h The mighty and rich shall be as well destroyed as the inferiours.

i He alludeth to the destruction of Sodom & Gomorrah, Gen. 19. 24.

k Read Chap. 13, 14, and Zeph. 1, 2.

l In vaine shall any man go about to build it againe.

m Meaning, they shall be better order nor policies, nor state of common weale.

n Reade Chap. 19. 21.

o Signifying, that Idumes should be as horrible destruction and barren wilderness.

p That is, the law where such curses are threatened against the wicked.

q To wit, beasts and fowles.

r That is, the mouth of the Lord: He hath giuen the beasts and fowles Idumes for an inheritance.

s The prophetes of the fall reedification of the Church both of Jewes & Gentiles vnder Christ, which shall be fully accomplished at the last day: albeit as yet it is compared to a desert and wilderness.

t The Church which was before compared to a barren wilderness, shall by Christ be made most plentiful and beautifull.

u He sheweth that the presence of God is the cause that the Church doth bring forth fruit and flourish.

v He willeth all to encourage one another, and specially the ministers to exhort & comfort the weak, that they may patiently abide the coming of God, which is at hand.

w When the knowledge of Christ is revealed: 13 They that were barren and destitute of the graces of God, shall haue them giuen by Christ.

h It shall be for the Saints of God and not for the wicked.
i God shall leade and guide them, alluding to the bringing forth of Egypt.
k As he threatned to the wicked to be destroyed here by Chap. 30. 6.
l Whom the Lord shall deliuer from the captiue of Babylon.

a This historie is rehearsed, because it is as a scale and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promises: to wit, that God would suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would send deliuerance.
b When he had abolished superstition and idolatry, and reuelled religion, yet God would exercise his Church to trie their faith and patience.
c For he was now restored to his office, as Isaiah had prophesied, Chap. 22. 10.
d This declareth that there were few godly to be found in the kings house when he was driven to send this wicked man in such a weightie matter.

e Sanherib chief captaine.
f He speaketh this in the person of Hezekiah, lastly charging him that he put his trust in his wit and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lord.
g Satan laboured to pull the godly King from one vaine confidence to another: to wit, from trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weake & would decease them, to yelde himselfe to the Assyrians, & so not to hope for any helpe of God. Or turne backe.
h He reprocheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Sanheribs least captaines. 1 Thus the wicked to deceive vs, will pretend the Name of the Lord: but we must trie the spirits, whether they bee of God or no.
k They were afraid, lest by his word, he should haue stirred vp the people against the King, and also pretended to grow to some appoyntment with him.

7 And the drie ground shall be as a poole, and the thirstie as springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where they lay, shall be a place for reeds and rushes.

8 And there shall be a path and a way, and the way shall be called holy: the polluted shall not passe by it: for he shall be with them, and walke in the way, and the foolies shall not erre.

9 There shall bee no lyon, nor noy some beasts shall ascend by it, neither shall they bee found there, that the redeemed may walke.

10 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall returne and come to Zion with praise: and everlasting ioy shall be vpon their heads: they shall obtaine ioy and gladnesse, and sorow and mourning shall flee away.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Sanherib sendeth Rabshakeh to besiege Ierusalem, 15 His blasphemie against God.

NOW in the fourteenth yeere of King Hezekiah, Sanherib King of Ashtur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

2 And the King of Ashtur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto king Hezekiah, with a great host, and he stood by the conduit of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came fourth vnto him Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellour, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

4 And Rabshakeh said vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great king, the King of Ashtur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, Surely I haue eloquence, but counsel and strength are for the warre: on whom then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede, on Egypt, wherupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand and pearce it: so is Pharaoh King of Egypt vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say vnto me, We trust in the Lord our God: is not that hee, whose hie places and whose altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and said to Iudah and to Ierusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Nowe therefore giue hostages to my lord the king of Ashtur, and I will giue thee two thousand horses, if thou bee able on thy part to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou despise any captaine of the least of my lords seruants? and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the Lord to this land to destroy it? The Lord saide vnto me, Goe vp against this land and destroy it.

11 Then said Eliakim, and Shebna & Ioah vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent mee to thy master, and to thee, to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall? that they may eate their owne dowing, and drinke their owne pisse with you?

13 So Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voyce in the Iewes language, and said, Heare the words of the great King, of the king of Ashtur.

14 Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliuer vs: this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Ashtur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus sayth the king of Ashtur, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that every man may eate of his owne vine, and every man of his owne figtree, and drinke every man the water of his owne well,

17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, euena land of wheate and wine, a land of bread and vineyards,

18 Left Hezekiah deceive you, saying, The Lord will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Ashtur?

19 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who is hee among all the gods of these lands, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lord should deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they kept silence, and answered him not a worde: for the kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellour, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Hezekiah maketh counsell of Isaiah, who promisseth him the victorie, 10 The blasphemie of Sanherib, 16 Hezekihs prayer, 18 The armie of Sanherib is slaine of the Angel, 20 And he himselfe of his owne sinnes.

ND when the King Hezekiah heard it, hee rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and came into the house of the Lord.

2 And hee sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancellour, with the Elders of the Priests, clothed in sackloth vnto Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard the words of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Ashtur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to reproch him with words, which the Lord thy God hath heard, then lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said vnto the, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the king of Ashtur haue blasphemed me.

not the cause. e Declaring that the ministers office doth comforting by the word, but also in praying for the people.

f For the water of their feet.

1 The Thruwd word signifieth blessing, wherby this wicked captaine would haue periwaded the people, that their condition should be better vnder Sanherib then vnder Hezekiah.
m That is of Antiochia in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: wherby we see how euery towne had his peculiar idole, and how the wicked make God an idole, because they do not vnderstand that God maketh them his scourge, and punisheth cities for sinne.
n Not that they did not shew by euident signes that they did detest his blasphemie: for they had now rent their clothes, but they knew it was in vaine to vie long reasoning with this infidell, whose rage they should haue so much more prouoked.

a King, 19. v.
b In signe of grief and repentance.
c To haue comfort of him by the word of God, that his faith might be confirmed and so his prayer bee more earnest: teaching hereby that in all dangers these two are the onely remedies, to seeke vnto God and his ministers.
d That is, will declare by effect that he hath heard it: for when God deserveth to punish, it seemeth to this flesh, that he knoweth not the time, or heareth not anely stand in

1 Of the Egyptians and Ethiopians, that shall come and fight against him.
2 Which was a title toward Egypt, thinking thereby to have flayed the forces of his enemies.

3 Thus God would have him to utter a most horrible blasphemy before his destruction: as to call the author of all strength a deceiver: some gather hereby that Shebush had disclosed unto Saneherib the answer that Isaiah sent to the King.
4 Which was a title in the book of the Kings.
5 Called also Chasse a title in Mesopotamia, whence Abraham came after his fathers death.

6 He groweth his prayer on Gods promise, who promised to hear them from between the Cherubims.
7 Meaning when ten others.
8 He declares for what cause he prayed: namely, might be delivred from wither God might be glorified thereby through all the world.

9 Whom God had chosen to himself as a virgin, and over whom he had care to preserve her from the lust of a heathen tyrant, as a father would have over his daughter.
10 Declaring hereby that they that are enemies to Gods Church, fight against him, whose counsel his Church only maintaineth.
11 He boasteth of his promise in that that he can find means to nourish his armie: and of his power in that that his armie is great, that it is able to doe up whole cities, and to destroy the wicket which the fowles had closed in.

7 Behold, I will send a messenger unto him, and he shall hear a voice, and returne to his owne land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 So Saneherib returned, and found the King of Asshur fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 Hee heard also men cry of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: and when hee heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah King of Iudah, saying, Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the King of Asshur.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the Kings of Asshur have done to all landes in destroying them, and shalt thou be delivred?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivred them, which my fathers have destroyed? as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telassar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the cite of Sepharuaim, Hena, and Iuah?

14 So Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it, and he went up into the house of the Lorde, and Hezekiah spread it before the Lorde.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lorde, saying,

16 O Lord of hostes, God of Israel, which dwellest betweene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone over all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heaven and the earth.

17 Incline thine eares, O Lord, and heare the voice of Saneherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the living God.

18 Truth it is, O Lord, that kings of Asshur have destroyed all lands, and their countrey, 19 And have cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the worke of mens hands, wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Nowe therefore, O Lord our God, save thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lorde.

21 Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed vnto me, concerning Saneherib king of Asshur,

22 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him. The virgin, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn: the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee,

23 Whome hast thou railled on and blasphemed? and against whome hast thou exalted thy voice? and lifted up thine eyes on him? against the holy One of Israel.

24 By thy servants hast thou railled on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my charres I will come up to the top of the mountaines to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the big cedars thereof, and the faire firre trees thereof, and I will goe up to the height of his top, and to the forest of his fruitful places.

25 I have digged, and drunke the waters, and with the plow of my feet have I dried all the rivers closed in.

26 Hast thou not hewed downe I have of olde time made it: and have formed it long agoe? and should I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, and laid on ruinous heapes, cities destroyed?

27 Whose inhabitants have I small power, and are afraid and confounded: they are like the grasse of the field & greene haye, or grasse on the house tops, or corne blasted before it be growen.
28 But I know thy dwelling, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy fure against mee.

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come up vnto mine eares, therefore will I put mine hooke in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lips, and will bring thee backe against the same way thou camest.

30 And this shall be a signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this yeere such as groweth of it selfe: and the second yeere such things as grow without sowing: and in the third yeere, sowe ye and reape, and plant vineyards, and eate the fruit thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shall againe take root downward, and beare fruit vponward.

32 For out of Ierusalem shall goe a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lord of hosts shall doe this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the King of Asshur, hee shall not enter into this cite, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shall returne, & not come into this cite, saith the Lord.

35 For I will defend this cite to save it, for mine owne sake, and for my servant Dauids sake.

36 Then the Angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the campe of Asshur an hundred thre score, and five thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37 So Saneherib king of Asshur departed and went away and returned and dwelt at Nineveh.

38 And as he was in the Temple worshipping of Nisroch his god, Adramelech and Sharraser his sonnes slew him with the sword, and they escaped into the land of Ararat: and Elishahaddou his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 Hezekiah is sick. 2 He is restored to health by the Lord, and is made fifteen yeeres after. 3 He giveth thanks for his benefit.

1 About that time was Hezekiah sick vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiah sonne of Amoz came vnto him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an order, for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3 Heare onely to depend vpon God, and aspire to the heavens. b For his heart was touched with feare of Gods iudgement, seeing he had appointed him to die so quickly after his delivrance from so great calamitie, so one worthy to remember in that estate, and also foreseeing the great change that should come in the Church, forasmuch as he left no sonne to reigne after him: for as yet Manasseh was not borne: and whilst he reigned, we see what a tyrant he was.

1 Signifying, that God made not his Church to destroy it, but to preserve it: and therefore he saith that hee formed it of old, even in his eternal counsell, which cannot be changed. f He sheweth that the state and power of most flourishing cities endureth but a moment in respect of the Church, which shall remaine for ever, because God is the maintainer thereof. t Meaning, his counsells and enterprises. b Because Saneherib shewed himselfe, as a deifying himselfe, and farious beast, he vnderstandeth these similitudes, to teach how he will take him and guide him.

2 Thou shalt tell thy labour. y God himselfe signes after two sorts: firste, before the thing, as the signes that Moses wrought in Egypt, which were for the confirmation of their faith, and some goe after the thing, as the sacrifice, which they were commanded to make three dayes after their departure: & these latter are to keep the benefits of God in our remembrance: of the which sort this here is. 2. He promised that for two yeeres the ground of it selfe should feede them.

a They whom God hath delivred out of the hands of the Assyrians, shall prosper: and this properly belongeth to the Church. b For my promise sake made to David. c King 19. 35. 2. 3. And

And sayd, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.
Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying, Go, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of David thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: behold, I will adde unto thy dayes fiftie yeres.
And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and this citie shall be defend this citie.
And this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe this thing that he hath spoken: Behold, I will bring againe the shadow of the degrees (where by the sunne goeth downe in the diall of Ahaz by the diall) ten degrees backwarde so the sunne returned by ten degrees by the which degrees it was gone downe.
The writing of Hezekiah king of Iudah when he had bene sicke, and was recovered of his sicknesse, saying, O Lord, thou hast said, I will bring againe the shadow of the degrees (where by the sunne goeth downe in the diall of Ahaz by the diall) ten degrees backwarde so
the sunne returned by ten degrees by the which degrees it was gone downe.
I said, I shall not see the Lord, neither Lord in the land of the living: I shall see man more among the inhabitants of the world.
Mine habitation is departed, and is remoued from me, like a shepherds tent: I haue cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off from the heighes from day to night, thou wilt make an end of me.
I reckoned unto the morning, but he brake all my bones like a lyon, from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.
Like a crane in a wallowes did I cha-ce: I did moue as a doole: mine eyes were lift vp on high: O Lord, it hath oppressed mee, comfort me.
What shall I say, for he hath said it to me, and he hath done it: I shall walke weakely all my yeres in the bitterness of my soule.
O Lord, let them that ouerbuoche thee, and to all thine in the childe of my spirit, shall be knowne, that thou canst doe true to thy word, and hast given life to me.
Behold, for felicitie I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sinnes behind thy backe.
For the graue can not confesse thee, death cannot praise thee: they that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy truth.
But the living, O Lord, he shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the children shall declare thy truth.
The Lord was ready to saue mee, therefore we will sing my song, all the dayes of our life in the house of the Lord.

Then said Isaiah, Take a lump of drie figs and lay it upon the boile, and hee shall recover.
Also Hezekiah had said, What is the signe, that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord?
G H A P. XXXIX.
The same time, Merodach Baladan, the sonne of Baladan King of Babel, sent letters, and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recovered.
And Hezekiah was glad of them, & shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, & all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiah shewed them not.
Then came Isaiah the Prophet vnto King
Hezekiah, & said vnto him, What say these men?
and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a farre countrie vnto me, from Babel.
Then said hee, What haue they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seen: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.
And Isaiah saide to Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel:
Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laide vp in store vntill this day, shall be caried into Babel:
nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.
And of thy sonnes, that shall proceed out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the King of Babel.
Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, The word of the Lord is good, which thou hast spoken: and he saide, Yet let there be peace and truth in my dayes.

Every valley shall be exalted, & every moun-

13 God will make change the order of nature, when they should want any thing, that ere to him by true faith in their miseries, declaring to them hereby that they shall lack nothing by the way, when they returne from Babylon.

14 That is, hath appointed, & determined that it shall come to pass.

15 He bindeth the idolaters to prove their religion, & to bring forth their idols that they may be tried whether they know all things, and can do all things, which if they cannot doe, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.

16 So that a man can not make an idole, but he must doe that which God decreeth and abhorreth for hee chuseth his owne delight and foresheweth the Lord.

16 Thou shalt fenne them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whielewind shall scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, and shalt glory in the holy One of Israel.

17 When the poore and the needy seek water, and there is none, their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them.

18 I will open rivers in the tops of the hills, and fountains in the mids of the valleys: I will make the wilderness as a poole of water, and the waste as a spring of water.

19 I will set in the wilderness the cedar, the Sittah tree, and the myrrh tree, & the pine tree, and I will set in the wilderness the firre tree, the elme and boxe tree together.

put my Spirit upon him: hee shall bring forth iudgement to the Gentiles.

2 He shall not cry, nor lift vp, nor cause his voice to be heard in the streets.

3 A bruised reede shall he not break, and the smoking flaxe shall he not quench: he shall bring forth iudgement in truth.

4 He shall not faile, nor be discouraged till hee have set iudgement in the earth: and the iyles shall wait for his Law.

5 Thus saith God the Lord, hee that created the heavens and spread them abroad: hee that stretched forth the earth, and the buds thereof: hee that giueth breath vnto the people upon it, and spirite to them that walke therein.

6 I the Lord have called thee in righteoussesse, and will hold thee in hand, and I will keepe thee, and guide thee for a covenant of the people, and for a light to the Gentiles.

7 That thou mayest open the eyes of the blind, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darknesse, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my glorie will I not giue to another, neither my praise to grauen images.

9 Behold, the former things are come to passe, and new things doe I declare: before they come forth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that go down to the sea, and all that therein is, the yles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the towncs that Kedar doeth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rocks sing, let them shout from the top of the mountaynes.

12 Let them giue glory vnto the Lord, and declare his praise in the ylands.

13 The Lord shall goe forth as a gyant: he shall furre vp his courage like a man of warre, he shall shout and cry, and shall preuaile against his enemies.

14 I have a long time holden my peace: I have benefitt and refrained my selfe: now will I cry like a traueiling woman: I will destroy and de-15 I will make waste mountaynes, and hills, and die vp all their hearbs, and I will make the woods ylands, and I will drie vp the pooles.

16 And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not, and lead them by pathes that they haue not known: I will make darknesse light before them, and crooked things straight, these things will I doe vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned backe, they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and lay to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Heare, yee deafe: and yee blinde, regard that ye may see.

19 Who is blind but my seruant, or deafe as my messenger, that I sent, whose is blinde as the xperite, and blinde as the Lords seruant.

17 The Lord is willing, for his righteousness sake, that he may magnify the law and make it:-
18 But this people is robbed and spoiled, and shall be as if snared in dangerous, and they shall be hid in prison houses, they shall be for a prey, and none shall deliver a spoils, and none shall say: Restors.
19 Who among you shall bring me to this, and take hold, and hence for afterwards?
20 Who gave task for a guilty, & thrust the robbers? Did not the Lord, because we have sinned against him? for they would not walk in his wayes; neither he obedient unto his Law.
21 Therefore he hath poured upon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of his zeal, and it set him on fire round about, and he knew not, and it burned him, yet he considered not.
22 CHAPTER XLII.
The Lord comforteth his people, in the Prophet Isaiah's words.
The Lord. 21 There is no God but I alone.
Do not think thus, O Lord, the Lord that created thee, Do not think, and be not formed thou, O Lord.
Fear not: for I have redeemed thee: I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine.
When thou wast through the waters, I will be with thee, through the floods, they do not overflow thee. When thou wast in the fire, thou wast not consumed, neither shall the fire kindle upon thee.
For I am the Lord thy Lord, the holy one of Israel, thy Saviour, I have Egypt for thy Canaan, Babelia, and Samaria for thee.
Because thou wast weary of my fight, and thou wast honourable, and I loved thee, therefore will I be to thee, as father, and people for thy sake.
Fear not, for I am with thee: I will bring thee from the East, and gather thee from the West.
I will lay to the North, & give I to the South. Keep not back, bring my people from the ends of the earth, every one shall be called by my Name: for I have saved him for my glory, formed him and made him.
I will bring forth the blind people, and they shall have eyes, and the deaf, and they shall have ears.
Let all the nations be gathered together, and the people be assembled: who among them shall declare this, and show former things, let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be justified: but let them say, and say, It is a lie.
Yea, you are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servants whom I have chosen, therefore ye shall know, and believe me, and ye shall understand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.
I, I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Saviour.
I have declared, and I have saved, & I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you, therefore you are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God.
Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliver out of mine hand: I will do it, and who shall let it?

24. Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babel, and to strong hold it down: they are all fugitives, and the Chaldeans cry in the ships.
25. I am the Lord your holy one, the creator of Israel, your King.
26. Thus saith the Lord which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters:
27. When he bringeth out the chariot and horse, the arms and the power lie together, and shall not rise, they are lying, and quivered as towne.
28. Remember ye not the former things, neither regard the things of old.
29. Behold I do a new thing now that it come forth: that you may know that I will even make a way in the desert, and floods in the wilderness.
30. The wilde beasts shall honour mee, the dragons and the ostriches, because I give water in the desert, and floods in the wilderness to give drinke to my people, even to mine elect.
31. This people have I formed for my selfe: they shall shew forth my praise.
32. And thou hast not called upon mee, O Iakob: but thou hast wearied me, O Israel.
33. Thou hast not brought me the sheepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honored me with thy sacrifice. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.
34. Thou boughtest me no sweet savour with money, neither hast thou made me drunke with the smell of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thy sins, and wearied me with thine iniquities.
35. I, even I, am hee that putteth away thine iniquities for mine owne sake, and will not remember thy finnes.
36. Put me in remembrance: let vs be iudged together: whether or that thou mayst be iustified.
37. Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers have transgessed against me.
38. Therefore I have prophesied the rulers of the Samaritanie, and have made Iakob a curse, and Israel a reproch.

Sit ſtill, and get thee into darkeneſſe, O daughter of the Caldeans: for thou ſhalt no more

I was wroth with my people: I haue polluted

But theſe two things ſhal come to thee ſufor the great abundance of thine inchanters.

For thou haſt truſted in thy wickedneſſe:
thou haſt ſaid, None ſeeh me. Thy wiſdome and thou haſt ſaid in thine heart, I am, and none els.

Therefore ſhall euill come vpon thee, and thou ſhalt not know the morning thereof: de-vpon thee ſuddenly, or thou beware.

Stand now among thine inchanters, and in thou haſt wearied thy ſelfe from thy youth) if ſo

Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy

CHAP. XLVIII.

The hypocriſie of the Iewes is reſproued. The Lord alone will be worſhipped. Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

Heare yee this, O houſe of Iaakob, which are called by the name of Iſrael, and are come out of the waters of Iudah: which ſweare by the Name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Iſrael, but not in trueth nor in righteouſneſſe.

For they are called of the holy citie, and ſtay themſelves vpon the God of Iſrael, whoſe
Name is the Lord of hoſtes.

I haue declared the former things of old, &
they went out of my mouth, & I ſhewed them:
I did them ſuddenly, and they came to paſſe.

4 Because I knew that thou art obſtinate, & thy necke is an yron ſinew, and thy brow braſſe,

Therefore I haue declared it to thee of old:
before it came to paſſe, I ſhewed it thee, leſt thou ſhouldeſt ſay, Mine idole hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

Thou haſt heard, behold all this, and will not yee declare it? I haue ſhewed thee new things, euen now, and hid things, which thou kneweſt not.

They are created now, and not of old, and euen before this thou heardeſt them not, leſt thou ſhouldeſt ſay, Behold, I knew them.

Yet thou heardeſt them not, neither diſdeſt know them, neither yet was thine eare opened of old: for I knew that thou wouldeſt grievouſly tranſgreſſe: therefore haue I called thee a tranſ-greſſour from the wombe.

For my Names ſake wil I deferre my wrath, and for my praiſe wil I refraine it from thee, that I cut thee not off.

Behold, I haue ſined thee, but not as ſiluer:
I haue choſen thee in the furnace of affliction.

For mine owne ſake, for mine owne ſake wil I do it: for how ſhould my Name be polluted? ſurely I wil not giue my glory vnto another.

Heare me, O Iaakob and Iſrael, my called,
I am, I am the firſt, and I am the laſt.

Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath ſpanned the heauens: when I cal them, they ſtand vp together.

All you, aſſemble your ſelues, and heare:
which among them hath declared theſe things?
The Lord hath loued him: he wil doe his wil in Babel, and his arme ſhalbe againſt the Chaldeans.

I, euen I haue ſpoken it, and I haue called him, I haue brought him, & his way ſhal proſper.

Come neere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not ſpoken it in ſecret from the beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his Spirit hath ſent me.

Thus ſaith the Lord thy redeemer, the Holy one of Iſrael, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee to profit, and leade thee by the way that thou ſhouldeſt goe.

Oh, that thou hadſt hearkened to my commandments! then had thy proſperitie bin as the flood, & thy righteouſſies as the waves of the ſea.

Thy ſeed alſo had bene as the ſand, and the fruite of thy body like the grauell thereof: his name ſhould not haue bene cut off nor deſtroyed before me.

Goe yee out of Babel: ſee yee from the Chaldeans with a voyce of ioy: tell and declare this: ſhew it forth to the end of the earth: ſay ye,
The Lord hath redeemed his ſeruant Iaakob.

And they were not thiſtful: he led them thorow the wilderneſſe: he cauſed the waters to flow out of the rocke for them: for he claue the rocke, and the water guſhed out.

There is no peace, ſaith the Lord, vnto the wicked.

What things ſhall doe thee good, & I haue the proſperous ſtate of Iſrael.

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen, to loose the bands of wickednesse, to take off the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that ye breake every yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cower him, and hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy light shew forth as the morning, & thine health as the full flower: thy righteousness shall be as the light, and the glory of the Lord shall be as the sun.

9 Then shall thou call, and the Lord shall answer: thou shalt say, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from the mids of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou powre out thy soule to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the darknes, and thy darknes shall be as the noonday.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, & make fat thy bones: and thou shalt bee like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shall be of thee, that shall build the olde waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for many generations, & thou shalt be called the repaire of the breach, and the restorer of the pathes to dwell in.

13 If thou turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine Holy day, and call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne wayes, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word,

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. 11 The confession of sinners. 16 God alone will preferre his Church though all men faile.

BEhold, the Lords hand is not shortened, that it cannot saue: neither is his care heauy, that it cannot heare.

2 But your iniquities haue separated betwene you and your God, and your sinnes haue hid his face from you, that he will nor heare.

3 For your handes are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lips haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquitie.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for trueth: they trust in vanity, & speake vaine things: they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquitie.

5 They hatch cockatrice^d egges, and weaue the spiders web: he that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trode vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webs shall be no garment, neither shall they couer themselves with their labors: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie is in their hands.

7 They shall runne to euill, and they make hallo to their innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is no quietnes in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: wholoeuer goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is iudgement farre from vs, neither doth iustice come neere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo it is darkenes: for brightnes, but we walke in darkenesse.

10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitary places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like beares, and mourne like doves: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of cruelty and rebellion, concerning and vttering out of the heart false matters.

14 Therefore is iudgement turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off: for trueth is fallen in the street, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Yea, trueth faileth, and he that refraineth from euill, maketh himselfe a pray: and when the Lord saw it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when he saw that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe.

17 Therefore his arme did he saue it, and his righteousness he did sustaine it.

18 For he put on righteousness, as an habergeon, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, & he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

19 As to make recompence, as to requite the fury of the aduersaries with a recompence to his enemies: he will fully repay the ylands.

20 So shall they feare the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glory from the rising of the Sunne: for the enemy shall come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord shall chafe him away.

21 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto them that turne from iniquitie in Iacob, saith the Lord.

22 And I will make this my Couenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my words, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of the seed of thy seed, saith the Lord, from hence forth euen for euer.

23 Because the doctrine is made profitable by the vertue of the Spirit, he saith that the one with the other, and promitteth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

laurels and seekes thy wealth and prosperitie. s Meaning, with a temporall see-desire, but a spiritual, which is fulfilled in Christ kingdome.

Lord shall arise vpon thee, and his glory shall be seene vpon thee.

4 And the Gentiles that walke in thy light, and Kings at the brightnesse of thy rising vp.

5 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and behold:
all these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sonnes shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

6 Then thou shalt see and shine: thy heart shall be astonished and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be converted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

7 The multitude of camels shall coner thee:
and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah: all they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring golde and incense, and shew forth the prayes of the Lord.

8 All the sheepe of Kedar shall be gathered vnto thee: the rams of Nebaioth shall serue thee:
they shall come vp to be accepted vpon mine altar: and I will beautifie the house of my glory.

9 Who are these that flie like a cloude, and as the doves to their windowes?

10 Surely the yles shall waite for me, and the ships of Tarshish, as at the beginning, that they may bring thy sonnes from farre, and their siluer, and their golde with them vnto the Name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

11 And the sonnes of strangers shall build vp thy walles, and their Kings shall minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

12 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually: neither day nor night shall they be shut, that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

13 For the nation and the kingdome, that will not serue thee, shal perish: and those nations shall be utterly destroyed.

14 The glory of Lebanon shall come vnto thee: the firre tree, the elme, and the boxe tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for
I will glorifie the place of my feet.

15 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall downe at the soles of thy feete: and they shall call thee, The cite of the Lord, Zion of the holy one of Israel.

16 Whereas thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternall glory, & a joy from generation to generation.

17 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the breasts of Kings:
and thou shalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the Mightie one of Iaakob.

18 For brasie will I bring golde, and for yron will I bring siluer: and for wood brasie, and for stones yron. I will also make thy gouernement peace, and thine exactours righteousnesse.

19 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither defolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call saluation; thy walles, and praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more Sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightnesse of the Moone shine vnto thee: for the Lord shall be thine euerlasting light, and thy God, thy glory.

20 Thy Sunne shall neuer goe downe, neither shall thy Moone bee hid: for the Lord shall be thine euerlasting light, and the dayes of thy so-row shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall possesse the land for ever, the graffe of my planting shall be the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a thousand, and a small one as a strong nation: the Lord wil hasten it in due time.

CHAP. LX.

His prophesie that Cyrus king of Persia, and sent to preach,
: An. 520. 530. of the first.

He Spirit of the Lord God is vpon mee,
I therefore hath the Lord annointed mee: he hath sent mee to preach good tydings vnto the poore, to bind vp the broken hearted, to preach libertie to the captiues, and to them that are bound the opening of the prison,

2 To preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,

3 To appoint vnto them that mourne in Zion, and to giue vnto them beautie for ashes, the oyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of glad-nesse for the spirit of heauinesse, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall build the olde waste places, and raise vp the former desolations, and they shal repaire the cities that were desolate and waste through many generations.

5 And the strangers shall stand and feede your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall be your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord, and I men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God: Ye shall eate the riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glory.

7 For your shame you shall receive double, and for confusion, they shall reioyce in their portion: for in their land they shall possesse the double: euerlasting ioy shall be vnto them.

8 For I the Lord loue iudgement, and hate a robberie for burnt offering, & I will direct their worke in truth, and wil make an euerlasting couenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their buddes among the people: All that see them, shall know them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I will greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my soule shall be ioyfull in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of saluation, & cou-ered me with the robe of righteousness: he hath decked me like a bridegrome, & as a bride tyeth herselfe with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sown in it: so the Lord God wil cause righteousnes to grow, and praise before all the heathen.

CHAP. LXII.

1 The great desire that the Prophets haue had for Christes coming. 6 The allegorie of the Passions in preache.

A The Prophet saith that he will neuer cease to declare vnto the people the good tidings of their deliuerance.

B Till they haue full deliuerance: and this the Prophet speaketh to encourage al other ministers to the setting forth of Gods mercies toward his Church.

C Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto.

D He shall esteeme thee as deare and precious as a King doeth his crowne.

E Thou shalt no more be contented as a woman forsaken of her husband.

For my delight in her.

F That it may be replenished with children.

G Forsomuch as they confesse one faith and Religion with thee they are in the same bond of marriage with thee.

H And they are called the children of the Church, in as much as Christ maketh her plente- full to bring forth children vnto him.

I Prophets, Pa- stors, and Mini- sters.

K He exhorteth the Ministers neuer to cease to call vpon God by pray- er for the deli- uerance of his Church, and to teach others to do the same.

L For the restoration whereof all the world shall praise him.

M Signifying the great number that should come to the Church, and what meanes he would prepare for the restitution of the same, as Chap. 57. 14.

N Yee Prophets and Ministers shew the people of this their deliuerance: which was chiefly meant of our saluation by Christ, Zech. 9. 9. Matt. 21. 5.

O He shall haue all power to bring his purpose to passe, as Chap. 40. 10.

P That is, one our whose God hath had a singular care to recover her when she was lost.

Q This prophetic is against the Idu- means and ene- mies which perse- cuted the Church, on whom God will take venge- ance, and is here set forth all bloody after that he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe citie of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, & vnder the title of circumcision and the kindred of Abraham claimed to themselves the chiefe religion, and hated the true worshippers, Psal. 137. 7.

R God answereth them that asked this question, Who is this? &c: and saith, Yee see now performed in deed the vengeance which my Prophets threatened.

F Or Zions sake I will not hold my tongue, and for Ieruselems sake I will not rest, vntill thy righteousness thereof breake forth as the light, and saluation thereof as a burning lampe.

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all Kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a crowne of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royall diademe in the hand of thy God.

4 It shall no more be said vnto thee, Forsaken, neither shall it be said any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called // Hephzi-bah, and thy land // Beulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall haue an husband.

5 For as a yong man marieth a virgin, so shall thy sonnes marry thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy wall, O Ierusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease: yea that are mind- full of the Lord, keepe not silence.

7 And giue him no rest, till he repaire and vntill he see vpon Ierusalem the praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworne by his right hand and by his strong arme, Surely I will no more giue thee to be meat for thine enemies, and surely the sonnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shall eate it, and prayse the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drinke it in the courts of my Sanctuary.

10 Goe through, goe through the gates: prepare you the way for the people: cast vp, cast vp the way, and gather out the stones, and let vp a standart for the people.

11 Beholde, the Lord hath proclaimed vnto the ends of the world, tel the daughter Zion, Behold, thy Saviour commeth: Behold, his wages is with him, and his worke is before him.

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, the redeemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A citie sought out and not forsaken.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 God shall destroy his enemies for his Churches sake. 7 Gods benefitt toward his Church.

VV Ho is this that cometh from Edom, with red garments from Bozrah? hee is glorious in his apparel, and walketh in his great strength. I speak in righteousness, and am mighty to saue.

2 Wherefore is thine apparell red, & thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine-press?

3 He hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe citie of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, & vnder the title of circumcision and the kindred of Abraham claimed to themselves the chiefe religion, and hated the true worshippers, Psal. 137. 7.

4 God answereth them that asked this question, Who is this? &c: and saith, Yee see now performed in deed the vengeance which my Prophets threatened.

5 Another question, to the which the Lord answereth.

3 I haue troden the wine-press alone, and of all people there was none with mee: for I will tread them in mine anger, and tread them vnder foote in my wrath, & their blood shall be sprinkled vpon my garments, and I will staine all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the yeere of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine owne arme helped mee, and my wrath it selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I will tread downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunken in mine indignation, and will bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I will remember the mercies of the Lord, and the prayes of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnesse toward the house of Israel, which hee hath giuen them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

8 For hee sayd, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so hee was their Saviour.

9 In all their troubles hee was troubled, and the Angel of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie he redeemed them, and hee bare them and caryed them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to bee their enemy, and he fought against them.

11 Then he remembered the old time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is hee that brought them vp out of the sea with the shepherd of his sheepe? Where is hee that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 Hee led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, to make himselfe an euermlasting Name.

13 Hee ledde them through the deepe, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord gaue them rest: so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 Lookedowne from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holinesse, and of thy glory. Where is thy zeale & thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassions? they are retrained from me:

16 Doubtlesse thou art our Father: though Abraham be ignorant of vs, and Israel know vs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy Name is for euer.

17 O Lord, why hast thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holinesse haue possessed this pasture. P Having declared Gods benefittes shewed to their forefa- thers, he turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces toward them.

Q Thy great affection, which thou barest towards vs. R Meaning, from the whole body of the Church. S Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our father.

T By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs, by whom wee were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude didst deliue vs vp to our owne conceit, and didst punish sinne by sinne according to thy iust iudgement. U Meaning, for the Couenants sake made to Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob his seruants.

D Shewing, that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profite and deliuerance of his Church.

E God sheweth that he hath no neede of mans helpe for the deli- uerance of his,

and though men refuse to do their duetie through negligence and ingratitude, yet he himselfe will deli- uer his Church, and punish the enemies, reade Chap. 59. 16.

F I will not astonish them, and make them so giddy, that they shall not know which way to goe.

G The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember Gods benefittes in times past, that they may be confir- med in their troubles.

H For I did chuse them to be mine, that they should be holy, and not deueine mine expectation.

I He bare their afflictions, and griefes as though they had been his owne.

K Which was a witnesse of Gods presence, and this may be referred to Christ, to whom belongeth the office of Saluation.

L That is, the people of Israel, being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefittes, which he had be- stowed vpon their fathers in times past.

M Meaning Moses.

N That is, in Mo- ses that he might well gouerne the people: some re- ferre this giuing of the Spirit to the people.

O Peaceably and gently, as an horse is led to his pasture.

P Having declared Gods benefittes shewed to their forefa- thers, he turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces toward them.

Q Thy great affection, which thou barest towards vs.

R Meaning, from the whole body of the Church.

S Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our father.

T By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs, by whom wee were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude didst deliue vs vp to our owne conceit, and didst punish sinne by sinne according to thy iust iudgement.

U Meaning, for the Couenants sake made to Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob his seruants.

21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.
22 They shall not build, and another inhabit: they shall not plant, and another eate: for as the dayes of the tree are the dayes of my people, and mine elect shall inioy in olde age the worke of their hands.
23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor bring forth in feare: for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their buds with them.
24 Yeare before they call, I will answer, and whiles they speake, I will heare.
25 The wolfe and the lambe shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and to the serpent dust shall be his meat. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in al mine holy Mountaine, saith the Lord.

CHAP. LXVI.

a God dwelleth now in Temples made with hands. b He despiseth sacrifices done without mercy and faith. c God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. d The vocation of the Gentiles. e The perpetual Sabbath. f The punishment of the wicked is never lasting.

Thus sayth the Lord. * The heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footstole: where is that house that ye wil build vnto me? & where is that place of my rest?

2 For all these things hath mine hand made, and all these things haue bene, saith the Lord: & to him will I looke, even to him that is poore, and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my wordes.

3 He that killeth a bullocke, as if he slew a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe, as if he cut off a dogges neck: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines blood: he that remembreth incense, as if the blessed an idole: yea, they haue chosen their owne wayes, and their soule delighteth in their abominations.

4 Therefore will I chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called and none would answer: I spake, and they would not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

5 Heare the word of the Lord, all yee that tremble at his word, Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my Names sake, said, Let the Lord bee glorified: but hee shall appeare to your ioy, and they shall be ashamed.

6 A voyce foundeth from the citie, euen a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lord, that recompenseth his enemies fully.

7 Before she trauelled, she brought forth:

and before her paine came, she was deliuered of a man childe.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? shall the earth be brought forth in one day? or shall a nation be borne at once? for assoone as Zion traueiled, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I cause to trauell, and not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth, and shall be barren, saith thy God?

10 Reioyce ye with Ierusalem, & be glad with her: all ye that loue her: reioice for ioy with her, all ye that mourne for her,

11 That ye may sucke, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolation: that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the brightnesse of her glory.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will extend peace ouer her like a flood, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing streame: then shall ye sucke, ye shall be borne vpon her sides, and be ioyfull vpon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Ierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your hearts shall reioyce, and your bones shall flourish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shall be known among his seruants, & his indignation against his enemies.

15 For beholde, the Lord will come with fire, and his chariots like a whirwinde, that he may recompense his anger with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lord will iudge with fire, & with his sword all flesh, and the slaine of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctifie themselves, and purifie themselves in the gardens behinde one tree in the mids eating swines flesh, & such abomination, euen the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.

18 For I will visit their works, and their imaginations, for it will come that I will gather all nations, and tongues, and they shall come, and see my glory.

19 And I will set a signe among them, and will send those that escape of them vnto the nations of Tarsith, & Pul, and Lud, and to them that draw the bow, to Tubal and Iauan, yles a farre off, that haue not heard my fame, neither haue seene my glory, and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all nations, vpon shorses, and in chariots, and in horse-litters, and vpon mules, and swift beasts, to Ierusalem mine holy Mountaine, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel offer in a cleane vessell in the House of the Lord.

21 And I will take of them for Priests, and for Levites, saith the Lord.

I hereby be signified the kingdom of Christ wherein his Church shall be renewed, and where as before there were appointed seasons to sacrifice, in this there shall be one continuall Sabbath, so that all times and seasons shall be meete.

22 For as the new heavens, and the new earth, which I will make, shall remaine before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name continue.

23 And from moneth to moneth, and from Sabbath to Sabbath shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 And they shall goe forth, and looke vpon the carkasses of the men that haue transgressed against me: for their worme shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and they shall be an abhorring vnto all flesh.

As he hath declared the felicitie that shall be within the Church for the comfort of the godly, so doth he shew what horrible calamities shall come to the wicked, that are out of the Church. I Meaning a continuall torment of conscience, which shall ever gnaw them and neuer suffer them to be at rest, Marke 9. 44. IEREMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet Jeremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whome some thinke to bee hee that found out the booke of the Lawe, and gave it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most euident reuelations of prophesie, so that by the commandement of the Lord hee beganne very young to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah, and continued eightene yeeres vnder the sayd King, and thre moneths vnder Iehoaiaz, and vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeeres, and thre moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeeres: vnto the time that they were carried away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboue fourtie yeeres, besides the time that hee prophesied after the captiuitie. In this booke hee declareth with teares and lamentation, the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, conuersion, subtiltie, crueltie, excess, rebellion, and contempt of Gods word, and for the consolation of the Church reuealeth the iust time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things: First the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more stubborne and obstinate, when the Prophets do admonish them most plainly of their destruction. Next how the Prophets and Ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly though God shew his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet will hee euer steme himselfe a preseruer of his Church, and when all meanes seeme to manie iudgement to be abolished, then will hee declare himselfe victorious in preserving his.

CHAP. I.

In what time Jeremiah prophesied. 6 Hee acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is strengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lords strength him: he destruction of Ierusalem. 17 He commandeth him to preach his word without feare.

He words of Jeremiah the sonne of Hilkiah one of the Priests that were at Anathoth in the land of Benjamin.

To whom the word of the Lord came in the dayes of Iosiah the sonne of Amon King of Iudah in the thirteenth yeere of his reigne:

And also in the dayes of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah vnto the end of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, euen vnto the carrying away of Ierusalem captiue in the fift moneth.

Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Before I formed thee in the wombe, I knew thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, and ordained thee to be a Prophet vnto the nations.

Then said I, Oh Lord God, behold, I can not speake, for I am a childe.

But the Lord said vnto me, Say not, I am a childe: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee, shalt thou speake.

Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

Then the Lord stretched out his hand, and touched my mouth, and the Lord said vnto me, Behold, I haue put my words in thy mouth.

Behold, this day haue I set thee over the nations, and ouer the kingdomes, to plucke vp, and to root out, and to destroy, & throw downe, to build, and to plant.

After this, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree.

Then said the Lord vnto mee, Thou hast seene aright: for I will hasten my worde to performe it.

Again the word of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I saide, I see a seething pot looking out of the North.

Then said the Lord vnto mee, Out of the North shall a plague be spread vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and euerie one shall set his throne in the entering of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles thereof round about, and in all the citie of Iudah.

And I will declare vnto them my iudgements touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne hands.

Thou therefore truste vp thy loynes, and arise and speake vnto them all that I command be as a pot to seethe the Iewes which boyled in their pleasures and lusts. o Syria and Assyria were Northward in respect of Ierusalem, which were the Caldeans dominion. p I wil giue them charge & power to execute my vengeance against the idolaters which haue forsaken me for their idoles.

Which declareth that God maketh them meete, and assureth them, whom he calleth to set forth his glory: giuing them all meanes necessary for the same, Exod. 4. 12. Isa. 6. 7.

He sheweth what is the authority of Gods true ministers, which by his word haue power to beat down whatsoeuer lieth it selfe vp against God: and to plant and assure the humble, and such as giue themselves to the obedience of Gods word, 1. Corin. 10. 4. Ebr. 4. 12. and these are the keyes which Christ hath left loose, and bind, Mat. 18. 18.

He ioyneth the signe with the word, for a more ample confirmation: signifying by the rod of the Almond tree, which first buddeth, the hasty coming of the Babylonians against the Iewes. In Signifying, that the Caldeans, and Assyrians should

d This is spoken to confirme his vocation and office, forasmuch as he did not presume of himselfe, to preach and prophesie, but was called thereunto by God.

e Meaning, the nephew of Iosiah: for Iehoaiaz was his father, who reigned but thre moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Ioaquin that reigned no longer. f Of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, who was also called Mattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were carried away into Babylon by Nebuchad-nezzar. g The scripture reueth this manner of speech, to declare that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne, as Isa. 49. 1. gal. 1. 15. h For Jeremiah did not only prophesie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations. i Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatening should come vpon the world, hee was mooued with a certaine compassion on the one side to pittie them that should thus perish, and on the other side by the infinitie of mans nature, knowing how hard a thing it was to encrease such a charge, as Isa. 6. 11. Exod. 3. 11. and 4. 1.

CHAP. II.

a God rebearseth his faithfuls done vnto the Iewes. b Against the priests and selfe prophets. 12 The Iewes are destroyed because they forsake God.

Where the worde of the Lords came vnto me, saying,

2 Goe and cry in the eares of Ierusalem saying, Thus sayth the Lord, I remember thee, with the kindeesse of thy youth, and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness: in a land that was not sowed.

3 Israel was as a thing hallowed vnto the Lord, and his first fruits: all they that eate it, shall offend: euill shall come vpon them, sayth the Lord.

4 Heare ye the word of the Lord, O house of Iacob, and al the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus sayth the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers found in mee, that they are gone farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become vaine?

6 For they sayd not, Where is the Lord that brought vs vp out of the land of Egypt, that led vs through the wilderness, through a desert, and waste land, through a drie land, and by the shadowe of death, by a lande that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentifull country, to eat the fruit thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Priests said not, Where is the Lord? and they that should minister the Lawe, knewe me not: the pastors also offended against me, and the prophets prophesied in Baal, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I will yet plead with you, sayth the Lord, and I will pleade with your childrens children.

10 For goe ye to the yles of Chittim, and beholde, and send vnto Kedar, and take diligent heed, and see whether there be such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their glory, for that which doeth not profite.

12 O yee heauens, be astonied at this: be afraid and utterly confounded, sayth the Lord.

13 For my people haue committed two euils: they haue forsaken mee: the fountaine of liuing waters, to digge them pits, even broken pits that can hold no water.

14 Is Israel a seruant, or is he borne in the house? why then is he spoiled?

15 The Lions roared vpon him and yelled, and they haue made his land waste: his cities are burnt without an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Noph and Tahapanes haue broken thine head.

17 Hast not thou procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to do in the way of Egypt? to drinke the water of Nilus? or what maketh thou in the way of Asshur? to drinke the water of the Riuer?

19 Thine owne wickednesse shall correct thee, and thy turnings backe shall reprocue thee: know therefore and beholde, that it is an euill thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, sayth the Lord God of hosts.

20 For of old time I haue broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds; and thou saidst, I will no more transgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all bie hills, & vnder all greene trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, whose plants were all natural: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquitie is marked before me, sayth the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I folowed Baalim? beholde thy waies in the valley, and know what thou hast done: thou art like a swift dromedarie, that runneth by his wayes:

24 And as a wilde asse vsed to the wilderness that smelleth vp the winde by occasion as her pleasure: who can turne her backe? all they that seek her, will not wearie themselves, but will finde her in her month.

25 Keepe thou thy fette from barenesse, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst desperately, No, for I haue loued strangers, and them will I follow.

26 As the thiefe is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes and their priests, and their prophets,

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my father, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can helpe thee

h Meaning, that hypocrites denie that they worship the idoles, but that they honour God in them, and therefore they call their doings Gods seruice.

i He compareth the idolaters to these beasts, because they neuer cease running to and fro: for both valleys and hills are full of their idolatry.

k He compareth the idolaters to a wilde asse: for he can neuer be tamed, nor yet wearied for as the runneth, he can take her wind at every occasion.

l That is, when he is with foale, & therefore the hunters waite their time: so though thou canst not be turned backe now from thine idolatry, yet when thine iniquity shall be at the full, God will meete with thee.

m Hereby he warneth them, that they should not goe into strange countries to seeke helpe for they should but spend their labour, and hurt themselves, which is here meant by the bare foot and thirst.

n As a thiefe will not acknowledge his fault, till he be taken with the deed, and ready to be punished, so they will not cease their idolatry, till the plague do to the same light vpon them.

o Meaning, that idolaters spoyle God of his honour: and whereas he hath taught to call him the father of all flesh, they attribute this title to their idoles.

m That is, spake vaine things, & brought the people from the true worship of God to seruie idoles: for by Baal, which was the chiefe idole of the Moabites, are meant all idoles.

o Meaning the Grecians and Italians.

q That is, God which is their glory, and who maketh them glorious about all other people: reproouing the Iewes that they were lesse diligent to serue the true God, then were the idolaters to honour their vanities.

Your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete vnto me. 14 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shall fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shall perish. 15 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people cometh from the North country, and a great nation shall arise from the sides of the earth. 16 With bow and shield shall they be weaponed: they are cruell and will haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses well appointed, like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion. 17 We haue heard their fame, and our hands waxe feeble: sorow is come vpon vs, as the sorow of a woman in trauaile. 18 Go not forth into the field, nor walke by the way: for the sword of the enemy and feare is on euery side.

19 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thy selfe in the ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mourning, as for thine onely sonne: for the destroyer shall suddenly come vpon vs. 20 I haue set thee for a defence and fortreffe among my people, that thou mayest know and try their wayes. 21 They are all rebellious traitours, walking craftily: they are brasse and yron, they all are destroyers. 22 The bellows are burnt: the lead is consumed in the fire: the founder melteth in vaine: for the wicked are not taken away. 23 They shall call them reprobate siluer, because the Lord hath reiected them.

T He wordes that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying, 2 Stand in the gate of the Lords house, and cry this word there, and say, Heare the word of the Lord, all yee of Iudah that enter in at these gates to worship the Lord. 3 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Amend your wayes and your works, and I will let you dwell in this place. 4 Trust not in lying words, saying, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord. 5 For if you amend and redresse your wayes and your workes: if you execute iudgement betwene a man and his neighbour, 6 And oppresse not the stranger, the fatherlesse, and the widow, and shed no innocent blood in this place, neither walke after other gods to your destruction, 7 Then will I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers for euer and euer. 8 Behold, you trust in lying wordes, that cannot profit. 9 Will you steale, murder, and commit adultery, and sweare falsely, and burne incense vnto Baal, and walke after other gods whom ye know not? 10 And come and stand before mee in this House, whereupon my Name is called, and say, We are deliuered, though we haue done all these abominations? 11 Is this house become a denne of thieues, whereupon my Name is called before your eyes? Behold, quen I see it saith the Lord. 12 But goe ye now vnto my place which was in Shilo, where I set my Name at the beginning, and behold what I did to it for the wickednesse of my people Israel. 13 Therefore now because yee haue done all these workes, saith the Lord, (and I will rooke vpon you) I will speake vnto you: but when I speake, ye would not heare me, neither when I called would ye answer. 14 Therefore euen vnto the place that I gaue to you, and to your fathers as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight as I haue cast out all your brethren, euen the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp cry or prayer for them, neither intreate me, for I will not heare thee.

17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women kneade the dough to make cakes to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke me to anger, sayeth the Lord, and northemselues to the confusion of their

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, mine anger and my wrath shall be powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the field, and vpon the fruite of the ground, and it shall burne and not bee quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will be your God, and yee shall be my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may bee well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels of the stubburnnesse of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early euery day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me nor encline their eare, but hardened their necke, & did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these words vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also cry vnto them, but they will not an-swere thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiuerh discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine o haire, O Ierusalem, and cast it away, and take vp a complaint on the hie places: for the Lord hath reiected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Iudah haue done euill in my sight, sayeth the Lord: they haue set their abominations in the House, whereupon my Name is called to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the hie place of Tophet, which is in the valley of Ben-Hinnom, to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore behold, the dayes come, sayeth

the Lord, that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Tophet all their beasts of the earth, & none shall pray them away.

33 And the carkeises of this people shall be meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth, & none shall pray them away.

34 Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Iudah, and from the streetes of Ierusalem the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

CHAP. VILL

The destruction of the tower, & The Lord moueth the people to amendment. 1. He reproveheth the lying doctrine and the counselles of the Prophets and Priests.

At that time, sayeth the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Iudah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the Priests, and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their graves.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne, and the moone, and all the host of heauen, whom they haue loued, and whom they haue serued, and whom they haue followed, and whom they haue sought, and whom they haue worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shall be as doing vpon the earth.

3 And death shall bee desired rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scattered them, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

4 Thou shalt say vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem turned backe by a perpetuall rebellion? they gaue themselues to deceit, and would not returne.

6 I haue marked and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What haue I done? euery one turned to their race, as the hord rusheth into the battell.

7 Euen the stork in the ayre knoweth her made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vaine.

9 The wise men are ashamed: they are afraid and taken: loe, they haue reiected the word of the

He speaketh in the person of the people, who when the enemy cometh, will runne about to hide themselves, and acknowledge that it is Gods hand. k That is, hath brought vs into extreme affliction, and thus they shal not attribute this plague to fortune but to Gods iust judgement. Chap. vii. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. I Read Chap. 4. 15. vs God threatneth to send the Babylois among them, who shall utterly destroy them in such sort, as by no means they shall escape. n Reside Chap. 4. 19. o Thus the Lord speaketh. p The people wonder that they haue so long time looked for succor in vaine. q The Prophet speaketh this. r Meaning that no mans helpe or meanes could saue them: for in Gilead was precious balme, Chap. 4. 6. 11. or els deriding the vaine confidence of the people, who looked for helpe at their Priests, who should haue been the Physicians of their soules, and dwelt at Gilead, Hof. 6. 8.

The Prophet sheweth the great compassion that he had toward this people, seeing that he could neuer sufficiently lament the destruction that he sawe to hang ouer them. Which is a special note to discerne the true pastours from the hirelings. Reside Chap. 4. 19. b He sheweth that this were more quietnesse and greater safety for him to dwell among the wilde beasts then among this wicked people: for that God hath iudged him this charge. c Vttrly turned from God. d To belie and slander their neighbours. e Meaning that all were corrupt, and none could finde an honest man. f They haue so practised deceit that they cannot forsake it. g They had rather forsake God, then leaue their wicked trade.

13 I will surely confound them, saith the Lord: there shall be no grapes on y vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the lease shall fade, and the things that I haue giuen them shall depart from them.

14 Why doe we stay? assemble your selues, and let vs enter into the strong cities, & let vs be quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water with gall to drinke, because we haue sinned against the Lord.

15 We looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and behold troubles.

16 The neyng of his horses was heard from Dan, the whole land trembled, at the noyse of the neyng of his strong horses: for they are come, and haue deuoured the land with all that is in it, the city, and those that dwell therein.

17 For beholde, I will send serpents and cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall sting you, saith the Lord.

18 I would haue comforted my selfe against sorrow, but mine heart is heauy in me.

19 Behold the voice of the crie of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a far countrey, Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her king in her? Why haue they prouoked mee to anger with their grauen images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The harvest is past, the Summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am sore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people, I am heauy, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balme at Gilead? is there no Physician there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

Oh, that my head were full of water, and mine eyes a fountain of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the slaine of the daughter of my people.

Oh, that I had in the wilderness a cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people, and goe from them: for they be all adulterers, and an assembly of rebels,

And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lyes: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceed from euill to worse, and they haue not knowen mee, saith the Lord.

Let every one take heede of his neighbour, and trust you not in any brother: for every brother will vse deceit, and euery friend will deale deceitfully,

And euery one will deceine his friend, and will not speake the truth: for they haue taught their tongues to speak lyes, and take great paines to do wickedly.

Thine habitation is in the middes of deuiuers: because of their deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

Therefore thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will melt them, and trye them: for what should I else doe for the daughter of my people?

Their tongue is as an arrow shot out, and speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart hee layeth waite for him.

Shall I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soule bee auenged on such a nation as this?

Vpon the mountaines will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt vp, so that none can passe thorow them, neither can men heare the voyce of the flocke: both the soule of the aire, and the beast are fled away and gone.

And I will make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, & I will make the cities of Iudah waste without an inhabitant.

Who is wise to vnderstand this? and to whom the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, euen he shall declare it. Why doth the land perish, and is burnt vp like a wilderness, that none passe thorow?

And the Lord saith, because they haue forsaken my Law, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voice, neither walked thereafter,

But haue walked after the stubburnesse of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which their fathers taught them,

Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed this people with wormewood, and giue them waters of gall to drinke:

I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers haue known, and I will send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Take heed, and call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skilfull women, that they may come.

And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares, and our eye-liddes gush out of water.

For a lamentable noyse is heard out of Zion, How are we destroyed, and vttrly confounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings haue cast vs out,

Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, & teach your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

For death is come vp into our windows, and is entred into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the young men in the streetes.

Speake, Thus saith the Lord, The carkeises of men shall lie, euen as the downe vpon the field, and as the handfull after the mower, and none shall gather them.

Thus sayeth the Lord, Let not the wife man glory in his wisdom, nor the strong man glory in his strength, neither the rich man glory in his riches.

But let him that glorieth, glorie in this, that he vnderstandeth and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which shewe mercy, iudges, and Signifying that all the places about Ierusalem should be destroyed.

Meaning that they are all without sense & vnderstanding and that God hath taken his spirit fro them. He sheweth that the children cannot excuse themselves by their fathers: for both father and child if they be wicked, shall perish.

Read Cha. 8. 14

Seeing you cannot lament your own sinnes, call for those foolish women, whom of a superfluous you haue to lament for the dead that they by their fauoured teares may prouoke you to some sorrow.

As though they were weary of vs, because of our iniquities. Gen. 3. 8. and so on.

He derideth the superstition of the women which had an arte of mourning and taught to weepe with fauoured teares.

Signifying, that there is no meane to deliuer the wicked from Gods iudgements: but who they thinke to be most sure, & most faire off, then are they soonest taken.

For as much as none can saue himselfe by his owne labour, or any worldly meane, he sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lord, and reioyce in him, who onely can deliuer vs. 1. Cor. 1. 31. 1. cor. 13. 17

These three points are necessary to know aright his mercy wherein consisteth our salvation: his iudgement, which he executeth continually against the wicked; and his iustice, whereby he defendeth and maintaineth the faithfull.

25 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will visit all them which are circumcised with the vncircumcised:

CHAP. X.

1 The confutation of the flarres is not to be feared. 2 The weakness of idols. 3 Of the power of God. 4 Their Pastours are become like beasts.

Hear ye the word of the Lord that he speaketh vnto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learne not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid for the signes of heauen, though the heathen be afraid of such.

3 For the customes of the people are vaine: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the worke of the hands of the carpenter) with the axe,

4 And another decketh it with silver, and with gold: they fasten it with nayles and hammers, that it fall not.

5 The idols stand vp as a palme tree, but speake not: they are borne because they cannot goe: feare them not, for they cannot do euil, neither can they doe good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, O Lord: thou art great, and thy Name is great in power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O king of nations? for so thee appertaineth the dominion: for among all the wife men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the stocke is a doctrine of vanitie.

9 Silver plates are brought from Tarsish, and golde from Vphaz, for the worke of the workman, and the hands of the foundler: the blew silk, and the purple in their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of truth: he is the liuing God, and an euerlasting King: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heauens and the earth, shall perishe from the earth, and from vnder these heauens)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

13 Hee giueth by his voyce, the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the cloudes to ascend from the ends of the earth: hee turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

e Meaning both Ioues & Gentiles as in the nexte he sheweth the cause, see Chap. 4-4.

a God forbidde his people to give credit or feare the confutations and conjunctions of flares and planets, which haue no power of themselves, but are suggested by him, and their feruor motions are not knowne to man, & therefore there can be no certaine judgement thereof. Den. 18. 29.

b Meaning not only in the observation of the flares, but their lawes & ceremonies where by they confirme their idolatry, which is forbidden. Den. 12. 30.

d He teacheth the people to lift vp their eyes to God, who hath all power, and therefore ought only to be feared: and herein he sheweth them not only the enill that they ought to eschew, but the good which they ought to follow. Revel. 15. 4.

e Because the people thought that to haue images, was a meane to serue God, and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater error and ignorance of God, and therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, the work of errors, ver. 15. and Habak. 18. calleth them the teachers of lies: contrary to their wicked opinion, that they are the bookes of the law people. f Whereas they found the best gold: shewing that they thought nothing too deare for their idols: some read Ophir, as 1. King 9. 28. g This declareth that all that hath bene in this chapter spoken of idols, was to arme the Jewes when they should be in Caldea among the idolaters, and now with one sentence be instructed them both how to proceed their owne religion against the idolaters, and how to assure them in their shame which should expose them to idolatry, and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldees tongue for a memoriall, whereas all the rest of his writing is Hebrew.

14 Every man is a beast by his own knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his melting is busifalhood, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are vanity, and the worke of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perishe.

16 The portion of Iacob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rodde of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the land, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I will throw as with a sling the inhabitants of the land, and will trouble them, and they shall find it so.

19 Wo is me for my destruction, and my grieuous plague: but I thought, Yet it is my sorow, and I will beare it.

20 My Tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone from me, and are not: there is none to spread out my tent any more, and to set vp my curtains.

21 For the Pastours are become beasts, and haue not fought the Lord, therefore haue they none vnderstanding: and all the flockes of their pastures are scattered.

22 Behold, the noyse of the bruite is come, and a great commotion out of the North countrey to make the cities of Iudah desolate, and a den of dragons.

23 O Lord, I know, that the way of man is not in himselfe, neither is it in man to walk and to direct his steps.

24 O Lord, correct mee, but with iudgement, not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Powre out thy wrath vpon the heathen that know thee not, and vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iacob, and deuoured him, and consumed him, and haue made his habitation desolate.

will be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a lande, which floweth with milke & honie, as appeareth this day. Then answered b I, and said, Some it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto me, Crie all these words in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the words of this couenant, and doe them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, c rising early and protesting, Lying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuertheless they would not obey, nor encline their eare: but every one walked in the stubbornnesse of his d wicked heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the e words of this couenant which I commaunded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A f conspiracie is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are returned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel and the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not bee able to escape, and though they crie vnto me, a I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem go, and crie vnto the gods vnto whom they offer incense, but they shall not bee able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 b For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streetes of Ierusalem haue y set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not i pray for this people, neither lift vp a cry or prayer for them: for when they cry vnto me in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What should my k beloued tarie in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many, and the holy flesh l goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euill, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A greene oliue tree, faire, and of goodly fruit: but with m noyse and great tumult he hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah, which they haue done against themselves to prouoke me to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught mee, and I know it, euen then thou shewdest me n their practices.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had deuised this against mee, saying, Let vs o destroy the tree with the fruite thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing: that his name may be no more in memorie.

20 But O Lord of hostes, that iudgeth righteously, and triest the reines and the heart, let mee see thy p vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 The Lorde therefore speaketh thus of the men of q Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, r prophesie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will visit them: the yong men shall die by the sword: their sunnes and their daughters shall die by famine,

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Anathoth, euen the yere of their visitation.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prophet maruelled at the prosperitie of the wicked, although hee confessed God to be righteous. 7 The times are forſaken of the Lord. 10 Hee speaketh against pastors and preachers, that ſeuer the people. 12 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations that troubled Iudah.

O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art a righteous: yet let me talk with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doeth the way of the wicked b prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgresse?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken root: they grow, and bring forth fruit, thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their c reines.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest me: thou hast scene me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheepe for the slaughter, and d prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourne, and the herbes of euery helde wither, for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds, because they said, e He will not see our last end.

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the cities is prophesied. 11 Why I should weep because I see the fall of God, and why they were forsaken. 15
Heauenly Father, have compassion.

Thus saith the Lord vnto mee, Goe, and buy thee a linen girdle, & put it vpon thy loines, and put it not in water.
2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.
3 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee
the second time saying, 4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, goe toward Perath, and hide it there in the cleit of the rocke.
5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.
6 And after many dayes the Lord said vnto mee, Arise, goe toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.
7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and behold, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.
8 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me,
saying,
9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my word, and walke after the stubbornnesse of their owne heart, and walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shall bee as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.
11 For as the girdle cleaseth to the loynes of a man, so haue I cleaue to me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, saith the Lord, that they might bee my people: that they might haue a name, and praise, and glory, but they would not heare.
12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Every bottell shall be filled with wine, and they shall say vnto thee, Doe we not know that euery bottell shall be filled with wine?
13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, euen the kings that sit vpon the throne of David, and the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkennesse.
14 And I will dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sons together, saith the Lord: I will not spare, I will not pitie, nor haue compassion, but destroy them.
15 Heare and giue eare, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken it.
16 Give glory to the Lord your God before he bring darkness, and orer your feet shunable in the darke mountains, and whilst you looke for light, hee turne it into the shadow of death, and make it as darkness.
17 But if ye will not heare this, my soule shall weepe in secret for your pride, and mine eye shall weep, and drop downe teares, because the Lords flocke is carried away captiue.
18 Say vnto the King and to the Queen, Humble your selves, sit downe, for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.
19 The cities of the South shall be shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shall bee carried away captiue; it shall bee wholly carried away captiue.
20 Lift vp your eyes; and beholde them that come from the North: where is the flocke that was giuen thee, why thy beautifull flocke?
21 What wilt thou say when he shall yik thee?
(for thou hast taught them to be captiues, and as chiefe ouer thee) shall not sorrow take thee as a woman in trauaile?
22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon mee? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts discovered, and thy heeles made bare.
23 Can the blacke Moore change his skin? or that are accustomed to doe euill?

24 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the Southwind.
25 This is thy portion, & the part of thy men-sures from mee, saith the Lord, because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in lies.

CHAP. XIII.

Of the death that should come. 7. The prayer of the people for the mercie of the Lord. 10. The wretchedfull people are not heard. 13. Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophesies that seduce the people.

The word of the Lord that came vnto Ieremi- ah concerning the death.

1. Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they have been brought to heau- nesse vnto the ground, and the cry of Ierusalem goeth vp.

2. And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles; and found no water: they returned with their vessels empty: they were ashamed and confounded, and coue- red their heads.

3. For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were a- shamed, and couered their heads.

4. Yea, the kinde also calued in the field, and forsooke it, because there was no grasse.

5. And the wilde asses did stand in the high places, & drew in their wind like dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

6. O Lord, though our iniquities testifie a- gainst vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are many, we sinned against thee.

7. O thou hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth by, to try for a night?

8. Why art thou as a man astounded, and as a strong man that cannot helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the midst of vs, and thy name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.

9. Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delighted to wander: they haue not re- strained their feet, therefore the Lord hath no de- light in them: but hee will now remember their iniquity, and visit their finnes.

10. Then sayd the Lord vnto me, Thou shalt not pray to do this people good.

11. When they fast, I will not heare their cry, and when they offer burnt offering, and an obla- tion, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12. Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold the prophets say vnto me, Ye shal not see the sword, neither shall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

13. Then the Lord said vnto me, The prophets prophesie lies in my name: I haue not sent them, neither did I command them, neither spake I vn- to them, but they prophesie vnto you a false visi- on, and diuination, and vanity, and deceitfullnesse of their owne heart.

14. Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophesie in my Name, whome I haue not sent, yet they say, Sword & famine shal not be in this land, by sword & famine shall those prophets be consumed.

15. And the people to whom these prophets do prophesie shal be cast out in the streets of Ierusa- lem, because of the famine, & the sword, and there shall bee none to bury them: both they and their wiues, and their finnes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickednesse vpon them.

16. Therefore thou shalt say this word vnto them, Let mine eyes drop down teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgin daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a sore grievous plague.

17. For if I goe into the field, behold the flaine with the sword: & if I enter into the cite, behold them that are sicke for hunger: alfor more ouer the Prophet say, and the Priest go a wandring into a land that they know not.

18. Hast thou vtterly reiected Iudah, or hath thy soule abhorred Zion? why hast thou smitten vs, that we cannot bee healed? Wee looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

19. We acknowledge, O Lord, our wicked- nesse and the iniquities of our fathers: for we haue sinned against thee.

20. Doe not abhorre vs: for thy Names sake cast not downe the throne of thy glory: remem- ber and breake not thy covenant with vs.

21. Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue showers? Is it not thou, O Lord our God? therefore we will waite vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

22. Repentance, which is the only meane to auoid this famine, which was the beginning of Gods plagues. p. Meaning their idols, reade Chap. 10. 1. 5.

CHAP. XV.

The Lord would heare no prayer for the Iewes, 3. but threat- ned to destroy them with foure plagues.

1. Then said the Lord vnto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet mine affec- tion could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart.

2. And if they say vnto thee, Whether shal we depart? then tell them, Thus saith the Lord, Such as are appointed to death, vnto death: and such as are for the sword, to the sword: and such as are for the famine, to the famine: and such as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3. And I will appoint ouer them foure kindes, saith the Lord, the sword to slay, and the dogs to teare in pieces, and the foules of the heauen, and the beastes of the earth to deuoure, and to de- stroy.

4. I will scatter them also in all kingdomes of the earth, because of Manasseh the sonne of Hezekiah king of Iudah, for that which he did in Ierusalem.

5. Who shall then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ieru- salem? or who shall besorg for thee? or who shall goe to pray for thy peace?

6. Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand against thee: and destroy thee: for I am wearie with repenting.

7. And I will scatter them with the winde in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, and destroy- ed my people, yet they would not returne from their waies.

8. Their widowers are increased by me about the sand of the sea: I haue brought vpon them, and against the assembly of the young men, a de- stroyer at none day: I haue caused him to fall vpon them and the cite, suddenly and speedily.

9. She that hath borne seven, hath begone made weak: her heart hath failed: the famine hath failed: her, whilst it was day, the heat bene con- founded, and ashamed, and the residue of them

1. The false pro- phets promised peace & assurance, but Ieremias tel- led to teares, and repentance for their affliction, which is as hard, as Chas. 9. 1. turne, then will I bring thee againe, & thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take away the precious from the vile, thou shalt be according to my word: let them reuenge vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.
20. And I will make thee vnto this people a strong brassen wall, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for

CHAP. XVI.

The Lord forbidding Ieremias to marry, forsooth him what should be the affliction upon Iuda. 13. The captivity of Babylon. 15. Their delinquency. 19. The calling of the Gentiles.
The word of the Lord came also vnto me,
saying,
Thou shalt not take thee a wife, nor have sonnes nor daughters in this place.
For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters, that are borne in this place, & concerning their mothers that beare them, & concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,
They shall die of deaths, and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried;

but they shall be as dung upon the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carkeises shall be meat for the fowles of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.
5. For thus saith the Lord, Bitter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor be moued for them: for I have taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, and mercy and compassion.
6. Both the great, and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.
7. They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them: for the dead, neither shall they give them the cup of consolation to drinke for their father, or for their mother.
8. Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drinke.
9. For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, even in your dayes, the voyce of mirth, and the voice of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride.
10. And when thou shalt heare these words, all these words, and they shall say vnto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced all this great plague against vs, or what is our iniquitie? and what is our sin that wee haue committed against the Lord our God?
11. Then shalt thou say vnto them, Because your fathers haue forsaken mee, saith the Lord, & haue walked after other gods, and haue turned them, and worshipped them, and haue forsaken me, and haue not kept my Law,
12. And ye haue done worse then your fathers:
for behold, you walke every one after the stubbornnes of his wicked heart, & wil not heare me.
13. Therefore will I drinke you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither you nor your fathers, and there shall ye serue other gods day and night: for I will shew you no grace.
14. Behold therefore, saith the Lord, the daies come that it shall no more be said, The Lord li-ueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.
15. But, The Lord liueth, that brought vp the children of Israel from the land of the North, and from all the landes where hee had scattered them, and I will bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.
16. Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many fishers, and they shall fish them, and after will I send out many hunters, & they shall hunt them from every mountaine, and from every hill, and out of the cates of the rocks.
17. For mine eyes are vpon all their wayes:
they are not hid from my face, neither is their in-iquitie hid from mine eyes.
18. And first I will recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue desiled my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthie carions, and their abominations.
19. O Lord, thou art my force, and my strength, and my refuge in the day of affliction:
the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the ends of the world, & shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited lies, and vanity, wherein there was no profit.
20. Shall a man make gods vnto himselfe, and they are no gods?

the affliction should comfort another.

2. That is, should

3. For in such great extremities

and comfort shall be in vaine.
4. Because the wisked are alwayes

semble their owne sins, and insure against Gods indignation, as rance, which shall

9. Our fathers were most vile idolaters

meth only of Gods mercy, that he performeth his promise, and hath not utterly cast vs off.

1 They shall once againe teele my power, and mercie for their delin-quance, that they may learne to worship me.

21 Beholde, therefore I will this once teach them: I will shewe them mine hande: and my power, and they shall knowe that my Name is the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The frowardnes of the Iewes. 5 Cursed be those that put their confidence in man. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The living waters are forsaken. 21 The right keeping of the Sabbath is commanded.

The finne of Iudah is written with a pen of yron, and with the point of a diamond, and grauen vpon the table of their heart, and vpon the hornes of your altars.

2 They remember their altars as their children, with their groues by the greene trees vpon the high hills.

3 O my mountaine in the field, I will giue thy substance, and all thy treasures to be spoyled, for the fume of thy high places throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou shalt rest, and in thee shall be a rest from thine heritage that I gaue thee, and I will cause thee to serue thine enemies in the land, which thou knowest not: for yee haue kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burne for euer.

5 Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arme, and withdraweth his heart from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the wilderness, and shall not see when any good cometh, but shall inhabite the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not feele when the heat cometh, but her leafe shall be greene, and shall not care for the yere of drought, neither shall cease from yeelding fruit.

9 The heart is deceitfull and wicked about all things, who can know it?

10 The Lord search the heart, and trie the reins, euen to giue euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruites of his works.

11 As the Partrich gathereth the young, which she hath not brought forth: so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leaue them in the middes of his dayes, and at his end shall be afoole.

12 As a glorious throne exalted from the beginning, so is the place of our Sanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee, shall be confounded: they that depart from thee, shall be written in the earth, because they haue forsaken the Lord, the fountaine of liuing waters.

14 Heale mee, O Lord, and I shall be whole: saue mee, and I shall be saued: for thou art my praye.

Their owne lewd imaginations deceiue them, and bring them to their inconueniencies: but God will examine their deeds by the malice of their hearts. 1 Sam. 16.7. 1 Chron. 28.9. Psal. 7.10. Chap. 11.20. and 20.12. Reue. 2.23. As the Partrich by calling gathereth other which forsake her, when they see that shee is not their damme: so the couetous man is forsaken of his riches, because he cometh by them falsely. 1 Shewing that the godly ought to glory in nothing, but in God, who doeth exalt him, and hath left a signe of his fauour in his Temple. m Their names shall not be registred in the booke of life. n He desired God to preferre him that he fall not into temptation, considering the great contempt of Gods word, and the multitude that fall from God.

15 Behold, they say vnto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 But I haue not thrust in my selfe for a pa-flour after thee, neither haue I desired the day of miserie, thou knowest that which came out of my lips was right before thee.

17 Be not terrible vnto me: thou art mine hope in the day of aduersitie.

18 Let them be confounded, that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraid: bring vpon them the day of aduersitie, and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem,

20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, yee kings of Iudah, and all Iudah, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Lord, Take heede to your fowles, and heare no burden in the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem, 22 Neither carrie forth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither doe yee any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their neckes stiffe, and would not heare nor receiue correction.

24 Neuerthelesse, if ye will heare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burden through the gates of the citie in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that ye do no worke therein,

25 Then shall the Kings and the Princes enter in at the gates of this citie, and shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and shall ride vpon charets and vpon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem: and this citie shall remaine for euer.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, & from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burden nor to go through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the deifiers of his word. 13 The confutation of the Iewes against Ieremias. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

The word which came to Ieremias from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise, and go down into the potters house, and there I shall shew thee my words.

3 Then I went down to the potters house, and behold, he wrought a worke on the wheel,

4 And the vessel that he made of clay, was broken in the hand of the potter, so he returned, and made it another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

The wicked say that my prophetic shall not come to passe because thou deferrest the time of thy vengeance.

I am assured of my vocation, and therefore know that the thing which thou speakest by me, shall come to passe, and that I speake not of any worldly affection.

Howsoeuer the wicked deale rigorously with me, yet let me finde comfort in thee.

6 O house of Israel, rancie I doe with you as this potters clay: the Lord beholds as the clay is in the potters hand: so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speak suddenly against a nation, on against a kingdome to plucke it vp, and to roote it out and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation against whom I have pronounced rancie from their wickednes, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring upon them.

9 And I will speak suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euill in my sight, and heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good that I thought to doe for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: I will returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they said, desperately, Surely we will walke after our owne imaginations, and doe euery man after the stubbornnes of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such things? the virgin of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which he hath laid, from the rocks of the field? or shall she cold flowing waters, that come from a fasher place, be forgotten?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and have burnt incense to yemie, and their prophets have caused them to stumble in their wayes from their ancient wayes, to walke in the pathes of euill, this is their euill.

16 To make their land desolate, and a place of euill derision, so that euery one that passeth thence, by shall be astonished and wagge his head.

17 I will scatter them with an East winde before the storm: I will shew them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then said they, Come, and let vs imagine some devise against Ieremiah: for the Lawe that not perish from the Priests, nor to consult with the wise, nor the words from the Prophet, come, and let vs smite him with the tongue, and let vs deigne head to any of his words.

19 Hearken vnto mee, O Lord, and heare the voyce of them that comend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, I deliuey up their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, & let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowers: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their young men be slain by the sword in the street.

22 Let me crye, he hath heard from their houses, when they shall bring in a holfe suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid inares for my feet.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me, and hast to death: forgive not their iniquitie, neither put out their name from thy sight, but let them be ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX

Here prophesied the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

Has said the Lord, God and buy an earthen bottel of a potters, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests.

2 And goe forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entry of the East gate: and thou shalt preach there the words that I shall tell thee.

3 And shalt say, Heare yee the words of the Lord, O Kings of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his eares shall tingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken me, & prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers haue knowne, nor the Kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with) blood of innocents, and they haue built the high places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind.

5 Therefore behold the dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of Slaughter.

6 And I will bring the counsel of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seeke their liues: and their carkeles will I give to be meat for the fowles of the heauen, and to the beastes of the field.

7 And I will make this cite desolate and hissing, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and hisse because of all the plagues thereof.

8 And I will feed them with the flesh of their sonnes, and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his neighbour in the siege, and straitnes, wherewith their enemies that seeke their liues shall hold them strait.

9 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee.

10 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so will I breake this people, and this cite, as one breaketh a potters vessel, that cannot be made whole againe, and they shall burie them in Topheth till there be no place for them.

11 Thus will I doe vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this cite like Topheth.

12 For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Iudah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vnto whose stokes they haue burnt incense vnto al the host of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

13 Then came Ieremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

CHAP. XX.

2 Jeremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching the wordes of God. 3 Hee propheseth the captiuitie of Babylon. 4 Hee complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the wordes of God. 5 Hee is comforted by the spirit to preach the word.

When Pashur, the sonne of Immer, the priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the big gate of Beniamin, which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashur, but Magor-missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee to bee a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friendes, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the king of Babel, and hee shall carry them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover, I will deliuer all the substance of this citie, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and carry them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt bee buried there, thou and all thy friendes, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

7 O Lord, thou hast deceived mee, and I am deceived: thou art stronger then I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision dayly: every one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cryed out of wrong, and proclaimed desolation: therefore the word of the Lord was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his Name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was wearie with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the rayling of many, and feared greatly. I Declare said they, and wee will declare it: all my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, it may be that he is deceived: so we shall prevail against him, & we shall execute our vengeance vpon him.

11 But the Lord is with mee like a mighty gyant: therefore my persecuters shall be ouerthrowen, and shall not preuaile, and shall be greatly confounded: for they haue done vnwisely, and their euill doing shall neuer be forgotten.

12 But, O Lotte of hostes, that tryest the righteous, and seekest the reines and the heart, let mee see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath deliuered the soule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

14 Cursed be the day wherein I was borne: and let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blessed.

15 Cursed bee the man that shewed my father, saying, A man child is bothe vnto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man be as the cities, which the Lord hath ouerturned and repented not: and let him heare the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noone tide.

17 Because he hath not slaine mee, when from the wombe, or that my mother might haue bene my graue, or her wombe a perpetuall conception.

18 How is it, that I came forth of the wombe, to see labour and sorow, that my dayes should be consumed with shame?

CHAP. XXI.

He propheseth that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the citie burned.

The wordes which came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashur, the sonne of Malchiah, and Zephaniah, the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, saying,

2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs, (for Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord wil deale with vs according to all his wonderous works, that he may returne vp from vs.

3 Then said Jeremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, and I will assemble them into the mids of this citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, & with a mightie arme, euen in anger & in wrath, & in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this citie, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliuer Zedekiah the king of Iudah, & his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this citie, from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their liues, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that abideth in this citie, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that besiege you, he shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this citie, for euill and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

11 And say vnto the house of the King of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

¹ He exhorteth the King to iudgement and righteousness. ² Why Ierusalem is brought into captiuitie. ³ The death of Sathanias the sonne of Iosiah is prophesied.

Thus sayd the Lord: Goe downe to the house of the King of Iudah, and speake there this thing,

And say, Heare the word of the Lorde, O King of Iudah, that sitteth vpon the throne of David: thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus sayth the Lord: Execute ye iudgement and righteousness, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and vex not the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widow: doe no violence, nor shedde innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing, then shall the kings sitting vpon the throne of David enter in by the gates of this House, and ride vpon chaires, and vpon horses, both he and his seruants and his people.

5 But if yee will not heare these wordes, I sweare by my selfe, saith the Lorde, that this House shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken vpon the kings house of Iudah: Thou art Gilead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and a citie not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee every one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefe cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 And many nations shall passe by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lorde done thus vnto this great citie?

9 Then shall they answer, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods, and serued them.

10 Weepe not for the dead, and be not moued for them, but weepe for him that goeth out: for hee shall returne no more, nor see his naties country.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching Sathanias the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither.

12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue ledde him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 Wee vnto him that buildeth his house by vnrighteousnesse, and his chambers without equitie: hee visiteth his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so hee will make himselfe large windowes, and feeling with cedar, and paint them with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou closest thy selfe in cedar? did not thy father eate and drinke and prosper, when he executed iudgement and iustice?

16 When hee iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, hee prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but only for thy couetousnesse, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, euen to doe this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, They shall not lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.

19 Hee shall be buried, as an asse is buried, euen drawn and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 Goe vnto Lebanon, and cry: shewe in Babylon, and cry by the passages: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saidst, I will not heare, this hath bene thy manner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The wind shall feed all thy pastours, and thy louers shall go into captiuitie: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the cedars, how beautifull shalt thou bee when sorowes come vpon thee, as the sorowes of a woman in trauaile?

24 As I liue, saith the Lord, though Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I wil giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hande of Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carie thee away, & thy mother that bare thee into another country, where ye were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the lande whereunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah a despised and broken idole? or as a vessell, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they caried away, hee and his seede, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 O earth, earth, earth, heare the worde of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Write this: man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for there shalbe no man of his seede that shall prosper and sit vpon the throne of David, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

But God's promise, and therefore was iustly decried of the kingdome. He sheweth that all posterities shall be without of this last plague, as though it were registered for perpetuall memorie. Not that hee had no children (for after hee begate Salathiel in the captiuitie, Matthew 1.12.) but that none should reigne after him as King.

WOr be vnto the pastours that destroy and scatter the sheepe of my pasture, saith the Lord.

2 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God of Israel vnto the pastours that feede my people, Yee haue scattered my flocke, and thrust them out, and haue not visited them: beholde, I will visite you for the wickednesse of your workes, saith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my sheepe out of all countries, whither I had driuen them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, and they shall grow and increase.

4 And I will set vp shepherds ouer them, which shall feede them: and they shall dread no more nor be afraid, neither shall any of them bee lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will raise vnto Dauid a righteous branch, and a King shall reigne and prosper, and shall execute iudgement and iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shall bee saued, and Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name whereby they shall call him, * The Lord our righteousness.

7 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The Lord lieth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

8 But, the Lord lieth, which brought vp and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the North country, and from all countreys where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, because of the prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whome wine hath overcome) for the presence of the Lord and for his holy wordes.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of othes the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried vp, and their course is euill, and their force is not right.

11 For both the Prophet and the Priest doe wickedly: and their wickednesse haue I found in mine house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be vnto them as slippery waies in the darkenesse: they shall be driuen forth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, even the yere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue scene foolishnesse in the prophets of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue scene also in the prophets of Ierusalem filthines: they commit adultery and walke in lies: they strengthen also the hands of the wicked, that none can returne from his wickednesse: they are all vnto mee as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes concerning the prophets, Beholde, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ierusalem is wickednesse gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that prophesie vnto you, and teach you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still vnto them that despise mee, The Lord hath sayd, Yee shall haue peace: and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbornnesse of his owne heart, No euill shall come vpon you.

18 For who hath stood in the counsell of the Lord that hee hath perceiued, and heard his word? Who hath marked his wordes and heard it?

19 Beholde, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlwind shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes yee shall vnderstande it plainly.

21 * I haue not sent these prophets, saith the Lord, yet they ranne: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsell, and I had declared my wordes to my people, then they should haue turned them from their euill way, and from the wickednesse of their inventions.

23 Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God farre off?

24 Can any hide himselfe in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Doe not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the prophets sayd, that prophesied lies in my Name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? Doe the prophets delight to prophesie lies, euen prophesying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell a dreame, and hee that hath my wordes, let him speake my word faithfully: what is the chaffe to the wheat, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire, saith the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore beholde, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, that scale my wordes euery one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, which haue sweete tongues, and say, He sayth.

32 Behold, I will come against them that prophesie false dreames, sayeth the Lord, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a Priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden? I will euen forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the prophet, or the priest, or the people that shall say, The burden of the Lord, I denie, which the sinners were not able to fastene, therefore the wicked in deriding the word, would aske of the Prophets, what was the burden, as though they would say, You seeke nothing else, but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they reioiced y word of God as a grievous burden. CHAP. XXIII.

The vision of the baskets of figs. 1. Scorpions the part of the people should be brought out of captivity. 2. And that Babylon and the rest of the people should be brought out of captivity.

The Lord shewed mee, and beholde, two baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had caried away captiue Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunningmen of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

One basket had very good figges, suchlike the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten: they were so euill.

Then sayde the Lord vnto mee, What seest thou, Ieremiah? And I sayd, Fine, the good figs very good, and the naughty figs very naughty, which cannot be eaten, they are so euill.

Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Thus saith the Lord the God of Israel, Like these good figs, so will I know them that are caried away captiue of Iudah to bee good, whom I have sent out of this place, into the land of the Caldeans.

For I will set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this land, and I will build them and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not roote them out.

And I will giue them an heart to know me, that I am the Lord, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall returne vnto me with their whole heart.

And as the naughty figs which cannot be eaten, they are so euill (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I giue Zedekiah the King of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remaine in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

I will even giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdoms of the earth, & for a reproch, and for a prouerbe, for a common talke, and for a curse in all places where I shall cast them.

And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them, & to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

The prophesie about the fall of the Ierusalem twenty yeeres. 1. And that after the seventy yeeres the Ierusalem should be destroyed. 2. The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

The word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the people of Iudah, in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, that was in the first yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel.

The which Ieremiah the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

From the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah the sonne of Amon king of Iudah, even vnto this day (that is the three & twentieth yeere) the word of the Lord hath come vnto mee, and I haue spoken vnto you, rising early and speaking, but ye would not heare.

And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising early, and sending them, but ye would not heare, nor encline your eares to obey.

They sayd, Turne againe now every one from his euill way, and from the wickednesse of your inuasions: and ye shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for ever and euer.

And go not after other gods to serue them, and to worship them, and prouoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will not punish you.

Nevertheless, ye would not heare mee, sayth the Lord, but have provoked mee to anger with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Because ye haue not heard my words, Beholde, I will send and take away all the families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all the nations round about, and will destroy them; and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual desolation.

Moreover, I will take from them the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, the noise of the millstones, and the light of the candle.

And this whole land shall be desolate, and an astonishment, and these nations shall serue the king of Babel seventy yeeres.

And when the seventy yeeres are accomplished, I will visit the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, even the land of the Caldeans, and will make it a perpetual desolation.

And I will bring vpon that land all my words which I haue pronounced against it, even all that is written in this booke, which Ieremiah hath prophesied against all nations.

26 And all the kings of the North, farre and neere one to another, and all the kingdomes of the world, which are vpon the earth, & the king of Shebath shall drinke after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Drinke and bee drunken, and spee and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword, which I will send among you.

28 ¶ But if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drinke, then tel them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Ye shall certainly drinke.

29 For loe, I begin to plague the city, where my Name is called vpon, and should you go free? Ye shall not goe quiet: for I will call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

30 Therefore prophesie thou against them all these wordes, and say vnto them, The Lord shall roare from aboue, and thrust out his voyce from his holy habitation: hee shall roare vpon his habitation, and cry aloud, as they that presse the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The sound shall come to the endes of the earth: for the Lord hath a controuersie with the nations, and will enter into iudgement with all flesh, and hee will giue them that are wicked, to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, a plague shall goe forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlewind shall be raised vp from the coastes of the earth, 33 And y the flaine of the Lord shall be at that day, from one end of the earth, euen vnto the other end of the earth: they shall not be mourned, neither gathered nor buried, but shall bee as the stubbe vpon the ground.

34 Howle, ye shepheards, and cry, and walow your selues in the ashes, yee principall of the flocke: for your dayes of slaughter are accomplished, and of your disperision, and yee shall fall like precious vessels.

35 And the flight shall faile from the shepheards, and the escaping from the principall of the flocke.

36 A voyce of the cry of the shepheards, and an howling of the principall of the flocke, shall be heard: for the Lord hath destroyed their pasture.

37 And the best pastures are destroyed because of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

38 Hee hath forsaken his couert, as the lion: for their land is waste, because of the wrath of the oppressour, and because of the wrath of his indignation.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Jeremias moueth the people to repentance. 7 Hee is taken of the false Prophets and Priests, and brought to iudgement. 3 Vntill the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim contrary to the will of God.

1 In the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords House, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which come to worshipping in the Lords House, all the wordes that I command thee to speake vnto them: keepe not a word backe,

3 If so be they will hearken, and turne every man from his euill way, that I may repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednesse of their workes.

4 And thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not heare me to walke in my Lawes which I haue set before you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising vp early, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 Then will I make this House like Shiloh, and will makethis citie a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremias speaking these wordes in the House of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremias had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speake vnto all the people, then the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and said, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the Name of the Lord, saying, This House shall be like Shiloh, and this citie shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Jeremias in the house of the Lord.

10 And when the Princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came vp from the kings house into the House of the Lord, and sat downe in the entrie of the new gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priests, and the Prophets vnto the Princes, and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied against this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Jeremias vnto all the Princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath sent mee to prophesie against this House, and against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

13 Therefore now amend your wayes, and your e So that when they would curse any, they shall say, God do to thee as to Ierusalem.

your works, and heare the voice of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague, that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hands: do with me as ye thinke good and right.

15 But know ye for certaine, that if ye put me to death, yee shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this citie, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent me vnto you; to speake all these words in your eares.

16 Then saide the Princes and all the people vnto the Priests, and to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for hee hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then rose vp certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Michiah the Morastite *prophefied in the dayes of Hezekiah king of Iudah, and spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Ierusalem shall be an heape, and the mountaine of the house shall be as the hie places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Iudah, and all Iudah put him to death? did hee not feare the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the plague, that he had pronounced against them? Thus might we procure great euil against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophefied in the Name of the Lord, and Vrijah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kiriath-sareem, who prophefied against this citie, and against this land, according to all the words of Ieremias.

21 Now when Iehoiakim the king with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his words, the King sought to slay him. But when Vrijah heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Iehoiakim the King¹ sent men into Egypt, ^{even} Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they fet Vrijah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Iehoiakim the King, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam^a the sonne of Shaphan was with Ieremias, that they should not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

^a Ieremias was the commender of the Lord Iehoiakim king of Iudah, and to the other Kings that were after him, whereby he was permitted to see subiects of Iehoiakim, and to see the people, and the Kings and rulers that they beleue not false Prophets.

In the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah came this word vnto Ieremias from the Lord, saying,

1 Thus sayeth the Lord to mee, Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

2 And send them to the King of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyrus, & to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Ierusalem vnto Zedekiah the king of Iudah,

4 And command them to say vnto their masters, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, & the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me.

6 But now I haue giuen all these landes into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my seruant, and the besties of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his sonne, and his sonnes soine vntill the very time of his lande come also: then many nations and great Kings shall serue themselves of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, the same nation will I visite, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers nor your enchanters, nor your forcerers which say vnto you thus, Ye shall not serue the king of Babel.

10 For they prophefie a lie vnto you to cause you to go faire from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, & serue him, those wil I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupy it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah King of Iudah according to all these words, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the king of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the words of the prophets that speake vnto you, saying, Yee shall not serue the king of Babel: for they prophefie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophefie a lie in my Name, that I might cast you out, and that yee might perish, both you, and the Prophets that prophefie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your prophets that prophefie vnto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the house of the Lord shall now shortly be brought againe from Babel: for they prophefie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the King of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this citie be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the word of the Lord bee with them, let them intreate the Lord of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, go not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bafes and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this citie,

l Here is declared the fury of tyrants, who cannot abide to heare Gods word declared, but persecute the ministers thereof, and yet in the end they procure nothing but prouoke Gods iudgements so much the more, as in the first Hezekiahs example is to be followed, so in this other Iehoiakims act is to be abhorred.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The false prophecies of Hananiah. 2 Jeremiah reprooueth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

And that same yeere in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Iudah, in the fourth yeere, and in the fift moneth, Hananiah the sonne of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake to me in the House of the Lord in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and sayd,

3 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

4 Within two yeeres space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lords House, that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

5 And I will bring againe to this place Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, with all them that were caried away captiues of Iudah, and went into Babel, sayeth the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the King of Babel.

6 Then the Prophet Ieremiah sayd vnto the Prophet Hananiah in the presence of y Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lord,

7 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah said, So be it: the Lord so doe, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied, to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is caried captiue from Babel, into this place.

8 But heare thou now this worde that I will speake in thine eares, and in the eares of all the people.

9 The Prophets that haue bene before mee and before thee in time past, prophesied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

10 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet be knowne that the Lord hath truly sent him.

11 Then Hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, and brake it.

12 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the space of two yeeres: and the Prophet Ieremiah went his way.

13 Then the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) saying,

14 Goe and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

24 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue giuen him the beasts of the field also.

25 Then sayd the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the Prophet Hananiah, Heare now Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

26 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will cast thee from off the earth: this yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

27 So Hananiah the Prophet died the same yeere in the seuenth moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Jeremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babilon. 2 He prophesieth their returne after seventy yeeres. 3 He prophesieth the destruction of the Kingdome of a people that remaine in Ierusalem. 4 He sheweth the prophets that seduce the people. 5 The death of Sennacherib is prophesied.

Now these are the wordes of the booke that Ieremiah the Prophet sent from Ierusalem vnto the residue of the Elders, which were caried away captiues, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Ierusalem to Babel:

2 (After that Ieconiah the King, and the Queene, and the eunuches, the princes of Iudah, and of Ierusalem, and the workemen, and cunning men were depaied from Ierusalem)

3 By the hand of Elafah the sonne of Shaphan and Gemariah the sonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Iudah sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whom I haue caused to bee caried away captiues from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eate the fruits of them:

6 Take you wiues, and beget sonnes and daughters, and take wiues for your sonnes, and giue your daughters to husbands, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that yee may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperity of the city, whether I haue caused you to be caried away captiues, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 For thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your prophets and your soothsayers that bee among you, deceiue you, neither giue care to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, that after seventy yeeres bee accomplished at Babel, I will visit you, and performe my good promise toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts, that I haue thought towards you, sayth the Lord, and the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and your hope.

12 Then shall you cry vnto mee, and yee shall goe and pray vnto me, and I will heare you,

Jeremiah the false prophet. After which Zephaniah the chief Priest, as though God had given him the spirit and zeale of Iehoiada, to punish without mercy the false prophets the word of God, of the which hee would have made Jeremiah one, calling him a murtherer and a false prophet.

cause ye shall seeke me with all your heart. 14 And I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and I will turne away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places, whither I have cast you, saith the Lord, and will bring you againe vnto the place, whence I caused you to be carried away captiue. 15 ¶ Because ye haue said, The Lord hath raised vs vp a Prophet in Babel, 16 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord of the King, that sitteth vpon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity: 17 Swear thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will send vpon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs that cannot be eaten, they are so naughty. 18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, and a curse, and astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproch, among all the nations whither I have cast them. 19 Because they haue not heard my wordes, saith the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, but yet would not heare, saith the Lord. 20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the word of the Lord all ye of the captivity, whom I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel. 21 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, of Ahab the sonne of Colaiash, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Maasiah, which prophesie lies vnto you in my Name, Behold, I will deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and he shall slay them before your eyes. 22 And all they of the captivity of Iudah that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, and say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah, and like Ahab, whom the king of Babel burnt in the fire. 23 Because they haue committed villeny in Israel, and haue committed adultery with their neighbours wives, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commaunded them, euen I know it, and testifie it, saith the Lord. 24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying, 25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are in Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maasiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying, 26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Iehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the House of the Lord, for every man that saith, and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks. 27 Now therefore, why hast thou not reproued Ieremiah of Anathoth, which prophesieth vnto you? 28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captivity is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the fruites of them. 29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Ieremiah the Prophet. 30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying, 31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus sayeth the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied vnto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I will visite Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his seed: hee shall not haue a man to dwell among this people, neither shall hee behold the good, that I will doe for my people, saith the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 Hee menaseth the enemies, 18 and comforteth the Church.

His wordes, that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write these all the wordes that I haue spoken vnto thee, in a booke.

For loe the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will bring againe the captivity of my people Israel and Iudah, saith the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

Againe, these are the wordes that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

For thus saith the Lord, We haue heard a terrible voyce of feare and not of peace.

Demand now and behold, if man trauell with childe: wherefore doe I behold euery man with his hands on his loynes as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into a paleness?

Alas, for this day is great: none hath bene like it: it is euen the time of Iacob's trouble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

For in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I will breake his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shall no more saue themselves of him.

But they shall serue the Lord their God, and David their King, whom I will raise vp vnto them.

Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iacob, saith the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel: for loe, I will deliuer thee from a farre country, and thy seede from the land of their captivity, and Iacob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperity, and none shall make him afraid.

For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to saue thee: though I utterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet I will not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not utterly cut thee off.

For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

All thy louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increased.

Why cryest thou for thine affliction? thy sorow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sinnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

¶ Therefore

He and his seede shall be destroyed, so that none of them should see the benefite of this deliuerance.

Because they should be assured and their posterity confirmed in the hope of this deliuerance promised.

He sheweth that before that this deliuerance shall come, the Caldees should be extremely afflicted by their enemies, & that they should be in such perplexitie and sorow, as a woman in her travail, as Isa. 26. 17. c. Meaning, that the time of their captivity should be grievous.

CHAP. XXXI.

² And the spiritual ioy of the faithful in the Church.

AT the same time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, & they shall be my people.

2 Thus saith the Lord, The people which be-scaped the sword, found grace in the wilderness:
^c he walketh before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me ^d of old, sayth ^e they: ^e Yea, I haue loued thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore with mercy I haue drawn thee.

4 Againe I will build thee, and thou shalt be builded, O virgin Israel: thou shalt still be adorned with thy tymbrels, and shalt goe forth in the dance of them, that be ioyfull.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the moun-taines of S Samaria, and the planters that plant them, shall make them common.

6 For the dayes shall come, that the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall crie, Arise, and let vs goe vp vnto ^k Zion to the Lorde our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioyce with glad-nesse for Iaakob, and shoute for ioy among the chiefe of the Gentiles: publish praise and say, O Lord saue thy people the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I will bring them from the North country, & gather them from the coastes of the world, with the blind and the lame among them, with the woman with child, and her that is deli-uered also: a great company shall retorne hither.

9 They shall come ^m weeping, and with mercie will I bring them againe: I will leade them by the riuers of ⁿ water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is ^o my first borne.

10 ^q Hear the word of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles afarre off, and say, He that scattered Israel, will gather him, and will keepe him, as a shepheard doeth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iaakob, and ransomed him from the hand ^r of him, that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shall come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and shall runne to the bountifulnesse of the Lord, ^s euen for the wheate and for the wine and for the oyle, and for the increase of sheepe, and bullocks: and their soule shall be as a watered garden, and they shall haue no more sorrow.

13 Then shall the virgin reioyce in the dance, and the yong men and the old men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, & wil comfort them, and giue them ioy for their sorowes.

14 And I wil replenish the soule of the Priests with ^t fatnesse, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodnesse, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voyce was heard on hie, a mourning, and bitter weeping, ^u Rahel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Refraine thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from reares: for thy worke shall be rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemy:

17 And there is hope in thine ende, sayth the Lord, that thy children shall come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard ^v Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised: as an ^x vntamed calfe: ^y conuert thou me, and I shall be conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I conuerted, I repented, and after that I was instructed, I smote vpon my ^z thigh: I was ashamed, yea, euen confounded, because I did beare the reproch of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim ^a my deare sonne or pleasant childe? yet since I spake vnto him, I still ^b remembered him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him. I wil surely haue compassion vpon him, saith the Lord.

21 Set thee vp ^c signes: make thee heapes: set thine heart toward the path and way, that thou hast walked: turne againe, O virgin of Israel:
turne againe to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou goe astray, O thou rebellious daughter? for the Lord hath created ^d a new thing in the earth: A WOMAN shall compasse a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of

CHAP. XXXII.

Jeremiah is caſt into priſon, becauſe hee prophesied that the citie ſhould be taken of the King of Babylon. 7 Hee ſheweth that the people ſhould come againe to their owne poſſeſſion. 38 The people of God are his ſervants, and he is their Lord.

The word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the tenth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

2 For then the King of Babels hoſte beſieged Ieruſalem: and Ieremiah the Prophet was ſhutte vp in the court of the priſon, which was in the King of Iudahs houſe.

3 For Zedekiah King of Iudah had ſhut him vp, ſaying: Wherefore doeſt thou prophesie, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hands of the King of Babel, and he ſhall take it?

4 And Zedekiah the King of Iudah ſhall not eſcape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but ſhall ſurely be deliuered into the hands of the King of Babel, and ſhall ſpeake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes ſhall behold his face.

5 And he ſhall leade Zedekiah to Babel, and there ſhall he be, vntil I viſit him, ſaith the Lord:
though ye fight with the Caldeans, yee ſhall not proſper.

6 And Ieremiah ſaid, The word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

7 Beholde, Hanameel, the ſonne of Shalum thine vncle, ſhall come vnto thee and ſay, Buy vnto thee my field, that is in Anathoth: for the title by kindred appertaineth vnto thee to buy it.

8 So Hanameel, mine vncles ſonne, came to mee in the court of the priſon, according to the word of the Lord, & ſaid vnto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Benjamin for the right of the poſſeſſion it thine, & the purchaſe belongeth vnto thee:
buy it for thee. Then I knewe that this was the word of the Lord.

9 And I bought the field of Hanameel, mine vncles ſonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the ſiluer, even ſeven ſhekels, and ten pieces of ſiluer.

10 And I writ it in the booke and ſigned it, and tooke witneſſes, and weighed him the ſiluer in the balances.

11 So I tooke the booke of the poſſeſſion, being ſealed according to the Lawe, and cuſtome, with the booke that was open,

12 And I gaue the booke of the poſſeſſion, vnto Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, the ſonne of Maafiah, in the ſight of Hanameel mine vncles ſonne, and in the preſence of the witneſſes, written in the booke of the poſſeſſion, before al the Iewes that ſate in the court of the priſon.

13 And I charged Baruch before them ſaying,

14 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, Take the writings, even this booke of the poſſeſſion, both that is ſealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen veſſell, that they may continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael ſaith thus, Houſes and fieldes, and vineyardes ſhall be poſſeſſed againe in this land.

16 Now when I had deliuered the booke of the poſſeſſion vnto Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, ſaying, a So that Ieremiah had now prophesied from the thirteenth yeere of

i Because the wicked are subject to the curse of God, he sheweth that their posteritie which by nature are vnder this malediction shall be punished both for their owne wickednes, and that the iniquitie of their fathers, which is likewise in them, shall be also reuenged on their head.
k Meaning, that his miracles in deliuering his people, should neuer be forgotten.

17 Ah Lord God, behold, thou hast made the heauen and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, and there is nothing hard vnto thee.

18 * Thou shewest mercy vnto thousands, and recompenseth the iniquitie of the fathers into the bosome of their children after them: O God the great & mighty, whose name is the Lord of hosts,

19 Great in counsell, & mighty in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the waies of the sons of men, to giue to euery one according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his works)

20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this day, and in Israel and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeareth this day,

21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, & with a strong hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terrour,

22 And hast given them this land, which thou didst sweare to their fathers to giue them, even a land that floweth with milke and hony,

23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to do, they haue not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Beholde the l mounts, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it by meanes of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said vnto me, O Lord God, Buy vnto thee the fieldes for siluer, and take witness: for the citie shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the LORD GOD of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel, and he shall take it.

29 And the Caldeans shall come and fight against this citie, and set fire on this citie, & burne it with the house, vpon whose roofes they haue offered incense vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke mee vnto anger.

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Iudah haue surely done euill before mee from their youth: for the children of Israel haue surely prouoked mee to anger with the workes of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto me as a pronocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day that they built it, even vnto this day, that I should remooue it out of my sight,

32 Because of all the euill of the children of Israel, and of the children of Iudah, which they haue done to prouoke mee to anger, even they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priests, and their Prophets, and the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

33 And they haue turned vnto mee the backe and not the face: though I taught them, o rising vp early, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receiue doctrine,

34 But they set their abominations in the house (whereupon my Name was called) to defile it.

35 And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of Ben-hinnom, to cause their sonnes & their daughters to passe through the fire vnto Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my minde, that they should doe such abomination, to cause Iudah to sinne.

36 And now therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shall be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence, 37 * Behold, I will gather them out of all countreys, wherein I haue scattered them in mine anger, and in my wrath, & in great indignation, and I will bring them again vnto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will giue them one heart and one way, that they may feare mee for euer for the wealth of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I will make an euerlasting c couenant with them, that I will neuer turne away from them to doethem good, but I will put my feare in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will delight in them to doe them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart, and with all my soule.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people, so will I bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them.

43 And the fields shall be possessed in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast, and shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

44 Men shall buy x fields for siluer, and make writings and seale them, and take witnesses in the land of Benjamin, & round about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah, & in the cities of the mountaines, and in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, saith the Lord.

Moreover the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the second time (while hee was yet shut vp in the a court of the prison) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the b maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.

3 Call vnto mee, and I will answere thee, and shew thee great and mightie things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel concerning the houses of this citie, and concerning the houses of the Kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the c mounts, and by the sword.

5 They come to d fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fill themselves with the dead bodies of men, whom I haue slaine in mine anger and in my wrath: for I haue hid my e face from this citie, because of all their wickednes.

6 ¶ Behold, I will giue it health and amendment: for I will cure them, and will reueale vnto them the abundance of peace and truth.

21 Then may my covenant bee broken with David my servant, that he should not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Levites, and Priests my ministers.

22 As the army of heauen cannot be numbred neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seede of David my servant, and the Levites, that minister vnto me.

23 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what I this people haue spoken, saying, The two families, which the Lord hath chosen, hee hath even cast them off? thus they haue despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus sayeth the Lord, If my covenant bee not with day and night, and if I haue not appointed the order of heauen and earth,

26 Then will I cast away the seede of Iacob and David my servant, and nor take of his seed to bee rulers over the seed of Abraham, Izhak, and Iacob: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue compassion on them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

a He sheweth that the ciue, and the King Zedekiah shall be giuen into the hand of the king of Babylon. 11 He rebuketh their crueltie toward their Brethren.

T He wordes which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord (when ^a Nebuchad-rezzar king of Babel, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

3 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Go, and speake to Zedekiah king of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, ⁱ I will giue this citie into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely bee taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes shall behold the face of the king of Babel, & he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah king of Iudah, thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword,

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former kings which were before thee, so shall they burne ^e downes for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, Oh lord: for I haue pronounced the word, saith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ierusalem,

7 (When the king of Babels hoste fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah, that were left, ^{even} against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 This is the word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people, which were at Ierusalem, ^d to proclaim libertie vnto them,

9 That every man should let his ^e servant goe free, and every man his handmaid, which was an Ebrew or an Ebrewesse, & that none should serue himselfe of them, ^{so wit} of a Iew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the covenant, heard that every one should let his servant goe free, and every one his handmaid, and that none should serue themselves of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterward they ^f repented and caused the servants and the handmaidens, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as servants and handmaidens.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

14 * At the terme of seven yeeres let yee goe, every man his brother an Hebrew which hath betne sold vnto thee: and when he hath serued thee fixe yeeres, thou shalt let him goe free from thee: but your fathers obeyed me not, neither inclined their eares.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight in proclaiming libertie, every man to his neighbour, and ye had made a covenant before mee in ¶ the house, whereupon my Name is called.

16 But ye repented, and polluted my Name: for yee haue caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaide, whom ye had set at liberty at their pleasure, to returne, and hold them in subiection to bee vnto you as seruants and as handmaids.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ye haue not obeyed me, in proclaiming freedome every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaime a liberty for you, sayth the Lord, to ¶ the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a tetrour to all the kingdomes of the earth.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the Lord, and cause them to returne to this citie, and they shall fight against it, and take it, & burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

He prophecieth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Ieremies.

The Lord which came vnto Ieremiah from the word, in the dayes ¶ of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, saying,

2 Go vnto the house of the ¶ Rechabites, and speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Iazaniah, the sonne of Ieremiah the sonne of Habazziniah, & his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sonnes of Hanan the sonne of Igddaliah a man ¶ of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was about the chamber of Mafseiah the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the ¶ treasure.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cuppes, and ¶ said vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they said, We will drinke no wine: for ¶ Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, ¶ Yee shall drinke no wine, neither you nor your sonnes for euer.

7 Neither shall you build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor haue any, but all your dayes ye shall dwell in tents, that ye may liue a long time in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue we obeyed the voyce of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and wee drinke no wine all our dayes, neither we, our wiues, our sonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Neither build we houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyard, nor field, nor seed,

10 But we haue remained in tents, and haue obeyed, and done according to ¶ all that Ionadab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came vp into the land, we said, Come, and let vs goe to Ierusalem, from the hoste of the Caldeans, and from the hoste of Azam: so we ¶ dwell at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Goe, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, Will ¶ yee not receiue doctrine, to obey my words, saith the Lord?

14 The commandment of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab that he commanded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandment: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, rising early, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, and sending them, saying, ¶ Returne now every man from his euill way, and amend your works, and goe not after other gods to serue them, and yee shall dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye would not incline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely the sonnes of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandment of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euil that I haue pronouced against them, because I haue ¶ spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, & I haue called vnto them, but they would not answere.

18 And Ieremiah said vnto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed the commandment of Ionadab your father, & kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that he hath commanded you,

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Ionadab the sonne of Rechab shall ¶ not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

was read, and read it before them also. 23 The king cast it in the fire. 24 There is another written as the commandment of the Lord.

a Reade Chap. 22.

And in the fourth year of Iehoiakim the son of Iosiah king of Iudah, came this word vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

Take thee a roule or booke, and write therein all the words that I haue spoken to thee against Irael, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, even from the dayes of Iosiah vnto this day.

It may be that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe vnto them, that they may returne every man from his euill way, that I may forgive their iniquitie and their sinnes.

Then Ieremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule or booke.

And Ieremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut vp, and cannot goe into the House of the Lord.

Therefore goe thou, and reade the roule wherein thou hast written at my mouth the words of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lords house vpon the fasting day: also thou shalt reade them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

It may be that they will pray before the Lord, and eury one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger and the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Ieremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the words of the Lord in the Lords house.

And in the fift yere of Iehoiakim the son of Iosiah King of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Ierusalem; and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

Then read Baruch in the booke the words of Ieremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the Secretary, in the hier court at the entrie of the newe gate of the Lords house, in the hearing of all the people.

When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke all the words of the Lord,

Then hee went downe to the Kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the princes sate there: even Elishama the Chancellour, and Delaiah the sonne of Shemaiah, & Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the wordes that he had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the son of Chitshi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roule, wherein thou hast read, in the audience of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah tooke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

And they said vnto him, Sit downe now, and read it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were afraid both one and other, and said vnto Baruch, We will certifie the King of all these wordes.

And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, how didst thou write all these wordes at his mouth?

Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these wordes vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with inke in the booke.

Then said the princes vnto Baruch, Goe, & hidesthee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

And they went in to the king to the court, but they laide vp the roule in the chamber of Elishama the Chancellour, and tolde the King all the wordes, that he might heare.

So the King sent Iehudi to fet the roule, and he tooke it out of Elishama the Chancellours chamber, & Iehudi read it in the audience of the King, & in the audience of all the princes, which stood beside the King.

Now the king sate in the winter house, in the ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

And when Iehudi had read three or foure sides, he cut it with the pen-knife and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his seruants that heard all these wordes.

Neither the king, nor any of his seruants that heard all these wordes.

But the King commanded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the Scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet, but the Lord hid them.

Then the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the King had burnt the roule and the wordes which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah), saying,

Take thee againe another roule & write in it all the former wordes that were in the first roule, which Iehoiakim the King of Iudah hath burnt.

And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim King of Iudah, Thus saith the Lord, thou hast burnt this roule, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, That the King of Babel shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, He shall haue none to sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the frost.

And I will visite him and his seede, and his seruants for their iniquitie, and I will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and vpon the men of Iudah all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

Then tooke Ieremiah another roule, and gaue it Baruch the Scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the booke which Iehoiakim King of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like wordes.

The godly were afraid, seeing God so offended, and the wicked were affonied for the horror of the punishment.

They that were godly, seeing the princes, give this counsell by whose means it is like that Ieremiah was deliued: for they knew the rage of the King, & of the wicked to be such, that they could not escape without danger of their liues.

Which continued part of November, and part of December.

Shewing that the wicked in stead of repenting when they heare Gods iudgements, grow into further malice against him and his word.

Thus we see the continual care, that God hath to ouer his to preserve them from the rage of the wicked.

Though the wicked thinke to haue abolished the word of God, when they haue burnt the booke, there of: yet this declareth that God will not onely raise it vp againe, but also increase it in greater abundance to their condemnation, as verse 32.

These are Iehoiakims wordes. Though Iehoiakim his sonne, succeeded him, yet because he reigned but three moneths it was esteemed as no reigne.

Reade Chap. 22. 19.

Which was proclaimed for feare of the Babylonians, as their custome was when they feared, warre, or any great plague of God. He sheweth that fasting without prayer and repentance, availeth nothing, but is more hypocritic.

¹² Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to goe into the ^f land of Benjamin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

¹³ And when he was in the ^g gate of Benjamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Irijah the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he tooke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou ^h fliest to the Caldeans.

¹⁴ Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flie not to the Caldeans: but he would not heare him: so Irijah tooke Ieremiah, & brought him to ⁱ princis.

¹⁵ Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremiah, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the Scribe: for they had made that the ^j prison.

¹⁶ When Ieremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the prisons, and had remained there a long time,

¹⁷ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke him out, and the king asked him secretly, in his house, & said, Is there any word from the Lord? And Ieremiah said, Yea: for, said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel.

¹⁹ * Where are now your prophets, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shal not come against you, nor against this land?

²⁰ Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my prayer be ^k accepted before thee, that thou cause mee not to returne to the house of Iehonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

²¹ Then Zedekiah the king commanded, that they should put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, and that they should giue him dayly a piece of bread out of the bakers streete, vntill all the bread in the citie were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the rulers Ieremiah is put in a dungeon. 10 At the request of Ebed-melech, the king commaundeth Ieremiah to be brought forth of the dungeon. 17 Ieremiah sheweth the king how he might escape death.

THEN Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashhur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the sonne of ^a Malchiah, heard the words that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

² Thus saith the Lord, He that remaineth in this city, shal die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall liue: for he shall haue his life for ^b a praye, and shall liue.

³ Thus saith the Lord, This citie shall surely be giuen into the hand of the king of Babels armie, which shall take it.

⁴ Therefore the Princes said vnto the king, We beseech you, let this man be put to death: for thus hee ^c weakeneth the hands of the men of warre: that remaine in this citie, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

⁵ Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, hee is in your hands, for the king can ^d doe ^d you nothing.

⁶ Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiah with coards: and in the dungeon there was no water but mire: so Ieremiah stucke fast in the mire.

⁷ Now when Ebed-melech the ^e blacke Moore, one of the Eunuchs which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon, (then the king sate in the ^f gate of Benjamin)

⁸ And Ebed-melech went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

⁹ My lord the king, ^g these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and he dieth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the citie.

¹⁰ Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Take from hence thirty men ^h with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

¹¹ So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him, and went to the house of the king vnder the treasure, and tooke there olde rotten ragges, and olde worne clouts, and let them downe by coards into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

¹² And Ebed-melech the blacke Moore sayd vnto Ieremiah, Put now these olde rotten ragges and worne, vnder thine arme-holes, betweene the words. And Jeremiah did so.

13 So they drew vp Jeremiah with cords, and tooke him vp out of the dungeon, and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke Jeremiah the Prophet vnto him, into the third entry that is in the House of the Lord; and the king said vnto Jeremiah, I will aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt thou not slay me? and if I give thee counsel, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king sware secretly vnto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor give thee into the hands of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then said Jeremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hostes the God of Israel, If thou wilt goe forth vnto the king of Babels princes, then thy soule shall liue, and this citie shall not bee burnt vp with fire, and thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babels princes, then shall this citie bee giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiah the king said vnto Jeremiah, I am carefull for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, lest they deliuer mee into their hands, and they mocke me.

20 But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord. I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shall it bee well vnto thee, and thy soule shall liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to goe forth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed me.

22 And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Iudahs house, shall bee brought forth to the king of Babels princes, & those women shall say, Thy friends haue perswaded thee, and haue pretailed against thee: thy feet are fastened in the mire, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wives, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babel: and this city shall thus come to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah vnto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come vnto thee, & say vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou hast said vnto the king, hide it not from vs, & we will not slay thee: also what the king said vnto thee.

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly besought the king that he would not cause mee to retorne to Iehonathans house, to die there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Jeremiah and asked him. And he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and he was shew when Ierusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, sent his servants to Ierusalem, to take Jeremiah the Prophet, who was in the court of the prison. 2 And they found him, and brought him out of the prison, and he was shew when Ierusalem was taken.

IN the ninth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah, in the tenth month came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel & all his hoste against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleventh yeere of Zedekiah in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the citie was broken.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babel came in, and sate in the middle gate, even Neragal, Sharezer, Shangar-nebo, Sarfachim, Rablaris, Neragal, Sharezer, Rabmag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Iudah saw them, and all the men of warre, then they fledde, and went out of the citie by night, through the kings garden, & by the gate betweene the two walls, and he went toward the wilderness.

5 But the Caldeans hoste pursued after them, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vnto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 Then the king of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slew all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreover he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines to carie him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the wallles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the poore that had nothing in the land of Iudah, and gaue them vineyards and fields at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel gaue charge concerning Jeremiah to vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying,

12 Take him, and looke wel to him, and doe him no harme, but do vnto him as he shall say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nebuzarban, Rablaris, and Neragal, Sharezer, Rabmag, and all the king of Babels princes:

14 Euen they sent, and tooke Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Abikam, the sonne of Shaphan, that he should carie him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah, while he was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring my words vpon this citie for euil, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I wil deliuer thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hands of the men whom thou fearest.

18 For I wil surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall bee for a praye vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

Jeremiah hath liberty to goe whither he will. & the death of the people that remain with Gedaliah.

THe worde which came to Jeremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him goe from Rapsach, when he had taken him being bounde in chaines among all that were caried away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were caried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe steward tooke Jeremiah, and sayd vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath said; because ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day from the chaines which were on thine hands: if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, & I will looke well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with mee into Babel, I taria still: beholde, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to go, thither goe.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore hee saide, Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whom the king of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe wheresoeuer it pleaseth thee to goe. So the chiefe steward gaue him vitayles and a reward, and let him goe.

6 Then went Ieremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captiues of the hoste, which were in the fieldes, when they and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that he had committed vnto him men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the lande, that were not caried away captiue to Babel,

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan, and Jonathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth, and the sonnes of Ephai, the Netophathite, & Iezaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, sware vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and serue the King of Babel, and it shall be well with you:

10 As for me, Behold, I will dwell at Mizpah to serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you gather you wine, and sommer fruites, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities, that ye haue taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, & in Edom, and that were in all the countreys, heard that the King of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, and that hee had let ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan,

12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were driven, & came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and sommer fruites, very much.

13 Moreover Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the host, that were in the fieldes, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah,

14 And sayde vnto him, Knowest thou not that Baalis the King of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should hee kill thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, should bee scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perishe?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam said vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

CHAP. XLI.

Ishmael killeth Gedaliah quietly, and many other with him. Iohanan followeth after Ishmael.

In the fourth moneth, came Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elishama of the seide royall, and the princes of the king, & ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, & there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah with these ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babel had made gouernour ouer the land.

3 Ishmael also slewe all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and all the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 Now the second day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, euen fourescore men hauing their beards shauen, and their clothes rent and cut with offerings & incense in their hands to offer in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meete them, weeping, as he went: and when he met them, hee saide vnto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the midst of the cite, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that said vnto Ishmael, Slay vs not: for we haue treasures in the field, of wheate, and of barley, and of oyle, and of hony: so he stayed, and slewe them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom he had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Asa the king had made because of Basa king of Israel, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Ishmael caried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, euen the Kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whome Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah caried them away captiue, and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

all the captaines of the hoste that were with him, fight with Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

11. Now when all the people whom Ishmael caried away captiue, saw Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, that were with him, they were glad.

12. So all the people that Ishmael had caried away captiue from Mizpah, returned, and came again, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

13. But Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, escaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

14. Then tooke Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had caried away captiue from Mizpah, after that he had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, even the strong men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the nurses, whom he had brought againe from Gibeon.

15. And they departed and dwelt in Geruth Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to goe and to enter into Egypt.

16. Because of the Caldees: for they feared them, because Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whom the King of Babel made gouernour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1. The captaines aske counsell of Ieremiah what they ought to doe,
2. Hee admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

Then all the captaines of the hoste, and Ioha-nan the sonne of Kareah, and Iezaniah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least vnto the most, came,

2. And sayde vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, Hear our prayer wee beseech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euen for all this remnant: for we are left, but a few of many, as thine eyes doe behold.

3. That the Lord thy God may shewe vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may doe.

4. Then Ieremiah the Prophet said vnto them,
I haue heard you: behold I wil pray vnto the Lord your God according to your words, and whatsoever thing the Lord shall answer you, I wil declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing back from you.

5. Then they said to Ieremiah, The Lord be a witnesse of truth, and faith betweene vs, if wee do not euen according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shall send thee to vs.

6. Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voice of the Lord God, so whom wee sende thee, that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voice of the Lord our God.

7. And so after ten daies came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah.

8. Then called hee Iohanan the sonne of Kareah and all the captaines of the hoste, which were with him, & all the people from the least to the most.

9. And saide vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom yee sent me to present your prayers before him.

10. If ye wil dwell in this land, then I wil build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I repent me of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

11. Feare not for the king of Babel, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him saith the Lord:
for I am with you, so saie you, and to deliuer you from his hand.

12. And I will grant you mercy, that hee may haue compassion vpon you, and hee shall cause you to dwell in your owne land.

13. But if ye say, We wil not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lord your God,

14. Saying, Nay, but we will goe into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no warre, nor heare the sound of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell.

15. (And now therefore heare the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, If ye set your faces to enter into Egypt, and goe to dwell there,)

16. Then the sword that ye feared, I shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there shall ye die.

17. And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remaine, nor escape from the plague that I will bring vpon them.

18. For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath bin powred forth vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem:
so shall my wrath be powred forth vpon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt, & ye shall be a defection, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproch, and ye shall see this place no more.

19. O ye remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath said concerning you, Goe not into Egypt, know certainly that I haue admonished you this day.

20. Surely ye shall dissemble in your hearts when ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, saying, Pray for vs vnto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lord our God shall say, and we will doe it.

21. Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which hee hath sent me vnto you.

22. Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence in the place whither ye desire to goe and dwell.

Chap. 43. 1.

b This declareth that pride is the cause of rebellion, and contempt of Gods ministers.
c When the hypocrite of the wicked is discouered, they braue forth into open rage: for they can abide nothing but to wit, to saie that they would obey God and imbrace his word, if they were assured that his messengers spake the truth: though indeed they be most farre from all obedience. e Thus the wicked doe not onely contemne and hurt the messengers of God, but slander, & speake wickedly of all them that support or fauor the goodly thee

these against vs, for to deliuer vs into the hand of the Caldeans, that they might slay vs, and cary vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lord to dwell in the land of Iudah.

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste tooke all the remnant of Iudah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had bene driuen, to dwell in the land of Iudah.

6 Euen men and women, and children, & the kings daughters, and euery person, that Nebuzaradan chiefe steward had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, & Ieremiah the Prophet, & Baruch the sonne of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the Lord: thus came they to Tahpanhes.

8 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the bricke kiln, which is at the entry of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Iudah,

10 And say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will send and bring Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my seruant, and will set his throne vpon these stones that I haue hid, and he shall spread his pavilion ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burne them and cary them away captiues, & he shall aray himselfe with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.

13 He shall breake also the images of Beth-she-moth, that is in the land of Egypt, & the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burne with fire.

CHAP. XLIIII.

Here reprooueth the people for their idolatry. 14. They haue set high by the burning of the Lord, are chastised. 15. The destruction of Egypt, and of the Idols therein, is prophesied.

14 He worde that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwelt in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickednesse which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger in that they went to burne incense, and to serue other gods whom they knew not: neither they nor you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising early, and sending them, saying, Oh doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare: nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednesse, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath, and mine anger was powered forth, & was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, and they are desolate, and wasted, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Wherefore committe ye this great euill against your soules, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that ye prouoke me vnto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whither yee be gone to dwell: that ye might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that ye might be a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten the wickednesse of your fathers, and the wickednesse of the kings of Iudah and the wickednesse of their wiues, and your owne wickednesse and the wickednesse of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

10 They are not humbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared nor walked in my law nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you to euill, and to destroy all Iudah,

12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah that haue set their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all bee consumed and fall in the land of Egypt: they shall euen be consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shall die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, and by the famine, and they shall bee a detestation and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproch.

13 For I wil visite them that dwell in the land of Egypt as I haue visited Ierusalem, by sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence,

14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall escape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Iudah to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shall returne, but such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knew that their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods, and all the women that stood by a great multitude, euen all the people that dwell in the land of Egypt in Pathros, answered Ieremiah, saying,

16 The word that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, we will not heare it of thee,

17 But we will doe whatsoever thing goeth out of our owne mouth, to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem: for then had we plenty of vitales and were well and felt none euill.

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, we haue had scarcenesse of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and powred out drinke offerings vnto her, did we make cakes to make her glad idolatric: & we were sate with bread. This is still the argument of idolaters, which esteeme religion by the belly, and in stead of acknowledging Gods workes, who sendeth both plenty and dearth, health & sicknesse, they attribute it to their idols, and so dishonour God, for, for want of, so appeare they, and.

d Hee sheweth that we ought to keepe in memory Gods plagues from the beginning, considering them, we might live in his feare, & know if he haue not spared our fathers, yea, kings, princes, and rulers, and all whole countreys, and nations for their finnes, that we vile wermes, cannot looke to escape punishment for ours.

h This declareth how dangerous a thing it is to decline once from God: and to follow our own fantasies: for Sathan euer soliciteeth us, and doth not leave them till he haue brought them to extreme impietie and madnesse, euen to inflame their wickednesse against God and his Prophets. and powre out drinke offerings vnto her without our husbands?

20 Then said Ieremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that answer, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the incense that yee burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, bnd you and your fathers, your Kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, and I haue not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbear because of the wickednes of your inventions, and because of the abominations, which yee haue committed: therefore is your land desolate, and an astonishment, and a curse, and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because you haue burnt incense, and because yee haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, nor walked in his Law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreover Ieremiah sayd vnto all the people, and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah, that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Yee, and your wives haue both sworn with your mothes, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We wil performe our vowes that wee haue vowed to burne incense to the Queen of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her: ye wil performe your vowes, and doe the thing that ye haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt. Behold, I haue sworn by my great Name, sayth the Lord, that my name shall no more be called vpon by the mouth of any man of Iudah, in all the land of Egypt, sayth the Lord God liueh.

27 Behold, I will watch ouer them for euill & not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine, vntill they vterly be destroyed.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall returne out of the land of Egypt into the land of Iudah: and all the remnant of Iudah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall bee a signe to you, sayth the Lord, when I visit you in this place, that ye may know that my wordes shall surely stand, against you for euill.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue Pharaoh Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke his life: as I gaue Zedekiah King of Iudah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar King of Babel his enemie, who also sought his life.

CHAP. XLV.

¶ Thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto thee,
O Baruch,
Thou diddest say, What is me now? for the Lord hath laid for my sorrow: I fainte for the destruction of I people, & the Temple, and for the breach of Ierusalem.

in my mourning, and I can finde no rest.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto him, The Lord saith thus, Behold, that which I haue bailed, will I destroy, and that which I haue planted, will I plucke vp, euen this whole land.

5 And seekest thou great things for thy selfe?
seekethem not: for behold, I will bring a plague vpon all flesh, sayth the Lord: but thy life will I giue thee for a praye in all places, whither thou goest.

mised to Ierusalem.

miah the Prophet against the Gentiles,

2 Against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the ri-uer Perath in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babel smote in the fourth yere of Ie-hoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah.

and of a great multitude, • hath passed the time appointed.

18 As I liue, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hostes, Surely as Tabor is in the mountaynes, and as Carmel is in the seaso shalpe come.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, make thee geare to goe into captiuitie: for Noph shalbe waste and desolate, without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt is like a faire calfe, but destruction commeth: out of the North it commeth.

21 Also her hired men are in the middes of her like fat calves: they are also turned backe and fled away together: they could not stand, because the day of their destruction was come vpon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voyce thereof shall goe soorth like a serpent: for they shall march with an armie, & come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut downe her forest, saith the Lord: for they cannot be counted, because they are more then the grasshoppers, & are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shalbe confounded: she shalbe deliuered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will visite the y common people of No and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods and their kings, euen Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.

26 And I will deliuer them into the hands of those that seeke their liues, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hands of his seruants, and afterward she shal dwell as in the old time, saith the Lord.

27 ¶ But feare not thou, O my seruant Iakob, and be not thou afraid, O Israel: for behold, I will deliuer thee from a farre country, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie, and Iakob shall returne and bee in rest, and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraide.

28 Feare thou not, O Iakob my seruant, saith the Lord, for I am with thee, and I will vterly destroy all the nations, whiche I haue driuen thee: but I will not vterly destroy thee, but correct thee by iudgement, and not vterly cut thee off.

CHAP. XLVII.

The words of the Lord against the Philistims.

The words of the Lord that came to Ieremieah the Prophet, against the Philistims, before that Pharaoh smote Azzah.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, waters rise vp out of the North, and shalbe as a swelling flood, and shall ouerflow the land, and all that is therein, and the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howle.

3 At the noise and stamping of y hooves of his strong horses, at the noise of his charets, & at the rubbing of his wheelles: the fathers shall not looke backe to their children, for feeblenesse of hands.

4 Because of the day that commeth to destroy all the Philistims, and to destroy Tyrus, and Zidon, and all the rest that take their part: for the Lord will destroy the Philistims, the remnant of the yle of Caphtor.

5 Baldnesse is come vpon Azzah: Ashkelon is cut vp with the rest of their valleys. How long wilt thou cut thy selfe?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, how long wilt thou be? or thou cease! turne againe into thy scabbard, rest and be still.

7 How can it cease, seeing the Lord hath giuen it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea banke? euen there hath he appointed it.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The words of the Lord against the Moabites, and because of their pride and crueltie.

Concerning Moab, thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Woe vnto Nebo: for it is wasted: Kiriathaim is confounded and taken: Misgab is confounded and afraid.

2 Moab shall boast no more of Heshbon: for they haue deuised euill against it. Come, and let vs destroy it, that it be no more a nation: also thou shalt bee destroyed, O Madmen, and the sword shall pursue thee.

3 A voyce of crying shalbe from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her litle ones haue caused their cry to be heard.

5 For at the going vp of Luhith, the mourners shall goe vp with weeping: for in the going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee and save your liues, and bee like vnto the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy workes and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and Chemosh shall go forth into captiuitie with his Priests and his Princes together.

8 And the destroyer shall come vpon all cities and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perishe and the plaine shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Give wings vnto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities ther of shall bee desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed be he that doeth the worke of the Lord negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth backe his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath bene at rest from his youth, & hee hath setled on his lees, and hath not bene powdered from vessell to vessell, neither hath hee gone into captiuitie: therefore his taste remained in him, and his sent is not changed.

12 ¶ Therefore behold, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that I will send vnto him such as shall carie him away, and shall emptie his vessels, and breake their bottels.

13 And Moab shalbe ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel their confidence.

14 How thinke you thus, We are mightie and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, & his cities burnt vp, & his chosen yong me are gone downe to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is, The Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hasteth fast.

17 Al ye that are about him, mourne for him, and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staffe broken, and the brautifull rod!

18 Thou daughter that doest inhabit Dibon, come downe from thy glory, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shall come vpon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and behold: aske him that fleeth, and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is confounded: it is destroyed, howle and cry, tell ye it in Amon, that Moab is made waste.

h Meaning, that it is not possible for the wicked should by any means escape or stay the Lord, when he will take vengeance.

a These were cities, which Nebuchad-nezzar tooke before he went to fight against Necho king of Egypt.
b Thus shall the Babylonians encourage one another.

i Or deerfully.
1 Hath not bene remoued as the Tewes haue, but haue liued at ease, and as wine that feedeth it selfe on his lees.

k As the case of Beth-el was not able to deliue the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliue the Moabites.

l How are they destroyed that put their trust in their strength and riches?

m Thus they that see, shall answer.

21 And judgement is come vpon the plaine country, vpon Holon and vpon Lahazah, and vpon Mephath,

22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Nebo, and vpon the house of Diblathaim,

23 And vpon Kiriahaim, and vpon Beth-gamul, and vpon Beth-meon,

24 And vpon Kerioth, and vpon Bozrah, & vpon all the cities of the land of Moab far or neere.

25 The ^ahorne of Moab is cut off, and his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him ^adrunken: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall wallow in his vomite, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For didst not thou deride Israel, as though hee had bene found among theeues? for when thou speakest of him, thou art ^amooued.

28 O yee that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 ^aWe haue heard the pride of Moab (hee is exceeding proud) his stoutnesse, and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the haughtinesse of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the Lord; ^abut it shall not be so: and his dissimulations, ^afor they doe not right.

31 ^aTherefore will I howle for Moab, and I will crie out for all Moab: mine heart shall mourne for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weepe for thee, as I wept for Iazer: thy plants are gone ouer the sea, they are come to the sea: of Iazer the destroyer is fallen vpon thy summer fruits, & vpon thy vintage,

33 And iooy, and gladnesse is taken from the plentifull field, and from the land of Moab: and I haue caused wine to faile from the winepresse: none shall treade with shousing: ^atheir shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elaleh and vnto Lahazah, haue they made their noyse: from Zoar vnto Horonaim, the heifer of three yere old shall goe lowing: for the waters also of Nimrim shall be wasted.

35 Moreover, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that oliueth in the hie places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a ^ashauime, and mine heart shall sound like a shauime for the men of Kir-heres, because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 ^aFor euery head shall be ^abalde, and euery beard plucked: vpon all the hands shall bee cuttings, and vpon the loynes sackcloth.

38 And mourning shall be vpon all the house tops of Moab, and in all the streetes thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessell wherein is no pleasure, saith the Lord.

39 They shall howle, saying, How is he destroyed? how hath Moab turned the backe with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, ^ahe shall flee as an eagle, & shall spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strong holdes are wonne: & the mighty mens hearts in Moab at that day shall be as ^aheart of a woman in traiaile.

42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath set vp himselfe against the Lord.

43 ^aFeare, and pit, and snare shall be vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shall fall in the pit, & he that getteth vp out of the pit, shall be taken in ^asnare: for I will bring vpon it, ^aeuery vpon Moab, the yere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled, stood vnder the shadow ^aof Heshbon, because of the force: for ^athe fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sibon, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the seditious children.

46 Woe be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of ^aChemosh perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the ^alatter dayes, saith the Lord. Thus saith the iudgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

^aThe words of the Lord against the Ammonites, ^a7 Idumea, ^a23 Damascus, ^a28 Kedar, ^a34 and Elam.

^aVnto the children of ^aAmmon thus saith the Lord, Hath Israel no sons? or hath hee none heire? Why then hath their king ^apossessed Gad? and his people dwell in ^ahis cities?

2 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will cause a noyse of war to bee heard in ^aRabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heape, and her daughters shall bee burnt with fire: then shall Israel possesse those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: cry ye daughters of Rabbah: gird you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall go into captiuitie, and his Priests, and his Princes likewise.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the ^avalleys? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: shee trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Beholde, I will bring ^aa feare vpon thee, saith the Lord God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, and yee shall be scattered euery man ^aright forth, & none shall gather him that fleeth.

6 And afterward I will bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 ^aTo Edom thus saith the Lord of hostes, Is wisdom no more in ^aTeman? is counsel perished from their children, is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee, yee inhabitants of Dedan (^athey are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the ^agrape gatherers come to thee, would they not leaue ^asome grapes? if theeues come by night, they will destroy till they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Esau: I haue vncovered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himselfe: his seede is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shall be none to say,

11 Leauethy ^afatherles children, & I will preserve them aliue, and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus sayeth the Lord, ^aBeholde, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cup, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shall escape free? thou shalt not goe free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue sworne by my selfe, sayeth the Lord, that ^aBozrah shall be waste, and for a reproch, and a desolation, and a curse, and al the cities thereof shall be perpetuall desolations.

14 I haue heard a rumor from the Lord, & an ^auer the widowers and the fatherlesse. ^aI haue not spared mine owne people, and how should I pittie thee? ^aWhich was a chiefe citie of Edom.

CHAP. L.

Hee propheseth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

¶ He word that the Lord spake concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Caldeans by the ministry of Ieremiah the Prophet.

1 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and set vp a standart, proclaime it and conceale it not: say, ^a Babel is taken, Babel is confounded, ^b Merodach is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in pieces.

2 For out of the North ^c there commeth vp a nation against her, which shall make her land waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both man and beast.

3 In those dayes, and at that time, sayth the Lord, the children of Israel shall ^d come, they, and the children of Iudah together, going, and weeping shall they goe, and seeke the Lord their God.

4 They shall aske the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let vs cleaue to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

5 ¶ My people hath bene as lost sheepe: their ^e shepheards haue caused them to goe astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from ^f mountaine to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

6 All that found them haue deuoured them, & their enemies laid, Wee offend not, because they haue sinned against the Lord, ^g the habitation of iustice, ouer the Lord the hope of their fathers.

7 ¶ Flee from the middes of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Caldeans, and be ye as the hee goates ^h before the flocke.

8 For loe, I will raise, and cause to come vp against Babel a multitude of mighty nations from the North country, and they shall set themselves in aray against her, whereby shee shall be taken: their arrowes shall be as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shall returne in vaine.

9 And Caldea shall be a spoile: all that spoile her, I shall be satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Because yee were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, and because ye are grown fat, as the calves in the grass, = and neyed like strong horses,

12 Therefore your mother shall bee sore confounded, and she that bare you, shall be ashamed: behold, the vttermoſt of the nations shall be a desert, a drieland, and a wilderness.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate: euery one that goeth by Babel, shall be astonished, = and hisse at all her plagues.

14 Put your selues in array against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoote at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Crie against her round about: she hath // giuen her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her wallies are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as shee hath done, doe vnto her.

16 Destroy the flower from Babel, and him that handleth the sheeth in the time of harvest: because of the sword of the oppressour they shall turne euery one to his people, and they shall see euery one to his owne land.

17 Israel is like scattered sheepe: the lions haue disperſed them: first the king of Asshur hath deuoured him, and last this Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will visit the king of Babel, and his land, as I haue visited the king of Asshur.

19 And I will bring Israel againe to his habitation: he shall feede on Carmel and Bashan, and his soule shall be satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those dayes, and at that time, sayeth the Lord, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none: and the finnes of Iudah, and they shall not be found: for I will be mercifull vnto them, whom I reſerue.

21 Go vp against the land of the rebels, = against it, and against the inhabitants * of // Pekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, saith the Lord, and doe according to all that I haue commanded thee.

22 A cry of battell is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is the hammer of the whole world destroyed, and broken! how is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I haue ſnared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou waſt not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou haſt striven against the Lord.

25 The Lord haeh opened his treasure, & hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hosts in the land of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her from the vtmost border: open her store houses, tread on her as on theares, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her bullockes: let them goe downe to the slaughter. Woe vnto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voyce of them that flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call vp the archers against Babel all ye that bend the bowe, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: * recompense her according to her worke, and according to all that shee hath done, doe vnto her: for shee hath bene proud against the Lord, = against the holy One of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her yong men fall in the streeres, and all her men of warre shall be destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Behold, I come vnto thee, O proud man, saith the Lord God of hosts: for thy day is come, = the time that I will visit thee.

32 And the proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him vp: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, & it shall deuoure all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, held them, and would not let them goe.

34 But their strong redeemer, whose Name is the Lord of hosts, he shall mainteine their cause, that he may giue rest to the land, = and disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword is vpon the Caldeans, sayeth the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wise men.

36 A sword is vpon the footsayers, and they shall dote: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.

37 A sword is vpon their horses, and vpon their charets, and vpon all the multitude that are in the mids of her, and they shall be like women: a sword is vpon her treasures, and they shall be spoiled.

38 A drought is vpon her waters, and they shall be dried vp: for it is the land of grauen images, and they dote vpon their idoles.

39 Therefore the Zizims with the Iims shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation to generation.

40 As God destroyed Sodom and Gomorah with the places thereof neere about, sayeth the Lord: so shall no man dwell there, neither shall the sonne of man remaine therein.

41 Behold, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised vp from the coasts of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bow and the buckler: they are cruell and vmercifull: their voyce shall roare like the sea, and they shall ride vpon horses, and be put in array like men to the battell against thee, O daughter of Babel.

43 The king of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: sorrow came vpon him, = sorrow as of a woman in trauaile.

44 Behold, he shall come vp like a lion from the swelling of Iorden vnto strong habitation: for I will make Israel to rest, and I will make them to haste away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? and who is the shepheard that will stand before me?

CHAP. LI.

4 Why Babylon is destroyed. 41 The vain confidence of the Babylonians. 43 The vanities of idolaters. 59 Jeremiah giueth his booke to Sdrabab.

THUS saith the Lord, Behold, I will raise vp against Babel, & against the inhabitants that lift vp their heart against me, a destroying wind,

2 And will send vnto Babel fanners that shall fanne her, & shall empty her land, for in the day of trouble they shall be against her on euery side.

3 Also to the bender that bendeth his bowe, and to him that lifteth himselfe vp in his brigandine, will I say, Spare not her yong men, but destroy all her hoste.

4 Thus the slaine shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

5 For Israel hath bene no widow, nor Iudah from his God, from the Lorde of hostes, though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

6 ¶ Flee out of the middes of Babel, and deliuer euery man his soule: be not destroyed in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lordes vengeance: hee will render vnto her a recompence.

7 Babel hath bene as a golden cuppe in the Lords hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore doe the nations rage.

8 ¶ Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed: howle for her, bring balme for her sore, if she may be healed.

9 We would haue cared Babel, but she could not be healed: forsake her, and let vs goe euery one into his owne countrey: for her iudgement is come vp vnto heauen, & is lifted vp to cloudes.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come and let vs declare in Zion the worke of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrowes: gather the shields: the Lord hath raised vp the spirit of the King of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set vp the standard vpon the walles of Babel, make the watch strong: set vp the watchmen: prepare the skouts: for the Lord hath both deuiled, and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

13 O thou that dwellest vpon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, even the end of thy courtousnesse.

14 The Lord of hostes hath sworne by himselfe, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers, and they shall cry and shoute against thee.

15 ¶ He hath made the earth by his power, & established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

16 Hee giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and hee causeth the cloudes to ascend from the endes of the earth, he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

17 Euery man is a beast by his owne knowledge: euery founder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

18 They are vanity, and the worke of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

19 The portion of Iakob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, & Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

20 Thou art mine hammer, and weapons of warre: for with thee will I breake the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdomes, 21 And by thee will I breake horse and horseman, and by thee wil I breake the charet and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also wil I breake man and woman, and by thee wil I breake old & yong, and by thee wil I breake the yong man and the maid.

23 I will also breake by thee the shepheard and his flocke, and by thee will I breake the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, and by thee will I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I will render vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans al their euil, that they haue done in Zion, even in your sight, sayeth the Lord.

25 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O destroying mountaine, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and rolle thee downe from the P rockes, and will make thee a burnt mountaine.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations: but thou shalt be destroyed for euer, sayth the Lord.

27 Set a standard in the land: blowe the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call vp the kingdomes of Ararat, Minni, and Ashchenaz against her, appoint the prince against her, cause horses to come vp as the rough caterpillers.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the Kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, & all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for the deuise of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remained in their holdes: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, and her battes are broken.

31 A poste shall runne to meete the post, and a messenger to meete the messenger, to shew the King of Babel, that his citie is taken on a side thereof,

32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reedes burnt with fire, and the men of warre troubled.

33 For thus sayth the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is like a threshing floore: the time of her threshing is come: yet a little while, and the time of her haruest shall come.

34 Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel hath deuoured me, and destroyed me: he hath made me an emptie vessell: he swallowed me vp like a dragon: and filled his belly with my delicates, and hath cast me out.

glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The sea is come vp vpon Babel: she is co-uered with the multitude of the waues thereof.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is dry and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doeth the sonne of man passe thereby.

44 I will also visit Bel in Babel, and I will bring out of his mouth, that which^e hee hath swallowed vp, and the nations shall run no more

45 My people, go out of the middes of her, & deliuer yee euery man his soule from the fierce wrath of the Lord,

rumour, that shall be heard in the land: the rumour shall come this yere, and after that in the other yere shall come a rumour, and crueltie in the land, and ruler against ruler.

47 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, that I will visite the images of Babel, & the whole land shall be confounded, and all her slaine shall fall in the middes of her.

48 Then the heaven and^e the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce for Babel: for the destroyers shall come vnto her from the North, saith
the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the^e slaine of Israel to fall, so by Babel the slaine of all the earth did fall.

50 Ye that^e haue escaped the sword, goe a-and let Ierusalem come into your minde.

51 Wee are^e confounded because wee haue strangers are come into the Sanctuaries of the Lords House.

52 Wherefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will visite her grauen images, and through all her land the wounded shall grone.

53 Though Babel should mount vp to y^e heauen, and though shee should defend her strength saith the Lord.

54 A found of a cry cometh from Babel: and great destruction from the land of the Caldeans.

55 Because the Lorde hath layde Babel waste, and destroyed from her the great voyce, and her waues shall roare like great waters, and a found was made by their noyle:

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lorde God that recompence, shall surely recompence.

57 And I will make drunke her Princes, and her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleepe a perpetuall sleepe, & not wake, saith the King, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The^e thicke wall of Babel shall bee broken, and her hig gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fire, for they shall bee weary.

59 The wordes which Ieremiah the Prophet commanded Sheraiah the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the King of Iudah into Babel, in the^e fourth yere of his reigne: and this Sheraiah was a peaceable Prince.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that should come vpon Babel, with all these things that are written against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah said to Sheraiah, When thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt read all these wordes,

62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate forever.

63 And when thou hast made an ende of reading this booke, thou shalt binde a^e stone to it, and cast it in the middes of Euphrates,

64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel be drowned and shall not rise from the euill, that I will bring vpon her: and they shall^e be weary. Thus farre are the wordes of Ieremiah.

CHAP. LII.

4 Ierusalem is taken. 10 Zedekiahs sinnes are killed before his face, and hee cryes piteously. 12 The ciitie is burnt. 31 Belshazzar is brought forth his priuie, and fed like a King.

Zedekiah^e was one and twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeres in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Hilkiah, the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

2 And hee did euill in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Iehoiakim had done.

3^e Doubtlesse because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, till he had cast them out from his presene, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babel.

4^e But in the ninth yere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth the tenth day of the moneth came Nebuchad-nazzar King of Babel, hee and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and pitched against it, & built fortres against it round about.

5 So the ciitie was besieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of the King Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was sore in the ciitie, so that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the ciitie was broken vp and all the men of warre fled, and went out of the ciitie by night, by the^e way of the gate betwene the two walles, which was by the Kings garden: (now the Caldeans were by the city round about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the army of the Caldeans pursued after the king, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho, and all his hoste was scattered from him.

9 Then they tooke the King and caried him of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

of Iudah in Riblah.

11 Then hee put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babel bound him in chaines, and carried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Nowe in the first moneth in the 4 tenth day of the moneth (which was the nineteenth yere of the king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward which a floode before the king of Babel in Ierusalem,

13 And burnt the House of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe all the walles of Ierusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward carried away captiue certaine of the poore of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the citie, and those that were fled, and fallen to the King of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left certaine of the poore of the lande, to dresse the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the 6 pillars of brasie that were in the House of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea, that was in the House of the Lord, the Caldeans brake, and caried all the brasie of them to Babel.

18 The pots also and the 8 besoms, and the instruments of musick, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasie wherewith they ministred,ooke they away.

19 And the bowles, and the ashpens, and the basins, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, and the cuppes, and all that was of gold, and that was of siluer,ooke the chiefe steward away.

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelue brasen bulles, that were vnder the bases, which King Salomon had made in the House of the Lord: the brasie of all these vessels was without weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eigheteen cubites, and a threede of twelue cubites did compasse it, and the thicknesse thereof was foure fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapter of brasie was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was siue cubites with networke, and pomegranates vpon the chapters round about, all brasie: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like vnto these.

23 And there were ninetie and sixe pomegranates on a side: and all the pomegranates vpon the networke were an hundred round about.

24 And the chiefe steward tooke Sheraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 Hee tooke also out of the citie an Eunuch, which had the ouersight of the men of warre, and 1 seuen men that were in the Kings presence, which were found in the citie, and Sopher captain of the hoste, who mustered the people of the land, and threecore men of the people of the land, that were found in the middes of the citie.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the King of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babel smote them, and slewe them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Iudah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

28 ¶ This is the people, whome Nebuchad-nezzar caried away captiue, in the 7 seuenth yere, euen three thousand Iewes, and three and twentie.

29 In the 18 eighteenth yere of Nebuchad-nezzar, he caried away captiue from Ierusalem eigh hundred thirtie and two persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yere of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue of the Iewes seuen hundred forty and siue persons: all the persons were foure thousand and sixe hundred.

31 And in the seuen and thirtieth yere of the captiuitie of Iehoiachin king of Iudah, in the twelfth moneth, in the siue and twentieth day of the moneth, Euil-merodach king of Babel, in the first yere of his reigne, lifted vp the head of Iehoiachin king of Iudah, and brought him out of prison,

32 And spake kindly vnto him, and set his throne aboue the throne of the kings, that were with him in Babel,

33 And changed his prison garments, and hee did continually eate bread before him all the dayes of his life.

Ow doeth the citie remaine solitary that was full of people: she is as a widow: she that was great among the nations, and princeesse among provinces, is made tributarie.

3 Iudah is caried away captiue, because of affliction, and because of great seruitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecuters tooke her in the straits.

4 The wayes of Zion lament, because no man cometh to the solemne feasts, all her gates are desolate: her Priests sigh: her virgins are discomfited, and she is in heavinesse.

5 Her aduersaries are the chiefe, and her enemies prosper: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for the multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beautie is departed: her princes are become

7 Ierusalem remembered the dayes of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things that shee had in times past, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did helpe her: the aduersarie sawe her, and did mocke at her Sabbaths.

8 Ierusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is in derision: all that honoured her despise her, because they haue seene her filthines: yea, she signeth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthinesse is in her skyes: shee remembered not her last end, therefore shee came downe wonderfully: shee had no comforter: O Lorde, behold mine affliction: for the enemy is proud.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hand vpon all her pleasant things: for shee had seene the heathen enter into her Sanctuarie, whom without diddest command, that they should not enter into thy Church.

11 All her people sigh, and seeke their bread: they haue giuen their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soule: see, O Lorde, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue yee no regard, all yee that passe by this way? behold and see, if there bee any sorrow like vnto my sorowe, which is done vnto mee, wherewith the Lorde hath afflicted mee in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From aboue hath hee sent fire into my bones, which prenaileth against them: hee hath spread a net for my feet, and turned mee backe: hee hath made me desolate, and daily in beuaine.

14 The pyoke of my transgressions is bound vpon his hand: they are wrapped, and come vpon my necke: hee hath made my strength to faile: the Lorde hath deliuered me into their hands, neither am I able to rise vp.

15 The Lorde hath troden vnder foot all my valiant men in the middes of mee: hee hath called an assembly against me to destroy my yong men: the Lorde hath troden the winepresse vpon the virgin the daughter of Iudah.

16 For these things I weep: mine eyes, mine eyes casteth out water: because the comforter that should refresh my soule, is farre from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevaileth.

17 Zion stretched out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lorde hath appointed the enemies of Iakob round about him: Ierusalem is as a menstruous woman in the middes of them.

18 The Lorde is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his commandement: heare, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorow: my virgins and my yong men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they deceived me: my Priests and mine Elders perished in the citie, while they sought their meate to refresh their soules.

20 Behold, O Lorde, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heauines: the sword spoileth abroad, as death dooth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, but there is none to comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednes come before thee: doe not thinke as thou hast done vnto me for all my transgressions: for my sighes are many, and mine heart is heavy.

CHAP. II

How hath the Lorde darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath, and hath cast downe from heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Irael, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his wrath.

2 The Lorde hath destroyed all the habitations of Iakob, & not spared: hee hath thrown downe in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Iudah: hee hath cast them downe to the ground: hee hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 Hee hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the borne of Irael: hee hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, & there was kindled in Iakob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 He hath bent his bowe like an aduersarie: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersarie, and slew all that was pleasant to the eye in the Tabernacle of the daughter of Zion, hee powdered out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lorde was as an enemy: hee hath deuoured Irael, and consumed all his palaces: hee hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For hee hath destroyed his Tabernacle, as a garden hee hath destroyed his Congregation: the Lorde hath caused the Festes and Sabbaths to bee forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath, the King and the Priest.

7 The Lorde hath forsaken his altar: hee hath abhorred his Sanctuarie: hee hath giuen into the hand of the enemy the wallies of his palaces: they haue made a noise in the House of the Lorde, as in the day of solemnitie.

8 The Lorde hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: hee stretched out a line: hee hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore hee made the rampart, and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunken to the ground: hee hath destroyed and broken her barres: her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles: the Law is no more, neither can her Prophets receive any vision from the Lorde.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit vpon the ground, and keepe silence: they haue cast vpon their heades: they haue girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Ierusalem hang downe their heades to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liuer is powdered vpon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings swoon in the streetes of the citie.

12 They haue said to their mothers, Where is bread and drinke? when they swooned as the wounded in the streetes of the citie, and when they gaue vp the ghost in their mothers bowels.

15 All that passe by the way, clap their hands at thee: they hisse and wag their head vpon the daughter Ierusalem, saying, Is this the citie that men call, The perfection of beautie, and the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash their teeth, say- ing, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue found, and seene it.

17 * The Lord hath done that which he had purposed: he hath fulfilled his word that he had determined of old time: he hath throwen downe, and not spared: hee hath caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the home of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart * cried vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zion, let teares run downe like a riuer, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry in the night: in the beginning of the watches powre out thine heart like water be- fore the face of the Lord: lift vp thine hands to- ward him for the life of thy yong children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Behold, O Lorde, and consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women eat their fruit, and children of a spanne long? shall the Priest and the Prophet be laine in the Sanctuarie of the Lord?

21 The yong and the olde lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my yong men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slaine them in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed, & not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemne day my [terrors round about, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished and brought vp, hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAP. III.

I Am the man that hath seene a affliction in the rod of his indignation.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into dark- nesse, but not to light.

3 Surely he is turned against me: he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skinne hath he caused to waxe old, and he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath b builded against me, and compas- sed me with gall and labour.

6 He hath set me in darke places, as they that be dead for ever.

7 He hath bedged about me, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chaines heauie.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath d stopped vp my wayes with hew- en stone, and turned away my paths.

10 And I say, I will not pray more earnestly and the ofiner. d And keepeth me in hold as a prisoner.

10 * He was vnto me as a beare lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath stopped my wayes, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 Hee hath bent his bowe, and made mee a marke for the arrow.

13 He caused † the arrowes of his quiver to enter into my reines.

14 I was a derision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitternes, and made me drunken with wormewood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with stones, and hath couered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace: I forgot prosperitie,

18 And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lord, 19 Remembering mine affliction, & my mourn- ing, the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lords mercies that wee are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renewed * every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord is my portion, faith my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them that trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust, and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that he beare the yoke in his youth.

28 He sitteth alone, and keepeth silence, be- cause he hath borne it vpon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust, if there may be hope.

30 Hee giueth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though he send affliction, yet will hee haue compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doeth not punish † willingly, nor afflict the children of men,

34 In stamping vnder his feete all the priso- ners of the earth,

35 In ouerthrowing the right of a man be- fore the face of the most High,

36 In subuerting a man in his cause: the Lord seeth it not.

37 Who is he then that saith, and it commeth to passe, and the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High pro- ceedeth not euill and good?

39 Wherefore then is the liuing man sorow- full? man suffereth for his sinne.

40 Let vs search and trie our wayes, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs life vp * our hearts with our hands vnto God in the heauens.

42 We haue sinned, and haue rebelled, there- fore thou hast not spared.

43 Thou hast couered vs with wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slaine, and not spar- ed.

44 Thou hast couered thy selfe with a cloude, that our prayer should not pass thorow.

e He had no pitie on me.

f Ebr. Iomus.

g With great ang- uish and sorow he hath made me to lose my sense.

h Thus with paine he was driuen to and fro betweene hope and despaire, i as the godly oft times are, yet in the end the Spirit getteth victory.

k He sheweth that God thus vseth to exercise his, to the intent that hereby they may know themselves, l And feeble his mercies.

m Considering the wickednes of man it is maruel that any remaineth a- liue: but onely that God for his own mercies sake n will euer haue his Church to remaine, though they be neuer so few in number,

o We feeble thy benefites daily.

p The godly put their whole con- fidence in God, and therefore looke for none other inheri- tance, as Psal. 16. 5.

q He sheweth that we can neuer begin too timely to be exercised vnder the crosse, that when the afflic- tions grow greater, our patience also by experience may be stronger.

r He murmureth not against God but is patiente.

s He humbleth himselfe as they that fall downe to the ground, and so with patience waiteth for succour.

t He taketh no pleasure in it, but doeth it of neces- sity for our a- mendment, when he suffereth the wicked to op- press the poore.

u With his heart.

v He doeth not delight therein.

w He sheweth that nothing is done without Gods providence.

x That is, aduersi- tie and prosperi- tie.

y Amos 3. 6.

z When God af- flicteth him.

a That is, both hearts and hands for else to lift vp the hands, is but hypocrisie.

45 Thou hast made vs as the ^ascouring and refuse in the mids of the people.

46 All our enemies have opened their mouth against vs.

47 Feare, and a snare is come vpon vs with delolation and destruction.

48 Mine eye casteth out rivers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye droppeth without stay, and ceaseth not.

50 Till the Lord looke downe, and behold from heauen.

51 Mine eye ^x breaketh mine heart because of all the daughters of my citie.

52 Mine enemies chased me sore, like a bird, without cause.

53 They haue shut vp my life ^y in the dungeon, and cast a stone vpon me.

54 Waters flowed ouer mine head, ^z thi thought I, I am destroyed.

55 I called vpon thy Name, O Lord, out of the low dungeon.

56 Thou hast heard my voyce: ^a top not thine eare from my sigh and from my cry.

57 Thou drewest neere in the day that I called vpon thee: thou saidst, Feare not.

58 O Lord, thou hast maintained the cause of my ^b soule, and hast redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou hast seene my wrong, iudge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seene all their vengeance, and all their deuices against me:

61 Thou hast heard their reproch, O Lord, & all their imaginations against me.

62 The lips ^c also of those that rose against me, and their whispering against me continually.

63 Behold, their sitting downe, and their rising vp, ^d how I am their song.

64 Give them a recompense, O Lord, according to the worke of their hands.

65 Giue them ^e *for*ow of heart, even thy curse to them.

66 Persecute with wrath and destroy them from vnder the heauen, O Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

How is the ^a golde become so ^b dimme! the most fine golde is changed, and the stones of the Sanctuary are scattered in the corner of euery streete.

2 The noble men of Zion comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, ^c even the worke of the hands of the potter!

3 Euen the dragons ^d draw out the breasts, and giue sucke to their yong: ^e but the daughter of my people ^f is become cruell like the ^g Ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongue of the sucking childe cleaueth to the roofof his mouth for thirst: the yong children aske bread, ^h but no man breaketh it vnto them.

5 They that did feede delicately, perish in the streetes: they that were brought vp in scarlet, embrace the donique.

6 For the iniquitie of the daughter of my people is become greater then the sinne of Sodome, that was ⁱ destroyed as in a moment, and ^j none pitched camps against her.

7 Her ^k Nazarites were purer then the snow, and whiter then the milke: they were more ruddy in body then the red precious stones: they were like polished saphir.

8 Now their ^l vilage is blacker then a cole: they cannot know them in the streets: their skin cleaueth to their bones: it is withered like a stocke.

9 They that be slaine with the sword, are better then they that are killed with hunger: for they fade away ^m they were stricken thorow for the ⁿ fruits of the field.

10 The hands of the pitifull women haue sodden their owne children, ^o which were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his indignation: he hath powred out his fierce wrath, he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath deuoured the foundation thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world would not haue beleued that the aduersary and the enemy should haue entred into the gates of Ierusalem:

13 For the sinners of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, that haue shed the blood of the iust in the mids of her.

14 They haue wandered ^p as blind men ^q in the streets, and they were polluted with blood, so that they would not touch their garments.

15 ^r But they cryed vnto them, Depart, yee polluted, depart, depart, touch not: therefore they fled away, and wandered: they haue said among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.

16 The ^s anger of the Lord hath scattered them, he will no more regard them: ^t they reuerenced not the face of the Priests, nor had compassion of the Elders.

17 Whiles we waited for our vaine helpe, our eyes failed: for in our waiting we looked for ^u a nation that could not saue vs.

18 They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is neere, our dayes are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecuters are swifter then the eagles of the heauen: they pursued vs ypon the mountaines and laid wait for vs in the wilderness.

20 The ^v breath of our nostrils, the Anointed of the Lord was taken in their nets, of whom we said, Vnder his shadow we shalbe preserved aliuie among the heathen.

21 Reioyce and be glad, ^w O daughter Edom, that dwellest in the land of Vz, the cup also shall passe thorow vnto thee: thou shalt bee drunken ^x and vomit.

22 Thy punishment is accomplished, O daughter Zion: he ^y will no more carie thee away into captivity, ^z but he will visit thine iniquity, O daughter Edom, he will discouer thy finnes.

CHAP. V.

The prayer of Ieremias.

Remember, O Lord, what is become vpon vs: ^a consider, and behold our reproch.

2 Our inheritance is turned to the strangers, our houses to the aliens.

3 We are fatherlesse euen without father, and our mothers are as widowes.

4 We haue drunken our ^b water for money: and wood is sold vnto vs.

5 Our neckes are vnder persecution: we are weary, and haue no rest.

EZEKIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Iehoiachin by the counsell of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yelded himselfe to Nebuchad-nezzar, and so went into captiuitie with his mother and diners of his princes and of the people, certayne beganne to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should be still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof he confirmeth his former prophesies, declaring by new visions and reuelations shewed vnto him, that the cite should most certainly be destroyed, and the people grievously tormented by Gods plagues, in so much that they that remained, should be brought into cruell bondage. And lest the godly should despaire in these great troubles, he assureth them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies, which either afflicted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should be chiefly performed vnder Christ, of whome in this booke are many notable promises, and in whome the glory of the new Temple should perfectly be restored. He prophesied these things in Caldea, at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudah, and there began in the fift yeere of Iehoiachins captiuitie.

were opened, and I sawe visions of GOD.

2 In the fift day of the moneth (which was the fift yeere of king Iehoiachins captiuitie)

3 The word of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the riuer Chebar, where the hand of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a whirlewind came out of the North, a great cloude and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the mids thereof, to wit, in the middes of the fire came out as the likenesse of amber.

5 Also out of the mids thereof came the like-nesse of foure beasts, and this was their forme:
they had the appearance of a man,

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.

7 And their feete were straight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the sole of a calves foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasie.

8 And the hands of a man came out from vnder their wings in the foure parts of them, and 9 Which were the four Cherubims that represented the glory of God, as Chap. 3. 23.

they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were ioyned by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went straight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was as the face of man: and they foure had the face of a lyon on the right side, and they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an Eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out aboue: two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two couered their bodies.

12 And euery one went straight forward: they went whither their spirit led them, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coles of fire, & like the appearance of lampes: for the fire ran among the beasts, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts ranne, and returned like vnto lightning.

15 Now as I beheld the beasts, beholde, a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beasts, hauing foure faces.

16 The fashion of the wheeles & their worke was like vnto a Chrysolite: and they foure had one forme, and their fashion and their worke was as one wheele in another wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also rings, and height, & were fairesull to beholde, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them foure.

29 This was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lorde: and when I saw it, I fell vpon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

CHAP. II.

The Prophet is sent to call the people from their prayer.

And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, stand vp vpon thy feete, and I will speake vnto thee.

3 And the spirit entred into mee, when hee had spoken vnto me, and set me vpon my feete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

4 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me: for they and their fathers haue rebelled against me, euen vnto this very day.

5 But surely they will not heare, neither in dede will they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shall they know that there hath bene a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man, feare them not, neither be afraid of their words, although rebels and thornes be with thee, & thou remainest with scorpions: feare not their words, nor be afraid at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speake my words vnto them, but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeed cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou sonne of man, heate what I say vnto thee: be not thou rebellious, like this rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eate that I giue thee.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, an hand was sent vnto me, and loe, a roule of a booke was therein.

10 And he spred it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, Lamentations and mourning, and woe.

11 He sheweth what were the contents of this booke: to wit, Gods iudgements against the wicked.

CHAP. III.

The Prophet being sent with a word from God, and with the commandment of the Lord, is sent vnto the people, to the end that hee may be a signification. 17 The office of irate ministers.

Moreover he said vnto me, Sonne of man, eat that thou findest: & eate this roule, and goe, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he gaue me this roule to eate.

3 And he said vnto mee, Sonne of man, causethy belly to eate, and fill thy bowels with this roule that I giue thee. Then did I eate, and it was in my mouth as sweet as hony.

4 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, go and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my words.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an vnknown tongue, or of an hard language, but to the house of Israel.

6 Not to many people of an vnknown tongue, or of an hard language, whose words thou canst not vnderstand: yet if I should send thee to them, they should obey thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey mee: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiffe hearted.

8 Beholde, I haue made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder then the flint: feare them not therfore, neither bee afraid at their lookes: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He said moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, receiue in thine heart all my words that I speake vnto thee, and heare them with thine eares.

11 And goe and enter to them that are led away captiues vnto the children of thy people, and speake vnto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God: but surely they will not heare, neither will they indeed cease.

12 Then the spirit tooke me vp, and I heard behinde mee a noise of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the beasts, that touched one another, and the ratling of the wheeles that were by them, euen a noise of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lift me vp, and tooke me away, and I went in bitterness and indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to Tel-abib, that dwell by the riuer Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven dayes.

16 And at the ende of seven dayes, the word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from mee.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, & thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that he may liue, the same wicked man shall die in his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warne the wicked, and he turne not from his wickednesse, nor from his wicked way, hee shall die in his iniquitie, but thou shalt deliuer thy soule.

20 Likewise if a righteous man turne from his righteousness, and commit iniquitie, I will lay a stumbling blocke before him, and hee shall die, because thou hast not giuen him warning: he shall die in his finne, and his righteous deedes, which hee hath done, shall not be remembered: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Neuertheless if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous finne not, and that hee doth not sinne, he shall liue, because he is admonished: also thou shalt deliuer thy soule.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he said vnto me, Arise, and go into the field, and I will there talke with thee.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field, behold, the glory of the Lord stood there, as the glory which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and I fell downe vpon my face.

24 Then the spirit entred into me, which he

He sheweth what is meant by the eating of the booke which is, that the ministers of God may speake nothing as of themselves, but that onely, which they haue receiued of the Lord. Whereby hee signifieth, that Gods glory should not be diminished, although he departed out of his Temple, for this declared, that the citie and Temple should be destroyed.

CHAP. IIIL

1 The beginning of the siege of Ierusalem signified. 2 The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israel. 3 An hunger is prophesied to come.

T Hou also sonne of man, take thee a bricke, and lay it before thee, and pourtray vpon it the citie, ¹ Ierusalem.

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it, set the campe also against it, and lay engines of warre against it round about.

3 Moreouer, take an yron pan, and set it for a wall of yron betwene thee and the citie, and direct thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a signe vnto the house of Israel.

4 Sleepethou also vpon thy left side, and lay the iniquitie of the house of Israel vpon it: according to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon it, thou shalt beare their in-iquitie.

5 For I haue laide vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie according to the number of the dayes, ¹ even three hundredth and ninetie dayes: so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, sleepe againe vpon thy right side, and thou shalt beare the iniquitie of the house of Iudah ² fourtie dayes: I haue appointed thee a day for a yeere, ³ even a day for yeere.

7 Therefore thou shalt direct thy face toward the siege of Ierusalem, and thine arme shall be ⁴ uncovered, and thou shalt prophesie against it.

8 And behold, I will lay bands vpon thee, & thou shalt not turne thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy siege.

9 Thou shalt take also vnto thee wheate, and barley, and beanes, and lentiles, and miller, and fitches, and put them in one vessell, and make thee bread thereof according to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon thy side: ⁵ even three hundredth and ninetie dayes shalt thou eat thereof.

10 And the meate, whereof thou shalt eat shall be by weight, ⁶ even ⁷ ewentic shekels a day: and from time to time shalt thou eat thereof.

11 Thou shalt drinke also water by measure,
⁸ even the fixt part of an Hin: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in the dongue that commeth out of man, in their sight.

13 And the Lord said, So shal the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Then said I, Ah, Lorde God, beholde, my soule hath not bene polluted: for from my youth vp, euen vnto this houre. I haue not eaten of a thing dead, or torne in pieces, neither came there any vncleane flesh in my mouth.

15 Then he sayde vnto me, Lo, I haue giuen thee bullockes = dongue for mans dongue, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreouer, he said vnto me, Sonnes of man, behold, I will breake the staffe of bread in Ieru-salem, & they shall eat bread by waight, and with care, and they shall drinke water by measure, and with astonishment.

17 Because that bread and water shall fayle, they shall be astonied one with another, and shall consume away for their iniquitie.

CHAP. V.

The signe of the heaues, whereby is signified the destruction of the people.

And thou sonne of man, take thee a sharpe knife, or take thee a barbowes rasor, and cause it to passe vpon thine head, and vpon thy beard:
then take thee ballances to weigh, and diuide the haire.

2 Thou shalt burne with fire the third part in the mids of the city, when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other third part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the winde, and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and binde them in thy lappe.

4 Then take of them againe and cast them into the mids of the fire, & burne them in the fire:
for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, This is Ieru-salem: I haue set it in the mids of the nations and countreys, that are round about her.

6 And she hath changed my iudgments into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreys, that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements, and my statutes, and they haue not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because your multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and yet haue not walked in my statutes, neither haue yet kept my iudgements: no, ye haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold,
I euen I come against thee, and will execute iudgment in the mids of thee, ¹ even in the sight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that I neuer did before, neither will I doe any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the mids of thee, the fathers shall eat their sonnes, and the sonnes shall eat their fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the windes.

CHAP. VI.

Hee sheweth that Ierusalem shall bee destroyed for their idolatrie, & that the people shall be brought to the yoke of the king of the Babylonians, and their deliverance.

Againe the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, Set thy face towards the mountaines of Israel, and prophesie against them,

3 And say, Ye mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God: thus sayth the Lord God, to the mountaines and to the hills, to the riuers: and to the valleys, Beholde, I, euen I will bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroy your hie places.

4 And your altars shall be defolate, and your images of the Sunne shall be broken: and I will cast downe your slaine men before your idoles.

5 And I will lay the dead carcases of the children of Israel before their idols, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be defolate, and the hie places shall be laid waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and defolate, and your idoles shall be broken and cease, and your images of the Sunne shall be cut in pieces, and your workes shall be abolished.

7 And the slaine shall fall in the mids of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant, that you may haue some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shall remember me among the nations, where they shall be in captiuitie, because I am grieved for their whorish hearts, which haue departed from mee, and for their eyes, which haue gone awhoring after their idoles, and they shall be displeased in themselves for the euils which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the Lord, and that I haue not said in vaine, that I would do this euill vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, I will smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foot, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 Hee that is farre off, shall die of the pestilence, and he that is neere, shall fall by the sword, and hee that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then shall ye know, that I am the Lord, when their slaine men shall be among their idoles round about their altars, vpon euery hie hill in all the tops of the mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oke, which is the place where they did offer sweete sauer to all their idoles.

14 So will I stretch mine hand vpon them, and make the land waste and defolate from the wilderness vnto Diblath in all their habitations, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

The end of all the Land of Israel shall suddenly come.

Moreover the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Also thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, An ende is come vnto the land of Israel: the end is come vpon the foure cornes of the land.

3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I will send my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pitie: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abomination shall bee in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, one euill, euen one euill is come.

6 An ende is come, the ende is come, it is watched for thee, behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come vnto thee, that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neere, and not the founding againe of the mountaines.

8 Now I will shortly powre out my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pity, but I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Beholde, the day, beholde, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the rod flourisheth: pride hath budded.

11 Cruelty is risen vp into a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there bee lamentation for them.

HE cried also with a loud voice in mine eares, saying, The visitations of * the citie drawe neere, and every man hath a weapon in his hand to destroy it.

² And behold, fixe ¹ men came by the way of the hie gate, which lieth toward the ^c North, and every man a weapon in his hand to destroy it: and one man among them was clothed with linnen, with a writers ynkehorne by his side, and they went in and stood beside the brazen altar.

⁵ And to the other he said, that I might heare, Goe ye after him through the citie, and smite: let your eye spare none, neither haue pitie.

⁷ And he said vnto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slaine, then goe forth: and they went out and slew them in the citie.

⁹ Then said he vnto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel, and Iudah is exceeding great, so that the land is ^h full of blood, and the citie full of corrupt iudgement: for they say, The Lorde hath forsaken the earth, & the Lord seeth vs not.

¹⁰ As touching mee also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pitie, but will recompence their wayes vpon their heads.

¹¹ And behold, the man clothed with linnen which had the ynkehorne by his side, made report, and said, Lord, I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

¹ Of the man that tooke hore burning coales out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims. ² A rehearsal of the wisdom of the wheeles, of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

And as I looked, beholde, in the ^a firmament that was aboute the head of the ^a Cherubims there appeared vpon them like vnto the similitude of a throne, as it were a saphir stone.

² And hee spake vnto the man clothed with linnen, and said, Goe in betweene the wheeles, even vnder the Cherub, and fill thine hands with coales of fire from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer ^b the citie. And hee went in in my sight.

³ Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloude filled the inner court.

⁴ Then the glory of the Lord ^c went vp from the Cherub, and floods ouer the doore of the house, and the house was filled with the cloude, and the court was filled with the brightnesse of the Lords glory.

⁵ And the ^d sound of the Cherubims wings was heard into the vtter court, as the voyce of the Almighty God, when he speaketh.

⁷ And one Cherub stretched forth his hand from betweene the Cherubims vnto the fire that was betweene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and put it into the handes of him that was clothed with linnen: who tooke it and went out.

⁸ And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likenesse of a mans hand vnder their wings.

⁹ And when I looked vp, beholde, foure wheeles were beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another wheele by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheeles was as the colour of a ^e Chrysolite stone.

¹⁰ And their appearance (for they were all foure of one facion) was as if one wheele had bene in another wheele.

¹¹ When they went soorth, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they ^f turned not as they went.

¹² And their whole body, and their ^{||} rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheeles were full of eyes round about, even in the same foure wheeles.

¹³ And the Cherub cryed to these wheeles in mine hearing, saying, O wheele.

¹⁵ And the Cherubims were lifted vp: ^g this is the beast that I saw at the riuer Chebar. ^h Chap. 1. 9.

¹⁶ And when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the same wheeles also turned not from beside them.

¹⁷ When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lifted vp, they lifted themselves vp also: for the ⁱ spirit of the beast was in them.

¹⁸ Then the glorie of the Lord departed from aboue the doore of the house, and stood vpon the Cherubims.

¹⁹ And the Cherubims lift vp their wings and mounted vp from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheeles also were besides them: and every one stode at the entrie of the gate of the Lords House at the East side, and the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.

²⁰ This is the ⁱ beast that I saw vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I knew that they were the Cherubims.

²¹ Euery one had foure faces, and euery one foure wings, and the likenesse of mans hands was vnder their wings.

²² And the likenesse of their faces was the selfe same faces, which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and the appearance of the Cherubims was the selfe same, and they went euery one straight forward.

² Who they were that seduced the peop^e of Israel, & Against these be prophesied, shewing them how they shall be dispersed abroad. 19 The turning of the hearts cometh of God. 21 He breakech them that leane vnto their owne counsels.

Moreouer, the Spirit lift me vp, and brought me vnto the East gate of the Lordes house, which lyeth Eastward, & behold, at the entrie of the gate were five & twentie men: among whome I saw Iazaniah the sonne of Azur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Beniah, the princes of the people.

2 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and deuise wicked counsell in this citie.

3 For they say, ^a It is not neere, let vs builde houses: this citie is the ^b caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore prophesie against them, sonne of man, prophesie.

5 And the Spirit of the Lord fel vpon me, and sayde vnto me, Speake, Thus saith the Lorde, O ye house of Israel, this haue ye said, and I know that which riseth vp of your mindes.

6 Many haue ye murdered in this citie, and ye haue filled the streetes thereof with the slaine.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, They that ye haue slaine, and haue laid in the middes of it, they are the flesh, and this citie is the caldron, but I will bring you forth of the middes of it.

8 Ye haue feared the sword, and I will bring a sword vpon you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I will bring you out of the middes thereof, and deliuer you into ^d the handes of strangers, and will execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, and I will iudge you in the border of ^e Israel, & ye shall know that I am the Lord.

11 This citie shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the middes thereof, but I will iudge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall know that I am the Lord: for ye haue not walked in my statutes, neither executed my iudgements, but haue done after the manners of the heathen, that are round about you.

13 ¶ And when I prophesied, Pelatiah the sonne of ^f Beniah died: then fell I downe vpon my face, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayd, Ah Lorde God, wilt thou then vtterly destroy all the remanent of Israel?

14 Again the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

15 Sonne of man, thy ^g brethren, euen thy brethren, the men of thy kinred, and all the house of Israel, wholy are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Ierusalem haue said, Depart ye farre from the Lord: for the land is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lorde God, Although I haue cast them farre off among the heathen, and although I haue scattered them among the countreis, yet wil I be to them as a litle ^h Sanctuary in the countreis where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you againe from the people, & assemble you out of the countreies where ye haue bin scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the idoles thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 ¶ And I will giue them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within their bowels: & I will take the ⁱ stonie heart out of their bodies, and will giue them an heart of flesh,

20 That they may walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements, and execute them: & they shall be my people, and I wil be their God.

21 But vpon them, whose heart is toward their idoles, and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way vpon their owne heads, saith the Lord God.

22 ¶ Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheelles besides them, & the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.

23 And the glory of the Lord went vp fro the middes of the citie, and stood vpon the mountaine which is toward the East side of the citie.

24 Afterwarde the Spirit tooke mee vp, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God vnto Caldea to them that were ledde away captiues: so the vision that I had seene, went vp from me.

25 Then I declared vnto them that were ^k led away captiues, all the things that the Lorde had shewed me.

CHAP. XII.

¹ The parable of the captiuitie. 18 Another parable whereby the distresse of hunger and thirst is signified.

The wordes of the Lorde also came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, thou dwellest in the middes of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and see not: they haue eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, ^l prepare thy stuffe to goe into captiuitie, and goe forth by day in their sight: and thou shalt passe from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuffe by day in their sight as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuitie: and thou shalt go forth at euen in their sight, as they that goe forth into captiuitie.

5 Digge thou through the wall in their sight, and cary out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare it vpon thy shoulders, & cary it forth in the darke: thou shalt couer thy face that thou see not the earth: for I haue set thee as a ^m signe vnto the house of Israel.

7 And as I was comanded, so I brought forth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: & by night I digged through the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in the darke, & I bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the wordes of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said vnto thee, What ⁿ dost thou?

10 But say thou vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, This ^o burden concerneth the chiefe in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shall it be done vnto them: they shall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

^b That as thou doest, so shall they doe: and therefore in thee they shall see their owne plague and punishment.

^c Doe not they deride thy doings?

^o For prophesie.

^a Thus the wicked derided the Prophets, as though they preached but errors, and therefore gaue themselves still to their pleasures. ^b We shall not be pulled out of Ierusalem, till the houre of our death come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldron till it be foddre. ^c Contrary to their vaine confidence he sheweth in what sense this citie is the caldron: that is, because of the dead bodies that haue bene murdered therein, and so lie as flesh in the caldron. ^d That is, of the Caldeans. ^e That is, in Riblah, reade 2. King. 25. 6.

It seemeth that this noble man died of some terrible death, and therefore the Prophet feared some strange iudgement of God towards the rest of the people.

^g They that remained still at Ierusalem thus reproched them that were gone into captiuitie, as though they were cast off and forsaken of God. ^h They shall be yet a litle Church: shewing that the Lord will euer haue some to call vpon his Name, whom hee will preserve and restore, though they be for a time afflicted.

goe forth: they shall digge through the wall, to carie out thereby: he shall couer his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

d When the king shall thinke to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net, as Chap. 27. 10. and 37. 3.

13 My net also will I spread vpon him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel to the land of the Caldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will scatter toward euery winde all that are about him to helpe him, and all his garisons, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

e Which should beare his Name, and should be his Church, reade Chap. 11. 16.

16 But I will leaue a litle number of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathen, where they come, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eate thy bread with trembling, and drinke thy water with trouble, and with carefulnesse,

19 And say vnto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eate their bread with carefulnesse, and drinke their water with defolation: for the land shall be defolate from her abundance because of the crueltie of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall bee left void, and the land shall be defolate, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

21 ¶ And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that prouerbe that ye haue in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes are prolonged, and all visions || faile?

f Because they did not immediately see the prophecies accomplished, they contemned them as though they should neuer be fulfilled. Or, take none effect.

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of euery vision.

24 For no vision shall be any more in vaine, neither shall there bee any flattering diuination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speake, and that thing that I shall speake, shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, wil I say the thing, and will performe it, saith the Lord God.

26 Again the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

27 Sonne of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth, is for many dayes to come, and hee prophecieth of the times that are farre off.

g That is, it shall not come to passe in our dayes, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked euer abuse Gods patience and benignitie.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, All my wordes shall no longer be delayed, but that thing which I haue spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord God.

a The worde of the Lord against false prophess, which teach the people the counsells of their owne hearts.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

* Chap. 14. 9. a After their owne fantasie, and not as hauing the reuelation of the Lord, Iere. 23. 16.

2 Sonne of man, prophecie against the prophets of Israel, that prophecie, and say thou vnto them, that prophecie out of their owne hearts, Heare the word of the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe vnto the foolish Prophets that follow their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes in the waste places.

5 Yee haue not risen vp in the gaps, neither made vp the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanitie, and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they haue made others to hope that they would confirme the word of their prophesie.

7 Haue yee not seene a vaine vision? and haue ye not spoken a lying diuination? yee say, The Lord saith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because yee haue spoken vanitie and haue seene lies, therefore behold, I am against you, sayeth the Lord God,

9 And mine hand shall be vpon the Prophets that see vanitie, and diuine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel: neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceived my people, saying, Peace, & there was no peace: and one built vp a wall, and behold, the others daubed it with vntempered mortar,

11 Say vnto them which daube it with vntempered mortar, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great showre, and I will send hailestones, which shall cause it to fall, and a stormie winde shall breake it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said vnto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will cause a stormie winde to breake forth in my wrath, and a great showre shall be in mine anger, and hailestones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I will destroy the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempered mortar, and bring it downe to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discouered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the mids thereof, and ye shall know, that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered mortar, and will say vnto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof,

16 To wit, the Prophets of Israel, which prophesie vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesie out of their owne heart: and prophesie thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe vnto the women that sowe pillows vnder all arme holes, and make vailles vpon the head of euery one that standeth vp, to hunt soules: wil ye hunt the soules of my people, and will ye giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley, & for pieces of bread to slay the soules of them that should not die, and to giue life to the soules that should not liue, in lying to my people, that heare your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God. Behold, I will haue to doe with your pillows, where-with b Watching to destroy the vineyard.

c He speaketh to the gouernours and true ministers that should haue refuted them.

d Ye promised peace to this people, and now ye see their destruction, so that it is manifest, that ye are false prophets.

e That is, in the booke of life, wherein the true Israelites are written.

f Reade Ier. 6. 14. g Whereas the true Prophets prophesied the destruction of the city to bring the people to repentance, the false prophets spake the contrary, and flattered them in their vanities, so that what one false prophet sayd (which is here called the building of the wall) another false prophet would as firme, though he had neither occasion nor good ground to beare him.

h Whereby is meant whatsoever man of himselfe setteth forth vnder the authority of Gods word.

i These superstitious women for lucre would prophesie and tell euery man his fortune, giuing them pillowes to leane vpon, & kerchiefs to couer their heads, so the intent they might the more allure them and bewitch them.

k Will ye make my word to serue your bellies?

l These foucerers made the people beleue that they could preterue life or destroy it, and that it should come to euery one according as they prophesied.

^a That is, so cause them to perish, and that they should depart from the body.

with ye hunt the ^m soules to make them to flie, and I will teare them from your armes, and will let the soules goe, ^{euen} the soules, that ye hunt to makethem to flie.

21 Your vailes also will I teare, and deliuer my people out of your hand, and they shall bee no more in your hands to be hunted, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with ^{your} lies yee haue made the heart of the ⁿ righteous sadde, whom I haue not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not returne from his wicked way, by promising him life,

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanitie, nor diuine diuinations: for I will deliuer my people out of your hand, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

4 The Lord sendeth false Prophets for the ingratitude of the people. 22 Here serueth a small portion for his Church.

Then came certaine of the Elders of Israel vnto me, and ^a saie before me.

2 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idoles in their ^b heart, and put the stumbling blocke of their iniquitie before their face: should I, being required, answer them?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Every man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the ^c Prophet, I the Lord will answer him that commeth, according to the multitude ^d of his idoles:

5 That ^e I may take the house of Israel in their owne heart, because they are all departed from me through their idoles.

6 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Returne, and withdraw your selues, and turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For euery one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from mee, and setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to a Prophet, for to inquire of him for me, I the Lord will answer him ^{||} for my selfe,

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him an example and prouerbe, and I will cut him off from the mids of my people, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the Prophet be ^f deceived, when he hath spoken a thing, I the Lord haue deceived that Prophet, and I will stretch out mine hand vpon him, and will destroy him from the mids of my people of Israel.

10 And they shall beare their punishment: the punishment of the Prophet shall bee euen as the punishment of him that asketh,

11 That the house of Israel may go no more astray from mee, neither bee polluted any more with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, and I may bee their God, saith the Lord God.

12 ¶ The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

13 Sonne of man, when ^g I land sinne against me by committing a trespasse, then will I stretch out mine hand vpon it, ^h & will breake the staffe of the bread thereof, and will send famine vpon it, and I will destroy man and beast forth of it.

14 Though these three men, ⁱ Noah, Daniel, and Iob were among them, they should deliuer ^{but} their owne soules by their ^k righteousness, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noysome beastes into the land and they spoile it, so that it bee desolate, that no man may passe through, because of beasts,

16 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall saue neither sonnes nor daughters: they onely shall be deliuered, but the land shall be waste.

17 Or if I bring a sword vpon this land, and say, Sword, go through the land, so that I destroy man and beast out of it,

18 Though these three men were in the mids thereof, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but they onely shall be deliuered themselves.

19 Or if I send a pestilence into this land, and powre out my wrath vpon it in blood, to destroy out of it man and beast,

20 And though Noah, Daniel and Iob were in the mids of it, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonne nor daughter: they shall ^{but} deliuer their owne soules by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, How much more when I send my ^l foure sore iudgements vpon Ierusalem, ^{euen} the sword, and famine, and the noysome beast, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it?

22 Yet behold, therein shall be left a ^m remnant of them that shall be caried away ^{both} sonnes and daughters: behold, they shall come forth vnto you, and ye shall see their way, and their enterprises: and yee shall be comforted, concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, ^{euen} concerning all that I haue brought vpon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when ye see their way & their enterprises: and ye shall know, that I haue not done without cause all that I haue done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

As the unprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so Ierusalem shall be burnt.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree aboue all ⁿ other trees? and of the vine branch, which is among the ^o trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood bee taken thereof to doe any worke? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessell thereon?

4 Behold, it is cast in the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both the endes of it, and the mids of it is burnt. Is it meete for ^p any worke?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meete for no worke: how much lesse shall it bee meete for any worke, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As the vine tree, ^q that is among the trees of the Forrest, which I haue giuen to the fire to be consumed, so will I giue the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them: they shall goe out from ^r one ^s fire, and ^t another fire shall consume them: and ye shall know, that I am the Lord,

Aaine, the word of the Lord came vnto mee,
saying,

2 Sonne of man, cause Ierusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Ierusalem, Thine habitation and thy kined is of the land of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy natiuitie when thou wast born, thy nauell was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to soften thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor swaddled in cloutes.

5 None eye pitied thee to doe any of these vnto thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open field to the contempt of thy person in the day that thou wast borne.

6 And when I passed by thee, I sawe thee polluted in thine owne blood, and I said vnto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt liue: euen when thou wast in thy blood, I said vnto thee, Thou shalt liue.

7 I haue caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, thine haire is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked vpon thee, behold, thy time was as the time of loue, and I spread my skirts ouer thee, and covered thy filthines: yea, I sware vnto thee, and entered into a couenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water: yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee also with broyered worke, and shod thee with badgers skin, and I girded thee about with fine linnen, & I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets vpon thine hands, and a chaine on thy necke.

12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earerings in thine eares, and a beautifull crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou deckt with gold and siluer, and thy rayment was of fine linnen, and silke, and broyered worke: thou didst eate fine flour, and hony and oyle, and thou wast very beautifull, and thou diddest grow vp into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was spread among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfite through my beauty which I had set vpon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Now thou didst trust in thine owne beautie, and playedst the harlot, because of thy renowne, and hast powred out thy fornications on euery one that passed by, thy desire was to him.

16 And thou didst take thy garments, & deckedst thine hie places with diuers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither hath any done so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy faire iewels made of my gold and of my siluer, which I had giuen thee, and madest to thy selfe iniages of men, and diddest commit whoredome with them,

18 And tookest thy broyered garments, and coueredst them: and thou hast set mine oyle and my perfume before them.

19 My meate also, which I gaue thee, as fine flour, oyle and hony, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast euen set it before them for a sweet saour: thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Moreouer thou hast taken thy sonnes and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne vnto me, and these hast thou sacrificed vnto them, to bee deuoured: is this thy whoredome a small matter?

21 That thou hast slaine my children, and deliuered them to cause them to passe through fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and whoredomes thou hast not remembered the dayes of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside all thy wickednes (wo, wo vnto thee, saith the Lord God)

24 Thou hast also built vnto thee an hie place, and hast made thee an hie place in euery street.

25 Thou hast built thine hie place at euery corner of the way, and hast madethy beauty to be abhorred: thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, which haue great members, and hast increased thy whoredome, to prouoke me.

27 Beholde, therefore I did stretch out mine hand ouer thee, and will diminish thine ordinance, and deliuer thee vnto the will of them that hate thee, euen to the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast insatiable: yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreouer multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan vnto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weake is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, euen the worke of a presumptuous whorish woman?

31 In that thou buildest thine hie place in the corner of euery way, and makest thine hie place in euery street, and hast not bene as an harlot that despiseth a reward,

32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh others for her husband:

33 They giue gifts to all other whores, but thou giuest gifts vnto all thy louers, and rewardest them that they may come vnto thee oneuery side for thy fornication.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornication shall be after thee: for in that thou giuest a reward, and no reward is giuen vnto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, heare the worde of the Lord.

36 Thus sayth the Lord God, Because thy shame was powred out, and thy filthinesse discovered through thy fornications with thy louers, c Being thus in thy filthinesse and forsaken of all men, I tooke thee & gaue thee life: whereby is meant that before God with his Church, and giue life, there is nothing but filthines and death.

d These words, as blood, pollution, nakednes, & filthines are oftentimes repeated to beate downe their pride, and to cause them to consider what they were before God receiued them to mercy, fauoured them and covered their shame.

and with all the idoles of thine abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou diddest offer vnto them,

Egyptians, Assyrians, and Caldeans, whom thou tookest to be thy lovers, shall come and destroy thee, Chap. 13. 9.

I will iudge thee to death, as the adulterers and murderers,

37 Behold, therefore I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loued, with all them that thou hast hated: I will euen gather them round about against thee, and will discouer thy filthines vnto them, that they may see all thy filthinesse.

38 And I will iudge thee after the manner of them that are harlots; and of them that shed blood, and I will giue thee the blood of wrath, and ielousie.

39 I will also giue thee into their hands, and they shall destroy thine hie place, and shall breake downe thine hie places: they shall strip thee also out of thy clothes, and shall take thy faire iewels, and leaue thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring vp a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

 3. Reg. 23. 9.*

41 And they shall burne vp thine houses with fire, and execute iudgments vpon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt giue no reward any more.

I will vterly destroy thee and so my ielousie shall cease.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my ielousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease and be no more angry.

I have punished thy faults, but thou wouldst not repent.

43 Because thou hast not remembred the daies of thy youth, but hast prouoked me with all these things, behold, therefore I also haue brought thy way vpon thy head, faith the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

As were the Canaanites, and the Hittites & others your predecessors, so are you their successors. y That is, of Samaria and Sodom.

44 Behold, all that vse proverbs, shall vse this prouerbe against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forsooke their husbands and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

That is, her cities. y Ebr. thy sister younger then thou. a But done farre worse.

46 And thy elder sister is Samaria, and her daughters, that dwell at thy left hand, and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom, and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou a not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but as it had bene a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more then they in all thy wayes.

48 As I liue, faith the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, neither she nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

b He alledgeth these foure vices, pride, exesse, idlenesse & contempt of the poore, as foure principall causes of such abomination, wherefore they were so horribly punished Gene. 19. 24. c Which worshipped the calves in Bethel and Dan. d Thou art so wicked, that in reuenge of thee Sodom and Samaria were iust.

49 Behold, this was the iniquitie of thy sister Sodom, Pride, fulnesse of bread & abundance of idleness was in her, & in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poore and needy.

50 But they were haughtie, and committed abomination before me; therefore I tooke them away, as pleased me.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed halfe of thy sinnes, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast iustified thy sisters in all thine abominations, which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast iustified thy sisters, beare thine owne shame for thy sinnes, that thou hast committed more abominable then they which are more righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy shame, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters,

53 Therefore I will bring againe their captivity, with the captivity of Sodom, and her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria, and her daughters, euen the captiuitie of thy captiues in the middes of them,

54 That thou mayest beare thine owne shame and mayest bee confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall returne to their former state: Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, & when thou and thy daughters shalt returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride, 57 Before thy wickednes was discouered, as in that same time of the reproch of the daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistims round about her which despise thee on all sides.

58 Thou hast borne therefore thy wickednesse and thine abominations, faith the Lord.

59 For thus faith the Lord God, I might euen deale with thee, as thou hast done: when thou diddest despise the oath, in breaking the couenant.

60 Neuertheless, I will remember my couenant made with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will confirme vnto thee an eueralting Couenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receiue thy sisters, both thy elder & thy younger, and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy couenant.

62 And I will establish my couenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord, 63 That thou mayest remember, and be ashamed, & neuer open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou hast done, faith the Lord.

The parable of the two Eagles.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, put forth a parable and speak a prouerbe vnto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus faith the Lord God, The great eagle with great wings, and long wings, and full of fethers, which had diuers colours, came vnto Lebanon, and took the highest branch off cedar,

4 And brake off the toppe of his twigge, and carried it into the land of Merchants, and set it in a citie of merchants.

5 He tooke also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitfull ground: hee placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded vp, and was like a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the roots thereof were vnder it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers, and behold, this vine did turne her roots toward it, and spread forth her branches toward it, that shee might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soyle by great waters, that it should bring forth branches, and beare

h Shall not Nebuchad-nazzar destroy it?

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God, Shall it prosper? shall he not pull vp the roots thereof, and destroy the fruit thereof, and cause them to drie? all the leaues of her bud shall wither without great power, or many people, to plucke it vp by the roots thereof.

i By this dry wind hee meaneth the Babylonians.

k That is, Ieroniah, 2. King. 24. 15.

11 Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

l For his subiection & obedience.

12 Say now to this rebellious house, Know ye not what these things meane? tell them, Behold, the king of Babel is come to Ierusalem, and hath taken k the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babel,

13 And hath taken one of the Kings seed, and made a couenant with him, and hath taken an oath of him: hee hath also taken the princes of the land,

14 That the kingdom might be in subiection, and not lift it selfe vp, but keepe their couenant, and stand to it.

15 But hee rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses, and much people: shall hee prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he breake the couenant, and be deliuered?

16 As I liue, saith the Lord God, he shall die in the mids of Babel, in the place of the king that had made him king, whose oath hee despised, and whose couenant made with him, he breake.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty host, and great multitude of people, maintaine him in the warre, when they haue cast vp mounts, and builded ramparts to destroy many persons.

m Because hee tooke the Name of God in vaine, and brake his oath which he had confirmed by giuing his hand: therefore the Prophet declareth that God would not suffer such perurie and infidelity to escape punishment. * Chap. 12. 13. and 23. 3.

18 For he hath despised the oath, and broken the couenant (yet loe, he had giuen m his hand) because he hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, As I liue, I wil surely bring mine oath that he hath despised, and my couenant that he hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 * And I wil spread my net vpon him, & hee shall be taken in my net, and I wil bring him to Babel, & wil enter into iudgment with him there for his trespass that he hath committed against me.

21 And all that flee from him with all his host, shall fall by the sword, and they that remaine shall be scattered toward all the windes: and yee shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

n This promise is made to g Church which shall be as a small remnant, & as the top of a tree. o I will trim it, and dreffe it. p Both the Iewes & Gentiles shall be gathered into it. q All the world shall know that I haue plucked down the proud enemies & set vp my church which was low and contemned.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take off the top n of his high cedar, and will set it, and cut off the o top of the tender plant thereof, and I will plant it vpon an high mountaine and great.

23 Even in the high mountaine of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and beare fruit, and be an excellent cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all birds, and euery p fowle shall dwell in the shadow of the branches thereof.

24 And all the q trees of the field shall know that I the Lord haue brought down the high tree, and exalted the low tree: that I haue dried vp the greene tree, and made the drie tree to flourish: I the Lord haue spoken it, and haue done it.

The word of the Lord came vnto mee againe, saying,

2 What meane ye that yee speake this prouerb concerning the land of Israel, saying, * The fathers haue eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As I liue, saith the Lord God, yee shall vse this prouerbe no more in Israel.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned vnto him, but in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall liue.

23 Haue I any desire that the wicked should die, saith the Lord God? or shall hee not liue, if he returne from his wayes?

24 But if the righteous turne away from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and do according to all the abominations that the wicked man doth, shall he liue? all his righteousness that he hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression that he hath committed, and in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

27 Again, when the wicked turneth away from his wickednes that he hath committed, and doth that which is lawfull and right, he shall haue his soule aliuie.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely liue, and shall not die.

29 Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my wayes equal? or are not your wayes vnequall?

30 Therefore I will iudge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his wayes, saith the Lord God: returne therefore, and cause others to turne away from all your transgressions: so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye haue transgressed, & make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

32 For I desire not the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: cause therefore one another to returne, and liue ye.

3 And she brought vp one of her whelps, and it became a lion, and it learned to catch the pray, and it deuoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him, and hee was taken in their nets, and they brought him in chaines vnto the land of Egypt.

5 Now when shee saw that shee had waied, and her hope was lost, shee tooke another of her whelps, and made him a lion,

6 Which went among the lions, and became a lion, and learned to catch the pray, and hee deuoured men.

7 And he knew their widowes, and he destroyed their cities, and the land was wasted, and all that was therein by the noyse of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on euery side of the countreyes, and layed their nets for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in prison and in chaines, and brought him to the king of Babel, and they put him in holds, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

10 Thy mother is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: shee brought forth fruit, and branches by the abundant waters,

11 And she had strong rods for the scepters of them that beare rule, and her stature was exalted among the branches, and shee appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked vp in wrath: she was cast downe to the ground, and the East winde dried vp her fruite: her branches were broken and withered: as for the rod of her strength, the fire consumed it.

13 And now shee is planted in the wilderness in a drie and thirly ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath deuoured her fruit, so that shee hath no strong rod to be a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

1 The Lord denieth that he will answer them when they pray, because of their unkindnesse. 22 He promisseth that his people shall returne from captiuitie. 46 By the forest that should be burnt, is signified the burning of Ierusalem.

And in the seventh yeere, in the fift moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, came certaine of the Elders of Israel to enquire of the Lord, and saue before me.

3 Sonne of man, speake vnto the Elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I liue, saith the Lord God, when I am asked, I will not answer you.

4 Wilt thou iudge them sonne of man? wilt thou iudge them? cause them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers,

7 Then said I vnto them, Let euery man cast away the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not heare me: for none cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, and in whose sight I made my selfe known vnto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

k Meaning that they set their desire upon them.
l Because they would not obey my lawes, I gave them vp to themselves, that they should obey their owne fantasies, as verse 39. Rom. 1. 21. 24.
m I condemned those things, and counted them as abominable which they thought had beene excellent, and to haue declared most zeale, Luk. 16. 15. for that which God required, as most excellent, that gaue they to their idoles.
n Not onely in the wilderness, when I brought them out of Egypt, but since I placed them in this land: which declareth how prompt mans heart is to idolatry, seeing that by no admonitions he can be drawn backe.

10 Now I caried them out of the lande of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gaue them my statutes, and declared my iudgements vnto them, * which if a man doe, he shall liue in them.

12 Moreover I gaue them also my * Sabbaths to bee a signe betwene mee and them, that they might knowe that I am the Lorde, that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, & they cast away my iudgements, which if a man doe, he shall liue in them, and my Sabbaths haue they greatly polluted: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them * in the wilderness to consume them,

14 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not bee polluted before the heathen in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheless, I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wilderness that I would not bring them into the land, which I had giuen them, flowing with milke and honie, which was pleasant aboue all lands,

16 Because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue polluted my Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idoles.

17 Neuertheless, mine eye spared them, that I would not destroy them, neither would I consume them in the wilderness.

18 But I said vnto their children in the wilderness, Walke ye not in the ordinances of your fathers, neither obserue their maners, nor defile your selues with their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God: walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements and do them,

20 And sanctifie my Sabbaths, and they shall bee a signe betwene me and you, that ye may knowe that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, nor kept my iudgements to doe them, which if a man doe, hee shall liue in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, and to accomplish my wrath against them in the wilderness.

22 Neuertheless, I withdrew mine hand and had respect vnto my Name, that it should not bee polluted before the Heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lift vp mine hande vnto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries

24 Because they had not executed my iudgements, but had cast away my statutes, and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I gaue them also statutes that were not good, and iudgements, wherein they should liue.

26 And I polluted them in their owne gifts in that they caused to passe by the fire all that first openeth the wombe, that I might destroy them, to the end that they might knowe that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore, sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Yet in this your fathers haue blasphemed me, though they had before grievously transgressed against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to them, then they saw euery high hill, and all the thicke trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of prouocation: there also they made their sweet sauiour, and powred out there their drinke offerings.

29 Then I saide vnto them, What is the high place whereunto ye goe? And the name thereof was called Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore, say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye not polluted after the maner of your fathers? and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when you offer your gifts, and make your sonnes to passe through the fire, you pollute your selues with all your idols vnto this day: shall I answer you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue, saith the Lord God, I will not answer you when I am asked.

32 Neither shall that bee done that commeth into your mind: for ye say, we will be as the heathen, and as the families of the countreyes, and serue wood, and stone.

33 As I liue, saith the Lord God, I will surely rule you with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out, 34 And will bring you from the people, & will gather you out of the countreyes, wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath powred out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord God.

37 And I will cause you to passe vnder the rod, and will bring you into the bond of the covenant

38 And I will chuse out from among you the rebels, & them that transgresse against me: I will bring them out of the land where they dwell, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, Go ye you, and serue every one his idole, seeing that ye will not obey me, and pollute mine holy Name no more with your gifts and with your idoles.

40 For in mine holy mountaine, euen in the high mountaine of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, and all the land serue me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweet sauiour, when I bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countries, wherein ye haue bene scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land, for the which I lifted vp mine hand to giue it to your fathers.

43 And there shall ye remember your wayes, and all your works, wherein ye haue bin defiled, and ye shall iudge your selues worthy to bee cut off, for all your euils that ye haue committed.

44 And ye shall knowe, that I am the Lord, when I haue respect vnto you for my Names sake, and not after your wicked wayes nor according to your corrupt workes, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

45 ¶ Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

46 Sonne of man, set thy face toward the way of Teman, and drop thy word toward the South, and prophesie toward the forest of the field of the South,

47 And say to the forest of the South, Heare the word of the Lord, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, & it shall deuoure all the greene wood in thee, & all the dry wood: the continuall flame shall not be quenched, and euery face from the South to the North shall bee burnt therein.

48 And all flesh shall see, that I the Lord haue kindled it, and it shall not be quenched. Then said I, Ah Lord God, they say of mee, Doeth not hee speake in parables?

CHAP. XXI.

3 Hee breatheth the sword, and destruction to Jerusalem. 15 Hee sheweth the fall of King Zedekiah. 28 Hee commanded to prophesie the destruction of the children of Ammon. 30 The Lord threatneth to destroy Nebuchad nezzar.

The word of the Lord came to me againe, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face toward Ierusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesie against the land of Israel,

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I come against thee, and will draw my sword out of his sheath, and cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee both the righteous & wicked, therefore shall my sword goe out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the North,

5 That all flesh may know that I the Lord haue drawn my sword out of his sheath, and it shall not returne any more.

6 Mourn therefore thou sonne of man, as in the paine of thy reines, and mourn bitterly before them.

7 And if they say vnto thee, Wherefore mournest thou? then answer, Because of the bruit: for it commeth, and euery heart shall melt, and all hands shall be weak, and all minds shall faint, and all knees shall fall away, as water: behold, it commeth, and shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Again, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, say, A sword, a sword both sharpe and fourbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter, & it is fourbished that it may glitter: how shall we reioyce? for it contemneth the rod of my sonne, as all other trees.

11 And he hath giuen it to be fourbished, that he may handle it: this sword is sharpe, & is fourbished that he may giue it into the hand of a slayer.

12 Cry, and howle, sonne of man: for this shall come to my people, and it shall come vnto all the princes of Israel: the terrors of the sword shall be vpon my people: I smite therefore vpon thy thigh.

13 For it is a trial, and what shall this be, if the sword contemne euen the rod? It shall be no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, sonne of man, prophesie and smite hand to hand, and let the sword be doubled: let the sword that hath killed, returne the shud time: it is the sword of the great slaughter entering into their priue chambers.

15 I haue brought the feare of the sword into all their gates to make their heart to faint, and to multiplie their ruines. Ah, it is made bright, and it is dressed for the slaughter.

16 Get thee alone: goe to the right hand, or get thy selfe to the left hand, whiche soeuer thy face turneth.

17 I will also smite mine hands together, & will cause my wrath to cease, I the Lord haue said it.

18 ¶ The word of the Lord came vnto mee againe, saying,

19 Also thou sonne of man, appoint thee two wayes, that the sword of the King of Babel may come, both twaine shall come out of one land, and chuse a place, & chuse it in the corner of the way of the citie.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbath of the Ammonites, and P to Iudah in Ierusalem the strong citie.

21 And the King of Babel stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, consulting by diuination, and made his arrowes bright: he consulted with idoles, and looked in the liuer.

22 At his right hand was the diuination for Ierusalem to appoint captains to open their mouth in the slaughter, and to lift vp their voyce with shouting, to lay engines of war against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fortresse.

23 And it shall be vnto them as a false diuination in their fight for the othes made vnto them: but he will call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they should be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because yee haue made your iniquitie to be remembered in discovering your rebellion, that in al your works your finnes might appeare: because I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou prince of Israel polluted, and wicked, whose day is come, when iniquitie shall haue an end;

26 Thus saith the Lord God, I will take away the diademe, and take off the crowne: this shall be no more the same: I will exalt the humble, and will abase him that is high.

27 I will ouerturne, ouerturne, ouerturne it, and it shall be no more vntil he come, whose right it is, and I will giue it him.

28 ¶ Aud thou, sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blasphemie: say thou, I say, The sword, the sword is drawn forth and fourbished to the slaughter, to consume, because of the glittering,

29 Whiles they see vanity vnto thee, & prophesied a lie vnto thee to bring thee vpon the neckes of the wicked that are flaine, whose day is come, when their iniquitie shall haue an end.

30 Shall I cause it to returne into his sheath? I will iudge thee in the place where thou wast created, euen in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will powre out mine indignation vpon thee, & will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the hand of beastly men, and skillfull to destroy.

32 Thou shalt bee in the fire to be deuoured: thy blood shall be in the mids of the land, and thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the Lord haue spoken it.

a Provide for thy selfe, for thou shalt see Gods plague of all parts on this country.

b This was spoken, because that when Nebuchadnezzar came against Iudah, his purpose was also to goe against the Ammonites: but doubting in the way which enterprise to vndertake first, he consulted with his fourth sayers, and so went against Iudah.

c That is, to the tribe of Iudah that kept themselves in Hierusalem.

k Which before was most precious.

Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Now thou sonne of man, wilt thou a iudge, wilt thou iudge this bloody city? wilt thou shew her all her abominations?

3 Then say, Thus saith the Lord God, The cite sheddeth blood in the middes of it, that her b time may come, & maketh idoles against c her selfe, to pollute her selfe.

4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, & hast polluted thy selfe in thine idols, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy dayes to draw neere, & art come vnto thy terme: therefore haue I made thee a reproch to the heathen, and a mocking to all countreys.

5 Those that be neere, and those that be farre from thee, shall mock thee, which art vile in d name, and sore in affliction.

6 Beholde, the princes of Israel euery one in thee was ready to his power, to shed blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father and mother: in the mids of thee e haue they oppressed the stranger: in thee haue they vexed the fatherlesse and the widow.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.

9 In thee are men that carie tales to shedde blood: in thee are they that eate vpon the mountaines: in the mids of thee they commit abomination.

10  In thee haue they discovered their fathers shame: in thee haue they vexed her that was polluted in her floures.*

11 And euery one  hath committed abomination with his neighbours wife, and euery one hath wickedly defiled his daughter in law, and in thee hath euery man forced his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.*

12 In thee haue they taken gifts to shed blood: thou hast taken vsurie and the increase, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

13 Beholde, therefore I haue f smitten mine hands vpon thy countounes, that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood, which hath bene in the mids of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands g bee strong, in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doe it.

15 And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countreys, and will cause thy h filthinesse to cease from thee.

16 And thou shalt take thine i inheritance in thy selfe in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

17 ¶ And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as k droffe: all they are brasfe, and tinne, and yron, and lead in the mids of the fornace: they are euen the droffe of siluer.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye are all as droffe, behold, therefore I will gather you in the mids of Ierusalem.

20 As they gather siluer and brasfe, and yron, and lead, and tinne into the mids of the fornace, to blow the fire vpon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and will put you there l and melt you.

21 I will gather you, I say, and blow the fire of my wrath vpon you, and you shall be melted in the mids thereof.

22 As siluer is melted in the midst of the fornace, so shall ye be melted in the mids thereof, and ye shall knowe that I the Lord haue powred out my wrath vpon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

24 Sonne of man, say vnto her, Thou art the land that is vneclean, m and not rained vpon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a conspiracie n of her prophets in the mids thereof like a roaring lion, rauening the pray: they haue deuoured foules: they haue taken the riches and precious things: they haue made her many widowes in the mids thereof.

26 Her Priests haue broken my Law, and haue defiled mine holy things: they haue put no difference betweene the holy and prophane, neither discerned betweene the vneclean and the cleane, and haue hid their o eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am prophaned among them.

27 Her princes in  the mids thereof are like* wolues, rauening the pray, to shed blood and to destroy foules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 And her p prophets haue daubed them with vntempered mortar, seeing vanities, and diuining lies vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

29 The people of the land haue violently oppressed by spoyling and robbing, and haue vexed the poore and the needy: yea, they haue oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought for a man among them, that should q make vp the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

31 Therefore haue I powred out mine indignation vpon them, and consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their owne wayes haue I rendered vpon their heads, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

Of the idolatry of Samaria and Ierusalem, under the names of Aholah and Aholibah.

The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, there were two women, the daughters of one a mother.

3 And they committed fornication in b Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginities.

4 And the names of c them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister: & they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names: Samaria is Aholah, and Ierusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot † when d she was mine, and shee was set on fire with her louers, so wit, with the Assyrians her neighbours.

6 Which were clothed with blew huke, both captaines & princes: they were all pleasant yong men, and hoilemen riding vpon horses.

† Elc. vnder me. d When the Israelites were named the people of God, they became idolaters, and forsooke God, and put their trust in the Assyrians.

l Meaning hereby that the godly should be tried, and the wicked destroyed.

m Thou art like barren land which the Lord plagueth with drought.
n The false prophets haue conspired together to make their doctrine more probable.

o They haue neglected my seruice.

 Mich. 3. 11. 27. 3. 2.*

p They which should haue reproved them, flattered the in their vices, and couered their doings with lies, Chap. 13. 10.

q Which would shew himselfe zealous in my cause by resisting vice, Isa. 59. 16. & 63. 5. and also pray vnto me to withhold my plagues, Psal. 106. 23.

a Meaning, Israel and Iudah, which came both out of one familie.

b They became idolaters after the manner of the Egyptians.

c Aholah signifieth a mansion or dwelling in her selfe, meaning Samaria, which was the royall cite of Israel: and Aholibah signifieth my mansion in her, whereby is meant Ierusalem, where Gods Temple was.

7 Thus she committed her whoredome with them, even with all them that were the chosen men of Asshur, and with all on whom she doted, and defiled her selfe with all their idoles.

8 Neither left she her fornications, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and powred their whoredome vpon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the hands of her louers, even into the hands of the Assyrians, vpon whom she doted.

10 These discovered her shame: they tooke away her sonnes and her daughters, and slew her with the sword, and she had an evil name among women: for they had executed iudgment vpon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she marred her selfe with inordinate loue more then she, and with her fornications more then her sister with her fornications.

12 Shee doted vpon the Assyrians her neighbours, both captaines and princes clothed with diuers suites, horsemen riding vpon horses: they were all pleasant yong men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and that they were both after one sort,

14 And that she increased her fornications: for when she sawe men as painted vpon the wall, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermilion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loynes, and with diademes vpon their heads (looking all like princes after the maner of the Babylonians in Caldea, the land of their natiuitie)

16 Assoone, I say, as she saw them, shee doted vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them, into Caldea.

17 Now when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, and she was polluted with them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So she discovered her fornication, and disclosed her shame: then mine heart forsooke her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister:

19 Yet shee increased her whoredome more, and called to remembrance the dayes of her youth wherein shee had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted vpon their seruants whose members are as the members of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thou calledst to remembrance the wickednesse of thy youth, when thy teates were bruised by the Egyptians: therefore the paps of thy youth are thus.

22 Therefore O Aholibah, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will raise vp thy louers against thee, from whom thine heart is departed, and I will bring them against thee on euery side,

23 To wit, the Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, h Peked, and Shoah, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: they were all pleasant yong men, captaines and princes: all they were valiant and renowned, riding vpon horses.

24 Even these shall come against thee with charrets, wagons, and wheelles, and with a multitude of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield, and helmet round about: and † I will leaue the punishment vnto them, and they shall iudge thee according to their † iudgements.

25 And I will lay mine indignation vpon thee, and they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy † nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall carry away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be deuoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faire iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednes to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliuer thee into the hand of them, whom thou hatest: even into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall handle thee despitefully, and shall take away all thy † labour, and shall leaue thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications † shall be discovered, both thy wickednes, and thy whoredome.

30 I will doe these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore will I giue her † cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup, deepe and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorne and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt bee filled with † drunkenesse and sorow, even with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt even drinke it, and wring it out to the dregges, and thou shalt breake the sheards thereof, and teare thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy backe, therefore thou shalt also beare thy wickednesse and thy whoredome.

36 ¶ The Lord said moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, wilt thou iudge Aholah and Aholibah? and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they haue played the whores, & blood is in their hands, and with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes, whom they bare vnto me, to passe by the fire to be their † meat.

38 Moreover, thus haue they done vnto me: they haue defiled my Sanctuary in the same day, and haue prophaned my Sabbaths.

39 For when they had slaine their children to their idoles, they came the same day into my Sanctuary to defile it: and loe, thus haue they done in the mids of mine house.

40 And how much more is it that they sent for men to come from † farre, vnto whom a messenger was sent, and loe, they came? for whome thou diddest wash thy selfe, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments,

41 And satest † vpon a costly bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oyle.

42 And a voyce of a multitude being at ease, was with her: & with the men to make the company great, were brought men of † Saba from the wilderness, which put bracelets vpon their hands, and beautiful crownes vpon their heads.

43 Then I said vnto her that was old in adulteries, Now shall she and her fornications come to an end.

† They shall destroy thy princes and priests with the rest of thy people.

k All thy treasures and riches which thou hast gotten by labour. † All the world shall see thy shamefull forsaking of God to serue idoles.

m I will execute the same iudgements and vengeance against thee, and that with greater severity.

n Meaning, that the afflictions should be so great that they should cause them to lose their senses, and reason.

o That is, to be sacrifices to their idoles, read Chap. 16. 30.

p They sent into other countries to haue such as should teach the seruice of their idoles.

q He meaneth the altar that was prepared for the idoles.

r Which should teach the manner of worshipping their gods.

44 And they went in vnto her as they goe to a common harlot: so went they to Aholah and Aholibah the wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shall iudge them after the manner of harlots, and after the manner of murderers: for they are harlots, and blood is in their hands.

46 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, I will bring a multitude vpon them, and will giue them vnto the tumult and to the spoile, 47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones, and cut them with their swords: they shall slay their sonnes, and their daughters, and burne vp their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause wickednes to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to doe after your wickednesse.

49 And they shall lay your wickednesse vpon you, and ye shall beare the finnes of your idoles, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

Hee sheweth the destruction of Ierusalem by a parable of a feasting pot. 16. The parable of Ezechiels wife being dead.

A Gaine in the ninth yere, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this same day: for the King of Babel set himselfe against Ierusalem this same day.

3 Therefore speake a parable vnto the rebellious house, and say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Prepare a pot, prepare it, and also powre water into it.

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even euery good piece, as the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, and burne also the bones vnder it, and make it boyle well, and see the bones of it therein.

6 Because the Lord God sayth thus, Woe to the bloodie citie, even to a pot, whose skumme is therein, & whose skumme is not gone out of it: bring it out piece by piece: let not fall vpon it.

7 For her blood is in the mids of her: she set it vpon an high rocke, and powred it not vpon the ground to couer it with dust,

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: even I haue set her blood vpon an high rocke that it should not be couered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Woe to the bloody city, for I will make it burning great.

10 Heape on much wood: kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and cast in spice, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then set it emptie vpon the coales thereof, that the brasie of it may be hot, and may burne, and that the filthinesse of it may be molten in it, and that the skumme of it may be consumed.

12 Shee hath wearied her selfe with lies, and her great skumme went not out of her: therefore her skumme shall be consumed with fire.

13 Thou remainest in thy filthinesse and wickednesse: because I would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthinesse, till I haue caused my wrath to light vpon thee.

14 I the Lord haue spoken it: it shall come to passe, and I will doe it: I will not goe backe, neither wil I spare, neither wil I repent: according to thy wayes, and according to thy works shalt they iudge thee, sayth the Lord God.

15 Also the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

16 Sonne of man, behold, I take away from thee the pleasure of thine eyes with a plague: yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neither shalt thy teares runne downe.

17 Cease from sighing: make no mourning for the dead, and binde the tyre of thine head vpon thee, and put on thy shoes vpon thy feete, and couer not thy lips, & eate not the bread of men.

18 So I spake vnto the people in the morning, and at euen my wife died: and I did in the morning, as I was commanded.

19 And the people said vnto me, Wilt thou not tell vs what these things meane towards vs that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, behold, I will pollute my Sanctuary, even the pride of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and your hearts desire, & your sonnes, and your daughters whom ye haue left, shall fall by the sword.

22 And ye shall doe as I haue done: yee shall not couer your lippes, neither shall ye eate the bread of men.

23 And your tyre shall be vpon your heads, and your shoes vpon your feete. ye shall not mourne nor weepe, but yee shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourne one toward another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is vnto you a signe: according to all that he hath done, ye shall doe: and when this commeth, ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou son of man, shalt it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the ioy of their honour, the pleasure of their eyes, & the desire of their heart, their sons and their daughters,

26 That he that escapeth in that day, shall come vnto thee to tell thee that which hee hath heard with his eares?

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, & thou shalt speake, and be no more dumbe, and thou shalt be a signe vnto them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

1 The word of the Lord against Ammon, which rejoyced at the fall of Ierusalem, 8 Against Moab and Seir, Idumea and the Philistines.

The word of the Lord came againe vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against the Ammonites, and prophesie against them,

3 And say vnto the Ammonites, Heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thou saidst, Ha, ha, against my Sanctuary, when it was polluted, and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate, & against the house of Iudah, when they went into captiuitie,

4 Behold, therefore I will deliuer thee to the men of the East for a possession, and they shall set their palaces in thee, & make their dwellings in thee: they shall eate thy fruite, and they shall drinke thy milke:

5 And I will make Rabbah a dwelling place for camels, and the Ammonites a shepecote, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

7 Beholde, therefore I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and will deliuer thee to be spoyled of the heathen, and I will roote thee out from the people, and I will cause thee to bee destroyed out of the countreies, and I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Moab and Seir doe say, Behold, the house of Iudah is like vnto all the heathen, 9 Therefore, beholde, I will open the side of Moab, even of the cities of his cities, I say, in his frontiers with the pleasant countrey, Beth-ieshmoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim.

12 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, Because that Edom hath done euill by taking vengeance vpon the house of Iudah, and hath committed great offence, and reuenged himselfe vpon them,

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I will also stretch out mine hand vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, and I will make it desolate from Teman, and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 And I will execute my vengeance vpon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, & they shall do in Edom according to mine anger, and according to mine indignation, and they shall knowe my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, because the Philistims haue executed vengeance, and reuenged themselves with a despitefull heart, to destroy it for the old hatred,

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, beholde, I will stretch out mine hand vpon the Philistims, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast.

17 And I will execute great vengeance vpon them with rebukes of mine indignation, and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 He propheseth that Tyrus shall be overthrowen because it reioyced at the destruction of Ierusalem. 15 The wandering and astonishment of the merchants for the destruction of Tyrus.

And in the eleuenth yeere in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, because that Tyrus hath sayd against Ierusalem, Aha, the gate of the people is broken: it is turned vnto me: for seeing she is desolate, I shall be replenished,

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Tyrus, and I will bring vp many nations against thee, as the sea mounteth vp with his waves.

4 And they shall destroy the walles of Tyrus and breake downe her towres: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rocke.

5 Thou shalt bee for the spreading of nets in the mids of the sea: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shall be a spoile to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field, shall be slaine by the sword, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring vpon Tyrus Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, a king of kings from the North, with horses and with charrets, and with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, & lift vp the buckler against thee.

9 He shall set engines of warre before him against thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee, for their multitude: thy walles shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheelles, and of the charrets, when he shall enter into thy gates as into the entry of a city that is broken downe.

11 With the hooues of his horses shall he tread downe all thy streetes: he shall slay the people by the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 And they shall robbe thy riches, and spoile thy merchandise, and they shall breake downe thy walles, and destroy thy pleasant houses, and they shall cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the mids of the water.

13 ¶ Thus will I cause the sound of thy songs to cease, and the sound of thine harpes shall be no more heard.

14 I will lay thee like the top of a rocke: thou shalt be for a spreading of nets: thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyrus, Shall not the yles tremble at the sound of thy fall? and at the cry of the wounded, when they shall bee slaine and murdered in the mids of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the sea shall come downe from their thrones: they shall lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments, and shall clothe themselves with astonishment: they shall sit vpon the ground & be astonished at every moment and be amazed at thee.

17 And they shall take vp a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of the Sea men, the renowned citie which was strong in the sea, both shee and her inhabitants, which cause their feare to be on all that haunt therein!

18 Now shall the yles be astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the yles that are in the sea, shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, when I shall make thee a desolate citie, like the cities that are not inhabited, and when I shall bring the deepe vpon thee, and great waters shall couer thee,

20 When I shall cast thee downe with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the lowe parts of the earth, like the olde ruines, with them, I say, which goe downe to the pit, so that thou shalt not be inhabited, and I shall shew my glory in the land of the liuing.

21 I will bring thee to nothing, & thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou neuer be found againe, saith the Lord God.

3 And say vnto Tyrus that is situate at the entry of the sea, which is the mart^a of the people for many yles, Thus sayth the Lord God, O Tyrus, thou hast sayd, I am of perfite beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the [†] mids of the sea, and thy builders haue made thee of perfite beauty.

5 They haue made all thy ^{ship} boards of firtre trees of ^b Shenir: they haue brought cedars from Lebanon, to make mallets for thee.

6 Of the okes of Bashan haue they made thine ores: the company of the Assyrians haue made thy banks of yuory, brought out of [†] yles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with broyered worke, brought from Egypt, was spread ouer thee to be thy saile, blew silke and purple, brought from the yles of Elislah was thy couering.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon, and Aruad were thy mariners, O Tyrus: thy wise men that were in thee, they werethy [†] pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, and the wise men thereof were in thee thy [†] calkers, all the shippes of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise.

10 They of Persia, and of Iud and of Phut were in thine armie: thy men of warre they hanged the shield and helmet in thee: they set forth thy beaurty.

11 The men of Aruad with thine army were vpon thy walles round about, and the [†] Gammadims were in thy towers: they hanged their shields vpon thy walles round about: they haue made thy beauty perfite.

12 They of Tarshish were thy merchants for the multitude of all riches, for siluer, yron, tinne, and lead, which they brought to thy faires.

13 They of [†] Iauan, Tubal and Meshech were thy merchants, [†] concerning the liues of men, and they brought vessels of brasle for thy merchadise.

14 They of the house of [†] Togaimah brought to thy faires, horses and horsemen, and naules.

15 The men of Dedan were thy merchants: and the merchandise of many yles were in thine hands: they brought thee for a present, [†] hornes, teeth, and peacocks.

16 They of Aram were thy merchants for the multitude of thy [†] wares: they occupied in thy faires, with [†] emerludes, purple, and broyered worke, and [†] fine linen, and corall, and pearle.

17 They of Iudah and of the land of Israel were thy merchants: they brought for thy merchandise wheate of [†] Minnith, and Pannag, and hony and oyle, and [†] balme.

18 They of Damascus were thy merchants in the multitude of thy wares, for [†] multitude of all riches, as in the wine of Helbon and white wool.

19 They of Dan also and of Iauan, going to and fro, occupied in thy faires: yron worke, cassia and calamus were among thy merchandise.

21 They of Arabia, and all the princees of Kedar [†] occupied with thee, in lammes, and rammes, and goates: in these were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of Sheba, and Raamah were thy merchants: they occupied in thy faires with the chiefe of all spices, & with all precious stones and gold.

23 They of Haram and Cannah and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in all sorts of things, in payment of blew silke, and of broyered worke, and in coffers for the rich apparell, which were bound with coardes: chains also were among thy merchandise.

25 The ships of Tarshish [†] were thy chiefe in thy merchandise, and thou wast replenished and made very glorious in the mids of the sea.

26 Thy [†] robbers haue brought thee into great waters: the [†] East winde hath broken thee in the mids of the sea.

27 Thy riches and thy faires, thy merchandise, thy mariners and pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of warre that are in thee, & all thy multitude which is in the mids of thee, shall fall in the mids of the sea in the day of thy ruine.

28 The [†] suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And all that handle the oare, the mariners and all the pilots of the sea shall come downe from their ships, and shall stand vpon the land,

31 They shall plucke off their haire for thee, & gird them with a sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with sorow of heart & bitter mourning.

32 And in their mourning, they shall take vp a lamentation for thee, saying, What city is like Tyrus so destroyed in the mids of the sea!

33 When thy wares went forth of the seas, thou filledst many people, and thou diddest enrich the Kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.

34 When thou shalt be broken by [†] seas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy multitude which was in the mids of thee, shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the yles shall be astonished at thee, and all their Kings shall be sore afraid and troubled in their countenance.

CHAP. XXVIII.

^a The word of God against the king of Tyrus for his pride. ²¹ The word of the Lord against Zidon. ²³ The Lord promyseth that he will gather together the children of Israel.

THe word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, say vnto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord God, because thine heart is exalted, & thou hast said, ^a I am a god, I sit in the seat of God in the mids of [†] sea, yet thou art but a man & not God, & [†] though thou diddest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equall with God,

3 Behold, thou art wiser then ^b Daniel: there is no secret that they can hide from thee.

4 With thy wisdom & thine vnderstanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and siluer into thy treasures.

5 By thy great wisdom and by thine occupying hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted vp because of thy riches.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou didst thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equall with God,

7 Behold,

^m That is, the cities neere about thee, as Zidon, Aruad, and others.

ⁿ Whereby is meant a long time: for it was prophesied to be destroyed but seventy yeres, as Isa. 23.15.

^a I am wise that none can conuert me, as God is in the heauen, [†] For I thought thou wert as I am, as the heauen of God. ^b Thus he speaketh by Daniel: for Daniel had declared notable signes of his wisdom in Babylonia, when Ezekiel wrote this.

7 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers vpon thee, even the terrible nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beautie of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightnesse.

8 They shall cast thee downe to the pit, and thou shalt die the death of them, that are slaine in the mids of the sea.

9 Wilt thou say then before him that slayeth thee, I am a god? but thou shalt be a man, and no god, in the hands of him that slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the death of the vncircumcised by the hands of strangers: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

e Like the rest of the heathen and infidels, which are Gods enemies.

11 ¶ Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon the king of Tyrus, and say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord God, Thou sealest vp the summe, and art full of d wisdom and perfite in beauty.

d He derideth the vaine opinion and confidence that the Tyrians had in their riches, strength and pleasures.

13 Thou hast bene in Eden the garden of God: euery precious stone was in thy garment, the rubie, the topaze and the || diamond, the chrysolite, the onyx, and the iasper, the saphir, || emeraude, and the carbuncle and golde: the workmanship of thy timbrles, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.

|| Or, iasper.

|| Or, carbuncle.

e He meaneth the royall state of Tyrus, which for the excellencie and glory thereof he compareth to the Cherubims, which couered the Arke: and by this word anointed he signifieth the same.

14 Thou art e the anointed Cherub that couereth, and I haue set thee f in honour: thou wast vpon the holy mountaine of God: thou hast walked in the mids of the || stones of fire.

f I did thee this honour to make thee one of the builders of my Temple, which was when Hiram sent vnto Salomon things necessary for the worke.

15 Thou wast perfite in thy wayes from the day that thou wast b created, till iniquitie was found in thee.

g To wit, among my people le Israel, which shined as precious stones.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandise, they haue filled the middes of thee with cruelty, and thou hast sinned: therefore I wil cast thee as prophane out of the i mountaine of God: and I will destroy thee, O couering Cherub, from the mids of the stones of fire.

h Which was when I first called thee to this dignitie.

17 Thine heart was lifted vp because of thy beauty, and thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightnesse: I will cast thee to the ground: I will lay thee before Kings that they may behold thee.

i Thou shalt haue no part among my people.

18 Thou hast defiled thy k sanctification by the multitude of thine iniquities, and by the iniquitie of thy merchandise: therefore will I bring forth a fire from the mids of thee, which shall deuoure thee: and I will bring thee to ashes vpon the earth, in the sight of all them that behold thee.

k That is, the honour, whereunto I called them.

19 All they that know thee among the people, shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be || a terrour, and neuer shalt thou be any more.

|| Or, brought to nothing.

20 ¶ Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Sonne of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesie against it,

22 And say, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Zidon, and I will be || glorified in the mids of thee: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall haue executed iudgements in her, and she shall be sanctified in her.

23 For I will send into her pestilence, & blood into her streetes, and the flame shall fall in the mids of her: m the enemy shall come against her with the sword on euery side, & they shall know that I am the Lord.

24 And they shall be no more a pricking thorne vnto the house of Israel, nor any grieuous thorne of al that are round about them, & despised them, and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

m That is, Nebuchad-nezzar.

25 Thus sayth the Lord God, When I shall haue gathered the house of Israel from the people where they are scattered, and shall be n sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in the land, that I haue giuen to my seruant Iakob.

n He sheweth for what cause God will assemble his Church, and preserve it still, though he destroy his enemies: to wit, hat they should praise him, & giue thanks for his great mercies.

26 And they shall dwell safely therein, & shall build houses, and plant vineyards: yea, they shall dwell safely, when I haue executed iudgements vpon all round about them that despise them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXIX.

He prophesie against Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lord promitteth that he will restore Egypt after fourtie yeeres. 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchad-nezzar for the labour which he tooke against Tyrus.

1 In the a tenth yeere, and in the tenth moneth, in the welth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, a To wit, of the captiuitie of Iechoniah or of the reign of Zedekiah. Of the order of these prophesies, and how the former sometimes standeth after the latter, reade Iere.

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and prophesie against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speake, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great b dragon, that lieth in the mids of his riuers, which hath said, The riuer is mine, and I haue made it for my selfe.

b He compareth Pharaoh to a dragon which hideth himselfe in the riuer Nilus, as Isa. 51. 9.

4 But I will put c hookes in thy iawes, and I will cause the fish of thy riuers to sticke vnto thy scales, and will draw thee out of the midst of thy riuers, and all the fish of thy riuers shall sticke vnto thy scales.

c I will send enemies against thee, which shall plucke thee, and thy people which trust in thee, out of thy sure places.

5 And I will leaue thee in the wildernes, both thee and all the fish of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon the open field: thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: for I haue giuen thee for meate to the beasts of the field, and to the foules of the heauen.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they haue bin a staffe of d reede to the house of Israel.

d Reade 2. King. 18. 21. Isa. 36. 6.

7 When they tooke holde of thee with their hand, thou diddest breake and rent al their shoulder: & when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakest and madest all their loynes to || stand e vpright.

e Or, broke. f When they felt their hurt, they would stay no more vpon thee, but stood vpon their feete, and put their trust in others.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a sword vpon thee, and destroy man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate, and waste, & they shall know that I am f Lord: because he hath said, The riuer is mine, & I haue made it, f Thus God cannot suffer that man should arrogate any thing to himselfe, or put his trust in any thing saue in him alone.

10 Behold therefore I come vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, & I wil make the land of Egypt vtterly waste & desolate fro the towre of Seueneh, euen vnto the borders of the || blacke Moores.

|| Ebr. Cush, or Ethiopia.

17 ¶ In the seuen and twentieth yeere also in the first moneth, and in the first day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel caused his armie to serue a great seruice against Tyrus: euery head was made bald, and euery shoulder was made bare: yet he had no wages, nor his army for Tyrus, for the seruice that hee serued against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will giue the land of Egypt vnto Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel, and hee shall take her multitude, & spoyle her spoyle, and take her pray, and it shall be the wages of his army.

20 I haue giuen him the land of Egypt for his labour, that hee serued against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord God.

21 In that day will I cause the horne of the house of Israel to grow, and I will giue thee an open mouth in the mids of them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

The destruction of Egypt and the cities thereof.

The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus sayth the Lord God, Howle and cry, Wo be vnto this day.

3 For the day is neere, and the day of the Lord is at hand, a cloudy day, and it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come vpon Egypt, and feare shall bee in Ethiopia, when the slaine shall fall in Egypt, when they shall take away her multitude, and when her foundations shall be broken downe.

5 Ethiopia and Phut, and Lud, and all the common people, and Cub, and the men of the land, that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord, They also that mainteine Egypt, shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come downe: from the towre of Seueneh shall they fall by the sword, saith the Lord God.

7 And they shall be desolate in the mids of the countreys that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the mids of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the Lorde, when I haue set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.

9 In that day shall there messengers goe forth from me in ships, to make the carelesse Moores afraid, and feare shall come vpon them, as in the day of Egypt: for loe, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel.

11 For he and his people with him, euen the terrible nations shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall drawe their swordes against Egypt, and fill the land with the slaine.

12 And I will make the riuers dry, and sell the land into the hands of the wicked, & I will make the land wast, and all that therein is by the hands of strangers: I the Lord haue spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also destroy the idoles, & I will cause their idoles to cease out of Noph, and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will send a feare in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in Zoan, and I will execute iudgement in No.

15 And I will powre my wrath vpon Sin, which is the strength of Egypt: and I will destroy the multitude of No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt: Sin shall haue great sorow, and No shall be destroyed, and Noph shall haue sorrowes dayly.

17 The yong men of Auen, and off Phibefeth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captiuitie.

18 At Tahaphnehes the day shall restraine his light, when I shall breake there the baries of Egypt: and when the pompe of her power shall cease in her, the cloude shall couer her, and her daughters shall goe into captiuitie.

19 Thus will I execute iudgements in Egypt, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

20 ¶ And in the eleuenth yeere, in the first moneth, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me saying,

21 Sonne of man, I haue broken the arme of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and loe, it shall not be bound vp to be healed, neither shall they put a roule to bind it, and so make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Behold, I come against Pharaoh King of Egypt, and will breake his arme that was strong, but is broken, and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, & will disperse them through the countreys.

24 And I will strengthen the arme of the king of Babel, & put my sword in his hand, but I will breake Pharaohs armes, and hee shall cast out hisings, as the hisings of him that is wounded before him.

25 But I will strengthen the armes of the king of Babel, and the armes of Pharaoh shall fall downe, and they shall know, that I am the Lorde, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall stretch it out vpon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries, and they shall know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXI.

A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharaoh with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10 Hee prophesies a like destruction to them both.

And in the eleuenth yere, in the third moneth, and in the first day of the moneth the word of the Lord came vnto me saying,

2 Sonne of man, speake vnto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whom art thou like in thy greatnesse?

3 Behold, Asshur was like a cedar in Lebanon with faire branches, & with thicke shadowing boughes, and shot vp very hie, and his top was among the thicke boughes.

exalted him on his wich her riuers running round about his plants, and sent out her ^e little riuers vnto all the trees of the ^f field.

⁵ Therefore his height was exalted aboue all the trees of the field, and his boughes were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters, which the deepe sent out.

⁶ All the foules of the heauen made their nestes in his boughes, and vnder his branches did all the beastes of the fiede bring forth their young, and vnder his shadowe dwelt all mighty nations.

⁷ Thus was he faire in his greatnesse, and in the length of his branches: for his root was neere great waters.

⁹ I made him faire by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, enuied him.

¹⁰ Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ^{||} he is lift vp on high, and hath shot vp his toppe among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lift vp in his height,

¹² And the strangers haue destroyed him, ^{euen} the terrible nations, and they haue left him vpon the mountaines, and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughes are ¹ broken by all the riuers of the land: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadowe, and haue forsaken him.

¹³ Vpon his ruine shall all the foules of the heauen remaine, and all the beastes of the fiede shall be vpon his branches.

¹⁴ So that none of all the trees by the waters shall be exalted by their height, neither shall shoot vp their top among the thicke boughes, neither shall their leaues stand vp in their height, which drinke so much water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the nether parts of the earth in the mids of the children of men among them that go downe to the pit.

¹⁵ Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to hell, I caused them to mourne, and I ⁸ covered the deepe for him, and I did restraine the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

¹⁷ They also went downe to hel with him vnto them that be slaine with the sword, and his arme, & they that dwell vnder his shadow in the mids of the heathen.

¹⁸ Towhom art thou thus like in glory & in greatnes among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt be cast down with the trees of Eden vnto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt sleepe in the mids of the ^e vncircumcised, with them that be slaine by the sword, this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXII.

¹ The Prophet is commanded to bewaile Pharaoh King of Egypt.
² He prophesieth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the King of Babylon.

^A Nd in the ¹² twelfth yeere in the twelfth moneth, and in the first day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

² Sonne of man, take vp a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say vnto him, Thou art like a ^b lion of the nations, and art as a ^{||} dragon in the sea: thou castedst out thy riuers ^c and troubledst the waters with thy feete, & stampedst in their riuers.

³ Thus saith the Lord God, ^{*} I will therefore spread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, and they shall make thee come vp into my net.

⁴ Then will I leaue thee vpon the land, and I will cast thee vpon the open field, and I will cause all the foules of the heauen to remaine vpon thee, and I will fill all the beasts of the field with thee.

⁵ And I will lay thy flesh vpon the mountaines, and fill the valleys ^d with thine height.

⁶ I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou ^e swimdest, ^{euen} to the mountaines, and the riuers shall be full of thee.

⁷ And when I shall put thee out, I will couer the heauen, and make the starres thereof darke: ^{*} I will couer the sunne with a cloude, and the moone shall not giue her light.

⁸ All the lights of heauen will I make darke for thee, and bring ⁸ darknes vpon thy land, saith the Lord God.

⁹ I will also trouble the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, and vpon the countries which thou hast not knowne.

¹¹ For thus saith the Lord God, The sword of the king of Babel shall come vpon thee.

¹⁴ Then will I make ⁱ their waters deepe, and cause their riuers to runne like oile, saith the Lord God.

¹⁵ When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the countrey with all that is therein, shall bee layd waste: when I shall smite all them which dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

¹⁶ This is the mourning wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for Egypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord God.

¹⁷ [¶] In the twelfth yeere also in the fifteenth day of the moneth, came the word of the Lorde vnto me, saying,

¹⁸ Sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt,

C H A P. XXXIII.

2. The office of the gouernours and ministers. 14. His strength beneath

them that despise, and boldness them with the promise of mercie. 3. The word of the Lord against the mockers of the Prophet.

A Game, the word of the Lord came vnto me,
saying,

2 Sonne of man, speake to the children of thy people, and say vnto them, When I bring the sword vpon a land, if the people of the land take a man ^b from among them, and make him their a watchman,

3 If when he seeth the sword come vpon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warne the people,

4 Then he that heareth the sound of the trumpet, and will not bee warned, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall bee vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not bee admonished: therefore his blood shall be vpon him: but he that receiveth warning, shall saue his life.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people bee not warned: if the sword come, and take any person from among them, hee is taken away for his b iniquitie, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 * So thou, O sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my ^c mouth, and admonish them from me.

8 When I shall say vnto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt die the death, if thou dost not speake, and admonish the wicked of his way, that wicked man shall die for his iniquity, but his blood will I ^d require at thine hand.

9 Neuertheless, if thou warne the wicked of his way to turne from it, if he doe not turne from his way, hee shall die for his iniquity, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus yee speake and say,
If our transgressions and our sinnes bee vpon vs, and wee are consumed because of them, how should we then liue?

11 Say vnto them, As I liue, saith the Lord God,
I define not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turne from his way & liue: turne you, turne you from your euill wayes, for why will ye die, O ye house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou sonne of man, say vnto the children of thy people, The ^e righteousnesse of the righteous shall not deliuer him in the day of his transgression, nor the wickednesse of the wicked shall cause him to fall therein, in the day that hee returneth from his wickednesse, neither shall the righteous liue for his righteousnesse in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say vnto the righteous, that he shall surely liue, if hee trust to his owne righteousnesse, and commit iniquity, all his righteousnesse shall be no more remembered, but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for the same.

14 Again when I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt die the death, if hee turne from his sinne, and doe that which is lawfull and ^f right,

15 To wit, if the wicked restore the pledge and giue againe that he had robbed, and walke in the statutes of life, without committing iniquity, he shall surely liue, and not die.

16 None of his sinnes that he hath committed, shall be mentioned vnto him: because he hath done that.

For of their crafts, a He sheweth that the people ought to haue continually gouernours and teachers which may haue a care ouer them, and co-uaine them euer of the dangers which are at hand.

b Signifying, that the wicked shall not escape punishment, though the watchman be negligent: but if the watchman blow
the trumpet, and then he will not obey, he shall deserue double punishment.

cheth that he that

20 Yet yee say, The way of the Lord is not equall. O ye house of Israel, I wil iudge you euery one after his wayes.

21 Also in the twelfth yeere of our captiuitie, in the tenth moneth, and in the fift day of the moneth, one that had escaped out of Ierusalem, came vnto me, and said, The citie is smitten.

22 Now the hand of the Lord had bene vpon mee in the euening afore he that had escaped, came, and had opened my mouth vntil he came to me in the morning: and when he had opened my mouth, I was no more dumme.

23 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, and said,

24 Sonne of man, these that dwell in the desolate places of the land of Israel, talke and say, * Abraham was but one, and hee possessed the land: but we are many, therefore the land shall be giuen vs in possession.

25 Wherefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Yee eate with the blood, and lift vp your eyes toward your idoles, and shed blood: should ye then possesse the land?

26 Ye leane vpon your swords: ye worke abomination, and yee defile euery one his neighbours wife: should ye then possesse the land?

27 Say thus vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As I liue, so surely they that are in the desolate places, shall fall by the sword: and him that is in the open field, will I giue vnto the beasts to be deuoured: and they that be in the forts and in the caues, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land desolate and waste, and the pompe of her strength shall cease: and the mountaines of Israel shall be desolate, and none shall passe through.

29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I haue laid the land desolate and waste, because of all their abominations, that they haue committed.

30 Also thou sonne of man, the children of thy people that talke of thee by the walls and in the doores of houses, & speake one to another, euery one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and heare what is y word that cometh from the Lord.

31 For they come vnto thee, as the people vseth to come: and my people sit before thee, and heare thy words, but they will not doe them: for with their mouthes they make request, and their heart goeth after their couetousnesse.

32 And lo, thou art vnto them, as a pleasing song of one that hath a pleasant voice, & can sing well: for they heare thy words, but they doe them not.

33 And when this cometh to passe (for loe, it will come) then shall they know, that a Prophet hath bene among them.

C H A P. XXXIIII.

2 Against the shepherds that despised the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne giue, 7 The Lord saith that he will visite his dispersed flocke, and gather them together. 23 Hee promisseth the true shepherd Christ, and wish him peace.

And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophetic against the shepherds of Israel, prophetic and lay vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God vnto the shepherds, * Woe bee vnto the shepherds of Israel, that feede themselves: should not the shepherds feede the flockes?

3 Ye eate the fat, and ye clothe you with the wooll: ye kill them that are fed, but ye feede not the sheepe.

4 The weake haue ye not strengthened: the sicke haue ye not healed, neither haue ye bound vp the broken, nor brought againe that which was driuen away, neither haue ye sought that which was lost, but with cruelty, and with rigour haue ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered without a shepherd: and when they were disperfed, they were deuoured of all the beasts of the field.

6 My sheepe wandered thorow all the mountaines, and vpon euery hie hill: yea, my flocke was scattered thorow all the earth, and none did seeke or search after them.

7 Therefore ye shepherds, heare the word of the Lord.

8 As I liue, sayeth the Lord God, surely because my flocke was spoyled, and my sheepe were deuoured of all the beasts of the field, hauing no shepherd, neither did my shepherds seeke my sheepe, but the shepherds fedde themselves, and fedde not my sheepe,

9 Therefore, heare ye the word of the Lord, O ye shepherds.

10 Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I come against the shepherds, and wil require my sheepe at their hands, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheepe: neither shall the shepherds feede themselves any more: for I wil deliuer my sheepe from their mouthes, and they shall no more deuoure them.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will search my sheepe, and seeke them out.

12 As a shepherd searcheth out his flocke, when he hath bin among his sheepe that are scattered, so wil I seeke out my sheepe and wil deliuer them out of all places, where they haue bin scattered in the cloudy and darke day,

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countreys, and wil bring them to their owne land, and feede them vpon the mountaines of Israel, by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in a good pasture, and vpon the hie mountaines of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good folde, and in fat pasture shall they feede vpon the mountaines of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seeke that which was lost, and bring againe that which was driuen away, and wil bind vp that which was broken, & will strengthen the weake, but I will destroy the fat and the strong, and I will feede them with iudgement.

17 Also you my sheepe, thus sayeth the Lord God, Behold, I iudge betweene sheepe, & sheepe, betweene the rammes and the goates.

18 Seemeth it a small thing vnto you to haue eaten vp the good pasture, but yee must treade down with your feete the residue of your pasture?

^a The destruction that shall come on mount Seir, because they troubled the people of the Lord.

Moreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, Set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesie against it,

3 And say vnto it, Thus sayth the Lord God, Beholde, O mount Seir, I come against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee desolate and waste.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetuall hatred, and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sword in the time of their calamitie, when their iniquitie had an end.

6 Therefore as I liue, saith the Lord God, I will prepare thee vnto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: except thou hate blood, euen blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir desolate and waste, and cut off from it him that passeth out & him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountaines with his slaine men: in thine hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy riuers shall they fall, that are slaine with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetuall desolations, and thy cities shall not ^d returne, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countreys shall be mine, and wee will possesse them (seeing the Lord was ^e there)

12 And thou shalt know, that I the Lord haue heard all the blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountaines of Israel, saying, They lye waste, they are giuen vs to be deuoured.

13 Thus with your mouthes yee haue boasted against me, and haue multiplyed your words against me: I haue heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord God, So shall all the world reioyce, when I shall make thee desolate.

15 As thou didst reioyce at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I doe vnto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea wholly, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

^h He promisseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles. ⁱ The benefits done vnto the Iewes, are to bee ascribed to the mercy of God, and not vnto their deservings. ^k God reuieweth our benefits that we may walke in his commandments.

Also thou sonne of man, prophesie vnto the ^a mountaines of Israel, and say, Yee mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord,

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Surely in the fire of mine indignation haue I spoken against the residue of the heathen, & against all Idumea, which haue taken my land for their possession, with the ioy of al their heart, and with despightfull minds to cast it out for a pray.

6 Prophesie therefore vpon the land of Israel, and say vnto the mountaines, and to the hills, to the riuers, and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I haue spoken in mine indignation and in my wrath, because yee haue suffered the ^e shame of the heathen.

16 Moreover, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

17 Sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their owne land, they defiled it by their owne wayes, and by their deedes: their way was before me as the filthinesse of the menstruous.

18 Wherefore I powred my wrath vpon them, for the blood that they had shed in the land, and for their idoles, ^{where} with they had polluted it.

22 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, I doe not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine ^m holy Names sake, which ye polluted among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctifie my great Name, which was polluted among the heathen, among whom you haue polluted it, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before ^{ll} their eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countreys, and will bring you into your owne land.

25 Then will I powre cleane water vpon you, and ye shall be cleane: yea, from all your filthines, and from all your idoles will I cleanse you.

26 A new heart also will I giue you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the stony heart out of your body, and I will giue you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walke in my statutes, and yee shall keepe my iudgements and do them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the land that I gaue to your fathers, and ye shall bee my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also deliuer you from all your filthinesse, and I will call for ^o corne, and wil increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 For I will multiply the fruit of the trees, and the increase of the field that ye shall beare, no more the reproch of famine among the heathen.

31 Then shall ye remember your owne wicked wayes, and your deedes that were not good, & shall iudge your selues worthy to haue ben destroyed for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Be it known vnto you that I doe not this for your sakes, saith the Lord God: therefore, O ye house of Israel, bee ashamed & confounded for your owne wayes.

33 Thus saith the Lord God, What time as I shall haue cleansed you from all your iniquities, I will cause you to dwell in the cities, and the desolate places shall be builded.

34 And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay waste in the sight of all that passed by.

35 For they sayd, This waste land was like the garden of Eden, and these waste, and desolate, and ruinous cities were strong, and were inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen, that are left round about you, shall know that I the Lord build the ruinous places, and plant the desolate places: I the Lord haue spoken it, and will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord God, I will yet for this be sought of the house of Israel, to performe it vnto them: I will increase them with men like a flocke.

38 As the holy flocke, as the flocke of Ierusalem in their solemne feasts, so shall the desolate cities bee filled with flockes of men, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

a He sheweth by a greater miracle that God hath power, and also will deliuer his people from their captiuitie, in as much as he is able to giue life to the dead bones, and bodies, and raise them vp againe.

3 And he sayd vnto mee, Sonne of man, can these bones liue? And I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest.

4 Again he said vnto me, Prophesie vpon these bones, and say vnto them, O yee drie bones, heare the word of the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God vnto these bones, Beholde, I will cause breath to enter into you, & ye shall liue.

6 And I will lay sinewes vpon you, & make flesh grow vpon you, and couer you with skinn, and put breath in you, that yee may liue, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophesied, as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noyse, and beholde, there was a shaking, & the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, loe, the sinewes, and the flesh grew vpon them, and aboue the skinn couered them, but there was no breath in them.

22 And I will makethem one people in the land, vpon the mountains of Israel, and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two people, neither bee diuided any more henceforth into two kingdomes.

23 Neither shall they bee polluted any more with their idoles, nor with their abominations, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will saue them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they haue sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.

^a He prophesieth that Gog and Magog shall fight with great power against the people of God. ²¹ Their destruction.

And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against ^a Gog, and against the land of Magog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesie against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Gog the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal.

4 And I will destroy thee, and put hookes in thy iawes, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine hoste, ^{both} horses and horsemen, all clothed with all sorts of armour, ^{euen} a great multitude with bucklers and shields, all ^b handling fwords.

7 Prepare thy selfe, and make thee ^e ready, ^{both} thou, & all thy multitude that are assembled vnto thee, and be thou their safeguard.

8 After many dayes thou shalt be visited: for in the latter yeeres thou shalt come into the land, that hath bene destroyed with the sword, and is gathered out of many people vpon the mountains of Israel, which haue long lien waste: yet they haue bene brought out of the people, and they shall dwell all safe.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come vp like a tempest, and shalt bee like a cloud to couer the land, ^{both} thou, and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, ^{euen} at the same time shall many things come into thy minde, and thou shalt thinke ^f euil thoughts.

18 At the same time also when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, my wrath shall arise in mine anger.

19 For in mine indignation, and in the fire of my wrath haue I spoken it: surely at that time there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel,

20 So that the fishes of the sea, and the fowles of the heauen, and the beasts of the field, and all that mooue and creepe vpon the earth, and all the men that are vpon the earth, shall tremble at my presence, and the mountains shall be ouerthrowen, and the ⁿ staires shall fall, and euery wall shall fall to the ground.

21 For I will call for a sword against him ^o throughout all my mountaines, saith the Lord God: cuery mans sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will pleade against him with pestilence, and with blood, and I will cause to raine vpon him & vpon his bands, and vpon the great people that are with him, a fore raine, and hailestones, fire, and brimstone.

CHAP. XXXIX.

8 Hee sheweth the destruction of Gog and Magog. 11 The graues of Gog and his hoste. 17 They shall be auowed of brutes and beasts. 23 Wherefore the house of Israel is captiue. 24 Their inuening againe from captiuitie is promised.

Therefore thou sonne of man, prophesie against Gog, & say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against thee, O Gog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal.

2 And I will destroy thee, ^a and leaue but the sixt part of thee, and will cause thee to come vp from the North parts, and will bring thee vpon the mountaines of Israel:

3 And I will smite thy bowe out of thy left hand, and I will cause thine arrowes to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou ^b shalt fall vpon the mountaines of Israel, and all thy bands and the people, that is with thee: for I will giue thee vnto the birds, and to euery feathered foule and beast of the field to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

6 And I will send a fire on Magog, & among them that dwell safely in the cyles, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So wil I make mine holy Name known in the mids of my people Israel, and I will not suffer them to pollute mine holy Name any more, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy one of Israel.

8 Behold, ^d it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall ^e goe forth, and shall burne and set fire vpon the weapons, and on the shields, and bucklers, vpon the bowes, & vpon the arrowes, and vpon the staves in their hands, and vpon the speares, and they shall burne them with fire seven yeeres.

10 So that they shall bring no wood out of the field, neither cut downe ^f any out of the forests: for they shall burne the weapons with fire, and they shall robbe those that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoiled them, sayeth the Lord God.

11 And at the same time wil I giue vnto Gog ^f a place there for buriall in Israel, even the valley whereby men goe toward the East part of the sea: and it shall cause them that passe by, to stop their ^g noses, and there shall they bury Gog with all his multitude: and they shall call it the valley of Hamon-Gog.

12 ^h And seven moneths long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land,

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall burie them, and they shall haue a name, when I shall be glorified, saith the Lord God.

14 And they shall chule out men to goe continually thorow the land with them that trauaile, to burie those that remaine vpon the ground, to cleanse it: they shall search to the ende of seven moneths.

15 And the trauailers that passe through the land, if any see a mans bone, then shall he let vp a signe by it, til the buriers haue buried it in the valley of Hamon-Gog.

16 And also the name of the citie shall be Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, Speake vnto euery feathered foule, and to all the beasts of the field, Assemble your selues, and come: ^k gather your selues on euery side to my sacrifice: for I doe sacrifice a great sacrifice for you vpon the mountaines of Israel, that yee may eate flesh, and drinke blood.

18 Yee shall eate the flesh of the valiant, and drinke the blood of the princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lames, and of the goats, and of bullocks, even of all fat beasts of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eat fat til ye be full, and drinke blood till ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Thus you shall bee filled at my table with horses and chariots, with valiant men, and with all men of warre, saith the Lord God.

21 And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my iudgement, that I haue executed, and mine hand, which I haue laid vpon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall knowe, that I am the Lord their God from that day and so forth.

23 And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captiuitie for their ^l iniquitie, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gaue them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their vncleanness, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them, ^d That is, this plague is fully determined in my counsel, and cannot be changed.

^e After this destruction the Church shall haue great peace and tranquillitie, and burne all their weapons, because they shall no more feare the enemies: and this is chiefly meant of the accomplishment of Christs kingdom when by their head Christ, all enemies shall be overcome.

^f Which declarereth that the enemies shall haue a horrible fall.

^g For the stinke of the carkeises.

^h Or, the multitude of Gog.

ⁱ Meaning, a long time.

^k Partly that the holy land should not be polluted, and partly for the compassion that the children of God haue, even on their enemies.

^l Or, multitude.

^k Whereby hee signifieth the horrible destruction that should come vpon the enemies of his Church.

^l The heathen shall know that they ouercame my people by their strength, neither yet by the weakness of mine armes, but that this was for my peoples sinnes.

^k Meaning, in the last age, and from the coming of Christ vnto the end of the world.

^l Signifying, that God will be sanctified by maintaining his Church, and destroying his enemies, as Chap. 36. 23. and 37. 28. ^m Hsreby he declarereth that none affliction can come to the Church, whereof they haue not bene aduertised aforetime, to teach them to endure all things with more patience, when they know that God hath so ordeined. ⁿ All means whereby man should thinke to saue himselfe, shall faile, the affliction in those dayes shall be so great, and the enemies destruction shall be so terrible. ^o Against the people of Gog and Magog.

^p Chap. 36. 23. and 37. 28.

^a Or, destroy thee with fixe plagues, as Chap. 38. 23.

^b Meaning, that by the vertue of Gods word the enemy shall be destroyed where-soeuer he assaileth his Church.

^c That is, among all nations where the enemies of my people dwell, because they neuer so farre separate.

25 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Now will I bring againe the captivitie of Iacob, and have compassion vpon the whole house of Israel, and will be ielous for mine holy Name, 26 After that they have borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they have transgressed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without feare of any.

* Chap. 36. 23.

27 When I have brought them againe from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations,

28 Then shall they know that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captivitie among the heathen: but I have gathered them vnto their owne land, and have left none of them any more there, 29 Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have powred out my Spirit vpon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XL.

The restoring of the citie and the Temple.

a The Iewes counted the beginning of the yeere after two sorts: for their feasts, they began to count in March, and for their other affaires in September: so that this to be vnderstood of September.
b Or, visions of God.

IN the five and twentieth yeere of our being in captivitie, in the beginning of the yeere, in the tenth day of the moneth, in the fourteenth yeere after that the citie was smitten, in the selfesame day, the hand of the Lord was vpon me, and brought me thither.

2 Into the land of Israel brought he me by a diuine vision, and set me vpon a very high mountaine, whereupon was as the building of a citie, toward the South.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man, whose similitude was to looke like brasse, with a linnen threed in his hand, and a reede to measure with: and he stood at the gate.

b Which was an Angel in forme of a man, that came to measure out this building.

4 And the man sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, beholde with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, and set thine heart vpon all that I shall shew thee: for to the intent that they might be shewed thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest, vnto the house of Israel.

5 And behold, I saw a wall on the outside of the house round about: and in the mans hand was a reed to measure with, of fixe cubits long, by the cubit, and an hand breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building with one reede, and the height with one reed.

6 Then came hee vnto the gate which looketh toward the East, and went vp the staires thereof, and measured the post of the gate, which was one reed broad, and the other post of the gate, which was one reed broad.

b Or, threshold.
b Or, upper post.

7 And every chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad, and betweene the chambers were five cubits: and the post of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 Hee measured also the porch of the gate within with one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate of eight cubits, and the posts thereof, of two cubits, and the porch of the gate was inward.

b Or, penis.

10 And the chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side: and three on that side: they three were of one measure, and the posts had one measure on this side, and one on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate ten cubits, and the height of the gate thirteene cubits.

12 The space also before the chambers was one cubite on this side, and the space was one cubite on that side, and the chambers were sixe cubits on this side, and sixe cubits on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the rooffe of a chamber to the top of the gate: the breadth was sixe and twentie cubites, doore against doore.

14 He made also posts of threescore cubits, & the postes of the court, and of the gate, had one measure round about.

15 And vpon the forefront of the entry of the gate vnto the forefront of the porch of the gate within were fiftie cubits.

16 And there were narrow windowes in the chambers, & in their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and the windowes went round about within: and vpon the posts were palme trees.

17 ¶ Then brought he mee into the outward court, and loe, there were chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about, and thirty chambers were vpon the pavement.

18 And the pavement was by the side of the gates ouer against the length of the gates, and the pavement was beneath.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, an hundred cubits Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate of the outward court, that looked toward the North, measured he after the length and breadth thereof.

21 And the chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side, and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fiftie cubites, and the breadth sixe and twentie cubites.

22 And their windowes, and their arches with their palme trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East, and the going vp vnto it had seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood ouer against the gate toward the North, and toward the East, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubites.

24 After that, hee brought mee toward the South, and loe, there was a gate toward the South, and hee measured the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windowes: the height was fiftie cubites, and the breadth sixe and twentie cubites.

26 And there were seven steps to goe vp to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palme trees, one on this side, and another on that side vpon the poste thereof.

27 ¶ And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and he measured from gate to gate toward the South an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me into the inner court by the South gate, and he measured the South gate according to these measures.

29 And the chambers thereof, and the postes thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures, and there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, it was fiftie cubits long, and sixe and twentie cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were sixe and twentie cubites long, and sixe cubites broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the vtter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

32 ¶ Again he brought mee into the inner court toward the East, and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and the postes thereof, and the arches thereof were according to these measures, and there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fiftie cubites long, and sixe and twentie cubites broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the vtter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof, on this side and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ After hee brought mee to the North gate, and measured it, according to these measures, 36 The chambers thereof, the postes thereof, and the arches thereof, and there were windowes therein round about: the height was fiftie cubites, and the breadth sixe and twentie cubites.

37 And the postes thereof were toward the vtter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

38 And every chamber, and the entry thereof was vnder the postes of the gates: there they washed the burnt offering.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slew the burnt offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespass offering.

40 And at the side beyond the steps, at the entrie of the North gate stood two tables, and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, and foure tables on that side by the side of the gate, euen eight tables whereupon they slew their sacrifice.

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a cubite and an halfe long, and a cubite and a halfe broad, and one cubite high: whereupon also they layd the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were borders an hand broad, fastened round about, and vpon the tables lay the flesh of the offering.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the fingers in the inner court, which was at the side of the North gate: and their prospect was toward the South, and one was at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

Afterward, hee brought mee to the Temple and measured the postes, sixe cubites broad on the one side, & sixe cubites broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the entrie was ten cubites, and the sides of the entrie were five cubites on the one side, and five cubites on the other side, and he measured the length thereof forty cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

3 Then went he in, and measured the postes of the entrie two cubites, and the entrie sixe cubites, and the breadth of the entrie seven cubites.

4 So he measured the length thereof twenty cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the Temple, and he said vnto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After, hee measured the wall of the house, sixe cubites, and the breadth of every chamber foure cubites round about the house, on every side.

6 And the chambers were chamber vpon chamber, three and thirtie foote high, and they entred into the wall made for 5 chambers which was round about the house, that the postes might bee fastened therein, and not bee fastened in the wall of the house.

7 And it was large, and went round mounting vpward to the chambers: for the staire of the house was mounting vpward, round about the house: therefore the house was larger vpward: so they went vp from the west chamber to the highest by the mids.

Ver. 10. The chambers on the one side were distant from them on the other side twenty cubits, which was the breadth of the Temple.

Ver. 11. The doores of the chambers on the North side, opened toward the North V, and they on the South side toward the South R, for there was an alley of five cubits round about the Temple V Z, and was so cloied with a wall R.

Ver. 12. The building, or the great place compassed with a wall of five cubits thick, and was further off the Temple then the alley, or separate place, and this is more plainly set forth in the great figure.

Ver. 16. He declared that whatsoever was of stone worke from the bottom to the top, was covered with wood on the East, South, and North side.

Ver. 22. The altar V which was three cubits high Y X and two cubits long Y Z.

8 I saw also the house high round about: the foundations of the chambers were a full reede of five great cubits.

9 The thicknesse of the wall which was for the chamber without, was five cubits, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the wide-nesse of twenty cubits round about the House on euery side.

11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one doore toward the North, and another doore toward the South, and the breadth of the place that remained, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place toward the West corner, was seuentie cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he measured the house an hundred cubits long, and the separate place and the building with the walles thereof were an hundred cubites long.

14 Also the breadth of the forefront of the house and of the separate place toward the East, was an hundred cubits.

14 And hee measured the length of the building ouer against the separate place, which was behind it, and the chambers on the one side and on the other side an hundred cubites with the Temple within, and the arches of the court.

16 The postes and the narrow windowes, and the chambers round about, on three sides ouer against the postes, sieled with cedar wood round about, and from the ground vp to the windowes, and the windowes were sieled.

17 And from about the doore vnto the inner house and without, and by all the wall round about within and without it was sieled according to the measure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims and palme trees, so that a palme tree was betweene a Cherub and a Cherub: and euery Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palme tree on the one side, and the face of a lion toward the palme tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground vnto about the doore were Cherubims, and palme trees made as in the wall of the Temple.

21 The posts of the Temple were squared, and thus to looke vnto was the similitude and forme of the Sanctuarie.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubites, and the corners thereof and the length thereof and the sides thereof were of wood. And he said vnto me, This is the Table that shall be before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuarie had two doores.

24 And the doores had two wickets, even two turning wickets, two wickets for one doore, and two wickets for another doore.

25 And vpon the doores of the Temple there were made Cherubims and palme trees, like as was made vpon the walles, and there were thicke planks vpon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windowes and palme trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porch, and vpon the sides of the house, and thicke planks.

CHAP. XLII.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, & the holy things.

Then brought hee mee into the vtter court by the way toward the North, and hee brought mee into the chamber that was ouer against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits, was the North doore, and it was fiftie cubits broad.

3 Ouere against the twenty cubites which were for the inner court, and ouer against the pauement, which was for the inner court, was chamber against chamber in three rowes.

4 And before the chambers was a gallery of ten cubits wide, and within was a way of one cubite, and their doores toward the North.

5 Now the chambers about were narrower: for those chambers seemed to eate vp these, to wit, the lower, and those that were in the mids of the building.

6 For they were in three rowes, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath and from the middlemost, even from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without ouer against the chambers, toward the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, was fiftie cubits long.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the vtter court, was fiftie cubits, and so, before the Temple were an hundred cubites.

9 And vnder these chambers was the entry, on the East side, as one goeth into them from the outward court.

10 The chambers were in the thicknesse of the wall of the court toward the East, ouer against the separate place, and ouer against the building.

11 And the way before them was after the manner of the chambers, which were toward the North, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their entries were like, both according to their fashions, and according to their doores.

12 And according to the doores of the chambers, that were toward the South, was a doore in the corner of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the East, as one entrench.

13 Then said he vnto me, The North chambers and the South chambers which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, wherein the Priests that approach vnto the Lord, shall eate the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespass offering: for the place is holy.

14 When the priests enter therein, they shall not go out of the holy place into the vtter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister: for they are holy, and shall put on other garments, and so shall approach to those things, which are for the people.

15 Now when hee had made an ende of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the East side with the measuring rodde, five hundred reedes, even with the measuring reede round about.

17 Hee measured also the North side, five hundred

3. He seeth the glory of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed. 7 He mentioneth the idolatry of the children of Israel, for the which they were consumed, and brought to nought. 9. He is commanded to call them againe to repentance.

Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that turneth toward the East.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel, came from out of the East, whose voyce was like a noyse of great waters, and the earth was made light with his glory.

3 And the vision which I saw was like the vision, even as the vision that I saw a when I came to destroy the citie: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar, and I fell vpon my face.

4 And the b glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the East.

5 So the Spirit tooke me vp and brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto me out of the house: and there stood a man by me,

7 Which sayd vnto mee, Sonne of man, this place is my throne, & the place of the soles of my feete, whereas I will dwell among the children of Israel for euer, & the house of Israel shall no more defile mine holy Name, neither they; nor their kings by their fornication, nor by the carkeises of their kings in their hie places.

8 Albeit they set their thresholds by my thresholds, and their pottes by my pottes (for there was but a wall betweene mee and them) yet haue they defiled mine holy Name with their abominations, that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrath.

9 Now therefore let them put away their fornication, & the carkeises of their kings farre from me, and I will dwell among them for euer.

10 Thou sonne of man, shew this House to the house of Israel, that they may bee ashamed of their wickednes, & let them measure the paterne.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they haue done, shew them the forme of the House, and the paterne thereof, and the going out thereof, & the coming in thereof, & the whole fashion therof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, and all the lawes thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keepe the whole fashion therof, & all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the t description of the house, It shall be vpon the top of the mount: all the limits thereof round about shall be most holy. hold, this is the description of the house.

21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the sinne offering, and burne it in the appointed place of the house without the Sanctuary.

22 But the second day thou shalt offer an hee goat without blemish for a sinne offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullocke.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a yong bullock without blemish and a ramme out of the flocke without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, and the Priests shall cast salt vpon them, and they shall offer them for a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

25 Seuen dayes shalt thou prepare euery day an hee goat for a sinne offering: they shall also prepare a yong bullocke and a ramme out of the flocke without blemish.

26 Thus shall they seuen dayes purifie the altar, and cleanse it, and consecrate it.

27 And when these daies are expired, vpon the eight day and so forth, the Priests shall make your burnt offerings vpon the altar, and your peace offerings, & I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

Hee reprehends the people for their offences. 7 The vncircumcised in heart, and in the flesh. 9 Who are to be admitted to the seruice of the Temple, and who to be refused.

Then hee brought mee toward the gate of the outward Sanctuary, which turneth toward the East, and it was shut.

2 Then said the Lord vnto me, This gate shall be shut, and shall not be opened, & no man shall enter by it, because the Lord God of Israel hath entered by it, and it shall be shut.

3 It appertaineth to the Prince: the Prince himselfe shall sit in it to eat bread before the Lord: hee shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he me toward the North gate before the House: and when I looked, behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord, and I fell vpon my face.

5 And the Lord said vnto me, Sonne of man, I marke well & behold wth thine eyes, & heare with thine eares, al that I say vnto thee, concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord, & all the lawes thereof, & marke well the entering in of the house with euery going forth of the Sanctuary.

8 For ye haue not kept the ordinances of mine holy things: but you your selues haue set o^rther to take the charge of my Sanctuary.

that is among the children of Israel,

10 Neither yet the d Levites that are gone backe from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idoles, but they shall beare their iniquitie.

11 And they shall serue in my Sanctuary, and keepe the gates of the House, and minister in the House: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people: and they shall stand before them to serue them.

12 Because they serued before their idoles, and caused y^e house of Israel to fall into iniquity, therefore haue I lift vp mine hand against them, saith the Lord God, & they shall beare their iniquitie,

13 And they shall not come neere vnto me to doe the office of the Priest vnto me, neither shall they come neere vnto any of mine holy things in the most holy place, but they shall beare their shame and their abominations, which they haue committed.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the House, for all the seruice thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But the Priests of the Levites, the sonnes of Zadok, that e kept the charge of my Sanctuary, when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come neere to me to serue me, and they shall stand before me to offer mee the fat and the blood, saith the Lord God.

16 They shall enter into my Sanctuary, and shall come neere to my table, to serue mee, and they shall keepe my charge.

23 And they shall teach my people the difference betweene the holy and prophane, and cause them to discerne betweene the vncleane & the cleane.

24 And in cōtrouersie they shall stand to iudge, and they shall iudge it according to my iudgements: and they shall keepe my lawes and my statutes in all mine assemblies, and they shall sanctifie my Sabbaths.

1. Out of the land of promise are there separate foure portions, of which the first is giuen to the Priests and to the Temple, the second to the Leuites, the third to the citie, the fourth to the prince. 9 An exhortation vnto the heauy of Israel. Of iust weights and measures. 13 Of the first fruits, &c.

a Of all the land of Israel the Lord onely requirith this portion for the Temple and for the Priests, for the citie and for the prince.

Moreouer, when yee shall diuide the land for inheritance, yee shall offer an oblation vnto the Lord an ^a holy portion of the lande, five and twentie thousand reedes long, and ten thousand broad: this shalbe holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there shall be for the Sanctuary five hundredeth in length, with five hundredeth in breadth, all square round about, and fiftie cubits round about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twentie thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shalbe the Sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall bee the Priests, which minister in the Sanctuary, which come neere to serue the Lord: and it shall bee a place for their houses, and an holy place for the Sanctuary.

5 And in the five and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth shall the Leuites that minister in the house, haue their possession for twenty chambers.

6 Also ye shall appoint the possession of the citie, five thousand broad, & five and twenty thousand long ouer against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shall be for the prince of the one side, and on that side of the oblation on the holy portion, and of the possession of the citie, ^{euery} before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city from the West corner Westward, and from the East corner Eastward, and the length shall be by one of the portions from the West border vnto the East border.

8 In this land shall be his possession in Israel: and my princes shal no more oppresse my people, and the first of the land shal they giue to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.

9 Thus sayeth the Lord God, Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: leaue off crueltie and oppression, and execute iudgement and iustice: take away your exactions from my people, sayeth the Lord God.

10 Ye shall haue iust balances, and a true ^c Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shall be equall: a Bath shall containe the tenth part of an Homer, and an Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the equallitie thereof shall be after the Homer.

12 * And the shekel shall be twentie Gerals, and twentie shekels, and ^d five and twentie shekels and fiftene shekels shalbe your Manch.

13 ¶ This is the oblation that ye shall offer, the first part of an Ephah of an Homer of wheate, and ye shall giue the first part of an Ephah of an Homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of the oyle, ^{euery} of the Bath of oyle, ye shal offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor (ten Baths are an Homer: for ten Baths fill an Homer)

15 And one Lambe of two hundred sheepe out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meate offering, and for a burnt offering and for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the lande shall giue this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shalbe the princes part to giue burnt offerings, and meate offerings, and drinke offerings in the solemne feasts and in the new moones, and in the Sabbaths, and in all the hie feastes of the house of Israel: he shal prepare the sinne offering, and the meate offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, In the first month, in the first day of the ^c month, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish & cleanse the Sanctuary.

19 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it vpon the postes of the house, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the altar, and vpon the postes of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so shalt thou doe the seventh day of the month, for euery one that hath erred, and for him that is deceived: so shall you reconcile the house.

21 * In the first month in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall haue the Passouer, a feast of seven dayes, and yee shall eate vneleauened bread.

22 And vpon that day, shal the prince prepare for himselfe, and for all the people of the land, a bullocke for a sinne offering.

23 And in the seven dayes of the feast he shall make a burnt offering to the Lord, ^{euery} of seven bullocks, and seven rammes without blemish dayly for seven dayes, and an hee gate dayly for a sinne offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meat offering of an Ephah for a bullocke, an Ephah for a ramme, and an ⁱ Hin of oyle for an Ephah.

25 In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, shal he doe the like in the feast for seven dayes, according to the sinne offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meate offering, and according to the oyle.

1 The vision of the waters that came out of the Temple. 2 The costs of the land of promise, and the diuision thereof by tribes.

Afterward hee brought me vnto the doore of the house: and beholde, a waters issued out from vnder the threshold of the house Eastward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the East, and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right side of the house, at the South side of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out toward the North gate, and led me about by the way without vnto the vtter gate by the way that turneth Eastward: and beholde, there came forth waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, & he brought me thorow the waters: the waters were to the ancles.

4 Againe he measured a thousand, & brought mee through the waters: the waters were to the knees: againe he measured a thousand, & brought me through: the waters were to the loynes.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, & it was a riuer, that I could not passe ouer: for the waters were risen, and the waters did flow, as a riuer that could not be passed ouer.

6 And he sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou scene this? Then he brought me, and caused me to returne to the brinke of the riuer.

7 Now when I returned, behold, at the brinke of the riuer were very many trees on the one side and on the other.

l Meaning, that in this spiritual Kingdom there should be no difference between Jew nor Gentile, but that all should be partakers of this inheritance in their head Christ.

10 And then the ^f fishers shall stand vpon it, and from En-gedi euen vnto En-eglaïm, they shall spread out their nets: for their fish shall be according to their kindes, as the fish of the maine sea, exceeding many.

11 But the myrie places thereof, and the marishes thereof shall not be wholesome, they shall be made salt pits.

12 And by this riuer vpon the brinke thereof, on this side, and on that side shall grow all fruitfull trees, whose leafe shall not fade, neither shall the fruite thereof faile: it shall bring forth new fruit according to his moneths, because their waters ran out of the Sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall bee meat, and the leafe thereof shall bee for medicine.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, this shall be the border, whereby ye shall inherite the land according to the twelue tribes * of Israel: Ioseph shall haue two portions.

14 And ye shall inherite it, one as well as another: * concerning the which I lift vp mine hand to giue it vnto your fathers, and this land shall fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall bee the border * of the land toward the Northside, from the maine sea toward Hethlon, as men goe to Zedadah:

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibram, which is betweene the border of Damascus, and the border of Hamath, and Hazar, Hatticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea shall be Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damascus, and the residue of the North Northward, and the border of Hamath: so shall be the North part.

18 But the East side shall yee measure from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilend, and from the land of Israel by Iorden, and from the border vnto the East sea: and so shall bee the East part.

19 And the southside shall be toward Teman, from Tamar to the waters of Meriboth in Kadeth, and the riuer to the maine sea: so shall be the South part toward Teman.

20 The West part also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come ouer against Hamath: this shall be the West part.

21 So shall ye diuide this land vnto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 And you shall diuide it by lot for an inheritance vnto you, and to the strangers that dwell among you, which shall beget children among you, and they shall be vnto you, as borne in the countrey among the children of Israel, they shall part inheritance with you in the mids of the tribes of Israel.

23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, there shall ye giue him his inheritance, sayeth the Lord God.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The lots of the tribes. 9 The parts of the possession of the Priests, of the Temple, of the Levites, of the citie, and of the Prince, are rehearsed.

NOW these are the names of the ² tribes. From the Northside, to the coast toward Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar, Enan, and the border of Damascus Northward the coast of Hamath, euen from the East side to the West shall bee a portion for Dan.

2. And by the border of Dan from the East side vnto the Westside, a portion for Asher.

3 And by the border of Asher from the East part euen vnto the West part, a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali from the East quarter vnto the West side, a portion for Manasseh.

5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the East side vnto the West side, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the East part euen vnto the West part, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the East quarter vnto the West quarter, a portion for Iudah.

8 And by the border of Iudah from the East part vnto the West part shall be the offering which they shall offer of five and twenty thousand reedes broad, and of length as one of the other parts, from the East side vnto the West side, and the Sanctuary shall be in the mids of it.

9 The oblation that yee shall offer vnto the Lord, shall be of five and twentie thousand long, and of ten thousand the breadth.

10 And for them, euen for the Priests shall be this holy oblation, toward the North five and twentie thousand long, and toward the West, ten thousand broad, & toward the East ten thousand broad, and toward the South five and twentie thousand long, and the Sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the mids thereof.

11 It shall be for the Priests that are sanctified of the sonnes of Zadok, which haue kept my charge, which went not astray, when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

12 Therefore this oblation of the land that is offered shall be theirs, as a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And ouer against the border of the Priests the Levites shall haue five and twentie thousand long, and ten thousand broad: all the length shall be five and twentie thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 And they shall not sel of it, neither change it, nor abalienate the first fruites of the land: for it is holy vnto the Lord.

15 And the five thousand that are left in the breadth ouer against the five and twentie thousand, shall be a prophane place for the citie, for housing, and for suburbs, and the citie shall be in the mids thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof, the North part five hundredth and foure thousand, & the South part five hundredth and foure thousand, and the East part five hundredth and foure thousand, and the West part five hundredth and foure thousand.

17 And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the North two hundredth & fiftie, and toward the South two hundredth and fifty, and toward the East two hundredth and fifty, and toward the West two hundredth and fifty.

18 And the residue in length ouer against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand Eastward, and ten thousand Westward: and it shall be ouer against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be for food vnto them that serue in the city.

19 And they that serue in the citie, shall be of all the tribes of Israel that shall serue therein.

20. All

c Meaning, that it should be square.

a The tribes after that they entered into the land vnder Ioshua, diuided the land some what otherwise then is here set forth by this vision.

d Every way it shall be five and twenty thousand.

20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand with a five and twenty thousand: you shall offer this oblation four square for the Sanctuary, and for the possession of the citie.

21 And the residue shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other of the oblation of the Sanctuary, and of the possession of the citie, ouer against the five and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the East border, and Westward ouer against the five and twenty thousand toward the West border, ouer against shall be for the portion of the prince: this shall be the holy oblation, and the house of the Sanctuary shall be in the middes thereof.

22 Moreover, from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the citie, that which is in the mids shall be the princes betwene the border of Iudah, and betwene the border of Benjamin shall be the Princes.

23 And the rest of the tribes shall be thus: from the East part vnto the West part, Benjamin shall be a portion.

24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the East side vnto the West side, Simeon a portion.

25 And by the border of Simeon from the East part vnto the West part, Issachar a portion.

26 And by the border of Issachar, from the East side vnto the West, Zebulun a portion.

27 And by the border of Zebulun from the East part vnto the West part, Gad a portion.

28 And by the border of Gad at the South side, toward Temath, the border shall be euen from Tamar, vnto the waters of Meribath in Kadesh, and to the river, that runneth into the maine sea.

29 This is the lande, which ye shall distribute vnto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their portions, saith the Lord God.

30 And these are the boundes of the citie, on the Northside five hundred, and four thousand measures.

31 And the gates of the citie shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel, 7 gates Northward, one gate of Reuben, one gate of Iudah, and one gate of Levi.

32 And at the Eastside five hundred and four thousand, and three gates, and one gate of Ioseph, one gate of Benjamin, and one gate of Dan.

33 And at the South side, five hundred and four thousand measures, and three portes, one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, and one gate of Zebulun.

34 At the West side, five hundred and four thousand, with their three gates, one gate of Gad, one gate of Asher, and one gate of Naphtali.

35 It was round about eighteene thousand measures, and the name of the citie from that day shall be, The Lord is there.

f Which is here taken for Idumea, g Which was Iericho the citie of palme trees. h Meaning, Nilus that runneth into the Sea, called Mediterraneum.

e So that Iudah was on the North side of the Princes and Levites portions, and Benjamin on the Southside.

DANIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE great providence of God, and his singular mercie toward his Church are most lively heree see forth, who neuer leaueh his destitute, but now in their greatest miseries and afflictions giueh them Prophets, as Ezekiel, and Daniel, whom he adorned with such graces of his holy spirit, that Daniel above all other had most speciall reuelations of such things as should come to the Church, euen from the time that they were in captiuitie, to the last ende of the world, and to the generall resurrection, as of the foure Monarchies & Empires of all the world, to wit, of the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians, and Romanes. Also of the certaine number of the time euen vnto Christ, when all ceremonies and sacrifices should cease, because hee should be the accomplishment thereof: moreover hee sheweth Christs office and the cause of his death, which was by his sacrifice to take away sinnes, and to bring euermore life. And as from the beginning God euer exercised his people vnder the crosse, so he teacheth here, that after that Christ is offered, he will still leaue this exercise to his Church untill the dead rise againe, and Christ gather his into his kingdome in the heauens.

CHAP. I.

1 The captiuitie of Iehoiakim king of Iudah. 4 The kinge chooseth certaine young men of the Iewes to learne his law. 5 They haue the kings ordinarie appointed, 8 but they abstaine from it.

In the third yere of the reigne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel vnto Ierusalem and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gaue Iehoiakim king of Iudah into his hand with part of the vessels of house of God, which hee caried into the land of Shinar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into his gods treasure.

3 And the King spake vnto Aspenaz the master of his Eunuchs, that he should bring certaine of the children of Israel, of the Kings seed, and of the princes:

4 Children in whom was no blemish, but well fauoured, and instructed in all wisdom, and well scene in knowledge, and able to vtter knowledge, & such as were able to stand in the kings palace, and whom they might teach the learning, and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them prouision euery day of a portion of the kings meat, and of the wine, which hee dranke, so nourishing them three yeere, that at the end thereof, they might stand before the king.

6 Now among these were certaine of the children of Iudah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah.

praye, that hee esteemed learning, and knew that it was a necessarie meane to gouerne by. 8 That they might forget their owne religion, and countrey fashions, to serue him the better to his purpose: yet it is not to bee thought that Daniel did learne any knowledge that was not godly in all points hee refused the abuse of things and superstition, in so much that hee would not eate the meate which the king appointed him, but was content to learne the knowledge of naturall things. h That by their good entertainment they might learne to forget the mediocritie of their owne people. i To the intent that in this time they might both leaue the manners of the Chaldeans, and also their tongue. k Aswel to serue at the table, as in other offices.

f The King required three things, that they should be of noble birth, that they should be witty and learned, & that they should be of a strong and comely nature, that they might doe him better seruice: this hee did for his owne commodity, therefore it is not to praise his liberallitie: yet in this hee is worthy a Reade 1. King. 24. 1. & 1ere 25. 1. b Which was a plaine by Babylon, where was the Temple of their great god, and is here taken for Babylon.

c Who was at master of the wardes.

d Hee callet them Eunuchs whom the King nourished and brought vp to be rulers of other countreyes afterward.

e His purpose was to keepe them as hostages, & that he might shew himselfe victorious, and also by their good instruction and learning of his religion, they might fauour rather him then the Iewes, & so to be able to serue him as gouernours in their hand: moreover by this meane the Iewes might be better kept in subiection, fearing otherwise to procure hurt to these noble men.

1 That they might altogether forget their religion: for the Iewes gaue their children names, which might euer put them in remembrance of some point of religion: therefore this was a great temptation and a signe of seruitude, which they were not able to resist.

m Not that hee thought any religion to be in the meate or drinke, (for afterward he did eate) but because the king should not iustifie him by this sweete payson to forget his religion and accustomed sobriety, and that in his meate and drinke he might daily remember of what people he was: and Daniel bringeth this in to shew how God from the beginning assisted him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a Prophet. n He supposed they did this for their religion, which was contrary to the Babylonians, and therefore herein he representeth them, which are of no religion: for neither he would condemne theirs, nor maintaine his owne.

o Meaning, that within this space hee might haue the triall, and that no man should be able to discerne it; and thus he spake, being moued by the Spirit of God.

p Not that it was a thing abominable to eate daimy meates, and to drinke wine, as both before and after they did, but if they should haue hereby bene wonne to the King, and haue refused their owne religion, that meate and drinke had bene accursed. q This bare feeding and that also of Moses, when he fled from the court of Egypt, declareth that we must liue in such sobriety as God doeth call vs vnto, seeing hee will make it more profitable vnto vs, then all dainties: for his blessing onely sufficeth. r Hebr. faster in flesh. Meaning, in the liberrall sciences, and naturall knowledge, and not in the magickall artes which are forbidden, Deut. 18. 11. f So that hee onely was a Prophet and none of the other: for by dreames and visions God appeared to his Prophets, Num. 12. 6. t Of the three yeeres above mentioned, verse 5. u That is, he was esteemed in Babylon as a Prophet so long as that common wealth stood.

7 Vnto whom the chiefe of the Eunuches gaue other names: for hee called Daniel, Belteshazzar, and Hananiah, Shadrach, and Misael, Meshach, and Azariah, Abednego.

8 ¶ But Daniel had determined in his heart, that he would not defile himselfe with the portion of the kings meate, nor with the wine which he dranke: therefore he required the chiefe of the Eunuches that he might not defile himselfe.

9 (Now God had brought Daniel into fauour, and tender loue with the chiefe of the Eunuches)

10 And the chiefe of the Eunuches sayd vnto Daniel, I feare my lord the king, who hath appointed your meate and your drinke: therefore if he see your faces worse liking then the other children, which are of your sort, then shall you make me lose mine head vnto the king.

11 Then sayd Daniel to Melzar, whom the chiefe of the Eunuches had set ouer Daniel, Hananiah, Misael, and Azariah, 12 Proue thy seruants, I beseech thee, ten dayes, and let them giue vs pulse to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances bee looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the kings meate: and as thou seest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proued them ten dayes.

15 And at the end of ten dayes, their countenances appeared fairer, and in better liking then all the childrens, which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

16 Thus Melzar tooke away the portion of their meate, & the wine that they should drinke, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for these foure children, God gaue them knowledge, and vnderstanding in all learning, and wisdom: also he gaue Daniel vnderstanding of all visions and dreames.

18 Now when the time was expired, that the king had appointed to bring them in, the chiefe of the Eunuches brought them before Nebuchad-nezzar.

19 And the king communed with them: and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Misael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of wisdom, and vnderstanding that the king enquired of them, hee found them tenne times better then all the inchanters and astrologians that were in all his realme.

21 And Daniel was vnto the first yeere of king Cyrus.

question. 24 Daniel is brought vnto the King, and sheweth him his dreame and the interpretation thereof. 44 Of the emperour's kingdom of Christ.

And in the second yeere of the reigne of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuchad-nezzar dreamed dreames wherewith his spirit was troubled, and his sleepe was vpon him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the inchanters, and the astrologians, and the forcerers, and the Caldeans for to shew the King his dreames: so they came and stood before the King.

3 And the king said vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to know the dreame.

4 Then spake the Caldeans to the king in the Aramites language, O king, liue for euer: shew thy seruants thy dreame, and wee shall shew the interpretation.

5 And the king answered and said to the Caldeans, The thing is gone from me. If yee will not make mee vnderstand the dreame with the interpretation thereof, yee shall be drawn in pieces, and your houses shall bee made a iakes.

6 But if yee declare the dreame and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of me gifts and rewards, and great honour: therefore shew mee the dreame and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered againe, and sayd, Let the king shew his seruants the dreame, and we will declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the king answered and sayd, I know certainly that ye would gaine the time, because yee see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if yee will not declare me the dreame, there is but one iudgement for you: for yee haue prepared lying and corrupt wordes, to speake before mee till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dreame, that I may know, if ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Then the Caldeans answered before the king, and said, There is no man vpon earth that can declare the kings matter: yea, there is neither King nor Prince nor lord that asked such things at an inchanter, or astrologian or Caldean.

11 For it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is no other that can declare it before the king, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and in great furie, and commaunded to destroy all the wise men of Babel.

13 ¶ And when sentence was given, the wise men were slaine: and they sought Daniel and his fellows to be put to death.

14 Then Daniel answered with counsell and wisdom to Arioch the kings chiefe steward, which was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babel.

15 Yea, hee answered and sayd vnto Arioch the kings captaine, Why is the sentence so hastie from the king? Then Arioch declared the thing to Daniel.

16 So Daniel went and desired the king that hee would giue him leifure, and that hee would shew the king the interpretation thereof.

a The father and the sonne were both called by this name: so that this is meant of the sonne, when hee reigned alone: for he reigned also after a sort with his father.

b Not that he had many dreames, but because many matters were contained in this dreame.

c Because it was so rare and strange a dreame: that he had not had the like.

d He was so heavy with sleepe, that he began to sleepe againe. Some read, and his sleepe was broken from him.

e For all these Astrologers & forcerers called themselves by this name of honor, although all the wisdom & knowledge of the country depended vpon them, and that al other countie eyes were voyde of the same.

f That is, in Syrian tongue which differed not much from the Caldeans, (and it seemed to be more eloquent, and therefore the learned used to speake it, as the Iewish writers doe to this day.)

g This is a iust reward of their arrogancie (which wanted of themselves, that they had the knowledge of all things) that they should be proued fooles, and that to their perpetuall shame and confusion.

h Herein appeared their ignorance, that notwithstanding their brags, yet were they not able to tell the dreame, except he entred them into the matter, and therefore they would pretend knowledge where was but mere ignorance, and so as deluders of the people they were worthy to die.

i Which declared

17 ¶ Then

CHAP. II.

17 ¶ Then Daniel went to his house, and shewed the matter to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah his companions,

18 That they should beseech the God of heaven for grace in this secret, that Daniel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wife men of Babel.

19 Then was the secret revealed vnto Daniel in a vision by night: therefore Daniel praised the God of heaven.

20 And Daniel answered and said, * The Name of God be praised for euer and euer: for wisdom and strength are his.

21 And he changeth the times and seasons: he taketh away kings: he setteth vp kings: he giueth wisdom vnto the wise, & vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.

22 He discovereth the deepe and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darknes, & the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and praye thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast giuen me wisdom and strength, and hast shewed mee now the thing that wee desired of thee: for thou hast declared vnto vs the kings matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Daniel went vnto Arioch, whom the king had ordeined to destroy the wife men of Babel: he went and sayd thus vnto him, Destroy not the wife men of Babel, but bring mee before the king, and I will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all haste, and said thus vnto him, I haue found a man of the children of Iudah that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

26 Then answered the king, and sayd vnto Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to shew mee the dreame, which I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded, can neither the wise, the astrologians, the inchanters, nor the soothsayers declare vnto the king.

28 But there is a God in heaven that reuealeth secrets, and sheweth the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall bee in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, and the things which thou hast seene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this.

29 O king, when thou wast in thy bed, thoughts came into thy minde, what should come to passe hereafter, and hee that reuealeth secrets, telleth thee what shall come.

30 As for mee, this secret is not shewed mee for any wisdom that I haue more then any other liuing, but only to shew the king the interpretation, and that thou mightest knowe the thoughts of thine heart.

31 O King, thou sawest, and behold, there was a great image: this great image whose glory was so excellent, stood before thee, and the forme thereof was terrible.

32 This images head was of fine golde, his breast, and his armes of siluer, his belly and his thighes of brasie.

33 His legs of yron, and his feet were part of yron, and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut without hands, which smote the image vpon his feet, that were of yron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the yron, the clay, the brasie, the siluer and the golde broken all together, and became like the chaffe of the summer floures, and the winde caried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame, and we will declare befores the king the interpretation thereof.

37 ¶ O King, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath giuen thee a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory.

38 And in all places where the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, and the fowles of the heaven hath he giuen into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler ouer them all: thou art this head of gold.

39 And after thee shall rise another kingdom inferior to thee, of siluer, and another third kingdom of brasie, which shall beare rule ouer all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as yron: for as yron breaketh in pieces, and subdueth all things, and as yron bruieth all these things, so shall it breake in pieces, and bruieth all.

41 Whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters clay, and part of yron: the kingdom shall bee divided, but there shall be in it of the strength of the yron, as thou sawest the yron mixt with the clay, and earth.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of yron, and part of clay, so shall the kingdom bee partly strong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest yron mixt with clay and earth, they shall mingle themselves with the feede of men: but they shall not ioine one with another, as yron cannot bee mixed with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these kings, shall the God of heaven set vp a kingdom, which shall neuer be destroyed: and this kingdom shall not be giuen to another people, but it shall breake, and destroy all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for euer.

45 Whereas thou sawest, that the stone was cut off the mountaine without hands, and that it brake in pieces the yron, the brasie, the clay, the siluer, and the golde: so the great God hath shewed the king, what shall come to passe hereafter, and the dreame is true, and the interpretation thereof is sure.

46 ¶ Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell vpon his face, and bowed himselfe vnto Daniel, and commanded that they should offer meate of fringes, and sweete odours vnto him.

47 Also the king answered vnto Daniel, and

God, and not set vp by man, whose kingdom at the beginning should be small and without beauty to mans iudgement, but should at length grow and fill the whole earth, which hee calleth a great mountaine, as verse 35. And this kingdom, which is not only referred to the person of Christ, but also to the whole body of his Church, and to every member thereof, shall be eternal: for the spirit that is in them is life eternal, Rom. 8. ro. b Though this humbling of the king seemed to deserve commendation, yet because hee toyed Gods honour with the Prophets, it is to be reprobred, and Daniel herein erred, if he suffered it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, and did not suffer it.

sayd,

¶ Daniel 113, 2. and 115. 18.

¶ He sheweth that man hath neither wisdom nor knowledge, but very darke blindness, and ignorance of himselfe: for it cometh onely of God, that man vnderstandeth any thing.

¶ To whom thou madeest thy promise, and who liued in thy feare: whereby he excluded all other gods.

¶ Meaning, power to interpret it.

¶ Whereby appeareth that many were flaine, as verse 13. and the rest of Daniels offer were preferred on condition: not that Daniel fauoured their wicked profission, but that he had respect to equity because the King proceeded according to his wicked affection, & not considering if their science were lawfull or no.

¶ Hee affirmeth that man by reason and arte is not able to attain to the cause of Gods secrets, but the vnderstanding onely thereof must come of God: whereby he smitteth the king with a certaine feare & reuerence of God, that hee might be the more apt to receive the hie mysteries, that should be reuealed.

¶ Because he had said that God onely must reueile the signification of this dreame, the King might haue asked, why Daniel did enterprise to interpret it, and therefore he sheweth that he was but Gods minister, and had no gifts, but such as God had giuen him to set forth his glory.

¶ By gold, siluer, brasie and yron, are meant the Caldean, Persian, Macedonian and Romane kingdomes, which should successiue rule all the world til Christ (which is here called the stone) come himselfe, and destroy the last: and this was to assure the Iewes, that their affliction should not end with the empire of the Caldeans, but that they should patiently abide the coming of Messiah, which should be at the end of this fourth monarchy.

CHAP. III.

1 The King setteth vp a golden image, & certaine are accused because they despised the Kings commandment, and are put into a burning oven. 2 By beliefs in God they are deliuered from the fire. 3 Nebuchadnezzar confesseth the power of God, after the sight of the miracle.

a Vnder pretence of religion, and holines in making an image to his idol Bel, he sought his owne ambition and vaine glory: and this declareth that he was not touched with the true feare of God before, but that he confessed him on a sudden motion, as the wicked when they are overcome with the greatness of his works. The Greeke interpreters write, that this was done eighteen yeeres after the drame, and as may appeare, the King feared lest the Iewes by their religion, should haue altered the state of his common wealth, and therefore he meant to bring all to one kind of religion, & so rather sought his owne quietnesse then Gods glory.

b Shewing that the idole is not known for an idole so long as he is with the workman: but when the ceremonies and customes are recited and vsed and the consent of y^e people is there, then of a blocke they thinke they haue made a god.

c This was sufficient with the wicked at all times to approue their religion, if the Kings authoritie were alledged for the establishment thereof, not considering in the meane season what Gods word did permit. d These are the two dangerous weapons, wherewith Satan vseth to fight against the children of God, the consent of the multitude and the crueltie of the punishment: for though some feared God, yet the multitude, which consented to the wickednes, alioined them: & here the King required not an inward consent, but an outward gesture, that the Iewes might by little and little learne to forget their true religion.

said, I know of a truth that your God is a God of gods, and the Lord of Kings, and the reuealer of secrets, seeing thou couldst open this secret.

48 So the King made Daniel a great man, and gaue him many and great giftes. Hee made him gouernour ouer the whole prouince of Babel, and chiefe of the rulers, and aboue all the wise men of Babel.

49 Then Daniel made request to the King, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel: but Daniel sate in the gate of the King.

50 Then Nebuchadnezzar the King, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel: but Daniel sate in the gate of the King.

1 The King setteth vp a golden image, & certaine are accused because they despised the Kings commandment, and are put into a burning oven. 2 By beliefs in God they are deliuered from the fire. 3 Nebuchadnezzar confesseth the power of God, after the sight of the miracle.

Nebuchadnezzar the King made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the bredth thereof fixe cubits: he set it vp in the plaine of Dura, in the prouince of Babel.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the King sent forth to gather together the nobles, the princes, & the dukes, the iudges, the receivers, the counsellours, the officers, & all the gouernours of the prouinces, that they should come to the dedication of the image, which Nebuchadnezzar the King had set vp.

3 So the nobles, princes, & dukes, the iudges, the receivers, the counsellours, the officers, & all the gouernours of the prouinces were assembled vnto the dedicating of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the King had set vp, and they stood before the image which Nebuchadnezzar had set vp.

4 Then an herald cried aloud, Bee it knownen to you, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That when yee heare the sound of the corner, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psalterie, dulcimer, and all instruments of musicke, ye fall down, and worship the golden image, that Nebuchadnezzar the King hath set vp.

6 And whosoever falleth not downe, & worshippeth, shall the same houre bee cast into the middes of an hote fierie fornace.

7 Therefore as soone as all the people heard the sound of the corner, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psalterie, and all instruments of musicke, all the people, nations, and languages fell downe, and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchadnezzar the King had set vp.

8 By reason whereof at that same time came men of the Caldeans, and grievously accused the Iewes.

9 For they spake and saide to the King Nebuchadnezzar, O King, liue for euer.

10 Thou, O King, hast made a decree, that euery man that shall heare the sound of the corner, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psalterie, and dul-cimer, and all instruments of musicke, shall fall downe and worship the golden image, 11 And whosoever talleth not downe, and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the middes of an hote fierie fornace.

12 There are certaine Iewes whom thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: these men, O King, haue not regarded thy commandement, neither will they serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set vp.

13 Then Nebuchadnezzar in his anger and wrath commaunded that they should bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, so these men were brought before the King.

14 And Nebuchadnezzar spake and said vnto them, What disorder? will not you, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, serue my god, nor worship the golden image that I haue set vp?

15 Now therefore are ye ready when ye heare the sound of the corner, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, psalterie, and dulcimer, and all instruments of musick, to fall downe, and worship the image, which I haue made? for if ye worship it not, yee shall bee cast immediatly into the middes of an hote fierie fornace: for who is that God, that can deliuer you out of my hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered and sayde to the King, O Nebuchadnezzar, we are not carefull to answer thee in this matter.

17 Behold, our God whome we serue, is able to deliuer vs from the hote fierie fornace, and hee will deliuer vs out of thine hand, O King.

18 But if not, be it knownen vnto thee, O King, that we will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set vp.

19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of rage, and the forme of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: therefore hee charged and commaunded that they should heate the fornace at once seuen times more then it was wont to be heat.

20 And he charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his army, to binde Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hote fierie fornace.

21 So these men were bound in their coates, their hosen, & their clokes, with their other garments, and cast into the middes of the hote fierie fornace.

22 Therefore because the Kings commandement was straite, that the fornace should bee exceeding hote, the flame of the fire slew those men that brought forth Shadrach, Meshach, & Abednego.

23 And these three men Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego fell downe bound into the middes of the hote fierie fornace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the King was astonied, and rose vp in haste, and spake, and sayd vnto his Counsellors, Did not wee cast three men bound into the middes of the fire? Who answered, and sayd vnto the king, It is true, O King.

25 And he answered, and sayd, Lo, I see foure men loose walking in the middes of the fire, and they haue no hurt, and the forme of the fourth is like the sonne of God.

26 Then the King Nebuchadnezzar came neere to the mouth of the hote fierie fornace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, & Abednego, e It seemeth that they name Daniel, because hee was greatly in the Kings fauour thinking if these three had bin destroyed, they might haue had better occasion to accuse Daniel, and thus declareth that this policy of erecting this image was inuented by the malicious flatterers which sought nothing but the destruction of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude. f Signifying that he would receiue them to grace if they would now at the length obey his decree.

g For they should haue done iniury to God, if they should haue doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolved to die for Gods cause.

h They ground on two points, first on the power and prouidence of God ouer them, and secondly on their cause, which was Gods glory, and the testifying of his true religion with their blood, and so make open confession, that they will not so much as outwardly consent to idolatrie.

i This declareth that the more that tyrants rage, and the more wittie they fiew themselves in inuventing strange and cruell punishments, the more is God glorified by his seruants to whom hee giueth patience and constancie to abide the crueltie of their punishment: for either he deliuereth them from death, or else for this life giueth them a better.

k For the Angels were called the sonnes of God, because of their excellency: therefore the king called this Angel whom God sent to comfort his in these great torments, the sonne of God.

1 This commendeth their obedience vnto God, that they would not for any feare depart out of this furnace, till the time appointed, as Noah remained in the Arke, till the Lord called him forth. m He was moued by the greatnesse of the miracle to praise God, but his heart was not touched. And here we see that miracles are not sufficient to conuert men to God, but that doctrine must chiefly be adioyned, without the which there can be no fayth. n If this heathen King moued by Gods spirit would not see blasphemy vnpunished, but made a lawe and set a punishment for such transgressours, much more ought al they that professe religion, take order that such impietie reigne not, lest according as their knowledge and charge is greater, so they suffer double punishment. o Meaning, so farre as his dominion extendeth. p Reade chap. 2. 44.

the seruants of the hie God, goe forth and come hither: so Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came forth of the middes of the fire.

27 Then the nobles, princes, and dukes, and the Kings counsellours came together to see these men, because the fire had no power ouer their bodies: for not an haire of their head was burnt, neither were their coates changed, nor any smell of fire came vpon them.

28 Wherefore Nebuchad-nezzar spake and sayd, m Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who hath sent his Angel, and deliuered his seruants, that put their trust in him, and haue changed the Kings commandement, and yeelded their bodies rather then they would serue or worship any God saue their owne God.

29 Therefore I make a decree that euery people, nation, and language, which speake any^a blasphemie against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be drawn in pieces, & their houses shall be made a iakes, because there is no god that can deliuer after this sort.

30 Then the King promoted Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the prouince of Babel.

31 Nebuchad-nezzar King vnto all people, nations & languages, that dwell in al the^o world, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

32 I thought it good to declare the signes and wonders, that the hie God hath wrought toward me.

33 How great are his signes, and how mighty are his wonders! His kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

34 Meaning, so they suffer double punishment. o Meaning, so farre as his dominion extendeth. p Reade chap. 2. 44.

CHAP. III.

1 Another dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar, which Daniel declareth 29 The Prophet declareth how of a proud King hee should become as a beast 31 After he confesseth the power of God, and is restored to his former dignitie.

Nebuchad-nezzar being at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace,

2 Saw a^b dreame, which made me afraid, and the thoughts vpon my bedde, and the visions of mine head troubled me.

3 Therefore made I a decree, that they should bring all the wise men of Babel before mee, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

4 So came the inchanters, the astrologians, the Caldeans & the soothsayers, to whom I tolde the dreame, but they could not shew me the interpretation thereof.

5 Till at the last Daniel came before mee, (whose name was^d Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, which hath the spirit of the holy gods in him) and before him I tolde the dreame, saying,

6 O Belteshazzar, e chiefe of the inchanters, because I know, that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell mee the visions of my dreame, that I haue scene, and the interpretation thereof.

7 Thus were the visions of my head in my bed, and behold, I saw a^f tree in the middes of the earth, and the height thereof was great: 8 A great tree and it strong, & the height thereof reached vnto heauen, and the sight thereof to the ends of all the earth.

9 The boughes thereof were faire, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: it made a shadow vnder it for the beasts of the field, and the fowles of the heauen dwelt in the boughes thereof, and all flesh fed of it.

10 I saw in the visions of mine head vpon my bed, and behold, a^g watchman and an holy one came downe from heauen,

11 And cried aloud, and said thus, Hew downe the tree, & breake off his branches: shake off his leaues, and scatter his fruite, that the beasts may flee from vnder it, and the fowles from his branches.

12 Neuerthelesse, leaue the stumpe of his rootes in the earth, and with a band of yron and brasle binde it among the grasse of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heauen, and let his portion be with the beasts among the grasse of the field.

13 Let his heart be changed from mans nature, and let a beasts heart be giuen vnto him, & let seuen times be passed ouer him.

14 The sentence is according to the decree of the watchmen, and according to the word of the holy ones: the demand was answered, to the intent that liuing men may knowe, that the most High hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whomsoever hee will, and appointeth ouer it the most abiection among men.

15 This is the dreame, that I King Nebuchad-nezzar haue scene: therefore thou, O Belteshazzar declare the interpretation thereof: for all the wise men of my kingdome are not able to shewe me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee,

16 ¶ Then Daniel (whose name was Belteshazzar) helde his^h peace by the space of one houre, and his thoughts troubled him, and the King spake and said, Belteshazzar, let neither the dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and saide, My lord, the dreame be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

17 The tree that thou sawest, which was great and mighty, whose height reached vnto the heauen, and the sight thereof through all the world,

18 Whose leaues were faire, and the fruite thereof much, and in it was meat for all, vnder the which the beasts of the field dwelt, and vpon whose branches the fowles of the heauen did sit,

19 It is thou, O King, that art great and mighty: for thy greatnesse is growen, and reacheth vnto heauen, and thy dominion to the endes of the earth.

20 Whereas the King sawe a watchman, and an holy one that came downe from heauen, and sayd, Hew downe the tree, & destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the roots thereof in the earth, and with a band of yron & brasle binde it among the grasse of the feldes, and let it be wette with the dew of heauen, and let his portion be with the beasts of the feldes, till seuen times passe ouer him,

21 This is the interpretation, O King, and it is the decree of the most High, which it come vpon my lord the King,

22 That

g Meaning the Angel of God, which neither eateth nor slepeth, but is ever ready to do Gods wil, and is not infected with mans corruption, but is ever holy: and in that that hee commandeth to cut downe this tree, he knew that it should not bee cut downe by man but by God. h Hereby he meaneth that Nebuchad-nezzar should not only for a time lose his kingdome: but be like a beast. i God hath decreed this iudgement, & the whole army of heauen haue as it were subscribed vnto it, like as also they desire the execution of all his decree against all them that lift vp themselves against God.

k He was troubled for the great iudgment of God which hee law ordeined against the king: and so the Prophets vied on the one part to denounce Gods iudgements for the zeale they bare to his glory, and on the other part to haue compassion vpon man, and also to consider that they should bee subiect to Gods iudgements if he did not regard them with pitie.

l Whereby he meaneth a long space, as seuen years. Some interpret seuen moneths, and others seuen weeks, but it semeth by mean of years.

m Not that his shape or forme was changed into a beast, but that he was either stricken mad, and so auoy-ded mans company, or was cast out for his tyrannie, and so wandered among the beasts, and ate herbes and grasse.
 n Daniel sheweth
 the cause, why God
 thus punished him.
 o Cease from prouoking God to anger any longer by thy finnes, that he may mitigate his punishment, if thou shew by thine vpright life that thou hast true faith and repentence.
 p Suffer the errors of thy former life
 to be redressed.
 q After that Daniel had declared this vision: and this his pride declareth that it is not in man to conuert to God, except his Spirit moue him: seeing that these terrible threatnings could not moue him to repent.

 yeeres was ac-

 for his deliuerance, but also confesseth his fault, that God may onely haue

 he may be exalted and man cast

22 That they shall drue thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field:
 they shall make thee to eate grasse as the oxen,
 and they shall wet thee with the dew of heauen:
 and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, till thou know, that the most High beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whomsoever he will.

23 Whereas they sayd, that one should leane the stumpe of the tree rootes, thy kingdome shall remaine vnto thee: after that, thou shalt know, that the heauens haue the rule.

24 Wherefore, O king, let my counsell be acceptable vnto thee, and breake off thy finnes by righteousness, and thine iniquities by mercie toward the poore: loe, let there bee a healing of thine error.

25 All these things shall come vpon the king
 Nebuchad-nezzar.

26 ¶ At the end of twelue moneths, he walked in the royall palace of Babel.

27 And the king spake, and said, Is not this great Babel that I haue built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my maiestie?

28 While the word was in the kings mouth, a voyce came downe from heauen, saying, O king Nebuchad-nezzar, to thee bee it spoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee,

29 And they shall drue thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field:
 they shall make thee to eate grasse, as the oxen,
 and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, vntill thou knowest, that the most High beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whomsoeuer he will.

30 The very same houre was this thing fulfilled vpon Nebuchad-nezzar, and he was druen from men, and did eate grasse as the oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heauen, till his haire were growen as eagles feathers, and his nailes like birds claws.

31 And at the end of these daies, I Nebuchadnezzar lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me, and I gaue thanks vnto the most High, and I praised and honoured him, that liueth for euer, whose power is an euerlasting power, and his kingdome is from generation to generation.

32 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and according to his will he worketh in the armie of heauen, and in the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, nor say vnto him, What doest thou?

33 At the same time was mine vnderstanding restored vnto mee, and I returned to the honour of my kingdome: my glory and my beantie was restored vnto mee, and my counsellors and my princes sought vnto me, and I was established in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented toward me.

34 Now therefore I Nebuchad-nezzar praise, and extoll and magnifie the King of heauen, whose works are all truth, and his wayes iudge-ment: and those that walke in pride, hee is able to abase.

CHAP. V.

1 The king of Babel saw a handwriting on the wall.
 2 The soothsayers called of the king cannot expound the writing.
 3 Daniel readeth it, and interpreteth it also. 30 The king is slain. 31 Daniel enjoyeth the kingdome.

King Belshazzar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and dranke wine before the thousand.

2 And Belshazzar while hee tasted the wine, commanded to bring him the golden and siluer vessels, which his father Nebuchad-nezzar had brought from the Temple in Ierusalem, that
